The cheering had increased in momentum when the young troops reached the station and as the train pulled out the enthusiasm attained a high pitch.

KILLED IN COLLISION

John P. Quinlan in Wagon Hurdled Against Automobile.

Burlington, June 19.—John P. Quinlan of Shelburne Falls died early this morning at the Mary Fletcher hospital following fatal injuries received Saturday evening when a mare attached to the buggy in which he was riding to his home became frightened and plunged into the path of a passing automobile driven by Graham Wilson of this city. Henry Lessor of East Charlotte, who owned and was driving the horse, escaped with minor injuries.

The accident occurred at about 10 o'clock on the Shelburne road, and was caused by the mad driving of a heavy touring car which passed the buggy just before it reached the Wilson car. No blame is attached to Wilson. Mr. Quinlan, who was 44 years of age, had lived in Shelburne Falls about 30 years. He is survived by his wife; one son, Edward Quinlan of Middlesex, and two daughters, Alice and Grace, who live at home.

Gives Out First Official Word After Conference with Col. Roosevelt.

New York, June 19.—George W. Perkins, who has been a sort of minister plenipotentiary for Col. Roosevelt in the recent conference with Gov. Whitman, representing the Republican presidential nominee, Charles E. Hughes, confirmed Saturday night the belief that peace between the Progressives—at least that part of the organization which the colonel can control—and the Republican party will be arranged in the immediate future. Mr. Perkins' brief statement was the first official word that emanated from his negotiations with Gov. Whitman.

"You may say this," Mr. Perkins told a reporter: "The general efforts that have been made for some time past looking toward a getting together of both parties for the common cause are progressing satisfactorily."

ROCK—JEROME.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Harriet Jerome, and the best man was William Skerritt of Barre.

TRIES TO GIVE AWAY $8,472

Real Estate Man in Plainfield, N. J., Offers Big Bills to Passersby—Newsboy Accepts $100 Under Protest.

New York, June 19.—Clark S. Perrine, a real estate dealer of Westfield, N. J., remarked Saturday that Plainfield was an exceedingly strange town after he had paraded its streets for more than an hour and a half vainly trying to give away $8,472.05 in cash and succeeded only in estranging himself from a little more than $300.

A policeman saw the realty man walking the prominent thoroughfares. Bills—some as healthy as $1,000—stuck out of every pocket.

His hands were full and he offered money to anyone who cared to take it. A newsboy availed himself of $100 just as the policeman arrived. Theurchin then began to practice for a Marathon. Others were taking smaller souvenirs. Perrine was taken in custody for safe keeping, and when the glamour of his experience had worn off he offered up a sort of prayer of thanks that Plainfield was so slow. When searched at the police station 163 crumpled bills were found in his pockets. There were also some gold and silver pieces.

FOUND IN WAITSFIELD.

William Peck, Elderly Man, Who Disappeared from Montpelier.

Warner Hill went this morning to Waitsfield, where he expects to find his grandfather, William Peck, for whom he and other relatives have been searching since last Friday. Saturday and Sunday's hunt through Berlin, Northfield and vicinity, failed to bring any trace of the aged man, but early this morning, a communication was received from Waitsfield, containing the information that Mr. Peck was with a family in that town.
