KENTUCKY BREAKS COAL RECORD.

Last Year's Production Shows Increase of Nearly 2,500,000 Tons.

The production of coal in Kentucky established a new record in 1912 with a total production of 16,490,521 short tons, according to Edward W. Parker, chief statistician of the United States geological survey. This large output represented an increase of 2,440,518 tons over the figures for 1911, and of nearly 2,000,000 tons over the former maximum output of 1910. There was an even greater increase in value in 1912, namely, $2,845,749 over the figures for 1911.

The increased production in Kentucky was due chiefly to the new developments in the eastern part of the state, although the western counties participated largely in the gain.

The number of men employed in the mines in 1912 was 24,304, and the average production per man, 678 tons. Kentucky ranks second among the states in the percentage of coal produced by machines, Ohio holding first place. In 1912, 46 per cent of the coal produced was machine mined.

State Has Great Coal Reserve. Kentucky is the only one of the coal-producing states which has within its borders areas belonging to any two of the distinctly separate great coal fields.

Clarence Webster's Barn Was Burned Saturday.

An alarm of fire was sounded about ten o'clock on Saturday forenoon, and the fire company found the fire to be the barn of Clarence Webster. The fire had progressed so rapidly that nothing could be done to save the barn, which was entirely destroyed in a short time. The attention of the company was at once directed to saving the other buildings which fortunately were not burned, although the household furniture was somewhat damaged by being taken from the house. All the stock was saved from the barn but all the hay and grain from the season's harvest were consumed. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline engine, used for cutting ensilage, with which they were filling the silo. Numerous reports are abroad, some to the effect that the gasoline was leaking, and a match was lighted which caused the gasoline to take fire. The fire quickly spread, and there being no water, only what was brought from the river, there was no help. Charles Howard, who was running the machine, was burned quite badly about his hands, in trying to remove the tank.

Prospective candidates should address Prof. Roberts for particular details concerning this examination. The two candidates who pass the best examination will be nominated by me as principals. The Navy department will give the nominees an examination on February 17, 1914 or April 21st following.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Mammoth Revival of Planquette's "Chimes of Normandy" To-night.

Following their remarkably successful revival of Balfe's "The Bohemian Girl" the Aborn Comic Opera company, toward the end of last season produced "The Chimes of Normandy" in a few of the larger cities. In this as in the cases of the Balfe opera, everything has been done on gigantic lines. An immense organization including a cast of well known Aborn favorites, a large chorus, special orchestra, and unusual features, the latter employed to realize fully the opportunity offered for the introduction in the fair scene. That a special train is required for the transportation of this company will best convey an idea as to its size. The "Chimes of Normandy" will be presented at the Barre opera house to-night.—Adv.

Seven Hours in New York.

"The public that sits in a theatre and sees the action of a big musical entertainment unfold smooth before it, has no conception of the enormous amount of detailed labor that has gone into the making of it," says Henry Alexander, stage director of the "Seven Hours in New York" company, which is announced to appear at the opera house next Friday, Sept. 26th. "And," said the kindly faced, but resolute looking gentleman, "it is not likely that the public will ever have a true conception of it, for the end of all these long, tedious rehearsals is solely and entirely to fool the public into the belief that it is all play, and the actors are only doing it because they enjoy it more than anything else in the world." Of course the work that our excellent chorus girls do now, is easy and pleasant, as constant repetition has rendered it so, but they will not forget those hot August days and nights. Why, it took over a week to perfect the "Ragtime Baseball" number, to say nothing of the other musical hits in the play. Even after the company opened the season, little ragged places in the ensemble work kept cropping out, and it requires daily rehearsals, with performances nightly, to get it down fine. We don't rehearse much now, as it isn't necessary, besides we haven't had a change in the company since it started from New York. A full rehearsal, however, is held each Monday morning, and the little faults are pointed out and corrected. I isn't likely that any changes will take place now, as virtually the entire company has been engaged for the summer run of "Seven Hours in New York" at the Park theatre, Boston, which will begin June 14th." Mr. Alexander said staged a number of big musical plays, but says that he has never put one on that gives such universal satisfaction as "Seven Hours in New York."—Adv.

THREE DROWNED

When a Tug Collided with a Cutter at Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 22.—Three of the crew of the torpedo destroyer McCull, which has been anchored off the harbor several days, were drowned in the harbor Saturday night, when the tug Seaboard, westbound, collided with the destroyer's cutter, containing four of the crew.

The tug put out boats and rescued one man who was clinging to the wrecked cutter. The other bodies could not be found.

The drowned are: Gunners' Mate Preston S. Cate, North Mobile; Able Seaman Alfred Ward Speeuan of New London and Joseph Patrick Russell of New York.

Art Is Perpetuated by Slaves.

