At the auction sale on the George Benjamin place in Berlin yesterday, live stock brought some of the fairest prices of the winter season. Twenty-seven cows averaged $45 apiece; hogs six weeks old sold for $4 and hogs who had attained half that span of months were knocked down for $3.65. Dan A. Ferry acted as auctioneer.

Miss Mariano De Masimi and Luigi Ciardelli, both of this city, were married at 52 Granite street this morning by Justice of the Peace James Mackay. Starting Monday evening, The Players will represent the sensational comedy-drama, "A Romance of the Underworld," in three acts. Thrilling climaxes, bright clean comedy and a pretty little story about the wail of the underworld go to make this play a 'go' from the start. The play is not an old piece rewritten, the situations are new and it bears the 1913 copyright, so you are assured that you are seeing something new, up-to-date and clean. There is not a spot fired throughout the action of the play.—Adv.

Mr. C. Palacro of Howard street has completed negotiations whereby his farm in Chelsea is transferred by deed to T. H. Norman of South Royalton, papers in the deal having been recorded today. The farm consists of 100 acres of land located a short distance from Chelsea village, together with farm buildings, tools, etc. Mr. Norman plans to move his family from Royalton to his new purchase in March. Mrs. Palacro has made her home in Barre for several months and will continue her residence here. The deal was consummated by W. W. Perkins, the Bethel agent for the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency.

Barre poultry men who exhibited their birds at the annual show of the Vermont State Poultry association in St. Albans, which closed yesterday, will be satisfied with the showing they made. According to the announcement made by the local paper, the following awards came to Barre breeders: Single Comb Buff Orpington, J. P. Covskie, 1st cock, 4th hen, 3d cock and 5th pullet; Tomado Games 1st hen, White Cornish Games 1st cock, Black Breasted Red Games 1st cockerel, Sherman N. Parker; Silver Campines 2nd pullet, William Oliver Jr.

At one or another while the shot, was in progress of the Vermont State Poultry show were present at the exhibit. Most of the Barre birds arrived in the city today with ribbons.

There is a Barre man—and he lives on Prospect street—who has ample reason for feeling apprehensive over the recent Zeppelin raid on English towns and cities. In scanning the papers very recently he was profoundly stirred by the information that the giant air craft had selected Yarmouth as one of the objects of their attack. Going further into details of the raid the newspaper accounts mentioned ancient St. Peter's church as one of the public buildings which felt the effects of the bomb throwing from above. It so happens that the Barre man's mother lives in Yarmouth and when last heard from her residence was within a comparatively short distance of St. Peter's church. She is the landlady of a hotel in Yarmouth and a letter from her is anxiously awaited this moment in a certain home on Prospect street.

Topics of the Home and Household.

Water marks on furniture will disappear if rubbed with a little camphorated oil.

To drive away mice scatter camphor in their usual haunts. This will drive them away completely.

If the feet are tender bathe them often in strong alum and borax acid. It should be applied when the flesh is dry and allowed to dry on the feet.

Apples out in irregular pieces will cook more quickly in a pie than if sliced, for they do not pack closely as slices do, and so the hot air comes more easily in contact with the fruit and cooking is facilitated.

A simple and efficacious way of cleaning silver is to make a solution of baking soda and salt, allowing a teaspoonful of each to a quart of water, says the Chicago Herald. Put this solution in an aluminum pan or kettle and when it boils drop the silver in for an instant. Have another pan of hot water handy for rinsing purposes. On taking the silver from the soda mixture, drop it in the rinsing water, remove, and wipe dry. No further polishing will be necessary and all tarnish and stains will have disappeared.

Prominent in the display of gloves seen in the stores are those of black and white—black gloves with white stitching, and white gloves with black stitching. There is an increasing demand for black gloves, which are to a great extent taking the place of colored gloves. In many cases there is a slight increase in the price of kid gloves, owing to the increased cost of production and delivery caused by the political situation in countries where the making of this line of merchandise is one of the large industries. As the advance is from 50 cents to $1.50 a dozen, it will not greatly affect the price to the woman who buys two or three pairs a season.

Cake Hints.

A good pinch of salt improves any cake. Half water, instead of all milk, makes a lighter cake.

If your cake rises in a mountain in the middle, the reason is your dough was too thick.

If it goes down in the middle, your dough was too rich—too much sugar.

The cause of large holes in cake is too much baking powder.

To sprinkle flour in greased pans prevents cake from sticking.

A pan of water in the bottom of the oven keeps the bottom of a cake from burning.

A paper over the top keeps the top from burning.

Noted Cook and Author Dead.

Miss Fannie Merritt Farmer, well known as an author of cook books and an instructor in cooking, died Jan. 15 at the Deaconess hospital, Brookline, Mass. In poor health for six or seven years, she became seriously ill with neuritis 10 days before her death and was taken to the hospital.

Miss Farmer was born in Boston on March 23, 1857, the daughter of John Franklin Farmer, an editor, and Mary Watson Farmer. After graduation from the Medford high school she entered the Boston cooking school as a pupil and had ever since devoted herself to promoting cookery.

In spite of the handicap of a stroke of paralysis at the age of 17, she gained high distinction in her chosen field. At the Boston cooking school she was assistant teacher from 1890 to 1893 and was then made principal, which position she held until 1902. Resigning in that year, she opened a school of her own and had since conducted it.

She was in addition the author of half a dozen books on cooking, published between 1898 and 1912, and was a frequent lecturer in Boston and New England.

SLIVER OF BONE IN ARM

Governor Walsh of Massachusetts Undergoes Operation.

Boston, Jan. 23.—Governor Walsh was yesterday obliged to call his physician, Dr. Scudder, to attend to his right arm, which was broken on Labor day last year and which has been troubling him for several days.

There is nothing alarming in the governor's case. The bone has knitted perfectly, but there is a surface wound which it is thought may have been caused by a tiny sliver of the broken bone remaining in the flesh and working out to the surface. A small section of the governor's arm is swollen, due to the presence of this foreign substance.

Yesterday the doctors opened it up and cleaned out the wound, which they expect will heal promptly.

The governor stated late yesterday afternoon that he felt no pain whatever and was making no changes in his plans. He would be on the job the same as ever, he said.

DISEASE GERM LINGERS.

In Spite of Winter Weather Poliomyelitis Develops Now and Then.

Burlington, Jan. 23.—A new case of poliomyelitis has been reported to the state board of health, Donald Teachout, the nine-year-old son of Mrs. Hugh Teachout of Essex Junction, having been stricken with the dreaded disease which, after a five days' course, has resulted in paralyzing one limb. This is an exceptional case, owing to the fact that poliomyelitis in this state is prevalent during the months of August and September and an almost unheard of disease at this time of the year.

The boy was slightly ill Sunday, but Monday morning went to school as usual, as it was not known that he was afflicted with infantile paralysis. The 24 children in the grade which he attends were therefore exposed.

Dr. E. S. Towne, who is to carry on the research work with Dr. H. L. Amos of the Rockefeller institute under the Vermont state board of health at the laboratory in the College of Medicine, went yesterday to Essex Junction and with Dr. J. A. Archambault and Dr. C. M. Ferrin examined each child of that grade. No trace of the disease was found, but 10 of the 24 children were found to have catarrh, enlarged tonsils, or adenoids.
