

OUR POLICY IN MEXICO

Part of it Made Public at the White House by President

FORCE HUERTA'S RESIGNATION

To Be Replaced by a Compromise Candidate Agreeable to All Factions

Washington, Aug. 6.—No announcement of policy will be made or further steps taken by President Wilson in the Mexican situation until former Governor John Lind of Minnesota, personal representative of the president, arrives in Mexico City and familiarizes himself with conditions there. This was made clear at the White House yesterday. Mr. Lind carries instructions to talk informally with prominent Mexicans. Administration officials indicated that no steps toward a mediation policy would be attempted until after Mr. Lind had sounded out sentiment in Mexico and determined whether the assistance of the United States in adjusting the dispute would be received.

Mr. Lind will inform inquirers on the authority of President Wilson that only the government constitutionally set up will be recognized by the United States. This will involve the resignation of Provisional President Huerta in favor of the provisional president selected by the Mexican factions, the new president to be first appointed minister of foreign relations in conformity with the law of succession in Mexico. It was pointed out in administration circles yesterday that while Mr. Lind's position now is that of adviser to the American embassy he will act in reality as an unofficial ambassador to be named ambassador when a stable government is organized and recognition is extended by the United States. Just what part Mr. Lind will take in peace negotiations is not made clear here, but there is every reason to believe that he will merely represent the views of the American government to those who consult him and will not directly interfere with the progress of events unless the Washington government finally decides to mediate the dispute.

AFTER EVIDENCE

Mr. McAdoo Seeking It Against New York Banks

Washington, Aug. 6.—Secretary McAdoo is conducting a quiet investigation to obtain evidence to sustain his charge that the recent sharp decline of United States two per cent bonds was due "almost wholly to what appears to be a campaign waged with every indication of concerted action on the part of a number of influential New York city banks to cause apprehension and uneasiness about these bonds, in order to help them in their efforts to defeat the currency bill."

A defense of New York banks against Secretary McAdoo's charge was made in the house yesterday by Representative Levy, who introduced a resolution calling for a list of transfers of bonds since July 1. An immediate action was prevented by objections by Representative Mann, Foster and others.

OLEOMARGARINE SUIT

To Be Began Against Chicago Packers To Recover $800,000

Washington, Aug. 6.—Suits to recover $800,000 in federal oleomargarine taxes will be begun soon at Chicago against prominent packers and other oleomargarine manufacturers. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne yesterday said he would request Attorney General McReynolds to-day to proceed in accordance with the recommendations of the Chicago grand jury which investigated the situation.

The grand jury criticized the previous administration of the treasury department for compromising a $1,000,000 oleomargarine claim for $101,000.

It is claimed there are other cases where manufacturers settled on the basis of a tax for uncolored oleomargarine (1/2 cent per pound) when they should have paid for colored oleo at 10 cents per pound.

The Rube Benton accident came at a very unfortunate stage for the Reds. Benton is the best heavier among the Redmen and his absence will be generally felt. Tinker is in great need of twirlers and will find it will be some hard task for him to unearth new material.

Horse Falls Whirling from a Bridge and Just Misses Crowded Car

New York, Aug. 6.—A big, black runaway horse that had made its way across Williamsburg bridge from the Manhattan side by the way of the trolley tracks of the Metropolitan street railway was confronted, just east of the Williamsburg tower, by a man waving a red flag. The horse turned and jumped off into the open space between the trolley tracks and the "L" structure, dropping 125 feet in to Kent avenue. A Greenpoint car, passing through Kent avenue under the bridge, was missed by the falling horse by a few feet. The animal was instantly killed.

The bishop praised President Wilson for taking a firm stand against the "forces of disorganization" in the country and called upon the knights to ally themselves with the force of law and order, working earnestly and effectively for the betterment of conditions through evolution, not revolution.

There will be no transfers of New England league clubs this season. The directors of the league feel that the switching of a horse to a new town spoils that place for another season.

ONLY 3 DAYS TO MAKE PEACE

Preliminaries Must Be Signed on Friday at Latest

NOTICE SERVED ON DELEGATE

Unsettled Points in Bulgarian Affairs to be Left to Powers

London, Aug. 6.—The Times Bucharest correspondent says he believes the Balkan peace conference will allocate Kavala to Greece, but that as Russia, Austria, Great Britain and Italy insist that the fate of this Egean sea port should be decided by the powers, it is not unlikely that it eventually will be given to Bulgaria.

