PERRY @ CAMP

The Duplex Folding Chair

is designed for use on the porch or lawn, where solid comfort is the first essential. It is simple to handle, easy to open and to fold, occupies but little space when not in use, and is durable firm and strong.

It is possible to adjust the chair by simply changing position or shifting the weight when in the chair.

Price $5.00

One can sit up, lie down, or recline in any way desired, for the chair is so well balanced that when you get into the "right" position you can stay there without any effort.

In the Duplex there are several decided improvements over all other similar chairs. The man who owns a folding chair does not always have a chest of tools at hand, and every other metal-frame folding chair requires some tool or tools to open it up, ready for use. The Duplex requires nothing but the hands.

On all chairs of this kind, the canvas used for the seat and back will stretch with use. The tightening of this in other chairs requires at least a screw driver, and in a little time the screw will fail to hold. This tightening of the canvas in the Duplex chair is provided for by a patent adjusting device which is simple, strong, and cannot wear out. The hands, again, are all that is required for adjusting.

Every Duplex Chair is warranted, and any chair showing defect in workmanship or material will be promptly replaced.

The battery for the winning team was Blackmore and Williams. For the losing team Rabiola and Scampini started the game off and Calcegi and Caldera finished it.

Workmen have commenced the work of readjusting the street curbing on North Main street so that its elevation may be in conformity with the grade of the new stretch of pavement extending from Granite street to Blackwell street. The general work of constructing the pavement will not be started until the arrival of the heavy traction company rails, which are expected in about two weeks. Engineers from the city engineering department have been engaged for the past few days in making preliminary surveys for the pavement strip.

A transfer of cashier accounts was made at the Central Vermont freight office today from George Stuart, jr., who goes to White River Junction to assume a similar position, to G. C. Kent. Mr. Kent has been with the railway company several years, commencing as baggage-master and going from there to yard clerk, to receiving clerk, to billing clerk, which gives him a thorough knowledge of the office work and well fits him for his new position. The other changes are: Bert Stroeter promoted from yard clerk to billing clerk and A. E. Scott from warehouse to yard clerk.

Under the pleasing name of Flowerland, Canton Vinton, No. 9, P. M., I. O. O. F., bazaar will open at music hall, Miles block, on Monday evening next. It is said that Flowerland is more than merely a new name for the old style of fair. It is a novel and unique idea throughout. The booths, instead of being the ordinary temporary structures of rough lumber, draped with different colored cheese cloths, are finished and complete affairs, handsomely painted in water colors, and each one typical of some flower, while the center piece represents the four seasons. A profusion of colored electric lamps add brilliancy to the effect. Decidedly, Flowerland will be well worth seeing.—Adv't.

The relatives of Mrs. Joseph Clark, who were in Graniteville to attend her funeral, Monday, have nearly all returned to their homes. Henry Gorman, father of the deceased, Frank, a brother, Kate, a sister, and Hugh Gallagher, an uncle, have gone to their home in Bartlett, N. H., in the White mountains. Another sister, Mrs. J. Specialty prepared Otto coke for the range makes a quick, hot fire, a good substitute for wood. Sold by Calder & Richardson, Depot square, phone 450.

Wide interest is being aroused in Flowerland, the bazaar of Canton Vinton, No. 9, P. M., I. O. O. F., which opens at music hall, Miles block, next Monday evening. It is something decidedly new and novel in the fair line, and possesses many attractive features. The booths are all handsomely finished and permanent looking structures, and all of the decorations are painted, the general theme being flowers, as the name suggests. One, representing the rose, is covered with those flowers, and is surmounted in the center by a handsome female figure, typical of that flower. Each of the other booths is carried out on the same general lines, the subject being different in each case. The center piece is an elaborate structure, octagon in shape, its eight panels or faces showing the four seasons, while surrounding these are eight marble columns and balustrades, supporting the tables. The whole is surmounted by a latticed roof covered with flowers, among which colored electric lights gleam in great profusion. The whole is capped by a brilliant crown of electric lamps.—Adv't.
