HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

James Hoyt observed his 98th birthday anniversary April 1 at his home in Sharon.

A cafeteria luncheon at the Congregational church in Rutland, Tuesday, netted $115.

Daniel Gilson, the oldest member of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in Vermont, died Tuesday at his home in East Burke, aged 85.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Hall of Brattleboro. Mr. Hall was the victim of an accident on the Connecticut river last summer, when he fell from his power boat and was drowned.

While Mrs. James Magree was driving from Hinsdale to Richmond a few days ago her horse became stuck in the mud and when he had gotten out he had lost the use of his hind legs and had to be killed.

Burlington now has a full-fledged Parent-Teachers association. Its organization was completed Wednesday evening by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and the election of the following officers: President, Dr. N. W. MacMurphy; vice president, Mrs. H. B. Shaw; secretary, Mrs. James E. Bralley; treasurer, Mrs. P. E. McSweeney.

Edward J. Harrington of Burlington tried an interesting experiment in keeping apples in cool storage last winter. Mr. Harrington picked a half bushel of fairly good apples in excelsior in a box five feet deep in his garden. This was in November. He dug up the box on April 2 and found all the fruit with the exception of 15 or 20, in excellent shape, and hard, and of as good flavor as when picked.

Asa Holmes of Fair Haven, a Rutland Railway, Light & Power company conductor on the Fair Haven and Poultry division, was attacked and badly disabled by a husky Welshman, who took revenge for being ejected from a car for smoking. Holmes was called from a dance and was set upon without warning.

There seems no possibility of any circus of considerable size touching Vermont during the coming summer. The agency in Chicago which books practically all of the big shows has written to Burlington people to the effect that Vermont is not on their schedule. The high license tax is given as one reason for avoiding this state.

Joseph W. Douglas, who was elected president of Winoski this week, is 25 years old and a member of the firm of Douglas & Frenette. He is an executive, serving on the board two years ago. He is the youngest man ever elected to this office. John G. Phipps is the youngest man to be elected clerk. He is about 25 years old and is employed in the office of the Porter Screen company.

Louis C. Clark of Burlington and New York has made a gift of $100 to be used exclusively for prizes in shooting competitions at the University of Vermont. This money is to be expended within a period of three years. It has been deposited with the treasurer and is now available. Under the terms of this gift a match will shortly be held for the indoor championship of the college, and later a competition between teams representing the four companies of the battalion will be held outdoors at 200 and 300 yard ranges. This gift was secured through the activity of Irving L. Rich, alumni field secretary.

The house of Mr. and Mrs. John Comi at West Berlin was totally destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Mrs. Comi being at a neighbor's at the time and knowing nothing of the fire until the alarm was given. The building was a two-story structure and, with only a bucket brigade to fight the flames, it was burned to the ground, though the barn adjoining was saved. The fire is thought to have been caused by an overheated chimney. The house was insured, but the furniture and personal effects were a total loss and two boarders at the house lost $200 and $150 respectively. The $200 was a nest egg which the owner had acquired so far toward bringing his family from Italy to join him in this country.

CELEBRATES 93RD BIRTHDAY.

Amasa Lackey, One of Seven Brothers, Who Fought in Civil War. Brattleboro, April 11.—Amasa Lackey of 18 Central street, one of seven brothers, who served in the Civil war, celebrated his 93rd birthday anniversary yesterday. In spite of his advanced age he is strong physically and mentally and will go to Rutland this week, unattended, to visit among old-time friends.

Although he has lived in Brattleboro but a few months he has many more friends. About two years ago his sight became impaired and since then he has been able to read but little, but his hearing is normal and he enjoys visiting with his friends. He was born in Swanton, April 10, 1820, the oldest of 16 children of Levi and Polly (Hill) Lackey, of whom but four survive, Jackson Lackey, of St. Albans, the youngest of the family.

Mr. Lackey married Lucy Deane of Brandon and they had eight children, two of whom are living, Asa Eleazer Lackey of Vershire and Mrs. Lillian E. Dunham, now housekeeper for A. E. Clifton of Central street. Mr. Lackey lives with his children. He came to Brattleboro last October from Vershire. Mrs. Lackey died in 1908. Mr. Lackey was employed in building the first railroad from Brandon to Bellows Falls. He has been confined to his bed by illness only three times, twice with lung fever and last year with grip. "Spunk and ambition did more for me than the doctors," he asserted.

