

DONOVAN AS MANAGER

He Probably Will Lead the New York Americans

DEPENDS UPON SALE OF CLUB

Henrickson May Go to Strengthen the Club

Chicago, Dec. 23.—"Wild Bill" Donovan, whose pitching helped make Detroit champions of the American league several years ago, and who of late has been turning out championship teams at Providence in the International league, will manage the New York Americans if the deal for the sale of that club is consummated.

This was the most definite piece of information that leaked out of the conference yesterday between B. H. Johnson, president of the American league, and Jacob Ruppert, jr., and T. L. Huston, prospective purchasers of the Yankees. With the managers question practically settled the American league leaders, who met here in special session on Monday, felt that other conditions precedent to the sale of the New York club would be met. These included an adjustment of the price for the club and a chance for the new owners to purchase players who ordinarily would not be for sale.

It was learned that none of the club owners were willing to part with the real stars of their organizations, and rumors that men of the highest grade were to be turned over to Ruppert and Huston were squelched by the men most interested.

One or two useful outfielders, a first baseman, two or three pitchers, and perhaps a good catcher and utility infielder were recognized as needs of the New York team, but what individuals were considered in this connection was not made known. Gossip centered on Olaf Henrickson of the Boston Americans, who was mentioned for the infield utility post.

The acquisition of these men and the others needed to strengthen the Yankees was recognized as adding materially to the initial investments of Ruppert and Huston, and this consideration was being threshed out in yesterday's conference. "Progress" was the most that President Johnson would report, but the few leaders who remained over from Monday's league meeting were hopeful that their attempts to meet the conditions of the proposed sale had been successful.

"I could have used Donovan steadily at Providence," said Joseph Lannin, president of the Boston Americans, who was the last of the league heads to leave for home. "But when a player has served his big league time as steadily as Donovan did and then made good as manager I believe he is entitled to promotion when the chance comes. If the deal goes through Donovan will go to New York without any string attached to him."

BURGLAR KILLS LAWYER, GIRL SAVES HER BROTHER

Daughter of Rich Californian, W. M. Alexander, Beats Off Slayer in Home.

Los Angeles, Dec. 23.—William Montrose Alexander, a wealthy retired lawyer, was shot and killed yesterday by one of two burglars when he discovered them in his home.

W. M. Alexander, jr., was shot in the breast and left hand when he went to his father's aid. The Alexanders moved here from Dallas three years ago. Miss Penelope Alexander, one of the lawyer's daughters, heard the shots fired by her brother and rushed to his aid. With a silver-backed hairbrush she beat the burglar on the head as he struggled to free himself from the grasp of her wounded brother, whose left index finger had been severed by a bullet from one of the burglar's revolvers.

The burglar broke away from the grip of young Alexander and his sister and escaped, but lost his hat, which is the only clue to his identity.

BOSTON DOG TRUE TO THE HUB.

Mrs. Freschel's Terrier Lives on Beans and Lentils.

Boston, Dec. 23.—Mrs. M. R. Freschel's pet Yorkshire terrier, Sister, has never gnawed a bone or eaten meat and does not care for milk, but is very fond of vegetables.

Mrs. Freschel, who is president of the Millennium Guild, has for 12 years been a vegetarian and has impressed her teaching upon her dog. Sister likes lentils, peas, beans, celery, carrots, radishes, lettuce, apples, nuts, eggs, oatmeal and buttered toast.

"Many of our diseases come from eating meat," says Mrs. Freschel, "and when I became a vegetarian I applied the principles to animals. My Sister has never had distemper. If people would only teach their animals to eat vegetables we would not have this fuss over the diseases of dogs."

Sister is four years old and weighs three and a half pounds.

CARRANZA GOES SOUTH

He Leaves for the Isthmus of Tehuantepec

ENEMIES SAY IT IS "FLIGHT"

Friends, Only "Program"—Army Is Severely Defeated

Washington, Dec. 23.—Diplomatic dispatches yesterday reported the departure of General Carranza from Vera Cruz for the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. Factions opposed to Carranza were inclined to regard it as a flight after the defeat of his army at Puebla, but Carranza officials pointed out that some time ago he had announced his intention of visiting the isthmus.

GARDNER WANTS MORE HIDES.

Representing Tanners, He Urges Action Against Embargo on Exports.

Washington, Dec. 23.—Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts had a conference yesterday with Robert Lansing, counselor, and Cone Johnson, solicitor, of the state department, with regard to the embargo which has been placed on the exportation of hides by the government of New Zealand and by the government of Australia. Eastern manufacturers find themselves very much handicapped by the embargo, which seriously interferes with the customary sources of their raw supply.

Hides are one of the numerous articles, such as wool and rubber, whose exportation from British colonies is forbidden, for fear that they may be destined for Austria or Germany. Furthermore, it is claimed that Great Britain may find herself short of these raw materials for her own use, and therefore that ordinary prudence demands this embargo.

Mr. Gardner offered to undertake that the tanners whom he represents would give satisfactory guarantees against the shipment of these hides to any country at enmity with Great Britain. Solicitor Johnson stated that he thought that there was at least a good chance within the next month that some arrangement could be made along the lines suggested by the congressman. This arrangement would probably require the issuance of special licenses by the British Board of Trade.

IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Egg and Butter Prices Remain Firm—Egg Receipts Increase.

