Soft, Clear, Smooth Skin Comes With The Use Of "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

NORAH WATSON
86 Drayton Ave., Toronto,
Nov. 10th, 1915.

A beautiful complexion is a handsome woman's chief glory and the envy of her less fortunate rivals. Yet a soft, clear skin—glowing with health—is only the natural result of pure blood.

"I was troubled for a considerable time with a very unpleasant, disfiguring rash, which covered my face and for which I used applications and remedies without relief. After using 'Fruit-a-tives' for one week, the rash is completely gone. I am deeply thankful for the relief and in the future, I will not be without 'Fruit-a-tives'."

SCALE COVERED DAUGHTER'S FACE

And Head! Thought She Would Lose Eyesight. Itched Continually, Disfigured Terribly.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"When my daughter was four weeks old, she had a dreadful scale which covered her face and head, and we thought for a time she would lose her eyesight. At first the skin was inflamed, and it itched continually and she could not sleep day or night. At last little red pimples with festering heads appeared and where the pimples had been, there would appear a horrid scale. It disfigured her terribly.

"Then I thought I would try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the third application we could see a marked improvement, and in a short time she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Geo. Paddock, New Canaan, Conn., July 24, 1915.

A NEW CRISIS WITH MEXICO

Failure of New London Conference Increases Gravity of the Situation

CARRANZA GROWS MORE IMPATIENT

His Minister, Arredondo, Is Now on His Way to Mexico

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The departure for Mexico of the Mexican Ambassador Designate Eliseo Arredondo, the failure of the joint commission at New London to do anything but bat lazily back and forth between the Mexican and American envoys the shuttlecock of blame for atrocities in Mexico, and the increasing menace of Villa have convinced the officials of the state department that a crisis in the relations with Carranza is approaching rapidly.

Ambassador Arredondo is speeding to Mexico City to take first hand to Gen. Carranza a report as to the progress being made by the American-Mexican commission at New London, officials said yesterday. Ambassador Arredondo also will give Gen. Carranza details of his recent conferences with Secretary of State Lansing regarding recent political, military and economic developments as they affect the relations of the two governments.

Ambassador Arredondo took two of his sons with him. The remainder of his family are remaining in Washington. He said he expects to return in two weeks.

Officials believe Gen. Carranza's chief reason for sending for his ambassador later before Secretary Lansing and the establishment of a border patrol.

It was also stated Gen. Carranza wants to tell Ambassador Arredondo of the military and political developments in the southern republic, so that the ambassador can lay before Secretary Lansing and the American-Mexican commission Gen. Carranza's position on points on which the American-Mexican commissioners are said to be deadlocked.

The repeated evasion by the United States envoys of the question of withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico irritates the Constitutional leader, it is thought.

Army circles expressed astonishment when it was announced that Secretary Lansing had accepted a report of the Chihuahua fighting based, it is said, upon advices from Gen. Trevino, Gen. Carranza and Foreign Minister Aguilar in preference to the statement of Gen. Bell.

This Mexican report discredits many points in the American general's. It says Villa was not at Chihuahua City on Hidalgo day, that there were no desertions from the Carranza forces and that no arms or ammunition were taken away. It was announced formerly that Gen. Funston, in San Antonio, had expressed full confidence in the substance of Gen. Bell's report.

The proposition brought by the Mexican members of the conference at New Haven, that it be made a crime in America for a citizen of this country to plot in any way to injure or interfere in the affairs of another nation with which the United States is not at war has caused much discussion here. It is generally regarded, however, as a move by Mexico

A TALK WITH A BARRE MAN

George L. Cummings, Engineer, of 124 Prospect Street, Tells of an Interesting Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Barre man:

Mr. Cummings says: "I had a constant, dull ache in the small of my back and was bothered by kidney weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Drown's Drug Store, cured these troubles, and there have been only two slight return attacks. At such times, I have taken a few Doan's Kidney Pills and have found prompt relief."

WOMAN NAMED AS A PRESIDENTIAL ELECTOR

Mrs. McCulloch of Illinois Nominated by the Democratic Convention

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 28.—Mrs. Catherine Vaughn McCulloch of Evanston was nominated by the Democratic party of Illinois in convention Tuesday as a presidential elector. It is the first time in the history of the state that a woman has been chosen for such an honor.

The convention went on record in favor of equal suffrage for women, the eight-hour day for both men and women workers engaged in non-agricultural pursuits and a compulsory workmen's compensation act.

Mrs. McCulloch is a practicing lawyer. She and her husband form the firm of McCulloch & McCulloch. She has made a compilation of all the laws of every state in the union concerning the joint guardianship of children and also has published a record of the progress of women's political freedom in Illinois.