M. Majoresco, the Roumanian premier and permanent president of the conference, in proposing the three days' extension of the armistice said that no further prolongation would be asked and that therefore, the labors of the conference must be completed Friday. It is understood that Roumania is determined that the peace preliminaries shall be signed Friday and that the unsettled points, such as the ownership of Istip, Kotschana, Radoeistah and Strumitza shall be submitted to the decision of the Powers.

It is reported in Belgrade, says the Telegraph's correspondent in the Serbian capital, that the Bulgarian government has ordered the arrest of Dr. S. Danef, former premier and head of the Bulgarian peace delegation to London, on a charge of unlawfully using secret funds of the government.

THREE BATTLESHIPS ASKED IN THE HOUSE

Emergency Appropriation for Dreadnoughts, in View of Japanese and Mexican Relations

Washington, Aug. 6.—An emergency appropriation "sufficiently large to begin immediate construction of three additional battleships of the dreadnought type" was asked for in a resolution introduced yesterday by Representative Britten, Republican, of Illinois. The resolution declares in a preamble that the administration apparently has been unable to cope with the unsettled condition of affairs in American relations with Japan and Mexico and that it is imperative to begin immediate construction of additional battleships to prepare the United States for the contingency of war.

EQUINE ENDURANCE RIDE

Morgan Horse Club Will Conduct One the Week of Vermont State Fair

White River Junction, Aug. 6.—A novel event and one that will appeal strongly to horsemen will be a feature of the Vermont state fair to be held here Sept. 16, 17, 18 and 19. Under the auspices of the Morgan Horse club an endurance ride, open to horses of any breed, will start from Northfield, on Monday, Sept. 15, over the following route: From Northfield to Waterbury, 22 miles; from Waterbury to Stowe, 10 miles; from Stowe to Morrisville, 10 miles; from Morrisville to Greensboro Bend, 21 miles; from Greensboro Bend to St. Johnsbury, 28 miles; from St. Johnsbury to White River Junction, 62 miles, making the whole distance 154 miles. The ride will terminate in front of the judge's stand on the fair grounds between 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 16. No entrance fee will be charged and the ride is open to every breed of horse. Entries should be sent to C. C. Stillman, secretary of the Morgan Horse club, 165 Broadway, New York.

A condition of the race is that the total distance travelled must not be faster than six miles an hour, including halts, nor slower than four miles per hour including all halts. Each contestant is to leave Northfield at any hour he may select, providing he arrives at destination within the time limit set, the earliest hour for leaving Northfield being 8:30 a. m. Monday, Sept. 15. The result is determined by dividing the total distance by four and subtracting this result from 11 a. m. of the day set for the termination of the ride. The latest hour of leaving is 2:20 p. m. of Tuesday, Sept. 16. The result to be determined the same way, using 6 for the divisor and subtracting the result from 4 p. m. of the day set for the termination of the ride.

Each horse is to carry not less than 160 pounds, any kind of equipment being permissible. Arrangements will be provided for feeding and stabling the horses at Waterbury, Stowe, Morrisville, Hardwick, Greensboro Bend, Summit, St. Johnsbury, Wells River, Bradford, Thetford and the state fair grounds.

As soon as each horse arrives at the fair grounds, the judges will inspect it, noting its condition and crediting it with the necessary points. The following day at 10 a. m. these horses will be again inspected, and if this last inspection warrants it, the points given for conditional the previous day will be changed. All necessary information about stabling arrangements, etc., will be furnished later to the actual contestants.

The prizes amount to $175, divided into three purses: $100 to the winning horse; $50 to the second and $25 to the third. In addition to these prizes there will be given to each one of the first ten contestants who finish the ride a small cup suitably engraved.

The report now would they state the nature of his illness. Farley retired from his profession in 1905. He is credited with having broken street car strikes in San Francisco, Pittsburgh and this city, and is said to have employed over 40,000 men in his work at various times.

