

HITS WERE FEW, BUT VERY LONG

Italian A. C. Gathered Four Safe Swats for Total of Dozen Bases

WON FROM ST. ALBANS BY SCORE OF 6 TO 2

Weaver Was Touched for Seven, but Kept 'Em Scattered

It took the Italian Athletics seven innings to find themselves in the game with St. Albans at the Berlin street grounds Saturday afternoon. In looking for themselves the locals incidentally discovered the way to slap the floating zephyrs which Mr. Osborne spun down the line from the hill to the batter's box.

Joe Weaver was on the hill for the home towners and after making due allowance for the charley horse that has been flirting with his right wing, it must be admitted that Giuseppe had it on the angular satellite from the Railroad city by something like seven yards. Osborne had little on the ball, neither speed nor crooks, and after the Athletics finished slashing wildly at his high ones, they got together and collected four bingles. Four for six tallies are none too many, but it must be remembered that they were bingles and not singles. All told, they amounted to 12 bases. Fielding honors were about even, but it was noticeable that the Italians are not yet in their stride, showed more pep, less of a disposition to play the game mechanically, and a real desire to win in a measure that other visitors may well emulate.

St. Albans got its first run on a single by Post in the second and a mark down. He stole second with space to spare, dropped down another notch on Quebee's fast roller to third and trotted home on a passed ball. In the fourth, Post got a life on David's miscue, went to the second pillow on a passed ball and scored when Larry clouted out a steaming triple to the boards. Larry was afterwards declared out for failing to touch second on his circle round the paths. After that about all the invaders did was to wish for scores.

Italians were attacked up on the bases thickly after the fourth inning, but their feverish chasing of Osborne's air globules kept them in the dugout most of the time up to that chapter. Giovanni Davidi was the only man to get a hit in the first five sessions. It was in the fifth that Bottigi gained a lease of life on Post's bad boot and was trodden home by Davidi, who pushed the pill into center and under the fence for a homer. Just then it stood two all, but it was not for long. The bases filled rapidly in the sixth, but air tight work on the part of St. Albans' infield kept the tallying down to a minimum. Fowlie went down on Hibbard's gross error and reached third, but he was nipped in due time at the plate. Comelli, who profited immensely by Osborne's periodic wildness, got a walk and after wriggling around to the third point, he registered on Calcegni's pretty sacrifice, which was neatly gathered in by Hibbard.

Another fusillade in the seventh. Ricciarelli was safe on Post's error and Marchesi walked. Both counted on Counter's timely drop for two sacks and Counter scored on Fowlie's three-sacker. The latter was caught between third and home on the next turn when Comelli lifted a fly to Larry, who doubled to Post. In the ninth Weaver led off with a triple and Calcegni walked. Snappy infield work prevented any more insertions in the run column. The score:

Fowlie, Weaver, Larry. Two-base hit—Counter. Struck out—by Weaver 8, by Osborne 2. Bases on balls—by Osborne 5. Hit by pitched ball—Davidi. Double plays—Larry to Reagan to Post; Marchesi to Davidi to Calcegni. Left on bases—St. Albans 6, I. A. C. 5. Sacrifice hit—Calcegni. Stolen bases—Davidi, Comelli, Chicagni, Ricciarelli, Reagan, Post. Passed balls—Fowlie 2, Moore 2. Umpire—Scampini. Time—1 hr. 40m. *Larry out in the fourth for not touching second base.

Notes. Osborne might have been derricked after the seventh, had the visitors been able to fill his shoes.

Both Quebee and Hibbard figured in circus catches. The former tucked a rabbit's foot in his pad in the sixth and it surely helped to keep the scoring down.

In Osborne some of the fans recognized the altitudinous box artist who used to hurf for the fifth inning.

Bottigi was especially strong with the willow, breaking two bats in four trips to the plate.

The Italians still need the guiding hand of Jack Clari at shortfield.

