Waterman of upper Washington street. The Barre Woman's club had a most delightful picnic at the home of Mrs. F. A. Walker of Edgewood yesterday. Reports of the state federation meeting at St. Albans were given by Mrs. R. S. Currier and Mrs. F. J. Martin. Both reports were ably given and most interesting. The ladies feel that they were given a very clear idea of the addresses and the convention. While the rain prevented going to the grove, as had been planned, the ladies had a delightful time at the home of Mrs. Walker, and they feel very grateful to the committee and the ladies who gave the reports, for their assistance in providing such an enjoyable afternoon.

Charles Plouff of 188 North Main street has returned to Barre and resumed charge of his two grocery stores, after an eight weeks' absence, through the length of which he has been a patient at the Carney hospital in Boston, where he has been receiving treatment, following an operation, for an affection of the neck glands. Specialists who have been giving Mr. Plouff their attention assure him that he will ultimately recover his health, although he has been practically invalid for more than a year. Mr. Plouff was accompanied to Barre by his sister, Mrs. Garrett of Malden, Mass., who will make a visit of several days in the city.

Barre diamond performers whose destinies are linked with the semi-professional baseball team in St. Johnsbury this season are winning laurels for themselves, as is evidenced by a letter of commendation published this week in an exchange, which says: "Cobb is not the only man in the good old U. S. A. who has passed the 400 mark, our own Witt having mounted to this enviable mark." Witt, a 1915 Goddard graduate, is stinging the leather for 417. Not far behind him as Charley Hoernle, the Goddard coach and commercial teacher, who is hitting for 300. Jack Davidson, formerly of the Italian A. C., is down for a percentage of 300, being fourth in the list. Keeffe, who blossomed from the Marshfield slashes into the premier twirler, has a 250 mark and Tommie Davidson, the erstwhile Barre A. C. pitcher, is hitting at .233 clip.

Goose Green has tilted its lance at the victorious business men who won their spurs from the professionals Wednesday, and the "Blombers," who are practicing daily on the green, were gratified to learn this morning that their challenge has been accepted. Some late afternoon next week the outlaws from Goose Green and the business men will try to exterminate each other, in the language of the diamond, on the Berlin street grounds. E. M. Tobin, F. C. Eaton and T. G. Mercer are the three musty baseball musketeers who vow they will lead an aggregation of ball tossers against the business men that can come back most emphatically. Messrs. Eaton, Mercer and Tobin having broken from the ranks of organized ball, are whaling into shape a team of desperate has-beens and something is bound to happen. Members of the Barre Woman's club will be on the grounds with pop beer, cracker jack and popcorn for sale. A further announcement of the plans will be made later.

Miss Florence Friar, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Laws for a few weeks, returned this morning to her home in Boston. Rev. George H. Holt, who was called to Barre to officiate at the funeral of a parishioner Wednesday, motored yesterday to Greensboro, where his family is in camp at Lake Caspian. A meeting of the committee recently formed to act in co-operation locally with the British imperial relief fund, will be held in Clam Gordon hall this evening at 7 o'clock. The Times is requested to say that the attendance of every committee member is desired, as there are important matters to be considered. Efforts of the committee to obtain local support for the fund are meeting with unexpected success.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Eunice M. Story of East Fairfield, for several years a teacher in grade seven at the Mathewson school, to Harvey Dow Nichols of Orange, Cal. Both the bride-to-be and Mr. Nichols are graduates of Brigham academy in Bakerfield. Miss Story severed her connection with the city schools at the close of the spring term last June. Her marriage to Mr. Nichols is to take place in East Fairfield next month.

This afternoon at the Barre Golf club's course, the Greensboro team and Barre are engaged in the first of their season's series of matches. The Greensboro players having arrived in the city this forenoon by automobile. To-morrow, when the Greensboro club is meeting the Montpelier Country club at Montpelier, the Barre Golf club will be playing the Old Pine club at St. Johnsbury. Next week Barre, Greensboro and Montpelier will engage in a three-cornered elimination contest for possession of the cup that went to Barre last year on the first leg.

A. J. Guthrie's Statement, Barre, Vt., July 20, 1915. To whom it may concern: Whereas, I am informed that I made the remark, "To hell with the union," I wish to deny that I made the statement or ever used or circulated the same. I wish to inform the public that I learned that my competitor, Mercer, made the statement that I made the above remark. I saw him; he admitted I did not say it to him; that he never heard me say it, but that one F. D. Ladd was the one that told him that I made the statement. I immediately saw Mr. F. D. Ladd, and he denied that he told Mercer, or had any talk with him about such a statement, or that he knew anything of or concerning the same. I think this statement ought to satisfy everybody that I am innocent of making or circulating the above statement, and I say once and for all that I never made the statement or caused the same to be circulated, so if there is any settlement to be made, it is up to Ladd and Mercer to settle, and I stand ready now and at all times to confront Ladd and Mercer if they deny any of my statements. (Signed) A. J. Guthrie.

A venerable Barre woman who is a close student of the seasons and whose chronological record of weather happenings, covering more summers than the average young woman 40 years her junior would care to acknowledge, makes some interesting comment, apropos the appearance in the heavens last evening of a most brilliant rainbow and on the number of rainbows this season. She has recorded no fewer than 17 since last spring and does not claim that this figure, while eclipsing any set of entries she has ever made before, includes them all. Speaking of the display which occurred during the shower last evening she recalls having seen but seldom a rainbow in which the several colors of the spectrum were so clearly stamped against the sky. The secondary arc, visible for several minutes she says, was even more spectacular than most rainbows.
