

DEPRIVE TURKEY OF A SHIP

British Submarine Perpetrated a Daring Trick by Stealing Way into Dardanelles and Delivering a Death Blow to the Battleship Messudieh

LEFT VICTIM SINKING WITH HER 600 MEN

Turkey Also Lost Heavily on Land at the Hands of Russians—Servian Successes Against Austrians Continue, Latter Fleeing in Disorder

Reverses for Turkey at the hands of Russia on land and at the hands of Great Britain on the sea were chronic in today's official war dispatches. Russian army headquarters in Caucasus reports that the Turks, whose strong resistance to the invaders from the north compelled them to retreat, are now being repulsed everywhere and are being pursued beyond the Euphrates river, suffering heavy losses. The British admiralty reports the sinking of the old Turkish warship Messudieh by a British submarine.

Recent successes of the Servians, partly confirmed from Berlin, are said at Paris to have been extended. It is asserted that the Austrians are unable to check their retreat before the advancing Servians, who are sweeping them out of their country.

A statement attributed to Field Marshal von Goltz, who was sent by the German government to Constantinople to direct the Turkish forces, indicates that in the opinion of this man, one of the leading German military authorities, the war may drag on for a long time. He is quoted as saying that Germany is prepared to carry on war for years, but is certain to triumph eventually.

A BRITISH SUBMARINE ENTERED DARDANELES

And Torpedoed the Turkish Battleship Messudieh, After Which She Returned in Safety.

London, Dec. 11, 25 a. m.—A communication issued by the official bureau today announced that the Turkish battleship Messudieh had been torpedoed by a British submarine. The statement says that yesterday, submarine B-11, in charge of Lieutenant Commander Norman R. Holbrook of the Royal navy, entered the Dardanelles and in spite of a difficult current dived under five rows of mines and torpedoed the Turkish battleship Messudieh, which was guarding the mine fields. Although pursued by gun fire and torpedo boats, the B-11 returned safely after being submerged on one occasion for nine hours. When last seen, the Messudieh was sinking by the stern. She carried a crew of 600 men.

DRESDEN REACHES PORT.

CAPTURED ONE TRENCH

And Repulsed Two Counter Attacks, Say the French.

Paris, 2:44 p. m., Dec. 14.—A French official statement this afternoon reports comparative quiet in Flanders and an artillery exchange of minor importance elsewhere in the Meuse district. The German batteries are said to be moving to the north in the Waters district. The French have captured one trench and repulsed two counter attacks. The advance of the French line into Alsace has brought it to a point about 10 miles east of the frontier.

DECISIVE VICTORIES

North of Warsaw Claimed by the Russians.

Petrograd, via London, 2:30 p. m., Dec. 14.—Reports from the front state that operations of the Russian forces north of Warsaw have now resulted in a decisive victory. Having pierced the German front, the Russian successes, according to these reports, were clinched by the wide swinging movement of the Russian line on the main highway from Plock to Mlawa, concluding in a heavy cavalry engagement seven miles southeast of Mlawa.

EASILY REPELLED

Light Attacks by French on German Positions, Say Germanes.

Berlin, via wireless to London, 3:30 p.

m. Dec. 14.—A German official communication says: "Light attacks by the French on parts of our positions between the river Meuse and the Vosges mountains were easily repulsed. Otherwise nothing of importance remains to be reported from the western war theatre. From east Prussia and southern Poland there is nothing to report. In northern Poland our operations are taking their normal course."

The only case tried by jury was that of state vs. Jack LaRusso, an Italian charged with assault with intent to kill. An interpreter, John Frontini of Barre, was present and the greater part of the testimony was through him. The jury found him guilty of simple assault and he was sentenced to the house of correction for a term of not less than two years nor more than two years and six months. States' Attorney F. S. Williams presented and the respondent was represented by D. S. Conant, who was assigned by the court to defend.

In state vs. John Popolo, an Italian charged with the same offense as LaRusso, the respondent entered a plea of guilty of simple assault and was fined twenty-five dollars and costs, which he paid. States' Attorney Williams prosecuted and W. H. Sprague was assigned by the court to defend.

In state vs. Lewis Cote, who was charged with larceny, the respondent pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state's prison for not less than one year nor more than one year and three months. S. C. Wilson assigned by the court to defend.

In state vs. Darwin McCoy, Lafayette Duval, Haskell R. Carlson and Norman Newbury, who were charged with burglary, all entered pleas of guilty and were each sentenced to the house of correction for not less than two years nor more than two years and six months. The sentence in each case was suspended and the respondents placed on probation. John C. Sheburne of Randolph was assigned in each case to defend.

