

HAIR CAME OUT BY HANDFULS

Eczema on Head, Dandruff Scared Off, Itched and Burned, Scratched and Made Sores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

B. F. D. No. 5, Brewer, Me.—"I had been troubled with eczema on my head for a year. At first it came on in the form of dandruff which scaled off and showed plainly in my hair and then there was a rash that itched and burned and would wake me from my sleep. I scratched and made sores that would bleed. My hair came out by handfuls and was thin and dry.

"I used several kinds of soap without getting any relief. At last I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, applying the Cuticura Ointment at night and washing my head in the morning with Cuticura Soap and warm water and after the first time using them the itching and burning stopped. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment one month my head was completely cured and my hair began to grow out again."

BEARDSLEY TOTS SENT TO BROTHER

Present Pitiful Spectacle When Taken to Hotel by Their Grandmother.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Fitted out with clean, clothing, new shoes and stockings and in the care of their grandmother, the nine children who were imprisoned in the barricaded house of their father, Edward Beardsley, while the latter resisted a siege of deputy sheriffs, were sent to Titusville, Pa., yesterday. There they will be cared for by Charles Beardsley, their uncle, who has adopted them.

The children presented a pitiful spectacle as they were taken to a hotel here Wednesday night. Not one had good features—they present type mixtures as complex as their vacant faces. Little attention had been given to clothing them other than to see that their little bodies were covered. The grandmother was asked the name of one child with long black hair. The little one wore a dress and it was assumed that the child was a girl.

"That isn't a girl," Mrs. Austin replied, "that's Walter. He is three years old." Walter was extremely proud of his new pair of shoes. They were the first he ever had. Beardsley has not yet been arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to kill Poormaster Putnam. The case will go before the next grand jury.

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 23.—Federal Judge Willard filed a decision here yesterday holding valid the 2 1/2 cent rate of railroad passenger fares in South Dakota. TRUST BILLS GO TO COMMITTEE

Three Likely to Be Acted Upon There at Once

RIVALRY OVER SPONSORSHIP

Clash in House and Senate as to Who Will Have Honors

Washington, Jan. 23.—The House judiciary committee buckled down to real work yesterday on the administration anti-trust programme. Three tentative bills drawn by Chairman Clayton and Representatives Floyd and Carlin were laid before the full committee. Formal introduction of the bills was planned for yesterday afternoon or to-day. Hearings will begin next week before both the judiciary and interstate commerce committees.

The quelling of rivalry of both Senate and House leaders over the division of the administration programme faced the president yesterday. Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce and Chairman Clayton of the judiciary committee reached a temporary truce, after President Wilson had appealed to both to bury their differences in handling the measures. Mr. Clayton was said to have protested to the president against Mr. Adamson's committee taking any part in the work, following Democratic Leader Underwood's reference of the interstate trade commission and railroad securities regulation features to the Adamson committee.

It was reported yesterday that the president had asked Mr. Adamson if he could, and would, gracefully withdraw and leave the entire field and glory to Mr. Clayton's committee. Mr. Adamson refused, but agreed to give Mr. Clayton the prestige of introducing the several bills with his name upon them as the author, reserving to the interstate commerce committee the right to present the final drafts.

In the Senate more rivalry between Chairman Newlands' interstate commerce committee and Chairman Overman's judiciary committee was impending. Mr. Overman thinks some of the bills ought to be given to the judiciary committee and not have Mr. Newlands' committee handle the whole programme.

Four of the proposed bills supplementing the Sherman anti-trust law were made public last night. One is the interstate trade commission bill. Three others prepared by the House judiciary sub-committee have been given to the public. They embrace the following: The prohibition of interlocking directorates and definition of the terms of the Sherman act. The trade relations measure is to prohibit cut-throat competition.

All monopoly contracts would be declared unlawful and punishable by $5,000 fines or imprisonment not exceeding one year or both. The interlocking directorate bill would provide that after two years of its approval no person engaged as an individual member or partnership in the business of manufacturing or selling railroad cars, should act as employee of any railroad doing interstate business.

BIG BUSINESS MUST HELP.

Only Way to Carry Proposed Reform Programme.

Washington, Jan. 23.—"The salvation of our system of government rests with the captains of finance. They must fight with and not against the people for social justice, not for industrial slavery. It is not what they would do but what they must do that now confronts them." In these striking words, Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, in the course of conversation yesterday which is causing intense anxiety in Washington among men responsible for policies of the administration and their outcome. The vice president was not speaking with reference to any particular situation, but was voicing his own view of modern tendencies in the field of public thought, and it is understood that in the lecture field later Mr. Marshall will elaborate upon the general conditions which have led to this utterance.

It so happens, however, that the words of the vice president fit conveniently into a situation suggested by the statements of administration leaders made Wednesday that full and free hearings would be given upon the anti-trust bills. Underlying the anxiety for these hearings is the feeling that unless co-operation of the business world is secured in the enactment of the legislation of the future socialism will be given such an advantage that it may become menacing alike to organized business and to the government. The Alaskan railroad bill has been the direct cause of the anxiety now apparent in both House and Senate, for it is regarded by the anti-socialist element as the entering wedge for a system of government control whose end cannot be foreseen. Senate and House alike are terrorized by the demands of the radicals and in neither branch may there be found the courage to stand up and vote against amendments which are regarded as playing directly into the hands of the Socialists. The bill is assured a safe margin in the Senate and probably in the House, but Oscar W. Underwood and some of his colleagues are alarmed over its possibilities and it will be strongly debated before it is put to a vote.

