IMMENSE ROYALTIES DUE POOR FAMILY

According to Decision in U. S. Court Against Eastman Kodak Co., Which Declares Rev. Hannibal B. Goodwin the Inventor of Films.

New York, March 11.—A decision upholding the patent claims of Rev. Hannibal B. Goodwin against the Eastman Kodak Co. of Rochester, involving millions of dollars in royalties, was handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals here yesterday, confirming the opinion previously handed down by Judge John R. Hazel of Buffalo. The decision says that "the Rev. Hannibal B. Goodwin is undoubtedly the inventor and entitled to all the benefits of the basic patent on photographic films."

Goodwin died more than 13 years ago, a poor man. The profits of the Eastman Kodak Co. on the disputed patent have been estimated to run into the millions. If the decision is not overruled by the supreme court, Goodwin's widow and two children, who are living in Brooklyn, will be entitled to back royalties for the whole period in which the Eastman company has been according to the decision, being infringing on the patent.

For many years Rev. Hannibal Goodwin was rector of the Episcopal House of Prayer at Newark, N. J. He was fond of experimenting in photography and was an amateur chemist. In 1887 he discovered a process for making photographic film and applied for a patent. The Eastman company contested his claim and it was not until 1898 that the patent office finally issued the patent.

A suit against the Eastman Kodak Co. was instituted. Mr. Goodwin decided he could not fight it alone and he sold part of his rights to the Anasco company of Binghamton, which brought a separate action. In December, 1900, Mr. Goodwin died while his suit was still pending. The litigation was carried on by the Goodwin heirs and administrators after the inventor's death. The lower courts upheld his contentions and the company appealed.

A decision favorable to the Anasco company was rendered in its suit, and this case is still pending on an appeal which is expected to take it to the United States supreme court.

KODAK COMPANY TO FIGHT.

Rochester, N. Y., March 11.—In a statement last night on the Goodwin patent decision, George Eastman, president and general manager of the Eastman company, said that the company will of course apply to the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari. If this is granted the case will be brought on for hearing in that court as rapidly as possible.

TENDERLOIN HOTELS RAIDED.

And New York Police Inspection Was Reduced to Captaincy.

New York, March 11.—Police Inspector James H. Gillen was reduced to a captaincy, and suspended from duty pending trial by Commissioner McKay late last night.

At the same time, detectives made raids on five tenderloin hotels. Five clerks were arrested and four of them later held for arraignment in $1,000 bail each. The fifth was held in $2,000. The charges against the men were "keeping and maintaining disorderly resorts."

Asked what the charges against the inspector were, and if the raids had any connection with his demotion, Commissioner McKay said: "I can't tell you now."

NAMES TO BE PUBLISHED.

Announcement was made to-day of a plan to publish the names of all subscribers to the hospital fund. Each daily issue of The Times will contain a list of the subscriptions of the day before. To-morrow's paper will include an account of the doings to-day and the names of those who subscribed, together with the amounts. In cases where the person contributing requests that his or her name be not used, the solicitor is to mark the subscription card thus: "Not to be published." Money collected with this provision will be credited under a general head in the reports. People interested in the success of the movement, and there are few in Barre and the towns about who are not interested, are asked to watch the illuminated clocks that have been located in strategic places along the firing line. From the Whitcomb Bros.' plant on North Main street at the Blackwell street intersection the progress of the workers is told each day and night by one of the big time-pieces. Another clock is situated in the heart of the business section and the third may be seen on the W. H. Miles store at Graniteville.

Support from quarters high and low came in with a rush at the very outset to-day. Everywhere the campaigners are assisted wherever assistance can be opportunely given. The ranks of S. Rizzis' team were augmented to-day by the addition of Gerolamo Valli and Patrick McNulty. G. S. Andrews is one of the acquisitions to Dan A. Perry's team. Since none of the teams are to report on the first day's work until to-night, the only announcement of the

250 WORKERS IN THE FIELD

Securing Subscriptions to Barre Hospital Building Fund

BIG ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING HELD

Clocks Will Turn To-night, Showing Progress of the Campaign

The campaign to raise $40,000 or more for the Barre City hospital building fund is on in real earnest now. To-day 250 workers and hundreds of subscribers were responding to one of the catch-phrase appeals of the campaign, pulling strong and long together with the single idea of giving the big movement the impetus that it needs.

