Mexico, Capital City, Poorly Defended as Rebels Attack Suburbs

A FEAR OF WATER FAMINE

Light Supply Threatened—Soldiers Went with Huerta

Vera Cruz, July 23.—The situation in Mexico City is desperate. Huerta took away nearly all the real soldiers and the defense now rests with 22,000 police and about 1,000 soldiers, including volunteers. In the meantime the Zapatistas are attacking the suburbs with a strong force. On Monday they again attacked Xochimilco and many wounded federals were brought into the city.

All of the suburbs are threatened by an overwhelming force which has not yet entered the city only because it lacks the artillery which the federals have. It is feared that the Zapatistas may at any moment cut off the water, light and power supply.

Military guards are acting in collusion with the prisoners in the military prisons of Santiago and Mexico City. Monday there was an outbreak of the prisoners. They dispersed in all directions shouting "Viva Carranza."

Intervention will be inevitable if the undisciplined Zapatista hordes enter the city. There then will be wholesale looting and every form of atrocity.

LABOR MEN SCEPTICAL

Doubt Value of Permanent Federal Commission

Chicago, July 23.—A national industrial commission, while theoretically the ideal means of settling disputes between labor and capital, would be greeted with scepticism by the labor unions, according to John H. Walker, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor. He

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID SICKNESS

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions, and are responsible for the readiness with which many people contract disease.

SENATE HAS CLAYTON BILL

This Is the Administration's Big Trust Measure

Washington, July 23.—The revised Clayton anti-trust bill to supplement the Sherman act was formally reported yesterday in the Senate. It would penalize price discrimination, exclusive selling agreements, liberalize the injunction and contempt statutes in trade disputes, restrict interlocking directorates and holding companies, but would exempt labor, horticultural and agricultural organizations from its provisions.

RAILROAD SECURITIES BILL DELAYED

Some Points in It Are Opposed by Brandeis

Washington, July 23.—The revised Clayton anti-trust bill to supplement the Sherman act was formally reported yesterday in the Senate. It would penalize price discrimination, exclusive selling agreements, liberalize the injunction and contempt statutes in trade disputes, restrict interlocking directorates and holding companies, but would exempt labor, horticultural and agricultural organizations from its provisions.

Members of the interstate commerce committee were unable to complete consideration of the railroad securities bill yesterday in time to report it.

Administration leaders called a caucus of Senate Democrats for last night to plan expeditious action on the trust bills and a full Democratic attendance in the chamber to prevent continuation of the Republican filibuster on the river and harbor bill. The caucus will also consider an approximate time for adjournment.

Because of an alleged joker in the railroad securities bill which takes it out of the power of state railroad commissions to control the issuing of securities, the revised Senate bill will probably be delayed for several days on its way to the Senate. The interstate commerce committee which framed the bill is known to be against hamstringing the state commissions, and the prospects are that the joker will be removed.

The railroads are in favor of taking control of the issuing of securities from the state commissions and giving it to the interstate commerce commission because it would relieve the roads of the burden of complying with varying state requirements. The Senate committee, which in this respect has been advised by Louis D. Brandeis and George Rublee, is of the opinion that the interstate commerce commission is not equipped and will for some years not be equipped to regulate the issuance of railroad securities.

The joker in question is in section 20, which declares that if after investigation the interstate commerce commission decides to allow the issuance of securities the carrier, upon receipt of the certificate "shall be and is hereby authorized to make such issue or issues of securities, or to assume such obligations and to secure the same by mortgage pledges, and so on. It is pointed out that this clause would prevent the control by the railroads of outside properties, the buying of which, as recent railroad history has shown, has been made the basis of the issuing of large amounts of securities of doubtful value. The properties having been bought, the railroads practically had to be allowed to pay for them. The Brandeis plan proposes as a substitute to give no power to the interstate commerce commission to approve securities. Instead, it prohibits the issue of securities except for all proper railroad purposes, specifying these in detail and at some length. It also prevents railroads from buying existing railroads unless permitted to do so by the interstate commerce commission.