In state vs. John Stewart, charged with assault with intent to rob, the respondent entered a plea of simple assault and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs with the usual alternative sentence.

The jurors were paid off Thursday but not discharged and will be subject to recall on notice from the county clerk. On Saturday noon the court took a recess until Monday afternoon, January 11, when it is expected there will be some cases to try by jury and possibly some divorce matters disposed of. The term thus far, although short, has been a busy one. Judge Denney kept the "wheel of justice" rolling as fast as possible and yet kept litigants and attorneys and courts attaches in good humor.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Ed A. Cross of Williamstown, who has been in the city hospital for four weeks, recovering from a serious case of appendicitis, returned to his home today. Richard Starkey, who was injured on the new hotel building a few days ago, was able to leave the hospital Saturday.

William Stuart of Spaulding street and Thomas Carroll of North Main street, members of the Shamrock A. C., returned yesterday from Wells River, where they played a game with the Shamrock A. C. in a basketball game against the Notre Dame A. C. of Boston Saturday night. The Boston team won by a score of 21 to 17, although the outcome of the game was not decided until the last minutes of play. The Bostoners are reported to be one of the best professional teams ever pitted against a Vermont aggregation and an effort will be made to book them for a game with the Shamrock A. C. in the season. Sometime within the present week the Shamrocks will hold their first practice in anticipation of their coming game with the Tufts Independents, who leave Monday, Mass. Dec. 26 for a basketball tour through New Hampshire and Vermont.

Hockey at Colby's gymnasium for the winter of 1914-15 has received a desired impetus through the arrival at the school in September of several likely-looking recruits, who are to be given their first try-out as soon as ice on the secondary rink is available. Students at the gymnasium have been preparing the rink for the first snowfall and with the sides already constructed and the ground surface worked down to a proper level, the hockey association has adopted the "waiting" policy with reference to snow. Alex Loucas of Derby and Book Island, F. G. is the captain of the team, and he will be his first test for recruits within a few days. An attempt will be made to have teams from the University of Vermont, Norwich university, Middlebury and Colby colleges enter the bill for hockey matches in the near future.

U. S. WARSHIPS ARE DEMANDED

Col. Goethals Says They're Needed to Enforce Neutrality

REITERATES HIS CALL ON THE GOVERNMENT

Asks Two Torpedo Boat Destroyers Be Sent to Canal Zone

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Colonel Goethals, governor of the Panama canal zone, today reiterated his request that two torpedo boat destroyers be sent to the canal zone to prevent violation of neutrality through the misuse of the wireless and the taking on of supplies by vessels of the belligerent nations.

The action of the Australian collier Malina, which left Balboa without clearance papers, and the fact that this and other colliers have shown a disposition to disregard the canal zone shipping laws, actuated Col. Goethals to take a decisive measure to preserve in every way the neutrality of the canal.

DIED FROM POISONING.

Mrs. Lavine of Burlington Drank Carbol.

Burlington, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Herman Lavine, a young woman 25 years old, died at the Mary Fletcher hospital Saturday afternoon from the effects of taking carbolic acid with suicidal intent. She was the wife of the Hebrew school principal.

There seems to be no rational explanation of her act as her home life was harmonious and she was to all appearances entirely satisfied with life. Her husband noticed nothing wrong with her when they retired Friday night.

At some time early Saturday morning before daylight and before her husband was awake, Mrs. Lavine arose and took the fatal dose. She was not discovered until some time later when she was found, still clad in her night dress, lying on a couch unconscious.

An empty bottle, which had contained carbolic acid, was beside her. That she took a big dose was apparent, for her face, lips, mouth and throat were badly burned.

Drs. C. H. Beecher and R. L. Maynard were called and the police automobile was rushed to the scene. Only a few minutes elapsed between the time the woman was found and her arrival at the hospital but it was seen from the first that nothing could be done for her and she died about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

THREE LIVES LOST

In Maine as Result of Skating on Thin Ice.

Portland, Me., Dec. 14.—Three lives were claimed in Maine yesterday as the toll of the thin ice peril. Two small boys and one girl were the victims.

Phoshe Pelkie was drowned, and two companions were rescued when ice on which they were skating at Kingsman game way, Miss Pelkie was 17 years of age.

The first drowning accident of the season at Waterville occurred in the Kennecott when Thomas Houghton, aged seven, fell into the open swift water when he ventured too near the edge of the ice. The body was not recovered.

While skating on the Androscoggin river at Brunswick, 12-year-old Alfred Alexander was drowned.

WAS SEVERELY BURNED.

Henry R. Sullivan Put Out Fire Started by His Child.

