certain, as there were proxies enough in the possession of the company to assume acceptance of the agreement, but a large number of stockholders was present who desired to discuss the situation. The management received both praise and criticism for having entered into such an agreement with the department of justice in Washington. A stock vote was called for and was taken while the debate was in progress. It showed an overwhelming majority in favor of the plan, but this does not wholly settle the issue. The plan is subject to approval also by the Massachusetts legislature, so far as the disposal of the Boston & Maine stock is concerned.

Tellers reported that the company has proxies for 915,264 out of a total of 1,571,179 shares outstanding. A clerk for C. H. Verner of New York voted 100 shares against the agreement. He also left a statement which contained the allegation that the various properties now to be disposed of had been acquired in violation of law, and, therefore, the directors and officers who imposed this illegal burden on the company should be compelled to purchase these properties at their cost, with interest. Verner also stated, "I do not wish to stop myself from bringing suit for that purpose." Among the proxies received at the company's office were several addressed to Louis D. Brandeis and to Morgan G. Bulkeley. Neither of these persons, however, was present at the meeting.

CHARGE PLOT IN ULSTER

Law Repeats His Accusations of the Unionists

ASQUITH CHALLENGES TO ADDRESS COMMONS

Full Opportunity for Discussion Promised—Prove Charges False

London, April 22.—A stormy scene was created in the House of Commons yesterday when Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, demanded a judicial inquiry into the naval and military movements recently contemplated by the government in Ulster. The Unionists charge that these movements constituted a plot to provoke a rising in Ulster. Premier Asquith refused a judicial inquiry, as he said the charges had been proved false, but he challenged Mr. Law to make any accusations he wished to make in the House itself, when he would be given the fullest opportunity for discussion.

Amid the cheers and angry shouts of their supporters, the two leaders took their places alternately at the table, challenging each other. Uprior followed Mr. Law's declaration that the statements made by Premier Asquith and his colleagues had been proved untrue. The scene ended when, amid ministerial cries of "take your day for discussion," Mr. Law said that after he had seen what the promised white paper contained, he would consider what steps it was worth while to take.

If Premier Asquith had nothing to be ashamed of, why did he object, Mr. Bonar Law asked, to have the proof tested where the statements could be taken under oath? During the uproar which then occurred Premier Asquith angrily replied: "That is an allegation against the honor of the ministers. The only place where the ministers could answer such an allegation is on the floor of the House."

the city, recommending in brief as follows: Upper Brook street structure to be rigged over to widen roadway and make new sidewalk on down stream side, re-planked and pipe railing put in for the approaches; Mill street bridge to be re-planked; North Main street bridge to be "patched and watched," probably re-planked before the summer is over; Blackwell street sidewalk re-planked; with new spiking pieces for the sidewalk; South Main street bridge props to be renewed; two bridges on Brook street, one on Harrington avenue, Seminary street, and Prospect street to be re-painted and cleaned up about their approaches and abutments. Alderman Bancroft thought the council ought not to bind itself to do all those things at once, and it was left to the discretion of the committee.

Reports of Officers.

Chief of Police Sinclair reported a total of 44 arrests for the month of February, and the report was accepted and placed on file, after which complaint was made about the lateness of the report.

Overseer of the Poor Shepard reported for the month of March as follows:

Cash on hand, $5,433; received from the city $900; cash refund from P. D. Molla 12 cents; cash refund from Morse & Jackson five cents; refund from M. J. Cartelli 52 cents; paid out, $895.22; balance, $10.10.

The lighting committee reported favorably on the application for a street light on Buckley street, and recommended that a 40-watt tungsten be placed north of George Tongway's. It was ordered done. Several residents complained of poor light at the corner of Ladd and Railroad streets, and the complaint was referred to the lighting committee.

A payment of 75 cents to Fred Haskett for the loss of one hen before the raid of "three unknown dogs," was ordered.

E. L. Smith appeared before the council and extended an invitation to the Memorial day conference to be held at the University of Toronto under the auspices of the commission on conservation in the Dominion of Canada on May 25, 26, and 27.

Weekly warrants were ordered paid as follows: Street department, $132.70; water department, $50.48; fire department, $81.51; police department, $87.09; janitor, $14; postoffice supplies, $43.36; water rebates, $50.22. The council adjourned after being in session two hours and a half.

