TALK OF THE TOWN

Great millinery values at Abbott's. Hot chocolate that's different, at Drown's fountain.

Two shops giving the best of service. Try us. Miers' Barber Shops.

Tickets for "Hiawatha" on sale tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the box office.

B. H. Palmer of Hardwick arrived in the city yesterday to pass a few days with friends.

The ladies' union of the Universalist church will serve a harvest supper on Saturday, Oct. 3.

The little dry goods store on Cottage street will be closed Tuesday, Sept. 29, at 5 p. m.; will reopen Wednesday, the 30th, at 6 p. m.

David Hunter, who has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Hunter, on Prospect avenue, returned today to his home at Hartford, Conn.

Carroll C. Smith, who has been passing the summer at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith, of 80 Summer street, has returned to Boston, where he will enter upon his third year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

James Giacomuzzi and Louis Giacomuzzi left last night for Milford, Mass., where they have secured employment in one of Milford's large shoe factories. Both were members of the Italian A. C. baseball team during the past summer. They intend to return to Barre next spring.

The condition of Arthur Smith, the B. & M. T. & P. Co. motorman, who sustained injuries in an automobile accident at Interlacy park yesterday, was considerably improved to-day. The young man has been removed to his home on Patterson street and will resume his duties on the traction line within a few days.

Among those who registered at the Buzzell hotel yesterday were: A. Y. Dersworth, Haylton, Pa.; H. J. Markoff, West Rutland; A. Morse, Medford, Mass.; M. J. Morse, Beachmont, Mass.; L. E. DeMott, New Haven; J. W. Jewett and wife, Bedford, Mass.; B. F. Shaw, Roxbury; G. M. Armstrong, New York; M. Donovan, Boston.

There are no new developments in the infantile paralysis situation in Barre. One isolated case only is compelling the attention of the health officers and no suspicious cases have been reported. The young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Colombe of 90 Prospect street is reported to be improving steadily and the indications are that the child will emerge from the attack without any permanent paralysis of the limbs. Although one of the lower limbs is paralyzed at the outset, the patient is receiving the use of the member. When interviewed this afternoon Health Officer Dr. J. W. Stewart referred to the Colombe case as the only one of its kind within the city limits and stated that cases of other contagious disease, rather few in number, were coming along nicely.

At the Church of the Good Shepherd next Sunday morning a special epistle and gospel appointed by Rt. Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall of the Episcopal diocese of Vermont, will be used at the celebration of the holy communion. Sunday is the day appointed by President Wilson as a special day of prayers for peace, and the bishop's selection is in accord with the president's wish that the Sunday services may emphasize a desire for peace. The epistle will be from the 13th verse of the third chapter of St. James to the fourth verse of the fourth chapter; the gospel will be the fifth chapter of St. Matthew from the 43d verse to the end. The collect for the day will be the same as was sent out by Bishop Hall in August and which is used each Sunday.

Barre Hebrews begin to-morrow their annual celebration of Yom Kippur, the Jewish festival of atonement. In the Hebrew calendar it is known as the day of atonement. It occurs on the 10th day of the seventh month, Tishri, according to the rites described in Leviticus, XVI, chapter. A number of Hebrew business men intend to follow a long-established custom by closing their places of business while the holiday festivities are in progress. Several will leave this evening for Burlington to participate in the day's observance at the Hebrew synagogue to-morrow. While New Year's, which came two weeks ago on the Hebrew calendar, is one of the most important days in the Jewish year, Yom Kippur is also observing a prominent place in the devotional program of true believers and Yom Kippur is never allowed to pass without proper recognition.

