I wish to announce that I have received the exclusive agency for the well-known and popular Clow-Knit hosiery. Telephone or drop me a card and samples will be submitted for inspection at your leisure. F. E. Pitkin.

RANDOLPH James Fels was arrested here on Friday by a detective sent here from Boston, who arrived here on the 10 o'clock train and found his man at work on the Bethany church building. He was placed in the lockup and when the 1:20 train in the afternoon arrived was taken back to Boston on a charge of having deserted the army, into which he enlisted last March. Mr. Fels has a sister, Mrs. Harrison Avery, in this town. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Slack were in Chelsea this week with relatives. Mrs. Fanny Lewis has arrived here from Winchester, Mass., and for the present is passing the time with Mrs. Roswell Holbrook at her place on Central street. Mrs. Lewis expects her son, Henry Lewis, and her daughter, Miss Bevie Lewis, to join her here about the first of August to remain through the remainder of the summer vacation. Arthur Osgood of this place and Miss May Kibbee of East Randolph were married on Tuesday, at the parsonage in East Randolph, by Rev. C. B. Danse, in the presence of Mr. Osgood's daughters, Misses Cora and Elsie Osgood. The party went by automobile to Northfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Osgood went on for a trip of two weeks, after which they will return here and take up their residence at the Osgood home. H., who has been spending a week at Charles Cowen's, as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Tenney, returned to her home Monday.

EAST BARRE

Wedding Reception To Mr. and Mrs. Thom Proved Very Enjoyable. One of the largest and most enjoyable occasions held in this place for some time was the wedding reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. William Thom in the opera house Tuesday evening, when friends to the number of about 350 gathered in their honor. Graniteville, Westerville, East Barre, Barre City and Montpelier were represented. Music for dancing was furnished by Harris' orchestra which began the grand march at about 8:30. The floor was filled, even to a part of them being obliged to dance in double lines. During the evening a short musical program was given, including a vocal solo by Mr. Imlah, one by Mr. Neal and a duet by the Lawson sisters, which was encored and responded to. Alex. Lawson, acting as master of ceremonies, and in behalf of the company, presented the honored couple a handsome kitchen range. Mr. Lawson made some very apt remarks, going back in memory to their younger days, they having both been residents of the place from childhood. Mr. Thom responded with thanks for the presence, gift and kindness of so many friends. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and lemonade were served in the hall. The party broke up as the larger hours began to appear in the morning, all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Thom many bright and happy anniversaries of their wedding day. WILLIAMSTOWN Mrs. Caroline Bancroft celebrated her eightieth birthday on Thursday, July 17. D. M. Jones, who has been rather poorly for several weeks, is now better, and George C. Earle is also gaining. Norman Davenport, a native of the town and for several years a resident in Chelsea, has lately visited old friends here. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Winchester were in Barre visiting relatives July 17. Frank G. Canning, lately engineer for the Greason-Beckett Co., has accepted an offer of work in Northfield and will move there next week. Mrs. J. H. Holt, son, Lester, and daughter, Nora, were in town July 18 as the guests of Mrs. Ella Martin. Mrs. Herbert N. Farnham, son, Wayne, and daughter, Ella, have returned from a stay of two weeks at the home of Mrs. Farnham's parents in West Bolton. County Road Commissioner Myron A. Flanders of Tunbridge has been in town the past week in consultation with Commissioner H. N. Farnham, regarding the roads to be improved using state money this summer. An automobile party from St. Albans has been stopping at the Monument house for a few days and visiting Mrs. Flora Harvey.

BETHEL

Mrs. Mary Allen of North Reading, Mass., has come to spend the rest of the summer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Curtis. Mrs. J. H. Miller and daughter of Springfield, Mass., are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Kendall, for a visit of several weeks. A shake-up in the town baseball team followed last Saturday's defeat by Graniteville, by which Robert Emery succeeds George Burrelle as captain. If this means Burrelle's retirement from the game it is to that extent a loss to the team, as a batsman of Barre's caliber is not easily found, though he has been sometimes charged with easing up toward the end of the game. Nobody criticizes Emery's appointment, for if Bethel has two or three natural, first-class ball players, he is one of them. His career at third base and as a batsman for the last dozen years and more has made him a popular figure on the diamond. Rev. Dr. H. A. Green, pastor of a Universalist church in Somerville, Mass., who is spending the summer in town, has consented to preach at an outdoor meeting on the town hall lawn Sunday evening, July 27, at 6:30. The meeting will take the place of all usual religious services on Sunday evening and will be strictly nonsectarian in character. Dr. Green's sermon theme will be "Unmeasured Service." R. H. Pardollan returned Friday to Montreal, after a two weeks' visit at J. A. Perley's. Charles S. Shepard, for some time a clerk at the inn, bought on Thursday the restaurant business of Arthur G. Wilcox and took possession at once. Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox have no immediate plans. Earl Shepard is doing night work at the Bethel telephone exchange. Mrs. S. E. Jordan is spending a few days in Hardwick, having accompanied home her blind sister, Mrs. Stillman Jopee, after a visit of two weeks. Friday's visitors in town included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Edson and J. Leo Edson of Williamstown; Mrs. G. A. Clough of Rochester; H. M. McIntosh of Burlington; N. M. Bradley, G. Moyer and H. W. Goodrich of Rutland. Merrill A. Owen came Friday from Norwich to visit his daughter, Mrs. Charles N. Brown. Though ninety years old, he travels alone at will.

NORTH MONTPELIER

Book Agent Sued George and Clayton Caustic for Assault, but Lost Case. The tale of a book agent was told in city court yesterday, when W. L. Chastice of Middlebury brought suit against George and Clayton Caustic of Berlin for assault. For six hours the court listened to the stories and then the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty in the case of the two Caustics. '30 be brief, the story was this: Last March Chastice sold a book to a farmer and at the same time secured a loan of $100 from him. Robinson gave Mrs. Caustic 75 cents to hand over to Chastice as part pay, but left the farm without finishing paying for it. Neither did he take the book with him. When Chastice appeared again during March for the pay and none had been left for him, he remanded the book, which George Caustic refused to give him until he refunded the 75c which had been paid towards it. This precipitated matters and it is alleged Chastice pitched onto George Caustic and was giving him the party of the tussle, until the son, Clay-