Mrs. McCulloch led the fight for woman suffrage in her home state of Illinois and drafted the bill for presidential suffrage. She also has been an active member of the executive board of the National American Woman Suffrage association. Mrs. McCulloch took part in the recent suffrage campaign in this state.

PEACE WITHOUT ANNEXATION.

Keynote of German Socialist Position as Indicated by Scheidemann.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 28.—A significant paragraph discussing peace conditions appears in the speech delivered at the recent Socialist conference by Philip Scheidemann, former first vice-president of the Reichstag. The speech was published here in full.

While emphasizing strongly the fact that Socialists are opposed to a policy of annexation, the Socialist leader admits that it is impossible to expect that the war will leave all borders unchanged.

"Shall we insist," he said, "that Poland must remain absolutely Russian even if there is a possibility of making her free and independent? That would ill become us as Socialists. In the peace negotiations there will be deliberations about the Balkans, western Asia, Africa and probably about the readjustments of power over the entire world. Can we therefore demand that everything under all circumstances remain just as before the war? Agreements for making changes can be acceptable, at least to us, provided they do not create anger or new wars or do violence to any foreign people."

Scheidemann said the Socialists approved the course of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg in repeatedly declaring Germany's willingness to make peace but they wanted to hear him speak more clearly regarding peace terms.

"It could only serve a good purpose," he said, "if the government would declare that, although Germany's power of resistance is unlimited, still, Germany is in no wise thinking of demanding humiliating or degrading peace conditions. As Premier Asquith asserted, it certainly would give an impetus to the peace movement in various countries if the chancellor would unequivocally declare that Germany wishes peace without annexation."

Defending the attitude of the Socialists toward the government, Scheidemann said it is no disgrace that the Socialists are helping the chancellor to settle the submarine controversy without war with America. He judged from the Socialist press they draw the conclusion that the large majority given at the conference for the resolutions of Dr. Eduard David, Socialist leader in the Reichstag, proves that the regular party management has the greater portion of the Socialists behind it. The Vorwaerts, which represents the minority, points out that Socialists abroad can draw the conclusion from the proceedings at the conference that the restoration of the old antebellum international relationships would meet the wishes of the widest circles of German Socialists.

GEORGIA ENDORSES WILSON.

Watson's Efforts to Prevent Approval Are in Vain.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 28.—The Democratic state convention meeting here Tuesday to ratify the state primary of Sept. 12 endorsed the administration of President Wilson and formally nominated Hugh M. Dorsey of Atlanta for governor. Friends of Thomas B. Watson, the Georgia editor who has declared the department of justice was seeking to try him outside the state on an indictment charging that he sent improper literature through the mails, secured the adoption of a resolution condemning as un-American "any usurpation of authority" which would remove a citizen from his state for trial. Circulars generally credited to Watson and urging that there be no endorsement of President Wilson were distributed on the convention floor.

JERSEY'S VOTE DIRECT SLAP

At Pres. Wilson Because Martine Was Renominated for Senator

MARTINE HAS BEEN THORN IN HIS SIDE

He Carried the Nomination by More Than Two to One

New York, Sept. 28.—The Democrats of New Jersey who once elected him governor of their state have rebuked President Wilson and the national administration by re-nominating for the United States Senate James E. Martine and by turning down Attorney-General John W. Wescott, who was the personal choice of the president to fill the vacancy.

During the past two years of his service Senator Martine has been more or less of a thorn in the side of the administration, and on more than one occasion has put the president in an embarrassing position. The most recent instance of that was when he moved in the Senate that the president protest against the hanging of Roger Casement by the British. Nevertheless, he appears to have carried the nomination by about two to one despite the fact that he had the combined opposition of administration influence and the Nugent machine.

Latest returns from 1,506 districts in the state give Martine 29,247; Wescott 14,816.

Assistant Attorney-General Joseph Lanigan, who managed Judge Wescott's campaign, said at noon: "I concede the nomination of Senator Martine. We have no excuses to offer; we did our best. Senator Martine will receive our support in the coming campaign."

M'CORMICK ADMITS SETBACK. Won't Deny Renomination of Martine is Rebuke to Wilson.

New York, Sept. 28.—Vance C. McCormick, Democratic national chairman, declined to be drawn into a discussion of the possible effect of the Jersey primaries on the success of the Democratic national ticket in that state. Asked if he interpreted the evident renomination of Senator James E. Martine as a rebuke to the Wilson administration, McCormick would not deny that it was.

"I have absolutely nothing to say on the matter," he said. "As national chairman I have taken no part in local primary contests and I don't intend to in the case of Jersey. The national committee is for the Democratic ticket and will do all it can to elect it."