Neiberg, a utility man, discontinued his umpire batting after a sharp word from Scampini in the fourth.

ENGLAND SWEEPS AMERICAN POLO TEAM OFF FEET

Invaders Out-Ride, Out-General, and Out-wit Defenders, Who Are Completely Demoralized by Wonderful Speed and Accurate Hitting Shown by the Challenging Squad.

New York, June 15.—Outridden, out-paced, outgeneral and outplayed, America was humbled by England Saturday in the first of this year's games for the international polo cup.

England won with exasperating ease—when strength was needed, her four had it; when skill was required, they answered the call. Whether on attack or on defense, the blue blouses of John Bull made the wearers of the American white seem novices at the game. That is why the score was 8 1/2 to 3 in favor of Britain.

The Englishmen were precisionists; when they started a play, they knew what they were going to do, and did it. With the Americans it was different. They played in hit or miss style, seemingly trusting to luck to help them out, and luck didn't.

ST. JOHNSBURY WAS VERY WEAK

And Dropped the Game to Barre A. C. by the Score of 15 to 6

HOERNLE RETIRED BECAUSE OF INJURY

Davidson Pitched for Home Team and Kept Game Well in Hand

The St. Johnsbury baseball team that acquired considerable prestige a fortnight ago by snowing under the strong Italian A. C. met downfall at Intercity park Saturday afternoon when arrayed against the Barre A. C. The brand of ball shown by the Barre team, led by Tommy Davidson, worked as a charm on the lads from the "lily white" town and when the curtain was drawn over the little stage, Barre was leading by the score of 15 to 6. The game eventuated into a very one-sided affair after the first few innings and by mutual agreement Umpire Mahertl announced to the spectators that the game had been terminated at the close of the seventh inning.

In view of the excellent record of the Caledonia county team this season, one of the best games of the season was expected at Interity park and thither went a crowd of round proportions. The St. Johnsbury team was minus the services of Spears, its star pitcher, but in his place was Carlson, the Newbury lad who gained considerable repute last season through his affiliations with the Wells River team. This man Carlson pitched fairly good ball, but was hit at opportune moments by the Barre lads.

With a sprinkling of errors perpetrated by the St. Johnsbury players and timely hitting, the Barre lads accumulated scores at will, and converted the game into more or less of a fiasco.

During the first inning the St. Johnsbury lads scored three runs through errors behind Davidson. It was at this stage of the game that Barre gave a very wretched exhibition of fielding. Later, when the Barre team assumed a safe lead over the visitors, Davidson eased up, the Barre stick wielders went after Carlson with a vengeance in the third, fourth and fifth innings, during which time 14 runs were manufactured.

Features of the game were the home run drives of Nute, the Barre shortstop, and Witt, the St. Johnsbury second sacker. Both hits scored runs ahead of them. During the third inning Charlie Hoernle, the St. Johnsbury catcher-coach, was obliged to withdraw from the contest because of injuries. The middle finger on his throwing hand was badly split. He was succeeded by Roscoe Melver, the Graniteville catcher. After Hoernle's departure from the game, a demoralizing effect went through the ranks of the St. Johnsbury team. The score:

Table with 5 columns: Player, ab, r, h, po, a, e. Rows include Barre A. C. players like Peduzzi, Stuart, Nute, Brown, Fowlie, Gray, Gould, Davidson, McKenzie and St. Johnsbury players like Connors, Moore, Hoernle, Melver, Witt, Smyth, Bridge, Hastings, Scott, Carlson.

Baltimore, June 15.—Henry Lewis, 13 years of age, of Philadelphia, is a patient at the University Hospital suffering from an ailment that baffles the physicians. The boy has been gaining steadily in weight and now weighs 190 pounds.

QUEEN MARY THREATENS.

May Leave London If "Furies" Keep Up Their Work.

