POLICE FOIL MILITANT
ATTACK ON CABINET

Women in Taxi Try to Force Way Into Asquith Home—Entire Party Taken to Scotland Yard.

London, Jan. 29.—A taxicab filled with militant suffragettes and driven by a woman was halted by the police yesterday as it attempted to enter Downing street while a Cabinet meeting was in progress. All of the women were arrested.

Four of the women were afterwards released on giving bonds of $25 each for good behavior.

The driver refused to obey the order of the police inspector in charge of the traffic squad to retire from Whitehall and Downing street, and the entire party was taken in its own taxicab to Scotland Yard headquarters.

The placards on the taxi protested against forcible feeding of suffrage prisoners and calling on the cabinet to cease "the torture of women in English jails."

A large crowd gathered to witness the assault on the Downing street meeting.

WOMEN DEFEAT
COMMISSION PLAN

Quincy, Ill., Election Result Surprise to Reformers—6,000 Women Registered to Cast Ballots.

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 29.—The question, "Shall Quincy adopt the commission form of government?" was the only issue before the people in a special election held here Tuesday. As 6,000 women had registered to cast ballots on the proposition the vote was far above the normal total of 12,737 votes.

There were 22,819 votes in favor of the proposition and 9,908 votes cast against it, defeating the measure by a majority of 7,089 votes.

The women's suffrage club were the leaders in having the question submitted to the public and they are greatly surprised at the action of the great majority of women voting against it.

$1,000 REWARD FOR JEWELS.

New York Woman Lost Gems Valued at $25,000—Police Puzzled.

Boston, Jan. 29.—A search is being made by the police for jewels said to be worth $25,000 stolen from a prominent New York society woman by a man believed to be known to the owner of the jewels. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for their return.

According to the Boston police the gems were stolen from the home of the woman in New York, and it is thought that the man suspected of the theft is one whom she does not wish to prosecute.

The stolen gems are a diamond ring with three stones, an opal necklace with forty-eight opals separated by the same number of crystals, a diamond and emerald necklace, with twenty-seven marquise diamonds and twenty-seven cabochon emeralds, a ruby set in gold and a large diamond pin with three diamonds.

THEY ARE SAFE.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and Guests Leave Yacht Warrior.

New York, Jan. 29.—No direct word from Frederick W. Vanderbilt, whose steam yacht Warrior, was stranded on the rocky coast of Colombia, near Cape Agutia Tuesday, was received by friends here yesterday.

They were relieved, however, by the information conveyed in the press dispatches that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and their guests, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, and Lord Arthur George Keith-Falconer, son and heir of the Earl of Kintore, were safe and on their way to Colon. They are expected to come to New York.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Barre Daily Times.—Adv't.

FAST PLAYING
BY SPAULDING

Enabled High School to Win Over Goddard Seminary, 29 to 17

BIG CROWD SAW
ANNUAL CLASH

After Early Part of Game, Spaulding Showed Clear Superiority

Spaulding high school defeated Goddard seminary in basketball in the first of the annual series of games at the Church street gymnasium last evening by the score of 29 to 17. The Spaulding quintet excelled their rivals in every phase of the game and were deserving of the victory, which was clean cut and decisive. After a suspension of games for two years, the attendance at this big annual battle got back into former figures that have marked the games for the past seven years.

A conservative estimate of the crowd was nearly 400 people. Both bleachers were taxed to their capacity and ropes were strung from one end of the hall to the other to prevent the surging crowd from flooding over the playing surface. Reservations were made by the management of the schools for their respective cheering sections. Spaulding adherents occupied the north end of the hall with the Goddard supporters directly across. Cheering was incessant from the start and the game assumed the aspects that made the contest a "classic" many years ago.

"Pijo" Tomasi, the little Spaulding athlete, was the most conspicuous player on the floor and together with Hooker, the diminutive Spaulding guard, shared the honors of the game. This pair scored sufficient points to win the game, Tomasi caging six baskets from the floor and Hooker four. The work of the former was of more consequence, inasmuch as the youngster has adapted himself to the court game only during the past winter. The floor work of Hooker was superb. Whenever he secured the ball he devised means to place it within scoring range. Three of the baskets manufactured by Hooker were of the spectacular order, being made from long shots in the first period. Tomasi's baskets resulted from his ability to elude the Goddard defense men from close range.