He is a Civil war veteran and a member of Johnson post, No. 23, G. A. R., of

SKIN TROUBLE ON HANDS, ARMS, LEGS

And Feet. Some on Body. Formed Dry Scabs. When He Scratched Water Would Come Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Stopped the Itching and Cured Him.

173 Paris St., East Boston, Mass.—"I have a little boy eight years old who had sores on his hands, arms, legs, feet, and some sores on his body. They formed dry scabs. I had him treated and it looked worse; it was spreading. In the night he scratched so much that in the morning he was all blood and his bed also was a mess with blood and scabs. When he scratched the sores, matter and water would come out from them. I bought a box of Cuticura, and that did not do any good, and I was discouraged. My aunt said to me, 'Why don't you try Cuticura Ointment and Soap?' She said it would stop the itching and give it a chance to heal. The next day I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I gave him a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and put the Cuticura Ointment on him all over where the sores were. He slept that night all night. I only had to use a little of the Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and he was all cured and has never had sores since." (Signed) Mrs. John J. Grier, Jan. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." "Tender-face" Ointment, 25c. Sample free.

Northfield, Vt. He enlisted in Brantree in Co. K, 6th regiment, in 1861, and was in service until the war closed. He participated in many battles, one of the worst being at Cedar Creek. He has a pension of only $20 per month, but has applied for an increase and says he hopes to live to be benefited by it as he is an orderly by honest industry.

Besides himself his six brothers, Bernard, Edgar, Asa, John Hudson, Jackson and Orange, all enlisted in the Civil war. His father, Levi Lackey, served in the war of 1812-14 and fought in the battle of Plattsburg and his grandfather, Isaac Lackey, was a Revolutionary soldier and served seven years. He was an orderly to President George Washington, was popular as a penman and did special work for many prominent men. Mr. Lackey's grandmother drew a pension and had to go to Montpelier from Swanton every three months for it as the money was never sent by post at that time. She made the trip on horseback.

Mr. Lackey has seven grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. His father was one of 16 children, all of whom lived to marry and raise families of three to 10 children each. Mr. Lackey has always lived in Vermont.

BUFFALO STRIKE COMES TO AN END

Mayor L. P. Fuhrmann the Mediator, and Both Sides Make Concessions.

Buffalo, April 12.—The strike of motormen and conductors of the International Railway company begun Sunday was settled yesterday through the mediation of Mayor L. P. Fuhrmann. Both sides made concessions. A settlement of the differences is to be made through committees of men and employers and in case of a deadlock is to be referred to a board of three arbitrators.

ANOTHER MAINE SHERIFF GONE.

Legislature Convicts Emerson of Penobscot of Malfeasance.

Augusta, Me., April 12.—Wilbert W. Emerson of Hampden, sheriff of Penobscot county, was convicted yesterday by the Maine legislature of the charge of malfeasance in office through neglect or failure to enforce the prohibitory liquor law in the city of Bangor. It was voted to send an address to Governor Haines, asking for his removal. The vote was 17 to 4 in the Senate and 63 to 28 in the House. The action was similar to that taken in two preceding impeachment cases which resulted in requests for the removal of the sheriffs of Sagadahoc and Cumberland counties.

LONGER HOURS AT CAPITAL.

Clerks May Have To Go To Work An Hour Earlier. Washington, April 12.—Thirty thousand employees in government departments here were thrown into a near panic yesterday by reports that President Wilson and his cabinet were seriously considering changing the working hours to begin at 8 a. m. instead of 9 o'clock. The proposition was scheduled for consideration at yesterday's cabinet meeting.

8 SLAIN IN $60,000 TRAIN ROBBERY.

Gen. Villa, Former Bandit, Makes Bold Bullion Theft in Mexico. Chihuahua, Mexico, April 12.—Word reached here yesterday that Gen. Francisco (Pancho) Villa, former bandit, now in the field at the head of 700 constitutionalists, held up a Mexican Northwestern train near here and took more than $60,000 worth of silver bullion after a fierce fight, in which eight persons were slain.