DOUBLE LOBBY INQUIRY NOW IN THE SENATE

J. B. Foraker Flatly Denies Some of Mulhall's Statements

CALMER THAN OTHER WITNESSES

In Discussing Lobbyist, Who May Be Called in House Inquiry To-day

Washington, Aug. 6.—Congressional investigation of Martin M. Mulhall's story of his lobbying activities for the National Association of Manufacturers took on a dual aspect yesterday, when the special House committee began grinding on the thousands of letters already introduced before the Senate committee, and prepared to cross-examine Mulhall on his claims of influence with various representatives. The first part of the day was taken up with preliminary testimony by Louis Seibold, correspondent of the New York World.

The Senate committee, having finished with Mulhall, began hearing some of the men referred to in his correspondence. Former Senator Foraker was the first and chief witness of the session, and he generally denied Mulhall's claims of influence with him.

Ex-Senator Foraker, on taking the stand, explained his connection with the sale of the Union Pacific to a reorganization committee in 1897, which was brought into the lobby investigation by David Lamar. Lamar testified that Foraker, through influence in Washington, took a leading part in the deal at Lamar's solicitation.

Foraker testified that at the time of reorganization the Union Pacific owed the United States $30,000,000, and one proposal was that the government receive only part of that sum. Foraker swore he did not figure in the case except in an effort to see that the government got the whole sum. He had known Mulhall since 1883, when he (Foraker) was a candidate for governor of Ohio. He did not know how active Mulhall was in his behalf in that campaign.

"I don't remember that I ever asked him to work for me and I don't know that I asked him not to," he said.

The senator denied that he ever favored legislation wanted by the N. T. M. or that he talked with Mulhall about legislation in Washington. He frequently talked to men in the capitol, however, in those days about legislation.

"Before we got so good as we are now," he said, "I thought it was all right to answer questions. Of course, I never had any idea that these conversations were to be made the basis of reports by some lobbyist."

Foraker flatly denied Mulhall's testimony of a conference at which many leading Republicans opposed to the nomination of Taft gathered at Foraker's house to discuss plans for concerted opposition.

"No such conference was held at my house or elsewhere," said he.

When the House inquiry got under way Seibold, who prepared the Mulhall exposures for the World, identified published statements and otherwise laid foundations for the cross-examination of Mulhall. He told the committee that 400 or 500 new letters had been discovered within the last two or three days, in which Representative Fairchild of New York was mentioned.

CURRENCY TILT IN THE SENATE

Hitchcock Creates Stir By Opposition Speech

HOKE SMITH SILENCES OWEN

Democrats Make Progress In Consideration of Tariff Measure

Washington, Aug. 6.—The Senate Democrats succeeded yesterday for the first time in speeding the consideration of the tariff bill, making considerable progress in the metal schedule.

The chief opposition centered in the rates on automobiles, which remained, however, as the committee fixed them, at 15 per cent on cars valued at $1,000 or less, 30 per cent on cars over $1,000 and under $1,500, 45 per cent on cars valued at $1,500 and over and 30 per cent on automobile parts.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, Democrat, stirred up the currency question on the floor yesterday by declaring himself strongly opposed to comprehensive currency legislation at this session of congress. He said the American people were entitled to an opportunity to become acquainted with the pending bill before it was passed. The speech caused much comment.

His remarks were prompted by the fact that he was called on to present a resolution of the Democratic county committee of Sarpy county, Neb., urgently demanding currency legislation at this session. He said it was one of the few urgent demands of this sort that had come to him, and in presenting it he desired to say he did not agree with its authors.

Senator Owen, chairman of the Senate banking and currency committee, started to reply to Hitchcock, but was taken off his feet by Senator Hoke Smith, who said it was not the time for a currency debate—that the tariff bill should be pressed, and he demanded the regular order. Smith's action was widely regarded as indicating strong Democratic opposition to currency legislation.

Nevertheless administration senators declared there would be legislation this session.

Senator Owen, however, succeeded in getting the floor later in the day, after Senator Saulsbury had made a tariff speech, and replied to Hitchcock. It cropped out that the efforts of the president to press currency legislation have caused much resentment toward the administration on the part of some of the Democratic senators.