On the evening of Friday, Oct. 16, the Italian Athletic club will hold its ninth annual banquet and dance at the Grand hotel. The banquet will also be the occasion for celebrating a large number of Italian baseball victories on the baseball diamond in the past summer. By virtue of vanquishing all local and outside contenders, the I. A. C. claims the semi-professional championship of the state and has been ready to defend its claim since the season closed on Labor day. Something pretentious and unique will be provided to celebrate the championship when the members come together for the banquet. It is proposed to make the affair the most elaborate of its kind in the history of the club. The banquet will be followed by speechmaking, amateur vaudeville and a dance. Decorations of a distinctive character are being planned and nothing will be permitted to interfere with the arrangements. The committee in charge consists of Angelo Bottigi, William Simonelli, Ugho Monti, Louis Balzarini, Elio Portinappi and Joseph Bianchi.

EAST BARRE.

George Nelson left the city last evening for New York, where he will remain for a business visit of several days.

Samuel Gerrard of Beacon street left last night on a two weeks' business trip to Springfield, Mass., and New York.

No special opening days at Miss Townsend's millinery parlors. Prompt and courteous attention given at all times.

An affair between bakers had its termination in city court this forenoon when Peter Bianchi and A. Provasoli were arraigned before Acting Judge A. A. Sargent on breach of peace charges to which each entered a plea of guilty. A fine for each respondent was fixed at $5 with costs of $5.14, both men arranging to pay. According to the stories told by Bianchi and Provasoli in court, the altercation started in front of the Bolster block before the peep o' dawn Sunday morning. While the question of responsibility for the disturbance was not amicably settled between the pair, both admitted a part in the business. They were arrested yesterday by Officer John W. Dineen on complaints made to Grand Juror William Wishart.

Officers of the Catholic Order of Foresters in Barre have received a letter from their chief ranger, Thomas H. Cannon, asking that Oct. 4 be devoted in part to prayers for peace. Portions of the text of the letter countersigned by the high secretary follow: "Pope Benedict XV, in his first encyclical letter to the Christian world has designated Sunday, Oct. 4, the feast of the holy rosary, as a day for special prayers for the peace of the world. The president of the United States has issued a proclamation in which he has appointed the same day as a day of prayer and supplication for 'healing peace.' These messages from pontiff and president should meet with a ready response from all Christian men and women and it is eminently fitting that societies like ours, pledged to friendship, unity and charity, should join in the great movement for world peace. We therefore enjoin upon the membership of the Catholic Order of Foresters special observance of prayers for peace on Sunday, Oct. 4, to the end that the Prince of Peace will bestow upon the Christian people that peace which the world cannot give."

"Keep to the right" signs, recently purchased and placed in position on the streets, are to be painted a rich crimson in order that they may be better discerned. The change from green to red was tried on one of the signs yesterday.

Miss Annie Corey and her brother, Salem Corey, who have been passing several days in the city as the guests of Tony and Alex Corey of Prospect street, left this morning for their home in Fort Kent, Me.

Women of the Church of the Good Shepherd will meet after the regular Friday evening service this week to select delegates to the annual state convention of the woman's auxiliary, which is to be held in Enosburg Falls late in October.

There is little to indicate that Barre will have a Columbus day celebration this year, although fraternal organizations in a few instances may observe the holiday with dances or sociables. It seems certain that an observance on the somewhat elaborate scale of 1911 will not be repeated this year.

Fred S. Kent, formerly principal of the Cobble hill school, has gone to Burlington, where he will enroll as a student at the University of Vermont. During the absence of Miss Helene Hack, who was called to Boston by the illness of a friend, Mr. Kent has been teaching in the hill schoolhouse. Recently he has been visiting at his home in Maine.

