Dan F. Davis returned yesterday morning from South Hero, where he spent Sunday at the summer camp of W. E. Terrill of Montpelier.

Edward Guyer of Lebanon, N. H., a former resident of Barre, arrived in this city this morning and will be employed here during the summer.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet in the library room of the church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Come prepared to sew.

There will be a dance in the Howland hall on Thursday night under the auspices of the St. Elizabeth Aid society. Riley's orchestra will furnish music.

Moses N. Gotler of Seminary street, who has been conducting a furniture store in the Bolster block for several weeks, vacated the quarters to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Howland of Springfield, Mass., who are visiting Mr. Howland's father, C. H. Howland, in Cabot, were visitors in the city to-day.

The H. E. Cutler automobile agency unloaded three cars of Overland machines in the M. & W. freight yards yesterday. The consignment consisted of nine cars.

John Bowen of Rochester and W. W. Perkins of Bethel, an agent for the D. A. Perry Real Estate Co., arrived in the city this morning for a few days' business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannaford of Claremont, N. H., who are spending several days in the city on business, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kenyon of Merchant street.

Thomas Solmon, who has been passing a few days in the city, left to-day for St. Albans, where he will remain a few days before returning to his home at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Miss Gladys Carroll of Keith avenue has resumed her duties in the millinery store of Mrs. Carrie Burke-Gonyo, after spending a few days in camp at Nigger-head pond in Marshfield.

Percy Sherman, who has been employed at the Smith & Cummings market for two weeks, completed his duties last week and returned yesterday to his home at Essex Junction.

Robert Susana of Smith street, who is employed as a clerk for the American Clothing store, was taken yesterday to the Heaton hospital in Montpelier, where he will undergo treatment for rheumatism.

A fishing party of local business men is passing several days in camp at Caspian lake, Greensboro. Among the members of the party are: Frank McWhorter, J. J. Baker, C. P. Leake, City Clerk James Mackey and N. D. Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Badger of 23 Eastern avenue and Rev. J. W. Barnett of this city and Mrs. S. F. Blomfield of Montpelier left this forenoon by automobile for St. Johnsbury, where they are attending the annual meeting of the Vermont Congregational conference.

A regular meeting of branch No. 1 of the Socialist party of Barre, Vermont, will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 at headquarters, Scampini block. Comrade Robert Ritchey of Albany, N. Y., will give a talk to the comrades, who will do well to turn out and hear him.

At Goddard seminary this evening, Irving J. Potter of Boston, a former instructor at the school, will give a Shakespearean reading in the chapel. An admission fee of 25c is to be charged. Mr. Potter, who arrived yesterday, is spending a few days with friends in the city.

Edward Keast of Prospect avenue, who has been spending the past week at New York, returned to the city to-day. While absent Mr. Keast passed a day at Gunners Brooks, N. J., as the guest of Edwin Williams, a former resident of Barre, who is now conducting a poultry farm in New Jersey.

For the benefit of those who have destroyed their season tickets for the lecture course, Mrs. Arthur Tilden will be at the Tilden shoe store Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock and issue an order for a ticket to those who will sign their name and the name of the one from whom they bought their tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Levin and two children, Rosa and Harry, of Forsythe place returned last night from Burlington, where they were called to attend the funeral of the former's brother, Louis Levin, whose remains were brought here for burial after death had followed severe injuries received in a Boston elevator accident some weeks ago.

Manager Calcagni has posters distributed through the city announcing the ball game for Saturday between the Italians and the Y. M. C. A. college of Springfield, Mass. The Springfield college, which is better known as the Springfield Training school, was scheduled to play Norwich on Saturday. That date was canceled and the Y. M. C. A. college accepted the offer of the local club in order to fill its Vermont trip, which also includes a game at Burlington with Vermont.

Coach Charles Hoernle of the Goddard track team is rapidly rounding the rest and white squad into championship form for the annual interscholastic meet to be held at the University of Vermont the latter part of the month. Coach Hoernle is confident that his proteges will for another season annex the major portion of the medals and cups offered by the university. Goddard has a well-balanced organization and should place men in nearly every event. The squad will number close to thirty candidates, but not all of those members will be taken to the big state meet. Capt. Moses will compete this year and on him are pinned great hopes. Moses is especially strong in the sprints and is a jumper of ability.

Boy scout troop No. 2 of the Congregational church has effected a complete reorganization of its governing body as a result of the resignation of Dr. Joe W. Jackson, who for some time has efficiently acted as scout master. Dr. Jackson felt that other affairs demanded more of his time and therefore asked to be relieved of his duties. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Barnett, succeeds as master of the troop and George Walstrom has been appointed assistant master to act in the pastor's absence. Three new division leaders have been elected and other appointments made. The scouts will meet at the church to-morrow evening and it is not unlikely that another attack will be made on the tent caterpillar on the outskirts of the city. The scouts have already directed one campaign against the parasite and others are to follow.

