Indianapolis, May 9.—The executive committee of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday decided against a general strike of 500,000 men, which had been urged by many locals as a protest against conditions in the Colorado coal fields, where civil war has existed.

NEW YORK APPEALS HARRY THAW CASE

In "Assignment" Filed at Concord, State Contends Judge Aldrich Erred in Nine Points in Sustaining Prisoner's Petition.

Concord, N. H., May 9.—The appeal of the state of New York from the decision of Federal Judge Edgar Aldrich, granting Harry K. Thaw's petition for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent his extradition to New York on the charge of conspiring to escape from the Matteawan insane hospital, was filed at 2 o'clock yesterday.

The appeal, technically known as an assignment of errors, was signed by Holman A. Drew, sheriff of Coos county, who has been the custodian of Thaw since his arrest at Colebrook, Sept. 13, 1913.

The appeal contends that the court erred in nine points, namely: In sustaining the writ for habeas corpus and discharging Thaw under the extradition warrant.

In holding that Thaw was not substantially charged with crime under art. IV, sect. 2, para. 2 of the United States constitution.

In holding that Thaw was not a fugitive from justice under the same section.

In holding that the process under which Thaw was held was not due process of law.

In holding that the extradition warrant issued by Gov. Felker was illegal, invalid and unenforceable.

In holding that upon the whole record the court does not come within the provision of the constitution relating to extradition.

In not holding that Thaw was legally in custody under the extradition warrant.

In not dismissing the writ of habeas corpus and in not remanding Thaw to the proper custody for extradition to New York; and

Because upon the whole record the habeas corpus writ should have been dismissed, the extradition warrant sustained and Thaw remanded to the proper custody for extradition in New York.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus was granted by Judge Aldrich, April 14, but the issuance of the order was withheld to allow an appeal to be taken to the United States supreme court.

Soldiers and Sailors Teaching the Dance Which Has Made a Great Hit With the Mexicans.

Vera Cruz, May 9.—Vera Cruz, under United States occupation, bids fair to be a "Gringo" town. They had every thing a New York yesterday but the tango, and that is coming.

Since the curfew was lifted and people began to take more liberty the sailors and soldiers have been tangoing about the plaza whenever the hand has played. The dance has made a great hit with the Mexicans.

The naval officers have begun to plan social functions, with the women of the American colony as their guests. Wherever there is dancing the tango and the maxixe naturally will be the favorites, and American dances will be the next innovation the imitative Mexicans will take up.

NO CHANGE AS TO HOME RULE

Redmond Is Confident That the Bill Will Be Proceeded with Rapidly.

London, May 9.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons, in a statement concerning reports published recently that conversations had been renewed with reference to further concessions for Ulster, declares that these reports "are according to my information entirely untrue."

Mr. Redmond also declares untrue a report that he had been in consultation with Premier Asquith concerning such concessions. "The position of the Irish party with reference to concessions," the statement of Mr. Redmond continues, "has undergone no change since the second meeting of the home rule bill. I am confident the home rule bill will be proceeded with rapidly and that it will receive its third reading and be sent to the House of Lords in its present shape certainly before the Whitsuntide recess."

10 U. S. ARMY OFFICERS ON DUTY IN FRANCE

They Are Receiving Instructions in the French Military Training on Permission of French Government on Request of the U. S.

Paris, May 9.—The movement of American troops to Mexico brings to notice the fact that 10 United States army officers, representing all branches of the service, are on duty in France for instruction in French military training. They are here by permission of the French government, given upon request of the United States army. Occasionally an English officer or officers from the Balkan and other smaller states have had permission to serve with one or another of the French regiments but it would seem that no foreign army, not even the Russian, has during this generation had such opportunities to know the French military system as the Americans now have.

Captain W. A. Castle is in an infantry regiment at Orleans, Captain N. Margettes and Lieutenant A. T. Bishop with other regiments at Chalons sur Marne, Lieutenant E. T. Boyd with the dragons at Fontainebleau, Lieutenant W. T. Martin at the cavalry school at Saumur, Captain F. H. Pope in the French quartermasters' school and Captain Frank Parker at the war college. Captain Morton Henry of the American quartermasters' division and Lieutenant E. S. Greble and Honeycutt of the artillery have just arrived to replace three other American officers and three others are expected. The three latter do not get into the French service until October. In the meantime they are required to live in French families and perfect their knowledge of French.

