WHITE-FORBES.

Quiet Christmas Wedding at Home of the Bride.

A quiet Christmas wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Forbes, 26 Merchant street, Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Isabella Forbes, was united in marriage to George White. Rev. Edgar Crossland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of members of the two families and intimate friends of the bride and groom. The house was prettily decorated with evergreen and flowers. The effect preserving for the ceremony a distinctly Christmas atmosphere. The bride was attended by Miss Mamie Reid and the former's brother, Thomas Forbes, acted as best man. The bride was gowned in white silk chiffon over white crepe de chine. She carried white carnations. Her bridesmaids wore a gown of pink messaline trimmed with pink chiffon. The single ring service was used and the bride was given away by her father. After the ceremony there was an informal reception and a number of the young women friends of the bride served dainty refreshments.

Both the bride and groom are well known and popular young people of Barre. Mrs. White has been employed for the past six years in the Barre Steam laundry and her husband is a granite-cutter at the Presbrey-Coykendall plant in North Barre. They were the recipients of many handsome gifts, including silver, cut glass, linen and a variety of useful articles. Mr. and Mrs. White left on the 9:30 o'clock on a bridal trip to Boston, Quincy, Mass., and Hollowell, Me. They will be at home, 26 Merchant street, after Jan. 1.

A CHRISTMAS ANNIVERSARY.

Was Held in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sutor of Graniteville.

More than 40 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sutor gathered at their home in Graniteville yesterday in answer to their invitation. The gathering was in honor of their twentieth wedding anniversary as well as to celebrate Christmas. Many from this city were present; also from St. Johnsbury, Williamstown and in the vicinity of their own town.

The parlor and dining room were tastefully decorated in green and red streamers and also Christmas bells. Pottery plants were placed about, and in one corner was a Christmas tree lined with silver trimmings and also gifts brought and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Sutor by their many friends.

The main decorations of the dining room were on the table. In the center of the table was a five-layer wedding cake and at each end was a large turkey. Spread around the remainder of the table were the rest of the fixings that go with a Christmas dinner. When all were ready they sat down and did justice to the meal. At the end of this Mrs. Margaret Smith, a sister of Mrs. Sutor, made the presentation speech in the form of a poem and handed Mr. and Mrs. Sutor a purse of gold in behalf of the gathering. To this Mr. Sutor responded in a hearty thanks for himself and wife. During the remainder of the afternoon a social time was enjoyed and the following rendered solos: Miss Gertrude Gook, Mrs. James Gook and Howard Gook. Before leaving the whole company was photographed. It was not until early evening that the guests were saying "Good-bye" to their hosts, and when the time came all left wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sutor more anniversaries and Godspeeding them capital entertainers.

GIFTS FOR THE BELGIANS

Marked Christmas Observance at Universalist Church.

Children of the Universalist Sunday school and members of the church made their Yuletide observance this year the occasion for giving rather than receiving. All of the Christmas fixtures so essential to a merry gathering were in order when the youngsters, accompanied by their parents, assembled in the vestry of the church Thursday evening. That the children with one accord chose rather to make gifts to the needy was highly praiseworthy and to those who labored to make the occasion a success there is the pleasant afterthought that the young people seemed to enjoy the occasion quite as much as if they had been the recipients of gifts themselves.

Little offerings from each child are to be forwarded to the suffering Belgians. The idea had its origin among the children, who appeared to derive more cheer in the giving than in receiving. There was a Christmas tree with every holiday effect and when the time came, the children marched around the tree and pinned their "white gifts" to the branches. Songs and choruses, sprinkled with verses by the children, made a diverting program. To each was distributed a stocking containing candy and popcorn. The gifts—they were made in abundance and with variety—presented a very attractive appearance once they had been attached to the illuminated tree. A social hour for the older people was one of the features of the Christmas celebration. The work of training the singers was in charge of Mrs. Mabel Cole and Principal O. K. Hollister has taken in hand the matter of forwarding the children's offerings to people who are serving gratuitously the work of shipping money and supplies to Belgium.

CHILDREN MADE GLAD.

Pine Celebration at North Barre Methodist Mission.

At the Methodist mission on Berlin street Thursday evening were held their Christmas exercises and tree. The auditorium of the church was prettily decorated in Christmas style with evergreen and other appropriate trimmings. In one corner of the room was the tree with its candles and other presents. About 200 children and many of their parents gathered to spend the evening and to hear the children bring the Christmas tidings in both verse and song. There are 108 members on the Sunday school roll and nearly every one had a part in the exercises.