Last night the band on the big clock over the Drown pharmacy pointed to $25,000, the amount raised by initial subscriptions. When the workers file their returns to-night and the totals are figured, the indicator will lift its point to a margin several degrees higher, it is expected.

Big Enthusiastic Conference.

In an unusual sense, the meeting of the men's and women's teams, captains, and committees in the vestry of the Universalist church last evening was an accurate barometer of the enthusiasm that has been aroused over the movement. At the 6 o'clock dinner, covers were laid for 175 people. The attendance did not fall short of that figure. Henry A. Phelps, chairman of the men's committee, presided and he called upon Rev. Duncan Salmond, pastor of the Presbyterian church to offer the invocation. The dinner was served by the ladies of the Hospital Aid association, who will have charge of all meals served each evening during the campaign. E. E. Langley read the list of initial subscriptions and C. C. Fencil, the campaign director, gave minute explanations as to how the workers are to go about their duties. Everyone present manifested a deep interest in the directors' remarks and no one seemed to leave the meeting with any misapprehensions as to the meaning of the movement and the responsibility which devolves upon the workers as well as the subscribers. Not a little time was given over to distributing the cards to the teams.

To-day every team listed at the headquarters was busy at the harvest. Late reports from the allied towns indicate that the fever of enthusiasm is quite as contagious in the outlying districts as here in the city. Suppers, instead of dinners, as previously announced, will be served each evening in the vestry. An invitation is extended to the workers of the allied towns to be present at the supper hour whenever the opportunity offers.

Careful System of Auditing.

In justice to those whose magnanimity has already been shown and to the many who are contemplating contributions during the 10 days, it should be explained that a careful system of auditing has been introduced by the campaign committee and nothing will prevent the movement from being safely and accurately financed. Six auditors, four of whom have been chosen from several of the city banks, have been appointed to keep in constant touch with the returns, their names are: W. A. Drew of the Barre Savings bank, chairman; John T. Averill of the Granite Savings bank, Frank K. Beard of the People's National bank, Archie Taft of the Quarry Savings bank, O. J. L. Mathews, recently one of the city auditors, and John L. Wallace, a well-known local bookkeeper.

Each night the envelopes received from the campaigners are received by the auditors and turned over to the treasurer, who will give the auditors his receipt. The treasurer, in turn, is to make a certified deposit of the money in the bank. No money is to be paid out for any purpose without the treasurer's signature and the counter-signature of two members of the finance committee, which consists of George B. Milne, chairman; D. M. Miles, F. G. Howland, Dr. W. E. Lazell and George N. Tilden. Both at the campaign headquarters in the Manufacturers' hall and at the workers' quarters in the church, men are ready always to explain the purpose and the workings of the campaign to anyone.

Names to Be Published.

Announcement was made to-day of a plan to publish the names of all subscribers to the hospital fund. Each daily issue of The Times will contain a list of the subscriptions of the day before. To-morrow's paper will include an account of the doings to-day and the names of those who subscribed, together with the amounts. In cases where the person contributing requests that his or her name be not used, the solicitor is to mark the subscription card thus: "Not to be published." Money collected with this provision will be credited under a general head in the reports. People interested in the success of the movement, and there are few in Barre and the towns about who are not interested, are asked to watch the illuminated clocks that have been located in strategic places along the firing line. From the Whitcomb Bros.' plant on North Main street at the Blackwell street intersection the progress of the workers is told each day and night by one of the big time-pieces. MITCHELL DIVORCE CASE.

Heard in County Court on Day Petitioner Received Parole.

When Washington county court got down to business yesterday afternoon the divorce case of Frankie Lovejoy Mitchell vs. Arthur A. Mitchell was taken up, the grounds being intolerable severity and desertion. There was no appearance by the petitioner, and the petitioner was represented by Attorney J. Ward Carver.