St. Albans, Dec. 14.—Henry R. Sullivan was severely, but it is thought not seriously, burned on the face, hands and arms Sunday morning while trying to extinguish a fire at his home on Nassau street. His four-year-old son, threw a blazing paper into a clothes closet.

Firemen responded to a call about 10 o'clock and extinguished the flames with chemicals, but the clothes in the closet were burned, also the curtain in the bedroom adjoining.

It was on the house was covered by snow but there was no insurance on the clothing.

VENERABLE VERMONTER DEAD AT MIDDLEBURY

Rev. Sedgwick W. Bidwell Lived Only Few Days After Celebrating His 105th Birthday—Health Good Until Recently.

Middlebury, Dec. 14.—Rev. Sedgwick W. Bidwell, who celebrated his 105th birthday anniversary on Dec. 6, died at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning at his home at East Middlebury. He had been confined to his bed only since last Friday. Until recently his health had been good, although the burden of his many years had greatly reduced his activities. He had shaved himself until within three months.

The Rev. Mr. Bidwell was born at Starkboro on Dec. 8, 1809, his parents being English and among the early settlers of the place. His school days were finished at the age of 19 and during the winter of 1830 and 1831 he taught in the district school.

There was a religious revival in the town at this time and the young teacher was converted in a meeting in his own schoolhouse. One year later he attended the Hinesburg academy and in the same year was admitted into the Methodist church on probation for six months, and he subsequently joined in full connection.

In 1834 he was given a license to preach by the presiding elder of his church, he being then 25 years of age. For nearly 80 years he served his church.

He preached in 22 towns in Vermont and New York and so far as known he was the oldest Methodist minister in the country. He officiated at more than 150 funerals and about 400 weddings. On some occasions when called upon to perform the marriage ceremony he received for his services only a bushel of potatoes or a bushel of corn and on other occasions the offerings were smaller still. In 1909 on his 100th birthday a special service was held in the Methodist church in East Middlebury in honor of his anniversary and he preached a vigorous sermon.

The venerable preacher was apparently predestined for the ministry, as he used to relate an incident which occurred when he was only five years old and which showed the tendency of his mind. At the close of his first day at school the little fellow invited a number of his school fellows about a stump which he had mounted and preached to them. At the age of seven years he could declaim the selections in the English reader with facility and promptness and won a prize for committing a selection to memory. He had a remarkable memory, and could distinctly recall the booming and roaring of the cannon during the battle of Plattsburgh.

In 1836 he married Miss Eveline L. Smith of Monkton, and after her death he married Lucinda Aurora Tupper. He is survived by one son, George S. Bidwell of Waterbury.

BRATTLEBORO YOUTH DIED FROM LOCKJAW

Stuck Porcupine Quill In His Knee and Paid But Little Attention to the Wound Two Weeks Ago.

Brattleboro, Dec. 14.—Leslie Rider, aged 17, of Marlboro died at the Memorial hospital Saturday from lockjaw, with which he had been suffering for several days.

While at work two weeks ago faying a dead horse in a pasture where several hedgehogs had been killed, a quill became imbedded in his knee, and although he paid little attention to it at the time, the injury gradually grew worse.

He is survived by his mother. His father suffered a sunstroke while haying some time ago.

PRINCIPAL WOOD RESTRAINED.

Court Orders Injunction Issued Against Head of Plainfield Schools.

Judge John H. Watson of the Vermont supreme court has issued an order restraining Principal O. B. Wood of the Plainfield public schools from continuing in that capacity, but he has refused to issue an order like a nature against Mrs. Wood, an assistant in the schools. The school directors had asked for injunctions against both Mr. and Mrs. Wood. The injunction against Principal Wood is to remain in force until next order of the court.

The judge holds that School Directors Martin and Page are acting lawfully as directors and that it was their prerogative to accept the resignation of Principal Wood, which was sent in at Thanksgiving time.

LONG A RESIDENT OF BARRE.

Charles E. Smith Passed Away This Morning.

Charles E. Smith, who has resided in Barre since 1859, passed away at his home on the Washington street extension this morning at 4 o'clock, death following a period of failing health which covered nearly three years. For the past year he had been confined to the home most of the time. Mr. Smith leaves his wife, a niece, Mrs. C. E. Hadley of University Place, Nash, and a nephew, Arthur W. Robinson, an R. F. D. carrier of this city. Eight children born to Mr. and Mrs. Smith are deceased.