THREE PROTESTS ON SALOON LOCATIONS

Montpelier License Commissioners Gave Public Hearing on 29 Applications.

The Montpelier board of license commissioners met last evening at the Montpelier city hall to consider the 29 applications for liquor licenses. Of these only eight can be granted in the capital city. The hearing was public and a large number attended. No objections were made to any of the applicants, personally, but protests were raised against three of the locations in which the applicants proposed to establish saloons, these being the store at 70 Main street, formerly occupied by Edward Gill and later by Henry Jerome, the Massucca block at 26 Main street and the Tomasi block at 18 Main street.

The store at 70 Main street was objected to by G. O. Boyles, A. H. Temple, D. S. Wheatley and other merchants, who alleged it would be a detriment to their trade to have a saloon so near. The other two blocks were protested against by the Central Vermont and Montpelier & Wells River railroads, as these two roads do not care to take the responsibility for the number of fatalities that might result from the nearness of the proposed saloons to the railroad tracks and bridges. Protests against the location do not hinder the applicant from getting a license, but would make it necessary for him to find other quarters. Fifteen persons are affected by the protest, a number of the applicants having decided on these locations in case they were granted licenses.

At the close of the public hearing, the board of license commissioners, W. E. Poole, James S. Haley and Calvin L. Parmenter, went into executive session and no statement has yet been given out by them.

SPORTING NOTES.

Frank Chapeo, the leader of the Highlanders, has decided to retire permanently from playing baseball. He says: "Williams looks so good to me that there is no need to continue the ordeal of keeping in trim, especially when I could not expect more than a year of usefulness. If I had not reached this decision I would have started the game this week. I have decided to quit for good."

James Duffy, the winner of the Patriot's day marathon at Boston, is a stonecutter by trade. He is an Irish Canadian and wore the colors of the Rambler Bicycle club of Hamilton, Ont. Edward Fabre, who figured in the running last season, finished second. Duffy was born in Ireland 24 years ago. When in his teens he gained a reputation as a long distance runner, racing in big runs in the British Isles and on the European continent. He migrated to Canada in 1911. Duffy was picked by many keen followers of the sport to win.

Eddie Foster of the Washington Senators is regarded as one of the most expert fielders of the game in bringing the hit and run play to a successful culmination. There appears to be an epidemic of tonsillitis in the big leagues. Marty McHale, the former Maine college pitcher, has been lost temporarily to the Highlanders by an attack of tonsillitis. Nap Rucker, Otto Miller, Cy Pieh and numerous other big leaguers are afflicted.

Jake Stahl, the former Boston manager, has organized a semi-professional team in Chicago. The team plays under the caption of "The Stahls." Like many other baseball players, he finds it hard to keep away from the game.

Hans Holmer, the New York runner, was beaten at Paris recently in a 10 kilometer race. He was beaten by three laps by Vermeulen, the great French middle distance runner.

STOP FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. If not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.—Adv.

OLD PORFIRIO DIAZ SILENT ON U. S. ACTION

Former Mexican Dictator Shows Great Interest in Events While Convallescing in Monte Carlo—Urged Huerta to Quit.

Monte Carlo, April 22.—General Porfirio Diaz, formerly Mexican dictator, has come here to recover from the after effects of an attack of grip. He is accompanied by his wife.

The convalescence of the general, who is nearly 84, is progressing normally, although he is troubled with deafness. He shows great interest in the news about Mexico, and besides reading all available newspapers receives many private telegrams on the subject.

General Diaz resolutely refused yesterday to make any comment whatever upon the action of the United States toward General Huerta when a correspondent reminded him of his often repeated remark that the only circumstances under which he would return to Mexico would be when peace had been established there or when his country was attacked by a foreign power.

Some months ago General Diaz asked General Huerta, as an act of patriotism, to retire from the dictatorship of Mexico in favor of someone who could obtain the confidence of all factions in the country.

sels here, the oil carrying steamer El Zorra refused to transport ammunition to the federal forces at Tampico. Upon receipt of the instructions from Craddock the cargo of ammunition was discharged and the Zorra sailed yesterday without a single gun or a pound of ammunition for the federals aboard.

The captain explained that England's friendly relations with America would not permit his vessel to run by the fleet with war material.