A $300,000 FIRE AT PUTBLO.

The Swift Block, One of the City's Largest Buildings, Is Destroyed. Pueblo, Colo., April 12.—Fire early yesterday destroyed the Swift block, one of the largest buildings here. Five persons living in the upper stories were injured. The loss exceeds $300,000.

21 Holy Rollers Indicted for Murder.

Hinton, W. Va., April 12.—Twenty-one members of the Holy Rollers religious sect were indicted by the Carroll county grand jury on charges of conspiring to cause the death of David King. Because King refused to let his wife join the Holy Rollers it is alleged that they held public prayer asking for his removal. The circumstances surrounding the death of King have not been cleared up.

MR. MORGAN'S CHILDLESS BODY IN STATE

Arrived at New York Yesterday and Taken to Family Home

SON MEETS THE FUNERAL SHIP

Arrangements Completed for Funeral Services on Monday

New York, April 12.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan lies to-day among the art treasures in his private library. It reached New York on the steamer France in a driving rain yesterday afternoon. At dusk it was taken from the ship's mortuary chapel in a sombre casket in heavy velvet and resplendent in silver and gold trimmings under the American flag to a motor hearse which conveyed it from the pier to the library.

Hundreds braved the rain and stood in the street to watch it pass. The body will lie in state until Monday morning when funeral services will take place in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church. From the church the body will be taken to the Grand Central station and thence on a special train to Hartford. Taking part in the committal service at Hartford will be Bishop Brewster, Bishop Lawrence, Mr. Rolland and perhaps Bishop Greer.

Mr. Rolland believes that the careful directions for the funeral were written by Mr. Morgan several years ago. The three bishops were selected for the reason that at some time in his life Mr. Morgan resided in or had close relations with the three dioceses of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The pallbearers, who have been selected by the family are: George S. Bowdoin, Robert Bacon, Lewis C. Ledyard, George F. Baker, R. W. de Forest, Dr. J. W. Mark, Henry F. Osborn, Elbert H. Gary, Eljhu Root, Seth Low, Joseph Choate and Morton S. Paton. Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, his daughter, and Miss Helen Morgan Hamilton, his granddaughter, the only women in the funeral party, were taken to the Morgan home by Mrs. J. P. Morgan immediately after the vessel docked. Satterlee, H. H. Hartjes, a partner in the Morgan firm at Paris and Dr. George Dixon, were met by J. P. Morgan and a grandson, Junius S. Morgan, and followed the body as it was carried by uniformed shipmen to the hearse.

BLAMES DRINK FOR RUINED HOMES

Judge Gemmill of Chicago Takes His Hat Off To Old "King Rum."

Chicago, April 12.—Drinking, by an overwhelming majority, is the cause of the wrecking of most homes, whose affairs came under the Chicago court of domestic relations in the last year. This novel court is about to close its second twelve months, and Judge Gemmill has nearly finished his report for that period. This year 3,899 cases were heard. Nearly 7,000 have been handled in the two years of the court's existence.

GEORGE OF GREECE ELUDED HIS GUARD

Late Monarch Did Many Things to Avoid Being Trained by the Sleuths.

Paris, April 12.—The late king of Greece was particularly averse to being under the surveillance of detectives, and he often derived amusement, when traveling abroad, in concealing his movements from the men who were assigned to watch and protect him from such attacks as resulted in his death at the hands of an assassin at Saloniki last month.

French detectives tell many stories of the king's devices to elude them. It was his majesty's custom to go every year to Aix-les-Bains for the waters, and the French government always charged itself with the responsibility for his safety. The king would from time to time seek out the men charged with his protection and expostulate on the futility of following him. The answer always was an apology, coupled with the explanation that the orders of superiors had to be obeyed.

One day at Aix-les-Bains King George was walking along the road up Mount Remard when he noticed two men of the Paris police shadowing him. Here was an opportunity to play the sleuths a trick. The king entered a little roadside wine shop, placed his hat, stick and gloves on the sill of an open window, sat down at a table just out of sight of the window, and ordered a glass of beer. In a few moments he slipped quietly out a back door, pulled out of his pocket a cap to take the place of the hat he had left behind, climbed a fence, and got away unnoticed.