ELOPED TO MONTPELIER

Rutland County Couple Enacted the Scenes of Fiction Romance

Rutland, Aug. 6.—The announcement yesterday of the marriage on Saturday in Montpelier of Miss Veda M. Jenks, 17 years old daughter of Mrs. Julia Libby of East Pittsford, to Merrill Shewell, son of H. E. Shewell of the same town, by Rev. G. E. Wright, rose towards climbing a romantic tale of an early morning elopement by automobile, in which the young people were said to be the principals, that has since furnished the East Pittsfordites one of the most interesting topics of conversation which they have had in some time. Mrs. Jenks did not confirm the story of the elopement, neither did she deny it, but, according to the neighbors, the get-away was nicely accomplished, with all of the thrilling window exits that so dearly appeal to Cupid's matrimonially inclined victims of near-sweet-sixteen. Mr. Shewell is very young, guessed to be about the bride's age.

The favorite version of the leaving has it that very early—the bride-to-be left her room in the second story of her mother's house, via the window, taking her more necessary garments with her. Her route to the ground included a piazza roof and a ladder. Once down, she is said to have been met by the prospective bridegroom, who was at hand with an automobile, which he had with foresight ordered from this city. There the clue "petered out" until the receiving by the anxious mother of the marriage announcement from the couple.

Rumor also has it that a very disappointed swain of Mendon is manfully endeavoring to recover from the news of his rival's success in a very brief courtship, young Shewell having been in Mendon only a few weeks.

The Official

Pick him up suddenly. Lift him on high. Slam him down hard, with a kick on the sly. Get him alone on some dark, stormy night. Tie both his hands, then compel him to fight. Banish all sympathy far from your breast. He's just an official who's doing his best.

Proudly we bade him farewell as he went. Forth to assist in this great government. Then the bouquets round his pathway were thick; and Later each hand groped around for a brick. Loudly the call to attack still ascends, "He's just an official. He doesn't need friends."

The public oftentimes like a mischievous boy. The figure it fashions will seek to destroy. It sets up a hero on high and aloof. Then makes him a target for every reproach; And it sounds the refrain with a pitiless roar. "He's just an official. We'll find plenty more."

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

Indianapolis is now leading the race in the Federal league, the outlaw organization. Cleveland and Chicago follow in the order named. The league seems to be moving along smoothly, gathering big crowds with a regularity.

Hughie Duffy, the former Chicago manager, is showing that he is one of the foremost exponents of baseball developing in the game to-day. Duffy came east this season and assented to take over the Portland club and place it on a footing in the New England league. This he certainly had done with the Maine team and is now within reaching distance of first honors. It is said though that Duffy wants to sell the Portland team as some A. A. class club looks better to him.

Pitcher Brenton of the New Orleans club in the Southern league, one of the best twirlers in the south, has been released to the Cleveland club. The release was announced this week by Manager Frank of the New Orleans club.

James O'Rourke, the veteran manager of the New Haven club, says that he will catch for New Haven, after they have the pennant cinched. O'Rourke is about 57 years old and should be a big drawing card wherever the team goes after the pennant is practically won.

Joe Leonard, who has been playing third base for the Dea Moines club of the Western league, has been sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates for $3,000. He is not to report to the Pirates until next spring.

The Giants are in a plight of late. McGraw is confined to his rooms by illness. Larry Doyle, captain, is laid up with a ham ankle. Another man came near being added to the list. At Chicago on Thursday Burns was hit at first and then shoved onto first base, but at both he was wanting. Now he is slated for an outfielder.

The sale of pitcher North of the Jackson club of the South Michigan league and Reynolds of the Topeka club to the Detroit Tigers, has been announced. Both are good pitchers. North is expected to report next month, but Reynolds probably will not come around until next spring.

Joe Tinker is beginning to complain about the present condition of his last year station. He has tried out several men at the position, but none was what he is looking for. Joe is looking for a likely candidate.

Miller Huggins of the St. Louis team has released pitcher Burke to the Indianapolis club of the American association.

It is rumored that the management of the Minneapolis club of the American association is after "Bob" Smith, to rejoin their fold. Smith lost another game for Keene in the Twin State league. The game was on Friday against Northampton, going 12 rounds.

It is said that Frank Chance and Jimmy Callahan do not speak as they pass by. This arose over the recent conflict between the two managers because of the Rollie-Zeider deal.