Mr. Smith was born in Claremont, N. H., 74 years ago last April. He came to Barre 55 years ago and followed the carpenter's trade. Ten years later he was married in Plainfield to Miss Calista A. Farnham. For many years Mr. Smith was one of the leading carpenters and joiners of Barre. He belonged to the union of that name.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Friends in this city of William Gibson of North Ferrisburgh, a former athletic star at Dartmouth college, will regret to learn that a painful accident which he suffered last week will detain him from work for several weeks. While employed in a saw mill at Ferrisburgh last week, Gibson had the misfortune to come in contact with a saw which severed one of his fingers.

Firemen responded to a call about 10 o'clock and extinguished the flames with chemicals, but the clothes in the closet were burned, also the curtain in the bedroom adjoining.

WOMAN SAYS SHE'S GUILTY

Of Manslaughter in First Degree in the Death of Charles A. Manley

MRS. JENNIE M. MILLS CAME TO TRIAL

She Was Manley's Housekeeper at Henniker, N. H.

Concord, N. H., Dec. 14.—Mrs. Jennie M. Mills of Henniker, who was indicted for the murder of Charles A. Manley at Henniker last March, pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter in the first degree when she went on trial today.

Manley was found dead in bed, his head mangled and a shotgun beside the body. Mrs. Mills, who was his housekeeper, said it was a case of suicide and the grand jury failed to find an indictment against her. Later the woman's daughter told the authorities some things which resulted in the arrest and subsequent indictment of Mrs. Mills.

DESCRIBED TENN. MOUNTAINEERS.

Dr. E. A. Bishop, Formerly Principal of Montpelier Sem., Spoke in Barre.

At the Heddin church yesterday, Dr. E. A. Bishop, spoke before a large congregation relative to his work in the southland of Tennessee. The music for the day, including selections on the pipe organ and the piano by Miss Flora Boyce and Miss Bell of Montpelier seminary were exceptionally good; the anthems and special music by the choir were greatly enjoyed.

Dr. Bishop said he was in a region of country 600 miles long, amid the mountains of Tennessee where there were at least 4,000,000 people. They were of Scotch-Irish descent and had in them the making of some of the best people of our land. The problem was to educate them and bring out the best that was in them. It was an American problem for in all that region there were very few of foreign birth, such people being almost a curiosity. They were white people, there being but one black man in every 59 of the inhabitants. This people had never believed in slavery and in all that region there was but one home where slaves had been kept.

It was a Protestant problem for in all that country there was scarcely a Catholic. It was a rural community and although they had the reputation of making "moonshine," yet the people there drink less whiskey than do the people of Vermont. The people of that southland are beginning to talk of the time when perhaps they may be needed to come North to help people of the Northland to free themselves of the slavery of rum. In that southland country if a man is known to favor the liquor traffic he is almost sure of defeat for office.

They are a patriotic people and in the war of the rebellion nearly all of them fought on the northern side. They furnished 185,000 men in 1860 to help the union and if they did so much to save the union it is our duty now to do something for them. Their condition now is somewhat the result of the war that wrecked the business life of so many regions of the south. War with this result continues for years and that, on the contrary, today will have its awful effects for years and years to come.

These people of the southland need our help. Dr. Bishop then told how although they were naturally a religious people yet those who ministered to them often had but little education and there were times when a funeral service had to take place months after the death of a person because there were so few ministers and the people lived at such remote distances.

Dr. Bishop then told of the mountain cabins and the way people lived, sometimes with but one room, in many instances with two or three, yet the honor of womanhood is respected and if a man insults a woman sometimes the rifle bullet makes quick work of the guilty party. The speaker then told of the need of education and what might be done if the proper advantages might be given to this people as they were today to do all in their power to seek what the schools had to offer. He told how they were sacrificing to acquire the advantages of the schools. It was a most interesting and helpful address.

115 MASONS ATTENDED And Rev. Edgar Crossland Delivered a Forceful Sermon.

At the Presbyterian church yesterday 115 Masons joined the regular attendants in listening to a forceful sermon by the pastor, Rev. Edgar Crossland, and to special music for the occasion. It was an especially large turnout of the fraternity men. The anthems were "Crossing the Bar," Woodward; "Remember Now Thy Creator," Adams. A solo, "Tears of Christ," Kate Vannah, was sung by Miss Alice Walker with violin obligato by Albert Scott. The hymns were "Safely Through Another Week," "Jesus, Where'er Thy People Meet" and "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus." The response, "Hear Us O Father" was by the trio of ladies' voices.

After extending a hearty welcome to the Masons and giving an appreciative commentary on what Free Masonry is doing, Rev. Mr. Crossland spoke from the text, "To do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God," talking through another week, "Jesus, Where'er Thy People Meet" and "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus."