The opinion of the conservative leaders, lately stated, is that unless big business comes to the front on anti-trust bills, confesses its situations and joins in a programme of reform, radical amendments to the anti-trust bills will be adopted and the legislation be made a menace to business comfort if not to prosperity. The fashion of attacking the captains of finance and industry has been set and now a situation has developed which threatens to run beyond control. Some senators are saying openly that the salvation of good legislation depends upon the financiers of New York, Chicago and Boston, whose aid is now required to assist in an agreed programme of legislation which can be protected against successful assault.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; its breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need to be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

U. S. TREASURY CONDITIONS BAD

Startling Disclosures Recently Made to House Committee—Work Months Behind.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Sensational disclosures showing that the condition of the office of treasurer of the United States is chaotic, and that it is far behind in its work, have come out recently in executive sessions of the sub-committee of the House appropriations committee in charge of the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill.

Through Treasurer Burke himself and several witnesses from the treasurer's office the situation has been disclosed. It has been shown that enormous sums in checks remain uncleared every night, opening the way to frauds and irregularities. The situation is ascribed to the fact that certain work has been transferred to Washington from the sub-treasuries, to the frequent changes in the office of the treasurer, and to various other causes, among them that Dr. J. M. Baker of the office of director of the mint, who was sent into the treasurer's office to effect reforms, has caused apprehension and disorganization among the clerks.

The business of the establishment is months behind. The disclosures have caused astonishment in the House appropriation committee. It is shown the disbursing clerk in the pension department of the treasurer's office, the account of which totals about $785,000,000, has had no balance since last February. It may take congressional action or a piece of special legislation to clear the slate and get order restored.

C. F. MURPHY DENIES SULZER

Latter's Testimony Is Declared to Be False

TAMMANY CHIEF TALKS ON TESTIMONY

Gov. Sulzer a "Perjurer and Liar," Says Tammany Chief

New York, Jan. 23.—Senator O'Gorman declined yesterday to make any comment on the testimony given by ex-Governor Sulzer at the John Doe inquiry. "The senator wishes to refrain from making any statement at present, because he may be called upon later to appear in the proceedings," his secretary said.

Mr. Murphy, usually uncommunicative, referred briefly to Sulzer's testimony this afternoon. "I did not see Senator O'Gorman from the time Sulzer was nominated until March 6," Murphy declared. That date was three days after the luncheon, during which Sulzer testified Senator O'Gorman told him of his (O'Gorman's) visit to Murphy. With reference to the statement of Sulzer that John H. Delaney was sent to him with a summons to meet Murphy at Delmonico's, Murphy said that he never sent Delaney on any such mission. It was at this meeting, Sulzer averred, that Murphy berated him for meddling in the Stewart matter. Sulzer also said that this meeting at Delmonico's was in private. "I never talked alone with the man in my life," said Murphy. "Anyway, not since he was nominated for governor, because I knew that he would do just what he has done, perjure himself."

"The evidence given by Sulzer speaks for itself," said District Attorney Whitman yesterday. "It was given under oath, and should be judged accordingly. I will not comment upon it, but the public may rest assured that if a crime has been committed in this county I shall do my duty no matter who the offender may be."

Mr. Sulzer testified under oath Wednesday that Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, threatened to wreck his administration as governor of New York if he didn't appoint James E. Gaffney commissioner of highways. He said he had declined to make the appointment after a conference in Washington with United States Senator James A. O'Gorman. The senator told, he said, that Gaffney was Murphy's "chief bagman" and that Gaffney had attempted to hold up James O. Stewart, a state highway contractor and client of the senator's for $100,000 "and that to appoint him would be a disgrace to the state of New York."

Albany, Jan. 23.—Commissioner Delaney left for New York yesterday to request District Attorney Whitman to examine him in the John Doe Proceedings. On the stand Wednesday, Sulzer accused Delaney of approaching him for Boss Murphy.

"FINGY" SURELY A STAYER.

Took Him Four Days to See the President, but He Saw Tim.

Washington, Jan. 23.—One individual who was yesterday convinced that "nothing comes to Jim who waits" is William J. Conners, just installed as the "boss" of the Democracy of Buffalo, N. Y. Conners has been in this city since Monday waiting to see President Wilson. Up until yesterday he had been unable to get farther than Secretary Tumulty's office. But this morning he put in an appearance shortly after 9 o'clock and settled himself stolidly in a chair. He was accompanied by Representative Charles R. Smith of Buffalo. After sitting for three hours he at last had a few minutes' conversation with the president.

Conners said that he had called to advocate the appointment of Charles M. Head of New York to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

The Fitchburg owes the Boston & Maine $1,499,000 and has $500,000 of its own bonds maturing on May 1, 1914.

There was no opposition to the petition.

THE C. W. AVERILL COMPANY Barre, Vermont

MONTPELIER Deerfield Lumber Corporation Formed, With $500,000 Capital Stock. The prompt discovery of fire in an upstairs room at the farmhouse of Harry Vincent in East Montpelier, yesterday morning, was that which saved the buildings from destruction. A neighbor, who came to the house for milk, noticed the blaze and notified the Vincents. An extinguisher was used to good effect and the damage was confined to that one room. It is supposed the fire started from an overheated stovepipe that went through the room from the lower floor. Frank Hill of the Northfield road, employed at the Robert Lawrence stone-shed in this city, was badly burned about the face yesterday when a fuse blew out while he was fixing an electric wire, and the flash struck him in the face. His eyebrows and face were badly burned, but he shut his eyes, so they were not injured. Mrs. Extrazie Tavernia died yesterday after two months' illness with cancer of the stomach and liver. She was born in St. Martins, Que., 52 years ago and 26 years ago was married to Paul Tavernia in Canada and came to Montpelier to reside. She is survived by her husband and three children, Clara, Armond and Mitchell of this city. The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Augustine's church.