ROOSEVELT FACES REVOLT

His Candidate, Harvey Hinman, Opposed by the Progressives

MANY WANT STRAIGHT BULL MOOSE

Colonel Not Ready to Make Statement—Barnes Offers a Word

Oyster Bay, July 23.—For the first time in the history of the Progressive party, Colonel Roosevelt faced the possibility of opposition within the ranks over the choice of candidates. He learned that at the meeting of the Progressive committee of New York county last night Chairman Francis W. Bird declared for a straight Progressive state ticket and after the meeting learned that Harvey D. Hinman of Binghamton, had announced his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination for governor on a platform opposed to William Barnes and Charles F. Murphy. Colonel Roosevelt, it was said here, was fully aware of the resistance he would meet if he sought to bring about Progressive endorsement of Mr. Hinman or of any other candidate outside the Progressive party. To all inquiries yesterday he merely replied that he had nothing to say at present, and that his forthcoming statement would plainly explain his position fully.

Chairman William Barnes of the Republican state committee yesterday made the following statement regarding former Senator Harvey D. Hinman's announcement of his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination:

"The question which the enrolled Republicans of this state must determine on the 28th of September is whether they are to select the Republican candidates for the various offices to be filled, or whether they are to permit Mr. Roosevelt to select them. That is the real issue."

Ex-Senator Hinman of Broome county will be a candidate in the Republican primaries for governor on an anti-Murphy, anti-Barnes platform. He pledged himself, if elected, to work for "destruction of the bi-partisan system which they (Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy) represent." The substance of Mr. Hinman's statement announcing his candidacy was conveyed to Mr. Roosevelt, who said he had not read it, but what he had heard of it pleased him "very much."

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELLOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVINA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

WILSON ONLY WATCHING N. Y. POLITICS

He Declines to Join the Movement Against Tammany—McCombs Fears Loss of Congress

Washington, July 23.—"Watchful waiting" is described in White House quarters as the attitude of President Wilson with respect to intervention in New York Democratic politics. The president is being urged by Collector Dudley Field Malone, Mayor Mitchell, Corporation Counsel Polk and other anti-Tammany men to intervene and support anti-Tammany candidates for governor and for senator. The president has refused to do so thus far and House statements yesterday indicate that he is not likely to take any part.

National Chairman McCombs saw the president yesterday. Mr. McCombs wants the president to keep out of New York politics on the theory that for him to get in would hurt the congressional ticket's prospects. Mr. McCombs knows the Democrats are exposed to danger of loss of the House this fall and he wants as little interference as possible.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, dizziness, dragging down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NEW HAVEN MAY AVERT SUITS

But Only by Receding From Its Present Stand Toward Dissolution

Washington, July 23.—The possibility of an eleventh-hour surrender by the New Haven directors was the only thread yesterday upon which hung the issue of war between the New Haven and the government.

No capitalization by the New Haven was expected by the government officials. Attorney-General McReynolds and his assistants are prepared to follow out immediately President Wilson's instructions given last night and to file suit under the Sherman anti-trust law for the dissolution of the railroad combination and to institute criminal proceedings against the directors responsible.

Finishing touches were given yesterday to papers in the dissolution suit. They will be filed before the week's end and in the federal district court for southern New York, it was stated at the department of justice yesterday.

POINCARÉ MEETS A STRIKE

Workers in St. Petersburg Demonstrate as President Visits Casar

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The arrival of President Poincaré of France was the signal for a strike in St. Petersburg which will seriously interfere with his reception. One hundred and sixty thousand men are now out and the strike is rapidly spreading. The strike was called as a protest against the actions of the authorities at Baku.

The labor leaders called the strike on the eve of President Poincaré's arrival and special care is being taken to guard the French president during his stay. The streets are filled with police and Cossacks to preserve peace. Attacks were made on street cars Tuesday and the Cossacks opened fire, wounding several persons.
