Taken Prisoners by French in an Assault on Hartmanns-Weilerkopf

GERMAN POSITIONS WERE CAPTURED

German Army Headquarters Reports They Were Partially Retaken

Paris, Dec. 22.—Announcement was made by the war office today that 1200 Germans have been captured in operations at Hartmanns-Weilerkopf which have enlarged the French positions to an appreciable extent.

Berlin, via London, Dec. 22.—A part of the German position on the summit of Hartmanns-Weilerkopf in the Vosges, that was captured by the French yesterday, has been re-captured by German troops, it was officially announced by the German army headquarters today.

CONCENTRATE MORE TROOPS

British Report to Have Sent Mediterranean Garrisons to Saloniki

Berlin, via Saville wireless, Dec. 22.—The Cologne Gazette reports that the British troops which have been stationed in the islands in the east Mediterranean have been withdrawn to be sent to Saloniki. The German press publishes a dispatch from Athens stating that nearly all the British troops have left Imbros, Lemnos and Tenedos islands to be sent to Saloniki. The troops on Imbros island are most discontented. Some of the troops mutinied and five or six officers of the general staff were reported to have been killed. Finally the troops were removed after they had promised numerous reinforcements would be sent.

Berlin, via Saville wireless, Dec. 22.—Advices from Constantinople reiterate the assertion that the British forces quit the Dardanelles in great disorder. According to Constantinople reports, says the Overseas agency, the British left their sick and wounded behind. Their retreat, which they pretend was carried out systematically, in reality was a head over heel flight.

SEIZED GERMAN POSITION.

French Claim a Small Victory in the Vosges.

Paris, Dec. 22.—The following official communication was issued by the war office last night:

"The bad weather has hampered the operations on the major part of the front.

"In Belgium and between Soissons and Rheims our artillery bombarded communication passage ways and dispersed retreating convoys of the enemy.

"In Champagne German works at the Butte du Mesnil were bombed. A destructive fire on an enemy salient on the Rionpt High, north of Pont-a-Mousson gave good results.

"In the Vosges at Hartmanns-Weilerkopf, a strong attack by our troops delivered after an artillery preparation permitted us to occupy an important part of the enemy's works and to make prisoners.

"The Belgian official communication reads: 'An artillery action on both sides of a somewhat violent character occurred on the Yser front. Our batteries bombarded all the German works north of Dixmude and the advance post at Dennoen. A blockhouse erected on the dyke of the Yser was completely destroyed by our projectiles. The enemy cantonments at Essen and at Clerken were vigorously cannonaded.'

VARNA REPORTED CAPTURED

And Russian Troops Said to Have Been Landed.

London, Dec. 22.—The Daily Chronicle reports the capture of Varna, Bulgaria's chief Black sea port, by the Russians. It says the bombardment of the Russians silenced the Bulgarian guns and laid the town in ruins, the garrison suffering heavily.

The Russians then, according to the report, landed infantry and artillery without loss and in sufficient force to hold the town against Bulgarian attack.

LIEGE CONQUERED DEAD.

General Von Emmich Died at Hanover, Germany, Says Wireless.

AUSTRALIANS DETERMINED.

Withdrawal of British Troops from Gallipoli Does Not Discourage.

Melbourne, Australia (via London), Dec. 22.—George Foster Pearce, the Australian minister of state for defense, in a speech said the withdrawal of the British troops from the Gallipoli peninsula, many of whom were Australians, would not affect the determination of the Australians to see the campaign through and effect a new effort to take it.

MRS. ASQUITH SILENCES NEWS-PAPER ATTACKS

Wife of the Prime Minister Wins Injunction Against the London "Globe."

London, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Herbert Asquith, wife of the prime minister, won her suit yesterday to prevent the Globe from continuing to make alleged libelous attacks upon her.

Justice Peterson granted a restraining injunction. Mrs. Asquith brought the action against the Globe several days ago, alleging that she was the "wife of a certain cabinet minister" whom the Globe had accused of associating with German prisoner officers and had called a traitor.

The chancery court was thronged with distinguished persons, mostly women, when the case was called. Mrs. Asquith sat well to the front, dressed in black with white collar and black hat trimmed with white aigrettes.

