FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1913.

There's one more day's chance to get shot in the woods of Vermont.

While remembering their appetites, how many forgot to be thankful?

The approach of Dec. 1 is a signal for joining the S. P. U. G.'s and abiding by its tenets.

Francis Sayre is one bridegroom who was able to crowd into print along with the bride.

Reports from the table of battle seem to indicate that all the fatalities were confined to the poultry yard.

Charles P. Smith, too, cannot be accused of ambiguity of statement regarding his place in politics. No one doubts his Republicanism; and he himself says he's not a candidate for governor of Vermont. So that appears settled.

A STRANGE-ACTING GOVERNOR.

South Carolina has a strange governor on its hands. This governor has pardoned in two years 882 convicts from the South Carolina state prison, a large per cent of the number being what are known as life termers, they having been incarcerated for some very serious offenses. Moreover, this man boasts loudly that before Christmas time he will have increased this number of pardons from 882 to a round 1,000—all of them criminals, turned loose on an all but defenseless population. A thousand or bust! That would make an appropriate slogan for this most reckless executive and unmindful of the wishes of the people of the entire country if not of the people of his own state. If there ever should be a recall of officials, it should be put into operation against this man; and we shall be surprised if South Carolina doesn't exercise its prerogative at the first opportunity and oust him from the responsible position which he is holding with so much self-assertiveness. Blessèe is the name of the fellow.

PROUTY AND THE SEAT IN THE SENATE.

Charles A. Prouty of the U. S. interstate commerce commission and a Vermont still, although he has been absent from the state during recent years, called a rather peremptory halt on the proceedings to make him the candidate of the Vermont Progressive party for the United States Senate seat now held by Senator William P. Dillingham. The first report of the conference of the Progressive party leaders with Mr. Prouty intimated that he was ready to align himself with that organization although not yet ready to announce whether he would be its candidate for senator or not. But the following day the intimation was flattened out completely by the positive assertion by Mr. Prouty that if he runs for the Senate it will be as a Republican. That assertion does not, of course, prevent his acceptance of Progressive party votes if the wielders of those votes see fit to support him, but should he decide to run he will be an out and out Republican. That seems final, at least.

Just what caused Mr. Prouty to take such a stand is naturally a matter of his own concern, but it is interesting to speculate if one of the lesser considerations was not the fact that he wished to know whether a party was asking him to run for the office or whether it was just a few men who took it upon themselves to represent the interests of that party and made their own selection, intending to present the candidate to the party for endorsement. So far as known, no expression of choice has been made by the Progressive party of Vermont—that is, the voters of that party—as to their desires as to the senatorial candidacy, whether, indeed, they would have a candidate for the position, although it has been hinted in some quarters from time to time that Mr. Prouty would be an acceptable man if it should come to a choice. Possibly the decision was delegated to the men who conferred with Mr. Prouty in Boston last Tuesday night—perhaps not. If the latter case, it looks like the "bossed" politics which the Progressive party has decried in times past.

Cook With Gas.

The simmering burner should be used whenever possible, as it consumes very little gas. A good plan is to use single burner only long enough to bring kettle to a boil, then place kettle over simmering burner. You will be surprised to see it boil just as well and pleased to know that you are using less than half as much gas. The single burner should be used for sad iron heater and toaster. Use giant, or large burner only for bringing anything to a boil quickly and for frying, but do not use it any more than absolutely necessary.

FUNERAL ATTENDED BY 2,000.

Rev. A. J. Barron's Services Were Held at Bennington Wednesday.

Bennington, Nov. 28.—The funeral of Rev. A. J. Barron, rector of the Church of St. Francis de Sales, was held here Wednesday in the presence of fully 2,000 persons. All industries in the village suspended work for the day and during the hour of the service all business houses were closed. More than 60 priests were in attendance, representing practically every parish in the diocese. A pontifical high requiem mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. J. J. Rice, bishop of Burlington, assisted by Monsignor Jerome Cleary of Burlington.

In the sanctuary were the following: Rev. M. J. Carmody of Brattleboro and Rev. Charles E. Prevost of Bennington, deacons of honor; Rev. P. J. Barrett of Poulney, deacon of the mass; Rev. J. P. Cullion of Ludlow, sub-deacon; Rev. T. J. Henry of Wallington, mitre bearer; Rev. J. McGarry of Northfield, candle bearer; Rev. P. J. Rand of Winoski, book bearer; Rev. P. J. Doherty of Bennington and Rev. Thomas Schaefer of North Bennington, acolytes; Rev. J. M. Kennedy of Burlington, master of ceremonies; Rev. E. J. Gray of Orwell, assistant; Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan of St. Albans, eulogist; Rev. Bernard Kelley of Manchester, censor bearer.