After the program a number of the older ones of the Sunday school, assisted by the teachers, were very busy distributing the presents. Through the efforts of Miss Grace S. Bayne and Miss Teresa Layton, Jeannette and supervisors over the main Sunday school, and Miss Bertina Hooker, who has charge of the primary department, each one of the children was remembered with a present.

The following program was given and Miss Hooker played the accompaniments on the organ when the children sang: Welcome, Laura Rossi; reading, Josephine Fontani; choir, "Jesus Is King"; Christmas carol, Bertha Grosz; "Legend of the Christmas Tree," Mary Rice; "Singing Song," girls; "A Christmas If," Mary Ross; "Christmas Day," Augustus Rossi; "Aldo's Stocking," Aldo Fontani; "Hush A-Bye," primary children; "Guiding Stars," four girls; recitation, Fanni Latta; "Star Above the Town," Alga Bianchi; "Christmas Eve," Florence Merchant; "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," boys; "Christmas Hallelu," Alga Carusi; "Why Do the Bells Ring?" Lena Danzoni; "Christmas Lullaby," Alga Carusi and Josephine Fontani; "Magic Journey," Esterna Bianchi; "Christmas Soldier," Beata Riccardelli; song, Miss Mark's class; recitation, Gussie Rossi; "Christmas Joy," Christie Wall; "Mothers Always Do," Nina Baraldi; "Christmas, Merry Christmas," three boys; song, Miss Layton's class; recitations, Walter Elred, Sylvia Glavin, Charles West, Irene Mennel, and to close, four girls sang "Holy Night," and the choir as an anthem.

EACH CHILD REMEMBERED

At St. Monica's Christmas Tree Exercise.

The children of St. Monica's church held their annual Christmas tree in St. C. hall yesterday afternoon, when about 200 children participated. The distribution of gifts was presided by an entertainment, consisting of recitations and songs appropriate to the occasion. All of the favored pastor and his assistant entered the hall, the interesting program commenced. D. Sullivan acted as Santa Claus and both members of the Sunday school and the teachers took part in the program. The tree was beautifully decorated and every child received a box of candy and other gifts, the older ones books and the younger ones toys.

SANTA TELEPHONED AHEAD

That He Would Appear in Two Minutes—He Did Come.

The children of the Baptist mission on Brook street held their Christmas exercises Thursday afternoon. Their Christmas tree, which was loaded with presents, was placed in one corner of the room. A large number of children and many older folks gathered there to hear the messages delivered by the children. All enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon and in order to make others happy, they gathered together many gifts which were to go to the hospital to be distributed among the patients and also the nurses. "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," was the opening song, all taking part. Then a Christmas scripture was read by Miss Beatrice Beach. After a prayer by Rev. G. H. Holt the following program was rendered: Recitations, Harry Young and Joseph Hall; "Our Christmas Tree," seven girls; "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," all; "Gifts for Jesus," Annie Taylor; "A Christmas Charm," eight girls; "Our King Has Come," Francis Young; song by all, "Once in Royal David's City"; "A Surprise," Ellen Inglis.

During the recitation by Ellen Inglis a telephone call was answered that said Santa Claus would arrive in two minutes. During this two minutes the children waited expectantly for his appearance and when he did arrive they were filled with joy. He came with a pack on his back, which he delivered and also stripped the tree of its burden.

RECTOR GIVEN FINE GIFT.

Rev. W. J. M. Beattie Remembered by St. John Baptist Church.

The Christmas exercises in connection with St. John Baptist Episcopal church, Westerville, were held on Christmas eve in the vestry of the church. A splendid program was rendered by the children, as follows: Chorus by the choir; recitation by David Littlewood; dialogue by three girls; recitation, Thomas Bryant; recitation, Eunice Gwaka; song by seven little girls; recitation, Robert Littlewood; recitation, Beatrice Sutor; duet, Hazel and Gertrude Watson; recitation, Lucy Pratt; song, Elsie Rayeroff; recitation, George Pratt; recitation, George Mearns; recitation, Joseph Littlewood; reading, Annie Greenly; recitation, Gertrude Belville; chorus, choir.

After the program, D. Greenely, first superintendent of the Sunday school, was called upon for an address. Mr. Greenely, in his annual fluent manner, gave a very pleasant and helpful talk. At the close of his remarks, he invited the rector to the platform, when he presented to him, on behalf of the congregation, a purse of $85.50, as a token of their esteem and appreciation of his work among them. After the presentation, Alex. Bowerman, H. Coxon and W. J. Edwards, the superintendent of the school, distributed the gifts. Young and old were remembered and all went home happy.
