

LINOLEUMS

Do you know what inlaid linoleum is? It is a sort of linoleum mosaic in which the colors, forming the patterns, go right through to the back. The patterns are not printed on the surface, but are inlaid. They can't wear off.

Wild's Parquet Inlaid Linoleum is the highest type of the best quality of inlaid linoleum. It looks just like hard wood floors, costs less, and is easily kept fresh and clean with soap and water. There is nothing nicer or more economical for homes, offices, showrooms, stores, etc. It is noiseless, sanitary, remarkably long wearing, and never needs refinishing or "doing over" like wood floors.

After having laid off his hands for a few days, the town clock in the Universalist church tower began to do business again yesterday.

Dr. O. E. Barr of Cottage street has returned from a business trip through Massachusetts, in the course of which he applied the tuberculin test to several large herds of cattle.

George N. Tilden of South Main street returned this morning from Burlington, where he attended a meeting of the Vermont Retail Shoe Dealers' association, which was held last night. Mr. Tilden was elected a member of the executive committee of the association, which was organized at a gathering of shoe retailers held last spring.

Evidently the case of state vs. Mr. and Mrs. V. Oriandi, whose apartments on Addison place were raided by the police in the noon hour yesterday, is to figure in the innumerable delays that have marked the procedure in municipal court of late. Yesterday afternoon each respondent was admitted to bail in the sum of $500 and a hearing was set for this morning. To-day, however, the cases were set ahead, as it was stated that the attorney for the respondents had business elsewhere.

James Parker, who believes he holds the record for pulling big fish out of Berlin pond this season, celebrated his last trip of the summer to that interesting lake by giving a fish dinner at his home on Merchant street last evening. The pedestal piece was a succulent baked bass which he had brought back from Berlin Saturday night. When dressed for inspection, the fish weighed in at five pounds and two ounces. Natives who have lived along the quiet shores of Berlin pond for many years say they never saw a larger bass in that section.

Visitors in the city yesterday and to-day included the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Peters and Miss Janet Peters of Portland, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Berliner and children of Forest Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Faught of Somersworth, N. H.; and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nye and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lewis of Manchester, N.