Attorney Duke for Mrs. Asquith vigorously denied that she had ever visited Donnington hall, where the German officers are interned, or had communicated with any prisoners there. He said the Globe was only seeking delay when it suggested that Mrs. Asquith was not the "cabinet minister's wife" referred to in the articles.

NORWEGIANS OBJECT TO MME. SCHWIMMER

Will Have Nothing to Do with Ford Peace Party as Long as Austrian Woman is a Member and They Ask for Her Expulsion.

London, Dec. 22.—The Norwegian peace party declines to have anything to do with the Ford peace expedition, according to dispatches to the London morning papers, as long as Mme. Rosika Schwimmer is connected with the movement.

Some of the dispatches state that a demand has been made for her expulsion, declaring that it is impossible to give the movement a neutral appearance while a Hungarian woman is an active member directing operations. The Christiania correspondent of the Times says that the main impression on the Norwegian public is that Ford is an idealist dreamer, a sort of Tolstoy, whose honesty and usefulness are beyond a question, while some of his followers certainly fail to give that attractive impression.

A dispatch to the Mail from Christiania states that the managers of the mission announced yesterday that the Ford party would start for Stockholm on Thursday. It also became known, according to the dispatch, that Mme. Schwimmer had sent out invitations to a hundred prominent business men, bankers and others of Christiania to attend the meeting and other functions at the Grand hotel.

"This attempt to stir up a semblance of interest in the mission met with no success," the dispatch declares, "the only thing the people want to see the man who is willing to spend $200,000,000 to end the war, but Ford remains in hiding. Another reception was given yesterday, but neither Ford nor Mme. Schwimmer attended. Fifteen members of Ford's traveling office staff are to be sent back to the United States today.

"The latest scheme to end the war is said to be that Mr. Ford is to approach armament makers in the belligerent countries and by offering them orders will seek to induce the to cease turning out equipment for armies."

FAVORS MORE WEATHER.

Service in Caribbean is Department's Recommendation.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Department of agriculture plans for extending the weather observation service throughout the Caribbean region, for investigation into the utilization of domestic products in dye manufactures and fibre plants for binder twine purposes are outlined in data just submitted to Congress by Secretary Houston. The information was given in connection with estimates for appropriations in the next fiscal year for the agricultural service, amounting to $20,000,000, being $2,000,000 less than the current year appropriation. An appropriation of $20,000 is asked for extending the Caribbean weather observation with a view to a system of communication of "considerable value in connection with the military and naval operations in the canal zone." Instead of observations once a day during a seven months period at an inadequate number of stations, a continuous all year around service would be established at additional stations in South and Central America and along the southern gulf coast. A $22,000 structure on the canal zone to serve as the official headquarters for the weather service in that section also is planned.

DEFENDS WITHDRAWAL.

New Zealand Premier Says It Is Better to Face Measles.

Wellington, New Zealand, Dec. 22.—It is better to face the position and head and hand with it than to proceed with an enterprise commonly believed to have been the result of an error of judgment, was the comment made by William Ferguson, premier of New Zealand, relative to the British withdrawal from Gallipoli.

He called on the country to forget personal and political animosities and present a united front to the enemy.

AN ALL-NIGHT DEBATE WINS 1,000,000 MEN

The House of Commons Adjourned at 5:30 This Morning After Agreeing to the Government Proposal for Raising an Extra Quota for the British Army

MEMBERS SNORED AS TALK WENT ON

The Debate Was Carried on Mostly by Opponents of Conscription and by Members Who Criticized Government's Conduct of War

London, Dec. 22.—The debate in the House of Commons on the supplementary estimate of the government providing for raising 1,000,000 extra men for the army continued until 5:30 this morning, at which hour a vote for the additional men was agreed to and the House adjourned.

The debate was carried on mostly by the opponents of conscription and those members who have been conspicuous for criticizing the government on the conduct of the war.

Out of the small number of members present to preserve a quorum, many were asleep before 4 o'clock, the speeches being punctuated by loud snoring. Sir Arthur Markham complained humorously of these interruptions.

Sir Henry Dalglish, in the course of his speech, declared it had been demonstrated throughout the debate that there was an unnecessary wastage of lives by the blunders made at headquarters.