The watchers soon discovered their mistake and began a search for the trail. They found the king three hours later talking to some wood choppers on the high coast of living.

The tragic death of King George has brought out many other reminiscences of this democratic monarch. Another is centered in a photograph, which shows the king climbing over the seats of a railroad passenger car in an endeavor to catch a canary bird fluttering against the roof.

The scene took place in the express from Paris to Frankfurt. An old lady was traveling in company with her pet canary; the door of the cage slipped open, and the bird escaped. The king, traveling incognito, was the next compartment. Hearing the clamors of the old lady, he came in and after a long chase succeeded in capturing the fugitive bird and restoring it to its delighted owner. In the meantime some one took a snapshot of his majesty.

The little incident is characteristic of the unaffected kindness and courtesy of the late king.

RIVER FALLING. The Ohio at Cairo, Ill., Has Receded Slightly. Cairo, Ill., April 12.—The Ohio river here fell slightly Thursday night. Because of the continued high water the levee patrol has been increased.

The Illinois Central is getting trains through the flooded drainage district, thereby opening direct service between New Orleans and Chicago.

The relief expedition to the Wabash river bottoms returned Thursday night. Members of the party reported that conditions up the Ohio are deplorable. Only one or two points between Cairo and Mount Vernon, Ind., are above water. In many places the river is thirty miles wide. More than 4,000 refugees are camped at Wickliffe, Ky., and on nearby hills.

Because the Trades and Labor council of Grand Rapids opposes the $1,000,000 bond issue asked for by the board of education, the board has appointed one of the men used to break the printers' strike some years ago as an instructor in printing. The board, the local labor paper of that city, says: "If the board of education believes it can win the labor vote by methods of this kind, it has another guess coming. All the union men want is a square deal, but the appointing of an open enemy of organized labor will only tend to make the rupture greater."

Baltimore.—After a strike, which has been in progress for nine weeks, representatives of the garment workers and the firm of L. Greif & Bros. arrived at an adjustment of their differences. The garment workers have secured a victory, as they have been granted the demands which they made upon the firm and in defense of which they have been on strike. As a result of their victory, the strikers will return to work with a nine-hour day, while the dressmakers will receive 15 per cent. increase in pay. The piece workers are to receive a 50 per cent. increase of five per cent. Hereafter, instead of being locked out, as former-

LABOR NOTES OF WIDE INTEREST

Gov. Sulzer has signed the full crew bill. Similar measures have passed the legislature of the state of New York on two former occasions, but did not receive the approval of the chief executive, upon the assumption that the public service commission had power to remedy the evils which the bill was aimed to correct. Governor Sulzer, in signing the full crew bill, said in part: "Considering the fact that the legislature has by an overwhelming vote again passed the bill, I am bound to assume that this measure concerns the general welfare and that the people want it enacted into law. I shall not object to the measure on the part of the railroads appears to be that it will increase to some extent the cost of operation by reason of the fact that a few more men will have to be employed on some of the trains. The same objection could be urged with equal force to any improvement in the method of railroad operation. My judgment is that the conservation of human life and limb is as important to the people as a little additional expense in the operation of these common carriers. The state, for its own welfare, has a right to demand the employment upon the railroads of a safety appliance, whether mechanical or human, which will insure the life and limb and greater safety standards. At all events between the extra cost in dollars and the extra cost of lives, if I err at all in reaching an equitable conclusion regarding official action on this bill, I prefer to err on the side of life and limb and flesh and blood."—Gov. Sulzer, in signing the full crew bill, said in part: "The interstate commerce commission, in which it is revealed that during the twenty-four years covered, 188,000 persons have been killed and 1,395,618 persons injured on the railroads of the United States, and the governor concludes by saying: "This bill, I believe, is in the interest of humanity. It is for the general welfare and will tend to change for the better these deplorable statistics in the future, and once upon our statute books will meet with popular approval and will never be repealed. Hence, all things considered, I shall sign the bill for the good of the state."

Solon A. Richmond, the union labor member of the board of conciliation and arbitration, is president of the Fairbanks and Organized Labor of Brattleboro. He is considered by organized labor as a man well qualified to fill this important office. I am sure he has the fraternal regards and good wishes of every man in this section and we wish him Godspeed in the duties that may come before him.