Boston, Dec. 23.—Prices of nearby eggs continue to work down in the local market under increasing receipts, but while there is a sympathetic decline in western eggs, the market is relatively firm in that direction, because as yet the West is not a very free shipper. It cannot be said that the supply of nearby eggs is really large, but it is ample for wants, and a desire on the part of receivers to keep sold up also tends to depress prices. Storage eggs are in larger demand, at least in a speculative way, on the theory that they are likely to be wanted later on, especially when the weather is against large supplies of fresh stock. Fine butter is firmly held, not that the demand is urgent or supplies insufficient, but because of the firmness of the outside markets for that grade of goods. The cheese market holds steady in spite of a light demand and ample supplies; the explanation is that holders are not forcing sales. Jobbing quotations: Butter—Fancy northern creamery, tubs 35@36½c, boxes 36@36½c, prints 36½@37c, fancy western creamery 34½@35c, fancy storage creamery 34@35c, good to choice creamery 31@32c, fair to good 29@30c. Cheese—New York twins, fancy 16½@17c, fair to good 15@16c, Young America 17@17½c. Eggs—Fancy henery 54@55c, choice eastern 50@52c, fresh western extras 50@52c, prime firsts 46@48c, firsts 44@46c, storage 27@28c.

LIVESTOCK PRICES STRONG.

Fair Demand at Brighton Market—Arrivals Increasing.

Brighton, Mass., Dec. 23.—At the Brighton cattle market yesterday, to the surprise of shippers, there was a fair demand and prices were well sustained. The only exception was hogs. A big run West and heavy arrivals at the local packing houses broke the price a little. Conditions are still unsatisfactory at the abattoir, business being transacted under difficulties. Receipts from Massachusetts points are coming in freely, though one new case was found in the state during the past week. The Brighton stockyards are being cleaned up slowly, the work being now about one-half completed. Local arrivals directly at the abattoir and from western Massachusetts over the Boston & Albany are increasing.

Arrivals for the day at Brighton were 16 cars from the Boston & Maine railroad, nine cars from the Boston & Albany and one car from the West. During the week arrivals consisted of one car cattle and six cars hogs from the West, one car from the Boston & Albany, five cars livestock from New York state and six cars from the Boston & Maine.

Heavy beef cattle were doing rather better, tops being quotable at 7½ to 8 cents, with some fancy at 8¼ to 8½ cents. Good cattle were quoted at 7 to 7½ cents and light cattle at 6 to 6½ cents.

Best beef cows sold at 6 cents, the quotation on tops being 5½ to 6 cents, with good cows at 5 to 5½ cents, ordinary cows at 4 to 4½ cents and canners at 3¼ to 3½ cents.

Hulls were in fair supply, something fancy bringing 6¼ cents, though the usual quotation on the best animals was 5½ to 6 cents. Ordinary hulls sold at 5 to 5½ cents and bolognas at 4 to 4½ cents.

Calves brought 9 to 9½ cents for best lots, though an occasional fancy calf brought 10 to 11 cents. Mixed lots sold at 7 to 8½ cents, grassers 5 to 6 cents and small calves 2 to 3 cents each.

Hogs were quoted lower, good lots selling at 7 cents, though an occasional lot brought 7¼ cents. Rough lots sold at 6½ to 6¾ cents.

Sheep and lambs are in moderate supply and prices are nominally unchanged at 6 to 8 cents for lambs and 4 to 6 cents for sheep.

Nothing is being done in milk cows, as all receipts have to be slaughtered at once.

AUTO DEATHS NUMBER 226.

This the Total for the Year in Massachusetts.

Boston, Dec. 23.—Motoring is held responsible for 226 deaths in Massachusetts during the year that ended Nov. 30. It is also held accountable for injuries to 4,939 persons and for a total of 7,063 accidents of all kinds. Of the victims of fatal accidents 130 were pedestrians, 56 were occupants of automobiles, 28 were motorcycle riders, three were bicycle riders and two were occupants of carriages. No street car passengers were killed either this year or the year previous. Automobiles were responsible for 201 deaths and motorcycles for 25.

The upkeep and operating expense of a motor car is small or large in almost exact proportion to its good design or poor, accessible or inaccessible.

It has taken the best engineering talent, in the country, several years to develop the standard four and six-cylinders motors up to their present stage of efficiency and accessibility.

The process has been slow but sure.

COLE cars have always been noted for their low upkeep and operating expense. This is due to the fact that COLE has always refused to use anything but standard construction.

A principle must be proven, beyond any doubt, that it is right, before COLE will accept and use it.

You lift up the hood on a COLE car, and at the first glance you are impressed with the simplicity of the entire motor. Ninety-nine out of every hundred will remark: "Looks like an easy motor to take care of." You know that if things are hard to do, they are apt to be left undone.

Every part of a COLE car is easy to get at. This makes it a pleasure, in keeping it clean, thoroughly oiled and adjusted. These three things well done, add fifty per cent. to the life of any car.

Take the electric equipment, wires and connections, everything is easily reached. The water circulating pump and all connections are as accessible as if they were on your work bench. All valves can be adjusted without disturbing any other part of the motor. This is what we call accessibility, and it applies to every part of the car.

This is car value that is not demonstrated to you, while riding, but is demonstrated to you, and you begin to realize its value, when you settle your garage bills.

It is not so much how a car appeals to you in the hands of a demonstrator, as it is, how will it appeal to you, after you or your chauffeur begin to operate it.

The car for you to buy, is the one that will give you the best service, at the lowest upkeep and operating expense.

By service, we mean appearance, comfort, ability to take you anywhere, and keep doing it, with the least possible trouble and expense.