A large delegation of Barre people attended the opening evening of Flowerland, the fair being conducted at the city hall at Montpelier under the auspices of the Montpelier Military band. The outlook argues well for one of the most successful fairs ever held by the Montpelier band.

State's Attorney J. Ward Carver and Mrs. Carver of Church street returned to-day from Marshfield, where they have been passing a few days with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Carver. While absent, the state's attorney passed a portion of his time on the brook back of the village and brought home a creel of large trout as evidence of his angling skill.

Carpenters at work on the Shepard building on Prospect street have leveled the structure to the ground and much of the best of the timber therein has been removed to E. M. Tobin's lot off Mount street. Hardly anything of the Shepard house now remains except the first floor and the foundation walls. The latter are to be removed, it is said, and the lot will be graded to the street level. The work has consumed nearly four weeks.

Alex. Mackie, Charles Northrop, Victor Stacy, local truckmen, and Louis Romanis, who operates a merchandise establishment on Prospect street, left this morning for Windsor where they were called as witnesses in United States court. The case under consideration is said to involve the alleged illegal distribution of merchandise from a store in Whitefield, N. H. Joseph Charley of this city was arrested by the officers not long ago in connection with the case.

John Moorhouse, a carpenter living on the East Montpelier road, is suffering from an inflamed right eye which is seriously affecting his eyesight. A few days ago Mr. Moorhouse was razing a small structure in this city when he was struck in the face by a flying plaster. At the time he thought he had extracted every particle of debris from the member, but a physician's examination afterwards determined differently. Now, the carpenter is devoting his whole time toward recovering his impaired vision. An eye specialist has assured him that his sight will not be permanently affected.

John Karlson of Church street left last night for Boston, where he will pass a few days before sailing for an indefinite visit at his former home just north of Guttenburg, Sweden. During mid-summer Mr. Karlson will make a pilgrimage to the North Cape of Scandinavia, where he will pass several weeks. This pilgrimage to the Land of the Midnight Sun is one of the best attractions of the north during the summer and annually, great throngs of tourists and inhabitants of the Scandinavian lands are seen going northward.

E. R. Douglass, a Central Vermont scale expert, and E. G. Finner of Rutland, of the Rutland Scale Works, to-day completed the work of repairing and overhauling the large scales at the Central Vermont freight depot. The scale experts have been devoting the entire past week to the repairing.

CHELSEA

Miss Lilla Sleeper has returned to her work in Bethel after having spent two weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. Abbie L. Sleeper.

Clarence S. Stearnes, a former resident, who for the past two years has been in the mercantile business in South Walden, was a guest at the Orange county hotel Sunday.

Phil S. Clough, who sold his farm some time ago to parties from Ferrisburg, has moved to the John Lougee farm just over the line in Washington on the stage road.

Milo L. Sleeper, who has been working for Will A. Reed, went last week to Stratford to work for a time in the store of H. H. Udall.

Herbert F. Bover has purchased from Oscar Course of Vershire a Ford runabout automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lazelle and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sprague of Randolph were among the many autoists here Sunday and called on friends in town.

Leslie A. Bragg, who has been working in a saw mill in Danville since last fall, was at his farm in South Washington for a short stop Sunday.

Will C. Goodwin has completed a four weeks' job of repairs on the buildings on W. H. Sprague's farm in Washington and has gone to Richard H. Bacon's to commence the work on building a new barn.

Madam Ann E. Goss, who spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. J. Euclid Fish, of Canton, Mass., arrived home for the summer last week.

Uncle James Atwood, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, with heart trouble and complications has so far recovered as to be able to be out of doors again.

The bank corporation is extending its water system across the North Common for the convenience of the following patrons: Ordway, Holmes & Co.'s store, O. Fay Allen's store, and the residence of W. P. Townsend and F. E. Hood. A sewer will also be put in, connecting these four places and extending to the river.

B. H. Adams came home from West Lebanon, N. H., Friday evening and remained until Tuesday morning. He returned from Chicago the middle of last week with a load of horses and during the trip contracted a severe cold which kept him in the house Saturday and Sunday. He reports a good business for the firm of Adams & Kendall Co.

The Orange County Telephone Co. has taken down the cable which it put in about three years ago from the cable box near Col. Bixby's store to the central office and has replaced the same with a larger cable which will doubtless give less trouble by reason of burning out than did the local central office, the work being in charge of O. S. MacNabb, who is assisted by George L. Hayward and Horace H. Jones.

The baseball game at Mattoon's park last Saturday afternoon between the local high school nine and a nine from the South Royalton high school was a very interesting game and much enjoyed by a good crowd of spectators. The game resulted in a victory for the local team by a score of 18 to 11.

Ralph A. Willey left Monday for Littleton, N. H., where he expected to find work in a bobbin manufacturing establishment for the summer.

Marguerite, Edward and Adeline Harrington were in town Saturday and Sunday as the guests of their uncle, W. H. Sprague, and family.