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver called at Democratic headquarters yesterday morning and told Mr. McCormick that the Progressive vote in Colorado would split fifty-fifty. Two years ago the Progressives cast 35,000 votes for Edward P. Costigan, Progressive candidate for governor.

"Mr. Costigan is easily the most influential Progressive in Colorado," said Judge Lindsey, "and I expect to see him take the stump for President Wilson. There is no doubt that the president will carry Colorado."

PROSPERITY DUE TO WAR.

Democratic Policies Not Responsible, Says Fairbanks in Omaha Speech.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 28.—"Democratic prosperity is due to war, while Republican prosperity grows out of the normal and peaceful industries of the people," declared Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice president, in his principal address in Omaha.

In opening his address Mr. Fairbanks declared that grave problems tax the judgment of the American people than were presented since the days of Lincoln.

After stating that one of the first things the present administration did was to overturn the Republican system of protection, the speaker said: "The law promptly did its work. It began to undermine confidence, breed distrust, reduce the public revenue, close factories, throw out of employment hundreds of thousands of wage earners, and increase bread lines in many parts of the country."

"In due course relief came to us, not through Democracy but through one of the cataclysms in the political world that dimmed all that preceded through the ages: the foundations of Europe trembled in the grasp of a mighty war."

"PLAIN COMMON SENSE."

Hughes Calls the Theory of Protective Tariff.

Canton, O., Sept. 28.—In Canton—McKinley's old home—Charles E. Hughes yesterday closed his Ohio campaign trip, speaking on the tariff and war prosperity. He called the theory of a protective tariff "plain common sense."

"We are going to have in the very near future, as soon as the war stops, very serious conditions in this country which will call for the most sober judgment and the most sagacious action in order to protect American labor and American enterprise," he asserted.

ONE YEAR AGO THE 3400 r.p.m. CHALMERS CAME INTO BEING; NOW 50,000,000 HAPPY MILES LIE BEHIND IT

Quality First

Just one year ago the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers was born. September 30th is its Anniversary Day.

It was untried, unknown, looked a little strange because it was different, and nobody outside of four men knew what it could do.

These four men—the men who had dreamed the car—had little to say. "What will it do?" they were asked.

"Get in and try," they replied. And in three days' time every last Chalmers executive had experienced a thrill that was new behind the wheel.

They banged it around in city traffic, abused it on hills, ran it through broken fields, made it take hurdles they would never ask their own personal cars to take.

They were amazed and then they sat down and decided to build three times as many of these cars as they had ever built of any model in a single year before—$22,000,000 worth.

Then behold the situation. Six months later these 18,000 cars were all built. Then 10,000 more were ordered.

And a few days ago we got word that 20,000 more are being built—48,000 of these 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers.

48,000 in all—a $56,000,000 business in a single model!

So you see why we are proud to have a birthday party for the car.

Any car that has 50,000,000 happy miles of use behind it certainly has an interesting history and its birthday anniversary is an event.

Remember this is only its first birthday. So successful has the car proven that the Chalmers Company is continuing to build it right through into next year. So you're safe in getting a car now that won't be obsolete in the spring.

Consider the price, $1090 Detroit. Come in today. Attend the birthday party.

BENSON RAPS THE "DRAFT" ACT SIGNED BY PRES. WILSON

Socialist Asks Hughes Why He Does Not Criticise the Move.

Boston, Sept. 28.—President Wilson was asked yesterday by Allan L. Benson, Socialist candidate for the presidency, why he signed the Hay-Chamberlain army bill, containing what the Socialist candidate has assailed as a "draft" clause.

Benson at the same time invited Charles E. Hughes to tell the people why he does not criticize the president for signing the act.

"This law," said Benson, "gives the president power in time of war to draft American citizens into the army. If this is not a matter of importance, no matter is of importance, yet the president never discusses it. Nor has Mr. Hughes, who has criticized the president for almost everything he has officially done, ever criticized him because he signed a draft law. The interests that are back of these gentlemen seem to be satisfied with what Mr. Wilson did when he approved the draft law."

"I should like to ask the American people, too, why they do not demand an explanation from the president and from both parties in Congress, who secretly and jointly forced this law upon the people."

BUDA GODMAN BAILED.

Alleged "Lure" in Blackmail Syndicate Case Is Questioned.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Buda Godman, who is accused of having entrapped Edward R. West, a wealthy merchant here, into a violation of the Mann "white slave" act, and paying the way for three of her men confederates to extort $15,000 from him, was released on $2,500 bond Tuesday night after being questioned by investigators for the department of justice. State's Attorney Hoynes ordered the arrest on state warrants of all persons implicated in the charge of swindling of