Goddard's play was smothered by the Spaulding players and they were continually forced to resort to long shots. Keefe and Witt were the best performers for the Goddard quintet. Witt's floor work was brilliant, while Keefe's best asset was his defensive work. Lameri was the high scorer of the losing five, scoring 11 of the 17 points. During the first five minutes the play was unfruitful. At the end of that time Lameri sent the Goddard team into the lead by scoring a goal from a foul. Witt soon increased the Goddard score by contributing a goal from the floor. It was a matter of some few minutes before the Spaulding shooters forced into play and then it was evident that they were the most potential team.

When the first period closed Spaulding was leading by the score of 18 to 11. The wearers of the Red and Blue waxed strong as the game progressed. During the second period Spaulding again outplayed Goddard and won handily by the score of 29 to 17. The Spaulding team were presented many opportunities for scoring, but failed to make the most of them. The score:

Spaulding: Goddard.
Tomasi 6 12
Lameri 5 10
Keefe 4 8
Witt 4 8
Hooker 4 8
Total 29 17

The score—Spaulding 29, Goddard 17. Baskets from the floor—Tomasi 6, Hooker 4, Mitt 2, Lameri 2, Olliver, Levin, Cosby. Baskets from fouls—Lameri 7, Levin 5, Keefe—Keefe. Scorer—Agnew. Timer—McCullum. Time—20-minute halves.

DISCUSS RURAL CREDITS.

President Is Told That Needs Here and in Europe Are Not the Same.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The commission which spent most of last summer investigating rural credit plans abroad visited the White House to discuss with President Wilson the scope of the proposed legislation creating a rural credit plan for this country. Every possible suggestion was canvassed, with the result, it was decided, that while a bill will be introduced in the near future, it will be in the nature of a tentative scheme only. Representative Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, who has made a comprehensive study of rural credits, told the president he believed no plan yet suggested was wholly acceptable to the American farmer. He told of numerous letters from agriculturists in every section of the country, who insist that plans satisfactory to Europe are far from being workable in this country.

Mr. Bulkley suggested that the bill as prepared by the committee be introduced in Congress and public hearings given. Then he wants the investigating commission continued and its activities this time devoted to America instead of Europe. Action on the bill could be deferred until the next Congress, Bulkley said.

Ex-Mayor's Young Daughter Married Yesterday Afternoon.

New York, Jan. 29.—Sixteen-year-old Marion Gaynor, the youngest daughter of the late Mayor Gaynor, was married yesterday to Ralph Haywood Isham, son of a New Jersey capitalist. The wedding was a surprise. It was explained that no formal announcement of the engagement was made because of the death of the city's chief executive. Owing to the youth of the bride the license was obtained by her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Isham will leave to-day for Santa Barbara, Cal., where the elder Isham is ill.

MORE BOMB GANG
ARRESTS EXPECTED

Third Prisoner to Turn State's Evidence Describes the Planting of Explosives.

New York, Jan. 29.—Eight additional arrests are expected to be made soon in the roundup of a gang of black-handers here who gave no thought to the taking of human life as they plied their trade of exploding bombs and abducting girls into white slavery. When the taking of testimony in the trial of Angelo Sylvestro for the planting of a bomb on the lower East side was resumed yesterday, Antonio Sedatits, the third member of the gang to turn state's evidence, told how he had participated in the exploding of 23 bombs and corroborated in many respects the testimony of Alfred Lehman and Romeo Puciarillo, a cripple known as "Zump."

The information these men have furnished will lead to additional arrests, the police declared, and the East Side is being combed for other members of the gang.

Sedatits, a short-necked, bushy-haired Pole, coolly told yesterday how he had planted bombs, sometimes working with Lehman and sometimes alone. He denied, however, that any bomb he had ever exploded had resulted in a loss of life.

At the request of Lehman, Warden Hanley transferred the confessed black-hander to the house of detention yesterday. Lehman has received scores of letters threatening him with death, and bottles, stamped with red and crossbones, have been mailed to the prison.

The grand jury yesterday indicted Licholo Eschile and Louis Goldstein, other members of the gang, for the murder of a Chinaman, Aug. 18. The evidence came through Lehman and "Zump." Goldstein is now serving a term in Sing Sing.

THE COURT
BACKS UNIONS

South African Ministers May Be in Contempt

JUDGE ATTACKS
DEPORTATION

Would Have Liked to Grant an Injunction

Pretoria, Union of South Africa, Jan. 29.—Leave to apply to adjudge the ministers of justice, defense and the interior of the Union of South Africa for contempt in deporting the labor leaders was granted yesterday by the supreme court judge, Sir John W. Wessels. The judge added that if he had Tuesday possessed the information he had yesterday he would have granted an injunction in restraining the government from deporting the men.