The increase brings the British army strength on paper up to 4,000,000. With the increase come changes in the higher command. Lieutenant General Robertson, chief of the general staff in London, has been recalled from France to become chief of the imperial staff in London in place of Lieutenant General Murray who is about to receive an important command.

Although the question of conscription figured largely in the debate last night, it was only an incident of the discussion. The country awaits with keen interest the debate which is certain to follow the presentation to the House of Commons of Derby's figures on the attestation plan.

London, Dec. 22.—Moving in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon a new vote for an additional million men, Premier Asquith made a general survey of the ever-widening theater of war and the increasing responsibility placed on this country for providing arms and men.

Great Britain, he said, already has a fighting force in the various theatres of 1,250,000 men and as the wastage is enormous the country must aim at getting every man of military age who is physically qualified.

A large proportion of the wounded, the premier said, were able to return to duty, but in addition to keeping up the present armies to their nominal strength men were wanted for new formations and to increase the aggregate of Great Britain's fighting forces. Every available man should be put in the field, so far as was consistent with provision for national necessities, including munitions and the vast field of employment upon the continued working of which the national life depended.

So far as the war as a whole went, Mr. Asquith said, it might be that at this or that moment what could be called the superficial facts of the campaign seemed to be against the allies.

"But the fundamental facts, the facts that in the long run matter, are steadily and growingly on our side," he continued. "There has been in this war an abundance of errors in calculations, but they have not been confined to our side.

"So far as we in this country are concerned—and I know all our allies are the same—we will have never wavered for a moment, while our fighting resources, both in men and in material, become every month more ample in quantity and better mobilized and organized for the purposes of the campaign."

Referring to the measures recently taken to bring about closer cooperation among the allies, Mr. Asquith said it was hoped by all the nations concerned that this procedure would lead to greater concentration of purpose, coordination of plans, economy of energy and effectiveness of action. He added that it was satisfactory, though not surprising, to know there was not one of the allies "who is not as determined as ourselves to win the war, and to have whatever it costs to do with separate peace, but to persist at all costs until our purpose and common purpose is achieved."

SARAH BERNHARDT DYING.

London, Dec. 22.—Sarah Bernhardt is reported to be dying, according to a dispatch from Paris to the Telegraph.

Miss Bernhardt has never fully recovered from the shock following the amputation of a leg last February. Her condition was noticeably followed by others that her health was falling. On Dec. 3 she became seriously ill, the physician assuming that she was suffering from congestion of the lungs. Miss Bernhardt is now 71 years old.

BRATTLEBORO REVIVAL ENDS.

Messrs. Chapman and Alexander Get $1,200 Free Will Offering.

Brattleboro, Dec. 22.—The closing service last night of a series of evangelistic meetings by Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander, which began Nov. 25, was attended by 2,000 persons. The greater part of the time was taken up by expressions of gratitude and good will on the part of Dr. Chapman for the spirit manifested by the people and all who had to do with the meetings and on the part of ministers and people for the benefit derived from the services. The choir gave Mr. Alexander, the musical director, a purse of gold and the free will offering for the evangelists amounted to $1,200.

Driving Club Postponed Meeting Because of Small Attendance.

Lack of a sufficient number of members caused the meeting of the Capital City Driving Club held last evening in the board of trade room at the city hall to be adjourned until some evening next week, the exact date not being decided upon. President D. K. Lillie and A. M. Daley, secretary-treasurer and less than a half dozen horse owners and enthusiasts were the only ones interested enough in promoting ice races on the river this winter, to attend the meeting, and for a half hour, prospects for the coming season and "brush horses" were the topics discussed informally. A Lyndonville man who has a reputation for racing speed horses, was the guest of President Lillie at the meeting, and the exact date was last evening. D. K. Lillie, the fast pacer with a mark well under 2:05, had been purchased by Dr. Brown of Lyndonville and would be seen in the races in that section this winter. It is possible that Ruth D. may appear on the local course, it having been suggested that Baron A. one of the string owned by Mayor James D. Boutwell, or Gott Eit, the Lillie horse, which established a new record on the ice last year with a third of a mile in 39 seconds, would furnish the former Boston mare a contest. The matter was last evening seemed to be of the opinion that a fitting way to close the season along in March would be to have a banquet held by the club, the admission ticket to include a year's membership to the organization. In this way the club would raise a goodly sum of money with which to start the next year's season. Treasurer Daley reported before adjournment that there is at present a balance of $125 on hand.