Among other members of the clergy present were the Very Rev. E. M. Total of St. Michael's college, Winoski Park, Rev. P. M. McKenna of Barre, Rev. D. J. Leonard of Cambridge, Rev. W. J. O'Sullivan of Montpelier, Rev. P. J. Houlihan of Fair Haven, Rev. R. J. Cahill of Montpelier, Rev. J. J. O'Brien of Castleton, Rev. E. M. Salmon of Swanton, Rev. N. Prouty of Rutland, Rev. E. L. Lizott of Fair Haven, Rev. D. E. Coffey of Waterbury, Rev. N. L. Archambault of Bristol, Rev. T. J. Henry of Wallingford, Rev. Fr. Lachance of Alburg, Rev. J. D. Shannon of Bellows Falls, Rev. J. W. Dwyer of St. Johnsbury, Rev. J. F. Gillis of Burlington, Rev. C. C. Delaney of White River Junction, Rev. Thomas R. Carly of West Rutland, Rev. T. Leonard of Middlebury, Rev. William A. Plamondon of Burlington and many others.

The sermon and eulogy by Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan of St. Albans was one of the most brilliant and powerful ever heard in the Church of St. Francis. Rev. P. J. Barrett of Poulney officiated at the grave, which is just at the left of the church tower.

PRACTICALLY UNPRECEDENTED.

Action Taken in Bankruptcy Case at Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, Nov. 28.—Judge William W. Miles has handed down his decision in the habeas corpus proceedings brought in behalf of Ralph C. Groat and William S. Fleming, seeking their release as defendants from the judgments brought

AFTER GRIPPE

Made Strong by Vinol

John C. Furman of Clarion, Pa., says: "After a very severe attack of the grippe, my system was in a weakened, nervous and run-down condition. I had no appetite at all. I was obliged to continue with my work, and nothing seemed to help me until a friend induced me to take Vinol. I began to note good results from the first bottle. I continued its use and am now sound and well as ever."

In health one cannot realize how depressed a person may become after trying one remedy after another without benefit for such a condition as Mr. Furman was in, or what a relief it is to find help and be restored to health and strength.

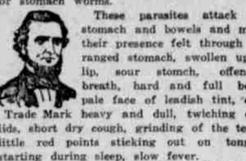

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative element of cods' livers without the greasy oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonics that makes Vinol so efficient in building up the weakened run-down system.

We guarantee Vinol to give you perfect satisfaction. Red Cross Pharmacy, Floyd G. Russell, Barre, Vt.

P. S.—For rough, scaly skin, try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.—Adv.

Diseases of Children

I find that worms is one of the most common of children's diseases—either pinworms or stomach worms.

These parasites attack the stomach and bowels and make their presence felt through dejected stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, pale face of leadish tint, eyes Trade Mark heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

For over 60 years, Dr. True's Elixir, my father's discovery, has been the standard remedy for worms and stomach disorders. Take no chances, but use the time-tried remedy—Dr. True's Elixir, the family laxative and worm expeller. At all dealers', 35c, 50c and $1.00. Advice free. Write.

against them for damages, and finds for the petitioners. A hearing was given on this matter at Newfane early in November, Attorney Hermon E. Eddy appearing for the petitioners.

Mr. Groat and Mr. Fleming were granted discharges from bankruptcy after a hearing in Brattleboro Oct. 27 and were then arrested on executions to collect county court judgments but were released on bail furnished by their counsel. Their claim is that their discharge from bankruptcy relieves them from paying the county court judgments.

The law question involved is practically without precedent in Vermont and it is expected that C. S. Chase and W. R. Daley, counsel for the plaintiffs in each of the suits brought against Groat and Fleming, will appeal from the finding.

Groat was made a defendant in damage suits amounting to $7,000 brought by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Nason, it being claimed that Groat, then a minor, on July 1, 1907, ran into Mrs. Nason on the sidewalk and injured her. County Clerk F. D. E. Stowe was appointed to assess damages after Groat had been ordered to pay $300 damages. Groat then went into bankruptcy.

Henry W. Goddard was plaintiff in the suit brought against Fleming. Fleming's automobile, driven by Henry Shafter, collided with a team driven by Goddard, and Goddard was badly injured on Sept. 20, 1911. Suit was brought in the sum of $10,000 and damages of $4,000 awarded. Fleming then went into bankruptcy.

DEAD IN THE ROAD.

Edward Pecor of Underhill Was Killed in Runaway.

Underhill, Nov. 28.—Edward Pecor of Cloverdale was found dead in the road near Wilbur McClellan's house Wednesday. The exact cause of the runaway accident in which he was killed or the exact time at which it occurred is not known, but it happened sometime during the night. The wagon was badly broken, crossbar and thills being smashed. Pecor's body was found under the wagon, tangled up in parts of the broken harness and pieces of the wagon. The head was under the axle and the feet between the wheels. A hole was found through the skull, caused either by the horse kicking, or by being hit by splintered pieces of the wagon.

The horse had gone, but as he had kicked off one shoe, he was easily tracked to the sheds behind the Congregational church. Mr. Pecor was living with relatives on the farm known as the "Lute Irish place."

Raymond Hall, aged 23 years, formerly a resident of Worcester, Mass., was arrested Tuesday in South Londonderry on the charge of breaking into the store of L. T. Landman in that place August 25 in coin were taken from the store and that sometime later Hall sold one said to be the same as the stolen one. Officers had been on the lookout for him and when he appeared in South Londonderry, Monday, they arrested him. He asked permission to change his clothes, and the next they saw of him he was making for the woods. A posse was organized and the man caught late that night. Unable to secure $1,500 bonds, he was taken to the Newfane jail.