On taking the stand Mrs. Mitchell said she formerly was employed in the millinery business in Barre and that she left her husband three years ago on the 20th of February because of his abusive treatment which she claimed was due to the use of liquor. Among the features of the alleged abusive treatment was the act of throwing a knife at her she said, by means of which her face was cut. Another was hitting her on the back with a strap.

Chief of Police Sinclair of Barre testified that Mitchell had been convicted twice in two years of selling illegally. As a matter of fact, Mitchell was yesterday paroled out of the house of correction where he had been serving a sentence for illegal selling. Announcement of the parole was made in court just after Chief Sinclair had concluded his testimony. Probation Officer Charles A. Smith of Montpelier had received the notification from Governor Fletcher.

These divorce suits have just been entered: Charles E. Emmons vs. Edith Mary Emmons; Ethel DeBoer Field vs. Edward D. Field; Blanch Howatt vs. James M. Howatt; Charles Maxham vs. Lemmie Maxham; Mary E. London vs. Benjamin London; Lena M. Hooper vs. Harry H. Hooper.

The case of Hiram Sparrow, administrator, vs. the Vermont Savings Bank of Brattleboro, general assumpsit, was started at the close of the Mitchell divorce case. The following jury was drawn: M. E. Briggs and C. P. Lamberth of Marshfield, J. R. Cummings and E. K. Hutchinson of Barre Town, William Preston of Plainville, Antonio Rosel and E. D. Taft of Barre, Grover Templeton and Oscar Utton of Worcester, Frank Vaughn of Middlesex, Harry Vincent of East Montpelier, and F. L. Warren of Calais.

The case grows out of a deposit in the Vermont Savings bank in the name of Harriet Lowe, following which there was withdrawal by Harry Lowe with supposed power of attorney. The administrator of the estate of Harriet Lowe is now suing to recover the amount withdrawn, and is represented by Frank Plumley, T. J. Deavitt and H. B. Howe, while C. C. Fitts and E. W. Gibson of Brattleboro represent the bank.

Jurors Excused for Term.

The following jurors have been excused for the remainder of the term for one reason or another: Walter Childs of Moretown, Paul Duffany of Roxbury, E. W. Huntley of Waterbury, J. G. McCullough and C. L. Norton of Fayston, G. G. Sleeper of Moretown, and James Tierney of Roxbury.

DIED IN COLORADO.

Newton Perrin Nye, Berlin Man, Had Been in West Some Years.

Friends in Barre of Mrs. Mary Nye, now a stenographer in Montreal, and previous to that with St. Helier, Quebec, of this city, have received announcement of the sudden death of her husband, Newton Perrin Nye, which occurred March 7, at Elliot, Col. The telegram received by Mrs. Nye gave none of the facts concerning her husband's decease, and was followed the next day by a letter from her husband and son, in which neither made mention of recent illness of Mr. Nye, although he was afflicted with tuberculosis.

It is expected that the son will come east with the body of his father, as Mrs. Nye plans to join the party at Montreal and accompany it to Berlin, where interment will take place. Mr. Nye for many years resided in Berlin, but disposed of his property a few years ago and went to Colorado for his health and took up ranch life.

FUNERAL OF E. K. LAWRENCE.

Was Held From the Hedding Methodist Church To-day.

A large gathering of friends and relatives came together in the Hedding Methodist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock to attend the funeral services of Errol K. Lawrence, a well-known Barre young man, whose death at the home of his father, George K. Lawrence, on the Elm street extension Monday forenoon followed a protracted illness of tuberculosis. Prior to the funeral there were prayer services at the house at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. E. F. Newell, pastor of the church, officiated at the house, at the church and at the committal. The bearers were as follows: C. S. Andrews and C. L. Bugbee of the church and S. E. Perry and Secretary Fred W. Sutor of the lumpers' boxers; and derriekenn's union, to which the deceased belonged. There was a profuse floral offering. The remains were taken to the receiving vault at Elmwood, where they will repose until spring, when interment will be made.

BONDSWOMAN BECAME UNEASY.

