

SPAULDING 15, STOWE HIGH 8

Game Was One of Roughest Ever Seen in Church Street Gym.

HOME TEAM WERE WORST OFFENDERS

Visitors Scored Most of Their Points on Fouls

The Spaulding high school quint last evening retrieved itself for last year's defeat by Stowe high school by winning over the doughty Lamotte county team by the score of 15 to 8. The game was one of the fiercest affairs ever staged in the old church structure. Every period was bitterly fought and characterized by unnecessary roughness and questionable tactics, with the Spaulding players the chief offenders. The affair was played with a general scramble as the officials from the time box announced the end of playing time, but the threatening tempest subsided with the intervention of the officials of the game. Teamwork and basketball harmony were a negligible factor throughout, both teams resorting to indifferent work.

At the opening of the game, the Stowe boys won a favorable lead during the first period, by the score of 5 to 2. Spaulding's prospects seemed dim, but in the dying moments of the second session the local sharp caged a series of goals that gave them a lead of 10 to 5. Stowe was held scoreless in this period. In the third period Spaulding outscored Stowe by two points, winning by the score of 15 to 8.

The playing of the new captain, Levin, was a revelation. His floor work, including real, was a potent factor in the Spaulding victory. He also caged two goals that were instrumental in the victory. Hooker played a strong defensive game and shared the scoring honors with two field goals. The work of J. Carroll, the giant center, and Oliver was worthy of merit. Wheeler, Hosmer and Shaw were much in evidence at every stage of the miniature battle. The latter pair were responsible for every point registered by the visitors.

The visitors showed superior skill in locating the loop on foul shots, making six of their points. After the game was but a few minutes along Hosmer registered a point on a foul shot. It was only a matter of a few minutes before he increased the visitors' lead with a two-point tally. Hosmer augmented their score during the remainder of the period with two additional foul shots. After the game had progressed about five minutes Carroll connected with the cage for a basket from the floor. During the second session the Spaulding aggregation held the Stowe team scoreless, while they piled up a total of four baskets and assumed a lead that was not to be overcome. During the initial part of the final period, Captain Shaw of the Stowe team, who was ushered onto the scene to save the day, scored three foul goals and placed his crew in a threatening position. Towards the latter part of the period baskets by Levin and Lebourveau settled the argument. The summary:

Spaulding. Stowe.
Levin 11. Lebourveau 11. r. g. Houston 10. Tomasi 10. Lebourveau 11. g. Forbes 10. Carroll 10. Hosmer 10. Wheeler 10. Hooker 10. r. Hosmer, Shaw 10. Oliver, Gordon 10. Heath 10.
The score—Spaulding 15, Stowe 8. Baskets from the floor—Levin 2, Hooker 2, Oliver, Carroll, Lebourveau, Hosmer. Baskets from fouls—Hooker, Hosmer 3, Shaw 3. Referee—Chaffee. Umpire—Carroll. Time—Two 15-minute and one 10-minute periods.

COUNTERFEIT SCARE OVER NEW NICKEL

Supposed Imitations of Buffalo Design Are Really Improved Coinage.

New York, Jan. 10.—Much confusion has been caused throughout New York City and the country because the government has coined two widely different buffalo nickels of the same design and the same date. Street railway companies, 5 and 10 cent stores, department stores and other large handlers of small coins, including even banks, have besieged the United States secret service agencies and the sub-treasuries with reports of a supposed counterfeit of the buffalo nickel.

Word spread among the small shopkeepers of this city Thursday, being traced mainly to street car conductors, that a dangerous counterfeit of the buffalo nickel was in circulation. The first coinage of the 1913 buffalo nickel was shown, with its indistinct lettering and rather blurred lines and beside it was exhibited the coin that was called counterfeit with its sharp and distinct lines and lettering. The difference was immediately noticeable, and because both bore the date of 1913 was assumed the new coin was counterfeit.

"The new nickel is genuine, but because it differs from the first coinage of the buffalo coin a report had gained wide credence throughout the country that it was counterfeit," and John J. Henry, chief of the secret service in this city, last night.