The government decided to deport 10 of the principal labor leaders, including President Watson and General Secretary Bain of the Trades Federation. Under a strong escort, the men were taken from Transvaal to Natal and put aboard a steamer which sailed before dawn yesterday, to stop at no port until it reaches England. This action was taken by virtue of martial law, which is still in force in Natal, from which province the deportation can legally take place. Measures will be taken to prevent the return of the men to South Africa.

CONDEMN DEPOR-TATION IN THE TRANSVAAL STRIKE

The British Labor Party Asks for the Recall of Governor General of British South Africa.

Glasgow, Jan. 29.—A resolution demanding the recall of Lord Gladstone, governor general of British South Africa, and bitterly condemning the South African government for its action in the recent strike was unanimously adopted at the 14th annual conference of the Labor party of Great Britain here yesterday. The authorities resented the use of troops to put down the South African strike and the deportation of the leaders.

The resolution demanded the fullest investigation by the forthcoming Parliament of the government's action in South Africa, the proclaiming of martial law, the arrest and deportation of strikers and other repressive measures.

Gape Town, Jan. 29.—Ten leaders of the recent Rand strike were deported yesterday aboard the steamship Umgeni. They were put aboard the ship at Durban and the vessel will stop at no port, except to coal, until she reaches London, where the men will be released. The labor leaders were arrested in the attempted general strike several weeks ago following the railroad walkout. The movement was broken up by troops.

SPENDING $42,000 IN AMERICA.

Canada's Yearly Bill for Patent Infringement to American Newspaper Union.

Washington, Jan. 29.—How Canada has paid the Western Newspaper Union $42,000 a year for the last 12 years to circulate reading matter about the Dominion through the medium of "patent infringers" which the union furnishes to newspapers, was told to the Senate labor committee yesterday by George A. Joslyn of Omaha, president of the union, and Alfred Washington, its advertising manager. Joslyn testified that the matter so circulated was marked "patent infringement" and was designed to induce Americans to emigrate to Canada. Washington testified under cross-examination that he did not think it unpatriotic nor deloyal to his country to circulate such matter. Canada's interior department, he said, paid the Western Newspaper union $1 a column for all such material the newspapers used. W. J. White, Canadian official in charge of immigration agencies in the United States, appeared voluntarily to say his government spent $70,000 a year advertising in the United States for immigrants. He added that he did not disparage the United States in the advertising he handled.

NO TRUST BILL HEARINGS.

They Are Unnecessary, According to the Sentiment of Senate Committee.

Washington, Jan. 29.—No hearings on the administration's trust bills are expected before the Senate interstate commerce committee. Chairman Newlands said yesterday no formal decision had been made, but that it was the sentiment of members that hearings were unnecessary because of exhaustive hearings during the last Congress. The new bills may be sent to witnesses who appeared then and they may be asked to make suggestions.

URIC ACID IN MEAT
CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You—Drink More Water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv't.

HALF A CENTURY
IN PUBLIC LIFE

Remarkable Career Ended in Death of Former Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois in Washington Yesterday.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Former Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois died yesterday after an illness of more than a week.

Shelby Moore Cullom's death ended 50 years of continuous public service that had made him a figure in American national life and brought him into official relations with every president from Abraham Lincoln to Woodrow Wilson. President Taft once said of him: "Why, where's my old friend, Uncle Shelby; he comes near connecting the present with the days of Washington than any one else whom I know."

As a ploughboy driving his father's oxen over the fresh prairie of Illinois he had known and talked with survivors of the Revolution and on the rugged foundations of a life begun in pioneer hardships of a family of 12 children had built a career that took him to the Illinois legislature as a member; speaker of the Assembly, two terms in the governor's chair, service in the national House of Representatives, and 30 consecutive years in the United States Senate.

His nearest living contemporary probably is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, whose senior he was some seven years by birth and some three years in national service.

Was Born in 1829.

Andrew Jackson was president of the United States when Mr. Cullom was born in 1829 down in the Elk Spring valley of Kentucky, near Cumberland land, where the Culloms of Maryland and the Coffeys of North Carolina, drifting westward with the tides of immigration, founded their early home.

"During the year 1829," Mr. Cullom recently wrote to illustrate the epoch in which he began life, "the crown of Great Britain descended from King George the fourth to King William the fourth; that reign passed away and I lived to see the long reign of Victoria come and go and the accession of King George the fifth. Charles the fifth ruled in France, Francis the first in Austria, Frederick William the third in Prussia, Nicholas the first in Russia, while Lea the twelfth governed the papal states, the kingdom of Italy not yet having come into existence. The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland had not yet a population of 24,000,000 all told. No man who had not served his country in some capacity in the Revolutionary war had been elevated to the presidency of the United States and this was the case until 1843."