And Surrendered Woman Charged with Fraudulent Endorsement of Check.

Burlington, March 11.—Deputy Sheriff Todd arrested Louise Townsend Gautier yesterday on relief of bail in the case against Mrs. Gautier charging the fraudulent endorsement of a check. The case against the woman dates back several months and is now pending in Chittenden county court. It will probably be tried early during the present term. She was accused of endorsing her check, drawn to other parties, with her name and having the same cashed at the Sherwood house. She was admitted to bail, Mary Jane Ryan of this city becoming her surety. Since the charge was brought, the respondent, who was Louise Townsend when the alleged offense was committed, has been married to a man named Gautier, and they have been living on the Joel Bartlett farm in Shelburne. The bondswoman having become uneasy, a warrant was made out in relief of bail and Mrs. Gautier was again taken into custody.

Weather Forecast.

Cloudy to-night and Thursday; moderate north to northwest winds.

CUT EXPENSE IN LEGAL DEPT.

Aldermen Adopt Resolution Calling for Strict Authorization for Consultation

TOO FREQUENT CALLS MADE ON ATTORNEYS

Another Resolution Considered Appropriates $2,300 for Permanent Roads

A resolution that has for its immediate purpose the curtailment of legal fees paid the city attorney was offered by Alderman Cook and read by the clerk at the regular meeting of the board of aldermen last night and adopted without a dissenting vote. Alderman Keefe made the motion to adopt and it was seconded by Alderman Keast. Briefly, the resolution aims to restrain all city officials, including the councilors, and municipal employes from consulting the city attorney without authorization from the council or the board of aldermen.

It has been claimed that the city paid nearly $1,000 in legal fees in 1913 and that the annual expense of this amount in some other years has approximated this aggregate sum. In 1913 more than $400 was paid for legal opinions, written and verbal, for a single department, it is said. Close students of municipal affairs have repeatedly made the assertion that the expense incurred along these lines might be reduced materially. According to certain aldermen among those who supported the measure, the action taken last night will tend to check the practice of requesting unnecessary legal opinions, if such a practice has existed. The resolution as adopted is framed as follows:

"Resolved by the board of aldermen in regular session: That no member of the city council or board of aldermen shall incur any expense for legal services on behalf of the city without having been authorized by the city council or board of aldermen to do so; and, further, that no city official shall incur expense for legal services on behalf of the city without being authorized to do so by the aldermanic committee under which he serves or by the city council or the board of aldermen."

$2,300 for Permanent Roads.

Two other important resolutions read have to do with an appropriation to obtain state aid for permanent highway construction and the appropriation of money for the maintenance of the various city departments. The first resolution, appropriating $2,300 for permanent road work, was read for the first time and passed to a second reading. The second was read a second time and adopted. It appropriates money for the various departments for the purpose of constituting a fund from which warrants may be drawn during the present fiscal year. The sum of $182,279.67 is divided as follows:

Streets, $6,000; lighting streets, $5,500; street sprinkling, $2,000; sewers, $700; surface sewers, $1,900; sidewalks, $5,200; bridges and culverts, $3,500; engineering, $1,300; water, $15,500; salaries, $2,000; miscellaneous, $2,000; care and expense of public buildings, $2,800; fire, $6,400; poor, $6,000; health, $300; births and deaths, $50; police, $4,200; insurance, $250; state and county taxes, $12,112.68; printing and stationery, $100; city records, $350; schools and new buildings, $37,236.18; temporary loans, $47,000; dog licenses and damages, $300; elections, $500; society orders, $81.81; driving license, $250; band concerts and amusements, $1,000; care public parks plus income derived, $300; cemetery trust funds, $1,000; cemetery trust funds refunded, $1,250; hydrants, $3,800; Memorial day, $150; library purposes, $300.

Chief of Police Sinclair's January report referred to a total of 15 arrests, 10 of which were for intoxication, one for breach of the peace, one for open and gross lewdness, two for larceny, and one for rape. It was accepted. The report of Overseer W. F. Shepard of the poor department for February was accepted as follows: Cash balance Feb.