London, June 15.—Queen Mary has decided, in case of further suffragette demonstrations in the vicinity of royalty, to quit London abruptly and leave King George to finish the season alone, according to a source in close touch with the queen and the government. The queen is represented as being in a condition of nervous apprehension. She, it is said, has no intention of allowing her existence to be made unhappy by those she habitually calls the "furies." Should the queen be forced to carry her threat into execution, the step will create an unparalleled social sensation.

WOMAN ATTACKS WOMAN.

This Time the Militants Appeared to Be Terrified.

Leicester, Eng., June 15.—Before the police could intervene, a hostile crowd Saturday attacked and demolished a stall in the market place where militant suffragettes were selling confectionery in order to raise funds for the women's social and political union. Women were conspicuous in the attacking, and were prevented from setting fire to the stall only by the arrival of the police, who escorted the terrified militants to a place of safety.

Nature Never Made a Garden.

In the July Woman's Home Companion Anne Bryan McCall, writing her "Tower Room" talk, makes the following interesting comment on man and nature working together as gardeners:

"When we sit with our hands idle, nature still goes about her business and does as she chooses, and her work is beautiful enough to be sure—woods, fields and mountains. But when man enters into a companionship with her, when he does his share, she pauses, pleased it seems, and gives him a result of his labors. These rose trees here in my garden to-day so exquisite in their many blooms, these are not unaided nature's work. Had you asked nature for a rose you would receive at her hands the exquisite wild rose, but not these. These are what we call cultivated flowers, and that means they are the result of work which man and nature have done together. Nature makes glorious things enough; but nature alone never made a garden."

GLENUGIE CLUB IN ANNUAL OUTING

First Class Sport Enjoyed Saturday at Caledonia Park, with Many People in Attendance.

Under the most ideal weather conditions, the Glenugie club held its annual outing and picnic at Caledonia park on Saturday. During the day over 150 people, including members of the club, families and invited guests, assembled in the park to participate in the annual event.

Booths were scattered throughout the groves, from which were dispensed lunch, soda, pop corn and other necessary picnic food. All during the afternoon the Bruce orchestra furnished music for dancing in the pavilion. John Brown earned his fame as Glenugie club waltz. Mr. Brown was obliged to respond several times with his dance.

Early in the afternoon Charles Leal and William McHardy withdrew from the throng and settled into a lengthy conference to secure the best brown and muscle of the attending members to take part in the annual tug of war event. When the teams appeared on the campus the respective sides appeared evenly matched; but a few minutes elapsed before the Leal aggregation evinced their superiority.

Another big feature of the outing was the baseball game between teams guided by John Gauld and George Marr. These two teams battled for about two hours and at the conclusion of that time the umpire waved the teams off the field. At that time the score stood 2 to 2. After the teams had passed the regulation inning mark. Some of the best baseball playing that has ever been exhibited at Caledonia park was seen in the game.

The members of the club did not disperse from the field until a late hour, when a special train was run for their accommodation. The committee in charge of the outing was composed of the following members: Charles Leal, George Murray, sr., and John Brown.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

The English polo players sprung a big surprise on the Yankee team by winning the opening contest of the international matches by the scores of 8 1/2 goals to 3 at Westburg, L. I.

Robert Parker, third baseman, has been elected captain of the 1915 baseball team at Montpelier seminary. Parker has played several years with the Montpelier team. He is a good hitter and has led the team in batting during the past season.

The Michigan track team next season will have to be built with unknown material. This season, Farrell, the coach, loses all but two of his point-getters. One satisfaction, though, that Farrell has is that there will be a wealth of material coming up from the freshman class.

The Cleveland baseball fans have abandoned all hope of seeing the Naps finish first position and are now centering their interest in Joe Jackson's fight for the batting supremacy of the American league.

Keene high school defeated Bellows Falls high in baseball 3 to 1 Saturday. Vermont plays Dartmouth for the second time this season at Burlington on Saturday, June 20.

According to a report from Chicago the Federal league will give a $4,000 automobile to every player in the winning club.

