TALK OF THE TOWN

Special kid gloves 85c a pair at the Vaughan Store.
 More of those lace waists at the Vaughan Store.
 E. R. Dearborn of Chelsea arrived in the city this morning for a few days' visit with relatives.
 Officer John S. Murlay, the new acquisition to the police force, will begin patrol duty to-morrow.

Among the Barre visitors in Northfield yesterday and to-day were Charles Newell Barber and E. R. Tarbox.

Thomas Abair, who has been passing a few days as the guest of friends in Barre, returned to-day to his home at St. Johnsbury.

Judge H. W. Scott and L. C. Beck returned yesterday from Brattleboro, where they attended a district meeting of the Odd Fellows.
 Miss Anna Lamphere left this morning for Littleton, R. I., to pass the spring holidays with her parents. Other students of Goddard seminary leaving to-day for their homes were Miss Jennie Audinwood, Roy Lacasse, Roy Cosby and Carroll Moulton, who went to Derby Line. Miss Marion Usher went to her home in Rochester.

Just because the calendar spring officially began to-day, winter did not lose any of its kick this morning. Thermometers in different sections of the city registered 2, 1 and 6 degrees below zero at daybreak and according to the night watchman, the drop was more appreciable late last night.

A very pleasant evening was spent last night at the home of Violet May Chubb, 94 Summit street, when about 20 of her boy and girl friends met and surprised her on the occasion of her 12th birthday anniversary. During the evening she was made the recipient of a very pretty expanding bracelet. Refreshments of tea, cakes and ice cream were served and games and songs were heartily engaged in, bringing the evening to a close.

A record breaking crowd is expected to attend the Italian home-talent entertainment in the opera house this evening. Two playlets will form a major portion of the program and a number of local musicians will render selections between the acts. The affair is to be given under the auspices of the Italian Athletic club and the proceeds are to be used in putting a fast baseball team onto the field the coming summer. Special car accommodations will be available for North Barre and Montpelier patrons.

A movement is on foot to make the Memorial day parade this year one of the most notable in recent years. A number of young men in the city are making an effort to secure a troop of cadets from Norwich university. Steps in this direction have the hearty sanction of the Grand Army men and are being supported by Norwich alumni in Barre and nearby towns. It is hoped that a mounted squad of regulars and officers can be prevailed upon to accept an invitation to come to Barre the night before Memorial day. It is desired that the horses be in as fine fettle as possible and to that end it is proposed to have them reach the town in time to secure a good rest before the parade. It is not unlikely that other extraordinary features will be added to the parade. The name of the speaker who is to give the oration at the opera house will be announced within a few days.

Julian Rivait, who has been visiting his grandson, William Rivait, and at the home of John Milligan, left this morning for his home in Middlebury. Joseph Parker left on the morning train for Clary, N. Y., where he will spend a week with relatives. William Thom left at 8:15 for Albany, N. Y., where he will meet his prospective bride. The couple will be married in Troy Monday evening and return at once to Barre to reside. Harry Pitch of St. Johnsbury, a student at Goddard seminary, started this morning for Moores, N. Y., where he will pass the spring holidays. Thomas Moore, also of Goddard, was accompanied to his home in Middlebury by Lyndal Waterman of Washington street, who will be absent a week. William Bissett left this morning for South Ryegate, where he will pass the week-end with relatives and Charles Trombly went to Brandon for a week's visit at his former home.

The better babies contest is the very latest thing in a baby show and it is rapidly stamping out that most unfair contest of baby beauty show. It consists of testing babies for physical and mental development according to standards set by physicians who make a specialty of children's diseases. The scoring is done precisely as at a livestock show, for points, and a physical defect counts against the child, no matter how lovely of face it may be. Children scoring the highest are awarded prizes and children failing to qualify for prizes are given a thorough examination and their parents are told how to bring them up to the standard by means of diet, hygienic habits, simple medical care, etc. This city will have its first contest March 31 at Howland hall. The organization in charge is the Barre Woman's club. The ladies will have the cooperation of local physicians. For further information regarding entries, prizes, etc., apply to Mrs. Waterman, Tel. 413-1; Mrs. M. L. Chandler or Mrs. O. Boffino.

The condition of Mrs. J. Edward Ward of Washington street, who recently underwent an operation at the City hospital, was reported to be slowly improving to-day.

Although having passed equine middle-age, a horse driven by F. C. Bancroft cut up dikes on Prospect street this forenoon, starting at the Clark feed store and kicking along to the police station with Mr. Bancroft sawing on the reins till the police grasped the animal's head and assisted in halting the flight. The shafts and dasher were splintered badly by the heels of the 26-year-old.

Make no engagements for April 10. The Boston Scottish singers are to give a concert in the opera house under the auspices of Clan Gordon on that date. The company consists of the following: Margaret K. Alexander, soprano; Jean Hunter Tanner, contralto; John E. Daniels, tenor; A. Cameron Steele, bass; the two Lowland cronies, Jack Edmiston and Sandy Cameron. Watch for the program in The Times.

In the noon hour to-day a team from the Douglas farm, so-called, came to grief on the car tracks in front of the Howland building. The occupants, two stonecutters, returning home from their work, were heaved into the snow when one of the sleigh runners caught in the rail groove. Without the guidance of a driver, the horse essayed a few Dan Patch capers up through the street. Near the Reynolds block a sleigh pulled up alongside the curb, was sidwiped, but the offending horse continued to travel. Horse and sleigh swung around the Prospect street corner at lightning speed, but presently came to a halt near the R. L. Clark feed store. A small boy drove the animal back to Main street where the owners were arguing with a woman who said the shills on her sleigh had been fractured by the side collision. The principles were far from an agreement at first and a number of bystanders were urging arbitration when the damages were finally fixed at $3.50. The team from the Douglas farm escaped unscathed.
