

July Clearance

Our July Clearance Sale Offers Unusual Economies on Desirable, Seasonable Merchandise

This stock-reducing event is being held for the sole purpose of reducing stocks effectively. Every section of the store offers values that demand the immediate attention of every person anxious to secure the utmost value for money expended. A visit to the store will convince of this at once.

Clearance of Women's Suits at Sensational Reductions

You can still find desirable garments at the extremely low prices now in force, and remember these are the very self-same garments we've been selling at regular prices only a short time back. Cost has been disregarded. These quotations give the best evidence of that.

$12.50, $15.00 AND UP TO $18.00 SUITS ..... $9.95
$20.00, $22.50, $25.00 AND UP TO $30.00 SUITS ..... $13.95

Please bear in mind that these garments are fashioned in the best of styles. The materials are such that they will give you service for months to come. These are the most sensational values offered this season.

Unusual Values

Our Garment Section offers many other unusual values in Raincoats, House Dresses, Silk Petticoats, Children's Dresses, Children's Coats, Ladies' Dresses, Ladies' Coats, Odd Corsets, Parasols, White Wash Skirts, etc.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Come to the clearance sale Saturday at Vaughan's.

Our July clearance sale begins Saturday at Vaughan's.

Excursion to Plattsburg, July 16. See adv. on page 7—adv.

Lemon sherbet at Cummings & Lewis'. We use real fresh lemons.

Mrs. John Jarvis went to Northfield this morning for a week-end visit with friends.

Among the business visitors in the city yesterday from Plainfield was Herman Cutler.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Keast of Prospect avenue are passing a few days with friends in Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Booth of Hill street are passing the week-end with friends in Burlington.

T. S. Riley left the city to-day for Hartford, Conn., where he is to pass a vacation of 10 days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Morris and two children of Averill street are passing a few days at their camp near Woodbury pond.

Special attractions for Friday and Saturday. Fine line of corsets and big invoice of $1 and $1.25 waists just in. Mrs. W. F. Shepard.

Arthur Partridge of Orange was in the city yesterday visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Partridge, on Summer street.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Morse of Randolph were visitors in the city yesterday. They were accompanied here by Mrs. N. N. Morse and her mother, Mrs. Fannie Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Evander Melton motored to Barre yesterday from Linwick, P. Q., and will visit friends and relatives for several days.

Mrs. J. R. Reardon and son, Gordon, of Charles street left the city this morning for Claremont, N. H., where they are making a visit of several days with relatives.

John Muiry returned to the city last evening, after passing a vacation at Sugar Hill, N. H. Mr. Muiry will resume his duties in the Daylight store Monday morning.

George A. Close of Cambridge, Mass., arrived in Barre this morning to pass the week-end with Mrs. Close and children at the Morrison farm cottage on West Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Clark of upper Washington street, who have been passing two weeks with relatives in New York City and Albany, N. Y., returned to the city to-day.

Francis Grady of Merchant street, who was employed until recently as a clerk in the Marston tobacco store, left the city to-day for Hartford, Conn., where he has secured a position.

Mrs. M. B. Nichols of Richardson street left this morning for Lake Morey, where she will join Mrs. Agnes Williams of Averill street, who went to the lake earlier in the week.

Mrs. Malcolm McKinnon of Graniteville was a visitor in the city yesterday, leaving in the late afternoon for Montreal, P. Q., where she is to make an extended visit with relatives.

Charles W. Vancor of the Merchant street extension returned to-day from Burlington, where, with his brother, H. M. Vancor of Montpelier, he attended a reunion of the latter's regiment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed and daughter, Mrs. Abbie Corlies and daughter, Blanch, leave this afternoon for Woodbury pond, where they will open camp, remaining there through the remainder of this month.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lagore, who is bookkeeper at the D. A. Perry Real Estate office, and her sister, Miss Annie McGue, who is employed by the Perry Automobile company, will leave to-morrow for Woodbury pond, where they will spend the remainder of this month in camp.

Conditions in the firmament were favorable for observers of the moon's eclipse last night and not often during the period when the moon was in the shadow of its non-luminous neighbor did clouds obscure the phenomena. As early as 10:30 a shadow began to envelop the moon and by midnight the moon was nearly obscured.

Miss Flora McDonald, who went to Sugar Hill, N. H., early in the summer to be employed at the Sunset house, was brought to her home on Bassett street last evening and then transferred to Boston hospital in Montpelier, where she will be treated for appendicitis. Miss McDonald has been in indifferent health for several days.

Jeff Melanson arrived in the city this morning from Belmont, Mass., where he has been visiting his people since the St. Anselm's college year ended. Mr. Melanson will join the L. A. C. team in the Vermont state league. It will be remembered by the fans that Melanson held Boston college hitless in their game last spring.

On the North Main street approach to Barre employees of the street department have set themselves to a commendable task in renewing stretches of highway that have been punctured with potholes for two seasons and more. From Jones Bros' plant, north and south, quantities of crushed stone are being dumped into the roadway and then rolled. The stone-crusher at Jones Bros' is in almost constant operation during the work day.

W. Harry Corson of Philadelphia, advertising manager of the Thomas H. Dalzell Co., and J. J. Walsh of Manchester, N. H., the company's New England manager, are staying at Hotel Barre while passing several days in the Barre granite belt. This is Mr. Corson's first visit to Barre and he finds that Barre is not in any sense over-estimated when it is advertised as the greatest granite center in the world.

One of the busiest sections in the Barre granite belt to-day is the Granite street plant of Burr & Gordon, where many stoneworkers are engaged in cutting the granite for the new supreme court building at the capital. Already thousands of feet of finished building granite have been piled up in the yards and although shipments to the scene of the job are made daily, the problem of finding room enough for the output at the shed is always present. Just now the firm is shipping a carload of building blocks each day, albeit progress on the foundation of the structure at Montpelier does not warrant the use of a carload of finished stone. About 75 pieces are loaded on each flat car. Occasionally a piece is shipped in transit and the firm has a cutter on the grounds at the capital to repair the damage. Two months will probably elapse before the cutting contract is completed.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Station Agent Lester O. Morgan is taking a two weeks' vacation and C. C. Clark, telegraph operator at Randolph, is to have charge of the station during his absence.

Mrs. A. H. Jewett has lately had a call from her cousin, Dr. Archie Perkins, of Fitchburg, Mass.

Mrs. Catherine Jones and her nephew Carl Sawyer, have returned home from a short visit to Mrs. Jones' sister, Mrs. May Johnson, of North Montpelier.

Mrs. Dean, wife of Dr. Elmer E. Dean of Lebanon, N. H., returned to her home the 13th, after a brief visit with friends in town.

The Mohawk A. C. went to Webster-ville on Thursday afternoon to play ball, but were prevented by the rain, only three innings being played.

A delegation of six of the solid men of the town were present at the banquet of the Greater Vermont association in Montpelier lately. They were Charles M. Seaver, Jason E. Martin, Alden H. Jewett, Haden M. Jeffords, Eldon H. Martin and Warren V. Greason.

The storm of Thursday last was especially violent at Walter Matson's who lives on the place formerly owned by Norman Davis. Trees were uprooted, a shed blown down and the ladies of the house were minded to take refuge in the cellar from the fury of the wind which seems to have been in the nature of a cyclone.

Supt. Charles R. Beeman has been in Burlington for several days past, attending the annual meeting of the union superintendents of the state.

Two auto filled with people from Beverly, Mass., friends of Alden H. Jewett, called on him on the 14th while on their way to Mt. Mansfield for a few days' outing.