Times and events in his own country were so stirring and his part in them was a marked one. Kentucky was a slave state at his birth, the controversy which was to hatch into a great civil war was in the process of incubation; in fact, the Culloms moved to Illinois to be in a free state and Chicago then was a small village. The elder Cullom was then a friend of Lincoln's, recommending the struggling backwoods lawyer to prospective clients. Young Cullom's first recollection of the future war president was under such circumstances. Scraping together the rudiments of an education gained by toiling over rough primeval roads, he became successively a student at Mount Morris academy, a country school teacher and a lawyer, being admitted to the bar at Springfield in 1855.

Begins Political Career.

When he became city attorney of Springfield he launched upon a political career, which for a record of unbroken service, is unchallenged as exceeding that of any other American. Among his first political experiences was the novelty of being elected and defeated at the same election. He was elected to the legislature and defeated as an elector on the Fillmore ticket. Then came the historic Lincoln and Douglas debates and Cullom's intimate association with Lincoln, whom he followed into the ranks of the Republican party. He presided over the session of the Illinois House at which after Fort Sumter had been fired upon, Stephen A. Douglas appeared and made his dramatic plea for the preservation of the Union. During the first of President Lincoln's second term Mr. Cullom came to the national House of Representatives and began a work which was practically interrupted only when he served two terms as governor of Illinois. Lincoln was assassinated soon after Cullom entered Washington life and the young legislator was a member of the committee that demanded the return of the president's body to Springfield. Then, when the country began to recover from what seemed a final blow and the reconstruction set in with the 39th Congress, Cullom began his service with the Illinois delegation, and with such colleagues in Congress as Logan, Wentworth, Blaine, Conkling and Hayes and Garfield, both of whom attained the presidency.

After six years in the House, during which he had seen the impeachment of Andrew Johnson and taken part in the making of a most critical period of American history, he returned to Illinois vowing never again to take office, only to become speaker of the legislature and later governor. At the Philadelphia convention he placed Grant in nomination for his second term in which he is said to be the shortest nominating speech ever delivered. It contained 75 words.

Cullom's career as a United States senator began in 1883, when he resigned as governor and was elected to succeed David Davis. His service in the Senate chamber was an unbroken one for 30 years—five consecutive terms—a record unexcelled only by two other men, Senator Allison of Iowa, and Senator Morrill of Vermont.

He entered the Senate in 1883, a spry, active man of fifty-four; he left it in 1913 a fading, tottering man of eighty-four but with a brain still bright and active. He used to tell a story of how one day seeing Senator Vest, very old, feeble looking and dejected, he said to Senator Morrill, who then was eighty-six:

"Go over and cheer Vest up a bit," whereat Morrill walked over and, slipping Vest on the shoulder said, "Cheer up, old man; why you're nothing but a boy."

Down through the administrations of Cleveland, Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, he held important chairmanships when his party was in power, finally that of the foreign relations committee, generally considered the most important of the lot. He had been chairman of the commission which devised a form of government for the Hawaiian islands after their annexation and had been chairman of the committee which first reported a bill for the creation of the interstate commerce commission. His work as chairman of the foreign relation committee since the Spanish war is comparatively fresh in the public mind. He was an ardent supporter of the peace treaties proposed by President Taft and which were so emasculated by the Senate that they never were ratified.

Slowly Faded Away.

During the last few years his friends had seen him slowly fading away in body and he became so feeble that his voice in the Senate chamber was not heard farther than the clerk's desk. His term ended March 3, 1913, and he was appointed chairman of the Lincoln memorial commission created by Congress to superintend the erection of the $2,000,000 memorial in this city. The one which he had seen the impeachment of Andrew Johnson and taken part in the making of a most critical period of American history, he returned to Illinois vowing never again to take office, only to become speaker of the legislature and later governor. At the Philadelphia convention he placed Grant in nomination for his second term in which he is said to be the shortest nominating speech ever delivered. It contained 75 words.

When You Want a Thing Done
Right, Do It Yourself

The man who wants his tobacco cut up for him months before he smokes it, just to save a minute's time, cannot blame the manufacturer because the tobacco gets dried up, burns fast in his pipe and scorches his tongue.

There's only one way to get fresh tobacco—cut it up yourself as you use it, from the Sickle plug. Then you get all the original flavor and moisture that have been pressed into the plug and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper—and you are rewarded by a cool, sweet, satisfying smoke.

Every day more smokers are coming back to the good old Sickle plug and satisfaction. Buy a plug of Sickle at your dealer's—and note how much more tobacco you get, when there's no package to pay for.