The regular meeting of the city council will be held this evening and little aside from the routine matters which have accumulated during the fortnight is listed for consideration.

The remains of Mrs. Isabelle F. Donnan, a former resident of Montpelier, whose death occurred Saturday at Bethel, were brought to this city over the Central Vermont road at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the body being accompanied by a number of relatives, and Rev. J. W. Miller of Bethel, who officiated at the burial service. Interment was made in Green Mount cemetery.

Mrs. E. A. Sweeney, who has for the past two or three years, resided in Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in the city last evening for an indefinite visit with relatives. Mrs. Sweeney sold her interest in a motion picture business after the death of her husband, but she expects to return to California, where her children are located.

In the supreme court room at the state house this evening at 8 o'clock, will occur the election of field officers of the 1st Vermont regiment, Vermont National Guard. Interest centers chiefly in the election of an officer to succeed Col. H. T. Johnson of Brattleboro as the head of the regiment.

Mrs. Henry Holcomb of Main street left last evening for Sherburne, La., to pass the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Dora E. Marston. She was accompanied as far as New York by her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur, of School street.

Miss Sarah Stahl of Boston is visiting her brother and friends in the city during the holidays.

In probable case today, John L. Mansley of Northfield settled his accounts as a member of the estate of Frederick C. Dyke, late of Northfield.

The burial of Mrs. Joseph Wilbur of Northfield, who died at Boston hospital in this city Monday, was held at 5 o'clock yesterday here today following a funeral held in Northfield. Mrs. Wilbur was brought to the hospital a month ago for treatment. She never regained consciousness, but died peacefully.

An individual family falling from Rockwood was the subject of a conference at city hall this forenoon between Overseer W. J. Clapp of the poor department and E. H. Edgerton, a Rockwood attorney, with City Attorney William Whelan concerning the city's legal interests.

The faculty recently suffered the temporary loss of the sole means of subsistence and the lawyer from Rockwood asked the members of the faculty to contribute to that end. Their reply to the request left to the members.

INCASED BODY IN BRANSACK

Before Committing Suicide by Hanging from a Beam in Barn

ROYALTON FARMER HAD NOT BEEN WELL

Henry W. Dutton Had Been a Prominent Citizen in His Town

Bethel, Dec. 22.—Henry W. Dutton, aged 68 years, a prosperous Royalton farmer, who lived four miles from this village, on the well-known "Middle branch" automobile route, committed suicide yesterday by hanging.

His son-in-law, Chester B. Dodge, who lives nearby, found his lifeless body in the large barn at about 1 o'clock. Dr. O. D. Greene responded to a hurry call, but found that life had been extinct for two hours or more. His wife, having missed Mr. Dutton at dinner time, had several times been near his body, but did not see it, as he had covered his head and half his body with a bran sack after adjusting the noose, before leaping from a beam near the top of the barn.

He was a very prominent citizen and had held various town offices. Of late he had worried somewhat on his growing inability personally to conduct his large farming business and lately had written his elder daughter, Mrs. Frank G. Hyde, of Jericho, proposing that she and her husband come and take charge of the farm.

He had suffered from symptoms of insanity at intervals, and at one time was at the Brattleboro retreat for a while. Besides his wife and the two daughters, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles H. Kidder of this village. He and his wife were here on business Monday afternoon.

DENIES PRESENCE OF SPIES.

Prominent German in Burlington Says There are None in That City.

Burlington, Dec. 22.—The statement of Frederick Metzler, one of the Germans under arrest in New York for alleged conspiracy to blow up the Welland canal, that Paul Koenig, also under arrest as a Welland canal conspirator, had agents in Burlington, elicited a denial yesterday from Herr Anton H. Appelmann, professor of German language and literature at the University of Vermont.

Prof. Appelmann said that statements that German agents were at work here were not true, and that such statements were unjust to the Germans in the city. He said that he knew every German in Burlington, that several of them were of military age, and that none of them would think of engaging in the operations of spies. Such activities, he said, would in fact be detrimental to their cause.

