TREE PLANTING

On Lincoln Highway to Be Discussed at Woman's Club Convention.

Chicago, May 22.—A Chicago woman's Mrs. E. E. Kendall, has been appointed to take charge of the tree planting along the Lincoln highway. When the first woman's good roads convention was held in Chicago, Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, then the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Emmons Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass., then, as now, at the head of the conservation department of the general federation, were present. The subject of building a highway from ocean to ocean was discussed. Both Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Crocker became deeply interested in the subject and the former recommended the co-operation of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with the movement, which resulted in the organization of a Lincoln Highway association. Already several millions of dollars have been promised for the project, which it is estimated will cost $25,000,000, and the road, which will follow the old historic routes and trails, has been mapped out through most of the states. Mrs. Kendall, in charge of tree planting along the highway, has called a conference of her committee, which includes every chairman of conservation in all the state federations of women's clubs. They will meet at the time of the biennial convention of women's clubs in Chicago, June 9-19. Much preliminary work, however, has already been done. The co-operation of governors and mayors of towns through which the highway passes has been asked and in many cases promised. In New Jersey it is proposed to border the highway with fruit trees and in Pennsylvania there has been started a movement for forestry preservation along the Lincoln highway, together with the use of masses of American laurel for decoration, and laurel, combined with hardy vines and perennials, will be largely used through the original 13 states, especially at entrances to cities and in historic or civic centers—for the laurel, with its ever-green leaves, is symbolic of the man whose name and fame are being thus perpetuated. The Lincoln way tree planting committee is already working on a comprehensive plan for the entire distance from ocean to ocean, with the purpose of having each state adopt a style of gardening of its own—characteristic and as different as possible from every other state.

In Illinois and the prairie states of the middle West the prairie rose, indigenous to the soil, will be used, for as Wilhelm Miller aptly remarks, "It is like Lincoln's heart and reminds one of his clemency." Mr. Miller has promised to design the Illinois motive and suggests a combination of six or seven species to be kept sacred and used only at city limits and in important places; he also suggests the bur oak, a tree which looks like Lincoln—rough, rugged, gaunt and strong and likely to succeed from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He proposes to assemble shrubs, vines and perennials symbolic of the character of Lincoln in combination, which will always mean "Lincoln way." He will bud the last of the Lincoln elms to plant in front of every schoolhouse along the Lincoln way. At Lincoln's old home in Springfield he found an old rose bush, white fringe and mock orange, which he proposes to similarly treat to go into

AFTER FIVE YEARS

Winthrop Child Was Restored to Health by Vinol

"Five years ago our little girl had a severe attack of diphtheria, which left her subject to bronchitis and stomach trouble. She has been almost constantly under medical treatment. I have tried also two or three remedies containing cod liver oil but found her stomach rebelled against the oil. Reading your description of Vinol, I decided to try it and did so with most astonishing results. I cannot begin to tell you how she has improved, because you do not know what a little sufferer she was for five years. She has gained ten pounds since she commenced to take Vinol, and the story of what Vinol has done for her is the only half told in this letter." Mrs. Adelaide Mulloy, Winthrop, Mass.
"Vinol contains all the healing curative properties of cod liver oil, without the oil, and tonic iron added. That is why it helped this little girl after other remedies had failed.
We ask mothers of weak, sickly children to try Vinol on our offer to give back your money if it fails to help them. The Red Cross Pharmacy, Floyd G. Russell, Barre, Vt.
P. S.—Our Saxo Salve is truly wonderful for eczema. We guarantee it—Adv't.

LAST STAGE ON HOME RULE

Vote May 26 on Third Reading in House of Commons

TERMS OF BILL STILL GUARDED

Asquith Says That the Government Will Not Recede

London, May 22.—The Irish home rule bill entered on its last stage in the House of Commons yesterday. The vote on the third reading of the measure is to be taken May 26, after which, if it passes, it will become law under the provisions of the Parliament act, as it will have been passed three times by the House of Commons in three separate sessions. Premier Asquith yesterday declined to state the terms of the proposed amending bill at this stage, and reiterated that the government was prepared to consider sympathetically any suggestions which might render its proposals in regard to Ulster more acceptable.