Captain Parker in the war college, the exclusive school of higher strategy, has probably the rarest opportunity and one not shared by any other foreign officer. Eighty French officers are admitted annually out of from 400 to 500 applicants who take a severe competitive examination. Years of study are devoted by the French officer in preparation for these examinations because all selections for the general staff are made from graduates of the war college and no French officer need expect a high command unless he has gone successfully through this training in the deeper problems of strategy.

An arm chair has been placed for Captain Park apart from the other officers and nearest the lecturer's platform so that the American guest may have a better chance than anyone else to follow the exposition of a subject and see the diagrams. The work in the war college is severe and is from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. Part of it consists in military maneuvers on a battlefield. The lecturer of the day explaining the operations of the troops that took part.

PROHIBITION IN FALL ELECTIONS

Congressional Candidates Will Have to Declare Attitude—Tabled at This Session.

Washington, May 9.—National prohibition will be forced into the fall congressional elections as one of the big issues, according to information yesterday at the headquarters of the National Anti-Saloon league. Candidates for the next Congress will be asked to declare squarely for or against the Hobson national prohibition amendment to the constitution.

This announcement gave some relief to worried House members yesterday. They heaved even deeper sighs of relief to know that they will not be asked to vote upon the Hobson amendment during the present session. Democratic Leader Underwood is openly against the Hobson plan, on which he made a weak record in Alabama for election to the Senate against Hobson. Underwood insists there are enough votes in the present House to defeat the submission of the Hobson amendment to the state.

Chairman Henry of the rules committee yesterday suggested a Democratic caucus on the Hobson amendment to unload responsibility from the rules body to the House itself. His plan met with little favor. Henry's committee wishes to avoid criticism, either for bringing in a special rule or refusing to report it designed to take the Hobson amendment from the general calendar and make it a privileged bill before Congress adjourns.

The Hobson amendment, if adopted by Congress, would not make the whole country "dry." The drought would not occur unless two-thirds of the states ratified it, the Hobson plan being merely for submission of the amendment to the states.

WOOD PEEVED OVER CHILD LABOR LAW

Thinks New York and Vermont Conditions More Satisfactory to His Methods.

Boston, May 9.—"If I could put wheels under our mills and run them out of the state I should certainly do so," said William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen company, before the Massachusetts real estate exchange. He criticized the industrial legislation of the state and declared that in neither Vermont or New York do officials stand in the gateway with a club when people come around.

SPORTING NOTES

The French boxing federation, the principal authority in ring contests in France, which for a time refused to recognize Jack Johnson as the heavyweight champion boxer of the world, yesterday accepted his claim to the title. The general management of the fight between Johnson and Moran of Pittsburgh next month has been assumed by officials of the boxing federation.

Bernard Lee, the old Goddard player, was the star of the Tufts-Lafayette game at Medford this week. He hit safely five times, once for a three-bagger. In the game Tufts secured 26 hits.

Westmore Wilcox, a Harvard freshman, has been credited with running the quarter mile in less than 49 seconds. Gunboat Smith and Battling Levinsky will meet in a 10-round bout at New York on May 28. Both of these men are excellent boxers and should afford one of the best bouts seen in the East for some time.

Hans Wagner of the Pirates still continues to lead the batsmen in the National league circuit. His batting is not all that characterizes his play this season, as his fielding is brilliant. Chief Johnson, the big Indians pitcher, has been suspended by the Baseball Players' fraternity for jumping a contract with the Cincinnati club. He went to the Federal league and an injunction was secured against him. He will be unable to play until May 14 anyway. According to the bylaws of the Federal league, Johnson was suspended automatically the moment he became a contract jumper.

Columbia university has a promising youngster in Black, a freshman sprinter. He is the French 100 metre champion. At Annapolis last Saturday he was timed in 10 flat for the century. Bernie Wefers, the coach, is congratulating himself upon the fine freshman team he has at Columbia. There are other stars besides Black.

Ty Cobb has begun to hit his batting stride. He is also performing on the base lines. The St. Louis Cardinals are the only team that has succeeded in winning from Pittsburgh this season. During the St. Louis series, the Pirates dropped a brace of games.

A syndicate has been formed in Newark to promote games to be played by the Federal league clubs on Sundays while in the eastern states. West Point must have one of the strongest baseball teams in its history. If the showing of the team during the past two weeks is any indication, Georgetown suffered defeat at the hands of the army about 10 days ago following a victorious sojourn in New England. After winning from Vermont and Dartmouth, Penn State went down to West Point last week. The team apparently has only a mediocre pitching staff, but possesses a group of powerful club wielders.