He offered two solutions of the Metzler charge. Either he intended to extend his activities to Burlington, or in looking over maps he saw Burlington as a contracting link between Montreal and Boston, and seized upon the name.

NO-LICENSE GAINS.

Registered in Three Municipal Elections in Massachusetts.

Boston, Dec. 22.—Four Massachusetts cities, Cambridge, Leominster, Salem and North Adams, held their municipal elections yesterday. Leominster, voting for the first time as a city, found the new election machinery so unfamiliar that the counting of the ballots had not been completed at a late hour.

In the other three cities there was no change in the attitude toward the sale of liquor, North Adams remaining in the license column by a reduced majority and Cambridge and Salem increasing their majorities against license over last year's figures.

Salem under a similar new charter, elected Henry B. Benson as mayor, John W. Gale (D), defeated Mayor Wallace E. Brown (R), who sought re-election in North Adams, but the Republicans secured seven of the eight councilmen.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Presbyterian choir will meet for rehearsal to-night at 7:30 o'clock and it is important that every member be present.

Cards received here from Sherman N. Parker, the Depot square harness maker, who has been passing five weeks in California, indicate that he will return home late in the week. After visiting his brother in San Francisco, Mr. Parker called on many Vermonters on the coast and started for home last week.

Midnight mass is to be celebrated at St. Monica's church Christmas eve with the usual service. The first bell is to ring at 11 o'clock, the second at 11:20 o'clock and the bell announcing the beginning of services will be rung at midnight. The pastor, Rev. F. M. McCosken, will officiate at the mass and an unemployed choir will furnish music. Christmas day masses are to be celebrated by Father McCosken at 9 o'clock and again at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

An indigent family falling from Rockwood was the subject of a conference at city hall this forenoon between Overseer W. J. Clapp of the poor department and E. H. Edgerton, a Rockwood attorney, with City Attorney William Whelan concerning the city's legal interests.

The faculty recently suffered the temporary loss of the sole means of subsistence and the lawyer from Rockwood asked the members of the faculty to contribute to that end. Their reply to the request left to the members.

TREE WILL GLISTEN.

Incandescent Bulbs Are Being Placed in the Fir in the Park.

"It looks as if it were growing out of the ground" one man was heard to remark yesterday. "It will seem rather to be taken away," rejoined his companion. "It's a beauty." "I didn't know that the woods grew them like it," and similar statements were heard from many others who have seen the community Christmas tree and cannot help but express the satisfaction they feel with it. All of which speaks well for the keen eyes that selected it from its fellows of the woods and for the manner in which it has been erected. Different members of the committee in charge have been very profusely complimented on what they have already done. Much enthusiasm is evinced on all sides and everyone is anxiously waiting to see the big fir all aglow with electricity.

The wiring is not yet completed; electricians are still busy to-day. By to-night all their work will have been finished. With no unnecessary delay the button will be turned and that will cause the current to rush to the wires in every branch and make them glisten with incandescent life. And to the very tip-top of the tree will the current flow, for there will be the beauty spot of the whole, a glistening star, which will scintillate as few stars do.

The lights will stay on until a late hour to-night. To-morrow night come the tree exercises. It seems to be an idea in accord with the pleasure of the majority of the committee members that on Thursday it would be better to delay a little while the lighting of the tree for the evening. But not for long, as the programme is to commence at 6:45. By that time it is expected that a large crowd will have assembled and the object of keeping the tree in darkness until then would be to give the people the opportunity to see the lights come on.

Recalling that you are going to be among the singers, there was a time, remember, when you knew the whole of every one of the carols that are going to be sung, or probably the whole of just one; or perhaps not one completely, but parts of them all. It may be that they are still fresh in your memory. Following are given the opening lines of each of the carols to be used. Do you remember the other lines?

1. Hark, the herald angels sing, Glory to the new-born King.
2. It came upon the midnight clear, That glorious song of old, That glorious song of old,
3. Silent night, holy night, All is calm, all is bright, All is calm, all is bright,
4. How still we see thee lie; Oh, come all ye faithful, Joyful and triumphant,

"America will be the closing number. The songs in full will be given on the programs that are to be distributed.