Carpenters in East Barre, Westerville and Graniteville have organized and will appoint officers as soon as the new charter returns from headquarters. The organizing work has been conducted under the auspices of the Vermont State Federation of Labor, the Central Labor Federation of Barre and vicinity and the local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

A general organizing movement has been in progress in St. Johnsbury for the past three weeks, with the result that the iron moulders in the Fairbanks Scale company have formed a strong local of their craft. Other unions in St. Johnsbury report large accessions to their ranks. Splendid addresses were delivered by President Fred H. Beal of the Vermont State Federation of Labor, General Organizer McGee of the International Iron Moulders' union, and the local Congregational and Presbyterian ministers and local labor men.

The employees of the Inland Steel company, who have been on strike for some time in Chicago and who were organized by the American Federation of Labor, have secured a settlement which includes a concession of all their demands and have returned to work. This is the second victory of steel workers organized by the American Federation of Labor since the campaign began. The strike in this place was complete, not a single man having been left in the mill when the strike took place and continued for four weeks without a single strikebreaker having been employed.

All union men's wives and their lady friends who have not yet enrolled on the charter application for the Ladies' Union Label League should do so at the meeting next Thursday evening, April 17, at 7:30 p. m. in the carpenters' hall, Nichols' block. This will be the last chance for those desiring to join as charter members.

The local ministers' union of Barre and vicinity is hereforth to be represented in the councils of the Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity.

Harry Kulp, a former detective of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., has been found guilty in the United States court on charges of peonage and white slavery in securing women ostensibly for domestic service in West Virginia hotels. It was brought out in the testimony at the trial that the women were promised employment in hotels, but that when they reached West Virginia they were taken to mining camps and compelled to associate with men who had been employed to take the place of the striking miners. The women who testified against Kulp came from the Pennsylvania anthracite mining towns.

When coats and suits are made at home the most important factor in taking away the home-made appearance is the pressing.

If you haven't a press board or "goose" such as tailors use, press the garment upon an ironing board with the padding used in ordinary ironing.

Moisten the seam by putting the fingers in water and applying as needed. The iron should be heated within several degrees of the scorching point.

Press long and hard, for the more pressure upon the iron the smoother the seam will be.

If rough or cracked, the lips should be subjected occasionally to a hot compress followed by a rub with a good cold cream. Allow the cream to remain overnight, and in the morning without removing the cream, dose the lips with cold water. If this treatment is not efficacious, apply vaseline for one or two nights, but wash it off in the morning with soap and hot water before applying the cold compress, as vaseline will persist in inducing a growth of hair, if not used discreetly.

An excellent lip-salve for ordinary use is the old-fashioned camphor ice. Glycerine should not be used in any case. It is too great an affinity for water, and is too drying, while the camphor ice is cooling and healing. In very bad cases three nights change to the vaseline treatment, and then, having reclaimed the lips so they have assumed their original smoothness, and firmness, keep them in good condition by drying them properly and by keeping the tongue away from them.

Keep the fingers away from the lips. The skin of them is exceedingly thin and easily irritated and affected adversely by foreign matter or substances.

If for no other reason than to prevent cold sores, the lips should be kept soft and smooth, for once these annoying things are started it is difficult to stem their course, which often means a run of a full week or even longer, and then they are apt to leave a scar. With the first feeling of irritation which heralds their approach, rub the afflicted spot with blue hyalin, which is used by men after shaving.

Mrs. Wilson As a Cakemaker. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is a famous cakemaker; in fact, she cooks everything well, but her cakemaking is a rare art in itself. She is a southerner, and like southerners, understands the subtleties of delicate cooking. She used to make delicious cake for her father, and later she made the same cakes for her distinguished husband.

Mrs. Wilson does not toss off her cake with careless ease, says the Modern Housewife, but she approaches the subject with respect, and treats her cakemaking as something serious, demanding time and thought and effort.

She has been asked what might be the secret that she possesses as so accomplished a cakemaker, but it turns out that there is no secret involved, only attention and care and a thorough understanding of the work.

One of the reasons for her great success is that she uses Brandreth's Pill.