In the October American Magazine Walter Pritchard Eaton, dramatic critic for that publication, writes an article entitled "Carrying on the Torch," in which he reports the development and activities of some of the most wonderful young actors and actresses now coming to the front in the United States. The following is an extract from his article, telling how the really great actor is produced:

"Any art which is worth practicing refuses to be the tool either of artists or amateurs, and still less of managers. It insists upon being the master. That is why you may create ever so many ill-equipped little stars and blazon their names on the billboards in amiable little plays, but while you are doing it some man or woman will be toiling week in and week out in a stock company to learn to act, driven on by that impulse to do the thing right, which is what makes real artists; and he or she will suddenly come forth in an ample part, ripely played, and put all your manager-made stars to shame. Every art is perpetuated, not by its business managers, not by its amateurs or dilettantes, not by the public, but by the devotion of the artists who are born to the purple, which paradoxically means—who are born slaves."

WHICH IS THE BEST SKIN POWDER, LONG ISLAND NURSE TELLS

M. J. Hyde, trained nurse, of Elmhurst, L. I., says: "I use Comfort Powder altogether, and find it is by far the best powder I have ever used. For chafing, prickly heat, hives and any irritation or skin soreness, Comfort Powder has no equal. Its cooling, healing properties are wonderful. For use in the sick room there is nothing that can approach it, and I have great pleasure in recommending it."

G. O. P. DRIFTING TOWARD 1916

Republican Leaders Inclined to Agree with Sutherland's Prophecy

IT'S THE TALK IN CONGRESS

Senators Confer on Question of His Return to the Fold

Washington, Sept. 22.—The movement among Republicans to turn to Colonel Roosevelt as the leader in 1916 is growing with remarkable rapidity.

The statement made Friday in Salt Lake City by United States Senator George Sutherland of Utah, predicting the nomination of Roosevelt three years hence on the Republican ticket, has added greatly to the interest with which Washington has been watching the turning of the political wheel. Coming from a senator who did not support Roosevelt last year and who always has been classed as a strong conservative, the interview caused much comment.

Senator Sutherland, however, has only voiced publicly what many prominent Republican leaders have been saying beneath their breath for some time. Several weeks ago it was told the growing feeling in Washington was that Roosevelt's nomination on the Republican ticket is inevitable and that the colonel is open to suggestions of this character, but since then the opinion among political leaders has become stronger. Many are convinced that they will again be obliged to support the colonel as the Republican standard bearer.

The general feeling of tolerance toward this suggestion was shown clearly in the guarded comment caused by Senator Sutherland's statement. The bitterness engendered in last year's campaign over Roosevelt's bolting of the ticket has been steadily growing less, and many Republicans have been seeking grounds of compromise on which they could go before the country with a chance of success.

Several informal conferences and talks were held among Republican senators Saturday in regard to the Sutherland statement. Senator Bradley of Kentucky and Borah of Idaho had just been discussing it when they were asked for an expression of opinion. Neither would talk for publication, but it is known that Senator Borah has long been of the opinion that Roosevelt is rapidly becoming the most available man to reunite the Republican party for victory in 1916. In conversation with his colleagues he has said there is no other course open to the Republicans by which to win.

BRYAN ANSWERS CRITICS.

Says His Net Receipts for Lecturing This Summer Amount to $6,500.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Secretary Bryan concluded his Chautauqua lectures for the season Saturday night with an address at Warrenton, Va. Secretary Bryan Saturday, commenting on the termination of his engagements, announced that he would continue to lecture as long as he remained secretary of state, whenever he felt there was proper occasion and a desire to do so.

Mr. Bryan issued this statement: "This evening is the last of the Chautauqua lectures for this season. The total income from Chautauqua lectures this year is a little over $7,000, the net receipts after taking out the necessary expenses are something over $6,500. The number of whole weekdays which have been used for the lectures is, according to my recollection, seven. The remainder of the lectures have been delivered at places near enough to this city to leave in the afternoon, sometimes as late as 3:08 o'clock. I would not assume that the public was interested in these details, were it not for the fact that the representatives of a few newspapers have regarded it as a matter of great importance."

When Mr. Bryan was asked if he would lecture any more during his connection with the state department, he replied: "I expect to lecture whenever I deem it desirable or necessary to do so, and have not in the least altered the plans which were made at the time I assumed the duties of the office. The criticism that has been directed against my lecturing is no more bitter than the criticism I have undergone at other times and for other things during my connection with politics. A part of this criticism is malicious, a part of it is partisan, and a part of it is based upon misinformation. That which is malicious will answer itself; that which is partisan will be accepted as such; that which is based upon misinformation will cease when the critics are better informed."

AUTO THEVES IN BERKSHIRES.

Take Phillip Bladgen's Car—Enter Chapman and Lynde Garages.

Stockbridge, Mass., Sept. 22.—Thieves broke into the garage of Phillip Bladgen of New York on the Lenox road early Saturday and pushed out a $2,500 Guy Vaughn automobile, speeding away with it. Previously they broke open the garage of Templeton Chapman of St. Louis, but could not start Mr. Chapman's car. The garage of Mrs. R. B. Lynde was entered, but Mrs. Lynde had gone to New York in her car.

Four men are believed to have been engaged in the robbery, from the footprints they left.
