Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Putnam, who came to Barre to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. C. Brock of Washington street, returned to their home in West Newbury to-day, after having passed a few days with Mrs. Putnam's sister, Mrs. Frank Hayden, in East Montpelier.

The next meeting of the Barre Woman-an's club, which will occur Tuesday at 2:45 p. m., will take the form of a social afternoon. The ladies may bring their sewing if they wish. A program has been arranged and refreshments will be served. Miss Blanche Tilden will tell many interesting things concerning the early history of Barre.

George A. Bemis of Long street, who has been confined to his home by a bronchial affection for several weeks, was able to resume his duties as janitor at city hall to-day. Frank Walker, who took Mr. Bemis' place at the city building, was taken ill last Friday and the work was turned over to David N. Far-rand.

State's Attorney J. Ward Carver is in receipt of an Ithaca hammerless shotgun alleged to have been stolen by one Oscar Fuette from a Warren farmer last week. The gun was recovered by a deputy sheriff in Jeffersonville soon after Fuette was captured in Montgomery by Deputy Sheriff H. J. Slayton and returned to this city to face a larceny charge. Fuette, at present, is in the county jail at Montpelier.

All members of the Barre Citizens' band are requested to be at the band room this evening in uniform at 7 o'clock. S. N. Parker, manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sassi and little daughter, Ada, of Worcester arrived in the city this morning for a visit of sev-eral days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sassi of Durkee place.

H. D. Blanchard of Lowell, Mass., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wood at 31 Jefferson street over Sunday. Mr. Blanchard was formerly a resident of Nicholville, N. Y.

L. B. Thompson of Graniteville ar-rived in the city to-day, bringing home a deer weighing close to 200 pounds. Mr. Thompson was visiting in Cam-bridge and while there spent part of his time hunting with that result.

At city hall Saturday, Miss Christina Minelli and Baldo Saldi, both of 11 Sec-ond street, were united in marriage by Justice of the Peace James Mackay. The groom is a stonecutter. Mr. and Mrs. Saldi will make their home at 11 Second street.

A holiness convention was begun yester-day at the People's Evangelical church in Montpelier, with preliminary sermons. To-night and each night of the week through Friday night, Rev. E. H. Post of Somerville, Mass., will de-liver a series of doctrinal sermons upon "Sanctification." An invitation is ex-tended to people of this city to attend.

The regular meeting of the young peo-ple's society of the Church of the Good Shepherd will not be held the coming Wednesday evening, as was originally planned. Instead, the society will have a social gathering in the vestry of the church on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 2. The entertainment committee is planning a program and other diver-sions for the meeting.

Within a few days the aldermanic street committee will begin its work of getting the city bridges in shape for winter travel. In several instances deep holes have been worn in the road at the approach of the bridges and these are to be filled before the action of the snow and water makes the highway impos-sible near the bridges. The North Main street bridge at the foot of Blackwell street is to be replanked and even more extensive improvements are to be made at bridge No. 2 on Brook street. These iron guard rails are to be built and a separate walk for pedestrians will be the outcome of the departmental energy spent at that point. Several of the bridges are to be repainted. The city council has not decided when work will be started on a new structure to replace the wooden bridge on South Main street.

Black, navy and green velvet vests for the ladies and misses. Paris Shirtwaist House.

The condition of Homer Fitts of Park street, who has been quite seriously ill, was reported to be improved to-day.

Miss Mary Leguere returned this morn-ing to her home in Northfield, after spending the week end with friends in the city.

Frederick Sargent of Smith & Cum-ings' store, returned this morning to his work after a short visit with friends in Randolph.

Mrs. Ella Sturtevant returned this morning to her home in Underhill, after passing several days with relatives on Mount Street.

A letter received here from Bernie Carpenter, a former Barre boy, who has been in the United States meat inspec-tion service at Somerville, Mass., tells of his transfer from Massachusetts to Buffalo, N. Y., where he is assisting in the work of eradicating the foot and mouth disease. Mr. Carpenter was for-merly in the employ of Smith & Cum-ings.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Nelson and chil-dren, who have been in charge of the Woodbury lake house at Woodbury during the summer and early fall, have re-turned to Barre for the winter. The season at the lake house was one of the most successful in its history and it is estimated that more people made the lake their place of outing this year than ever before.

Curbing for the new sidewalk on Perry street has been laid and the grade for the new gravel path is nearly estab-lished. The walk will extend from Washington street back toward Spauld-ing street for a distance of nearly 300 feet. A petition for the walk was pre-sented to the city council by abutting land owners more than a year ago, but not until recently has the aldermanic street committee been able to reach an amicable agreement with property own-ers in that vicinity. The walk is to be completed before the end of the month.

Saturday's arrivals at the Buzzell hotel include: Mr. and Mrs. Richie, Mrs. Lucy Ludlow, Newbury; S. Abschner, New York; J. W. Williams, Charles Root, Shelburne; S. D. The New Fall Styles

In Dutchess Trousers are worth any man's time to see. We have never been able before to show such a great variety—yet every past season has been noted for the strength of our assortments.

The famous 10-cents-a-button, dollar-a-rip warranty is a totally unnecessary, but still retained feature; so few ever find it necessary to make a claim. If they do, the makers "stand behind" it.

In colorings, patterns and really new styles, Dutchess Trousers for this season are wonderful values.
