

LOBBY TO HEAR LABOR MEN

Gompers and Mitchell Subpoenaed Before Senate Committee

TRACE 30 YEARS OF WOOL LOBBY

Probers Find Manufacturers Were Always Represented at Tariff Sessions

Washington, July 11.—The members of the Senate lobby committee, following an executive session last night declared that the "wars" between labor and capital must be inquired into, including the efforts of those interested to secure such legislation which would be profitable to them.

Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell were among those who were summoned last night. Also George Pope, president, and J. P. Birm, general manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, were subpoenaed to appear July 23.

Away back into the musty recesses of the days of the Mills, McKinley, Wilson and Dingley tariff days, went the probe of the Senate lobby committee yesterday. With William Whitman, Boston millionaire textile manufacturer, on the stand, the probers developed that there has not been a tariff session of Congress for more than thirty years in which the National Association of Wool Manufacturers has not taken an active part in endeavoring to shape the wool schedules.

It was shown that they have been remarkably successful in maintaining the duty on wool at a figure high enough to satisfy the officers of that association.

Whitman's letter book, which was examined by the lobby probers in an hour's executive session, showed that he was on intimate personal terms with Senators Aldrich and Allison, Congressman Dingley and others and that S. N. North, as secretary of the association, had been his chief aide in the legislative work.

There was nothing, however, in any of the letters secured which showed the expenses of the association in its lobbying campaign.

States, said he had appeared before the Senate and House committees in an effort to ask them to keep the tariff up. "I never even bought a cigar for a congressman," he said. "We filed briefs and statements with the committee and let it go at that."

He declared all phases of political belief were represented in the association. "Why, senator," he said, addressing Walsh of Montana, "some of us are even Socialists or Bull Moosers."

Folkestone, England, July 11.—A change of plans having been made as to the playing of the semi-finals in the Davis cup matches between the Canadian and Belgian players, the first singles matches were played here yesterday. ## WEBB LAW STANDS TEST.

No Loopholes Found to Beat It, Says Its Author.

Washington, July 11.—The Webb law prohibiting shipment of liquor from "wet" to "dry" states is standing the acid test of the courts. Representative Webb of North Carolina, its author, said yesterday.

"After months of search and vigorous endeavor the wholesale liquor interests' attorneys tell me that they have not yet found a loophole successfully to attack the law or even make a test case to bring its validity before the supreme court," he said.

VAIL TO BE REORGANIZER?

He Is Mentioned as Probability for the New Haven System

LIKELY TO ACT AS AN ARBITRATOR

Close in Touch with Morgan Co. and Also Boston Interests

Washington, July 11.—Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., bids fair to be the arbitrator in the forthcoming reorganization of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which is expected as a natural consequence of the disclosure of conditions in the New Haven system made by the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Vail probably would disclaim any such position; nevertheless he will participate in the forthcoming inquiry under circumstances which will constitute him a natural board of appeal. Mr. Vail has been a member of the New Haven directorate only about a year. Some ten days ago when George von L. Meyer, chairman of the New Haven stockholders' committee, went to New York to consult with the executive committee of the New Haven directors to try to reach an agreement regarding future procedure, the addition of Mr. Vail to the general committee of investigation, composed of the executive committee and the stockholders' committee, was one of the results of the conference. Mr. Vail's relations with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., which has been influential in New Haven affairs, has been very close, while he is on terms of equal intimacy and friendship with the Boston interests which are back of the Meyer committee. He is recognized on every side as a man of preeminent business ability and, in the present situation, peculiarly well qualified to stand as a neutral representing all interests which may be involved in any possible plan of reorganization.

MELLEN SILENT AT PRESENT.

He Will Have No Comment on Commerce Commission Statement.

New York, July 11.—It was announced at the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad yesterday afternoon that President Mellen would have no comment to make regarding the report of the interstate commerce commission upon the affairs of the road until after the report has been submitted to and canvassed by the executive committee, which meets to-day, July 11. "It will depend upon the disposition of the committee whether a reply will be made after the meeting," the announcement read.

U. S. ITSELF TO VALUE ROADS

Companies' Offer to Gather Data and Give It to the Government Turned Down.

Washington, July 11.—The second conference on physical valuation of the railroads was held this week at the interstate commerce commission offices. The result of this conference, at which the railroads and representatives of the state commissions for the public were present, is that it has been practically settled the government is going to do the actual work of valuing the railroads of the country.

The railroads suggested a plan whereby they were to gather the data, the government doing no more than check it over. The railroad suggestion will be turned down, and agents of the government will themselves go through the whole colossal task of valuing the properties from spikes to terminals.