Bowdoin college was unable to elect a baseball captain the past week. Three candidates, Eaton, Stetson and McElwee, failed to receive a majority vote on several ballots.

Northern Spy, the well known race horse in this section of Vermont, has started the season and is now centering his interest in the meet at Chatham, Ont.

Judge, the big first sacker, who was given a tryout with the Boston Americans this spring, is playing a superb game for the Lewiston club in the New England league.

One of the great weaknesses of the Boston Braves, according to Mgr. Stallings, is the inability of his outfielders to hit at critical moments.

Ostergren, the first sacker, and O'Brien, an outfielder, who have played with the Holy Cross baseball team for the past four years, joined the Boston Red Sox this week.

Bernard Lee, the former Norwich athlete, will play with the Northampton club of the Twin State league this summer. Lee is still unable to take part in the game. Lee contracted illness about a month ago and was unable to take his position in the final game against Brown university on Saturday. Lee is recovering and expects to play with Keene in the Twin State league this summer.

The Boston Nationals must be coming into their own. A year ago the Braves trimmed the Pirates in every game of a four-game series at the Hub. By winning Saturday, the Braves have repeated their performance of four straight victories.

Chester high school has one of the best prep school teams in the southern part of the state. The Chester team defeated Battleboro high school 5 to 4 on Saturday.

Pete Clemens, the former Hardwick lad, is out of the lineup with Portland, of the New England league, for a brief period, through injuries.

Middlebury college was defeated by Vermont at Burlington on Saturday by the score of 4 to 3. The Middlebury team won from Vermont earlier in the season by a sensational ninth inning batting rally at Middlebury.

When approached by Federal league agents, Larry Doyle, the Giant captain, said: "McGraw and the Giants made me and I am going to stick to the club as long as I am wanted."

Grantland Rice, the well known sporting writer, says that the Athletics have all other teams headed in hitting this season and that the Giants are leading in base running.

"Doc" Keegan, the former Norwich student, will play with the Northampton club of the Twin State league this summer. Odds in the betting circles are 5 to 4 on the Resolute to carry the United States colors to defend America's cup in August.

The Johnson-Moran battle has actually been set for June 27 and will be pulled off in Paris. Johnson is at present considered to be the peer of all heavyweight men in the world. Moran challenged Johnson many months ago. Moran hails from Pittsburgh, Pa., and has gained a big reputation in the ring. This fight is expected to be one of the biggest affairs pulled off almost since the Jeffries-Johnson battle.

Artie Hoffman, the well known baseball player, recovered $2,944 for back salary in a suit he brought against the Chicago Nationals. He was released by Chicago to Pittsburgh in 1912 while he was still under contract to the Cubs. When Pittsburgh released him to the minors he looked to Murphy for the money originally stipulated in the Cubs contract. Murphy told him to look to the Pirates.

Miller Huggins, the little fighting infielder of the Cards, tried to put one over on O'Meara, the Brooklyn shortstop, recently. Reulbach caught Huggins off second base. When Huggins ran back to second he tried to knock the ball out of O'Meara's hands. A little pitched battle then ensued.

Honus Wagner still has the ambition to make 4,000 hits before he retires from the big leagues. He passed the 3,000 mark this week. The only other man ever connected with baseball who has this record beaten is "Pop" Anson. He made 3,947 hits during his career in the big show, covering a period of 20 years. Cobb has made over 1,700 hits during his nine years in the game. He will probably slacken up though some in the coming years.

Mgr. Callahan, is expecting big things of "Red" Russell, who is now back in good form.

Johnny Evers says that the Giants will win the National league pennant this season because there is no other team to beat. Evers opines that the Cubs could just as easily turn the trick. "Sid" Keener, a St. Louis sporting writer, says that the reason the Browns are playing winning ball this season is because Mgr. Branch Rickey is the real boss of the club, not merely a figurehead.
