

When We Talk Whittall Rugs

We want you to know what we are talking about. We always feel that we can talk pretty big when we get on this subject, because we know, no matter how much we say, we cannot exaggerate their good qualities.

1. The Whittall line of Rugs and Carpets is the finest made in America.
2. Every rug and yard of carpet is made on honor and every rug and yard of carpet bears the trade mark "Whittall's" woven into its back—the trade mark is the proud guarantee of the manufacturer.
3. The materials and workmanship that go with these rugs are unequalled.
4. The dyes are tested in thirty days' direct sunlight, and no dye that will not bear this test successfully is used in the manufacture of Whittall goods.
5. Their reputation for beauty and splendid wearing qualities is world-wide.
6. The line is large and contains just the rug you want in just the size and quality you want it and at the price you can afford.

We show the largest stock of WHITTALL RUGS in this section of the country. We are anxious to add our personal guarantee of excellence to that of the manufacturer.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Two former pastors of the M. E. church were in town for brief calls last week. Rev. John Q. Angell, now stationed at Walden, and Rev. Albert A. Abbott, who was appointed to Concord, but who has resigned his pastorate there and is now in Barre.

John A. Perry, Thomas D. Poland and Leshe E. Williams are painting the outside of the old J. K. Lynde store building, now occupied by the G. F. McAlister Co.

Mrs. L. Marshall and daughter of Waterbury have lately made a short visit to relatives here, returning to their home Sunday.

Miss Millie J. Drury found some suspicious looking worms in a cluster in an apple tree on her premises lately and has them safely housed while waiting advice from the state forester as to what they are and how they should be treated. It may be that they are the larvae of either the gypsy moth or the brown-tail moth, on account of which quite a section of the eastern part of this state, including this town is now under quarantine by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Miss Julia A. Bass of Somerville, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Stewart.

The blackened ruins of the building in "the hollow" that was tenanted by W. E. Fogg at the time of the first fire several months ago, was found to be again on fire early last Saturday morning. The wind being in the south, sparks were carried to the roof of the house adjoining, now owned by Mrs. James Gregory of Barre, and the alarm was given about 1 o'clock. Some time passed before the hose could be laid and the engine started, and it was thought best to put up ladders and use hand extinguishers on the burning shingles. As soon as water could be had it was but a short job to wet down the ruins, which were pretty well burned down by that time. This property now belongs to A. E. Plastringe of Northfield and he had been in town but a few days before taking measurements of the foundation and it is stated that he intends to rebuild in the near future.

Miss Lucy D. Abbott of Oneida, N. Y., is visiting her old home and is at Mrs. Laura D. Walkers.

The third of the series of outdoor community services was held on the M. E. church lawn last Sunday evening and the attendance and interest manifested from the first in these services was fully sustained. Co-operating with the pastors, the town band and a large union chorus choir did much to enhance the musical part of the program. A contra solo by Miss Edith Goodrich with the chorus by singers from the choir, and the "Ninety and Nine" by W. P. Jones, also added to the interest of the gathering. The sermon was preached by Rev. John Irons of the Congregational church. The excellent order and attention maintained in each meeting of the series has been noticeable and the favorable interest shown is gratifying to all concerned.