"Many banks have accumulated thousands of these supposedly counterfeit nickels and have shipped them to the secret service offices or to the treasury and sub-treasuries. In the last few days thousands of conductors and ticket sellers have refused to accept these new nickels. "Wise coin collectors are gathering the old and indistinct coins and will hold them for an increase in value."

NOT LIKELY TO NAME IVES

President Wilson Probably Will Appoint Farrell of Vermont to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, Jan. 10.—It is expected that shortly after his return to Washington, President Wilson will appoint two members of the interstate commerce commission to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Charles A. Prouty and the death of John H. Marble. A New England man is practically certain to be one of these selections, and the Transcript correspondent has excellent reason for believing that David O. Ives of the Boston chamber of commerce is unlikely to be selected, and that, unless another shift of opinion occurs, Patrick J. Farrell of Vermont, now solicitor of the commission, will be named, the friends of Mr. Ives are renewing activity in his behalf. It is understood that Mr. Farrell will succeed Judge Prouty, and that a California man has been decided upon to take the place of Mr. Marble.

A ROMANTIC STORY.

Recalled by Death of Simon Bolivar Buckner.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The death of Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner at Lexington, Ky., recalls his struggle here after the close of the Civil war, to recoup his fortune. Before the war, in which he attained the rank of lieutenant general in the Confederate army, General Buckner owned property in what is now the heart of Chicago's business district. To avoid confiscation at the outbreak of the war he deeded it to a brother-in-law who served in the Federal army. His brother-in-law, who was mortally wounded, left a will restoring the property to General Buckner. Title was not perfected, however, until after long and expensive litigation. A building was then erected on the property and later the general sold it for $500,000. During the litigation over the Chicago property, General U. S. Grant, a classmate at West Point, offered General Buckner his private purse. In the early eighties when General Grant met with financial reverses in New York, General Buckner hastened to tender his assistance. He was also one of the pall bearers at Grant's funeral.

FAVOR BANK FOR BOSTON

Eastern Vermont Bankers Favor Project, While Others Oppose

DAVIS OF BETHEL FAVORS BOSTON

At Hearing Before Secretary McAdoo in Boston Yesterday

Boston, Jan. 10.—Bankers from five New England states and part of Connecticut endorsed the idea of a regional bank here before Secretaries McAdoo and Houston, the committee on reserve bank organization. Objections came from Hartford and New Haven, Springfield, Pittsfield, Rutland and Burlington were not heard from.

Forty witnesses were heard and a score will be examined today. A majority believed the district should include all of New England. Maine and New Hampshire were strongly for a regional bank here. E. A. Davis of Bethel, Vt., and W. H. Brackett of Brattleboro were among those endorsing Boston, although they admitted that western Vermont is somewhat affiliated with New York. President O'Neil of the Federal Trust company favored taking in northern New York.

Governor Walsh added a few words in favor of Boston and opposed cutting off any western Massachusetts cities from the district. He said perhaps southwestern Connecticut should be included in the New York district.

THOUSANDS SUFFER FOR 2-CENT CURE

Missionaries Needed to Care for Kentucky Hookworm Victims, Woman Says.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 10.—The hookworm to-day is the greatest menace to race improvement in the southern states, according to Miss Lillian South, state bacteriologist of Kentucky. "Eighty-nine per cent. of the people in one Kentucky county were found to be affected with the hookworm," Miss South told the national conference on race betterment yesterday. "Two cents' worth of medicine will cure hookworm. Its victims are broken down mentally, morally and physically, and it is the duty of the state to inaugurate a vigorous campaign against it. "If any country on the globe needs missionaries, it is our own outland. These people are the purest American stock there is, descendants of the soldiers of the American revolution, but they need instruction on right living and the care of their bodies.

713 Dudley St., Dorchester, Mass.—"My trouble began with dandruff. It caused me much trouble and after a while my hair began falling out. The dandruff could be seen very plainly in my hair and also on my coat collar. It caused my head to get itchy. The itching and burning caused scratching and left sores on my head. I lost much sleep through the night. Every time I combed my hair lots of hair would fall out. "I tried—and two other remedies without success. I suffered almost two years until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Then I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I was relieved a little bit. Then I got a full-sized cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in four weeks I was all cured." (Signed) James Mahoney, May 1, 1913.