INTERSESSION FOR THE WAR

Let us pray for all having the responsibility of rule—wisdom, the fear of God, justice; for the armies and navies of the contending nations—courage, obedience, endurance, self-restraint;

for the several peoples—sobriety, self sacrifice, charity;

for the wounded and the sick, the bereaved, the anxious, the despoiled, the prisoners—

patience, comfort, spiritual insight; for the dying—

preparation, mercy; for the departed—cleansing, rest; for chaplains and nurses, and all ministering to spiritual and bodily needs—protection, tenderness, purity, zeal; for the triumph of right;

for the prevailing of reason, and methods of arbitration;

for the growth of a spirit of brotherhood among nations and among classes; for the overruling of all to God's glory and the betterment of the world;

for penitence for national as well as for individual sins;

for the deliverance of all from selfishness and recklessness, godlessness and irreligion, covetousness and dishonesty, sensuality and uncleanness, pride and arrogance, hatred and revenge;

for the sparing of the aged and the feeble; for the preservation of treasures of literature and art; for the guarding of the crops and harvests of the world.

O God, by whose gracious Providence all things in heaven and earth are ruled; Hear our prayers, we beseech Thee, and restore peace in our time, that we and all Christian people may praise Thy holy Name in godly union and concord; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.—The Rt. Rev. A. C. A. Hall, Bishop of Vermont. September, 1914.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See correct millinery at Abbott's. Thomas Magner of Burlington arrived in the city this afternoon for a few days' visit.

"The Hills of Silence," a three-reel feature of Cleo Madison at the Bijou. "Lucille Love" to-morrow.—Adv.

Mrs. Wilfred Duhamel and two daughters, who have been visiting relatives in Barre for the past 10 days, left this morning for St. Albans, where they will make a short stay before returning to their home in Lachine, Que.

Mrs. O. N. Granger, state president of the ladies' auxiliary, A. O. H., returned to-day from White River Junction, where she attended the annual convention of the Windsor county association, A. O. H., and L. A. A. O. H. The convention was held yesterday afternoon and all the state officers of the organization were present. Last evening the meetings of the members were brought to a close with a banquet and reception at the White River Junction house.

Two amateur minstrel productions are in prospect for lovers of that particular kind of entertainment. Clan Gordon, No. 12, O. S. C., pursuant to a custom established several years ago, is selecting a large chorus of singers as well as soloists to participate in an entertainment to be given sometime within a month. The musicians are to be directed by James Sim, who has had considerable experience in training singers for minstrelsy. Iroquois tribe, No. 16, Order of Red Men, also plans to put a minstrel show on the boards before the end of autumn. It will be a new departure for the Red Men, but they have plenty of talent and a creditable performance is bound to be one of the results of their present active canvass of singers. W. H. Goodfellow has been engaged to direct the work of the performers.

SPORTING NOTES

Marty O'Toole showed his hand again by triumphing the Reds 3 to 2 at New York on Friday.

Walter Elocok, the star Dartmouth lineman of a few years back, is heard coach at Washington and Lee college. He has a fine list of material to work with.

Fritz Scheeren, the Pittsburg Pirate player, will re-enter Lafayette college this fall. He was a star backfield man of last year's eleven, but will be unable to play this fall because of his professional standing.

The Michigan rushline is the lightest in several years. With the exception of one man, who weighs about 200 pounds, the line will average around 170 pounds.

Cutshaw, the second sacker of the Brooklyn team, in a game against Chicago this week came very near the limit of usefulness. He went to bat three times, made three hits for a total of seven bases. He scored two runs and accepted 12 out of 13 chances in the field.

The 1914 season for the Southern league is closed. Birmingham won the pennant. Mobile finished in second place and the New Orleans club in third position.

The White Sox have announced that Duhler, second basemen, has been drafted from the Minneapolis club. Barron S. Barnes and Dud Rogers, Dartmouth football men, are marooned in Europe and will not be able to join the Dartmouth squad until late in the season.

Koji Yamada, the famous Japanese billiard player, forsook a career as a surgeon to follow the cue. Yamada's father is one of the type of prosperous and progressive men of Japan. His father wanted him to distinguish himself and offered him the best training in the world. He wanted his son to return to Japan and become one of Japan's distinguished surgeons. He entered Heidelberg, Germany, university. It was only by chance at Heidelberg that he discovered he could become a better billiard player than surgeon.
