

DRASTIC ACTION NOT EXPECTED BY AMERICA

President Wilson Is Studying Evidence Collected by U. S. Navy Department Concerning the Submarine Warfare Near the American Coast Last Sunday

NO MORE ATTACKS HAVE BEEN MADE

But Despite the Elapse of a Day and a Night Without a Further Appearance of the U-53, Shipping Circles Are Decidedly Fidgety Over the Situation

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 10.—President Wilson gave his entire attention today to considering the facts collected by the navy department regarding the German submarine attacks on merchant ships off the American coast.

There was every indication that the president had received no information necessitating drastic action by the American government. The president had on his program conferences with Secretary of State Lansing and the French ambassador.

The position of the American government and its determination to make a full investigation before acting was made clear in the following statement given out by the president:

"The government will, of course, first inform itself as to all the facts that there may be no doubt or mistake as far as they are concerned.

"The country may rest assured that the German government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the government of the United States. I have no right now to question its willingness to fulfill them."

Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who came here yesterday to give the president a personal letter from the German emperor on Polish relief, discussed with Mr. Wilson the new activities of German submarines.

It was understood that Mr. Wilson made it clear that while the American government had no intention of interfering with the legitimate activities of the submarines, it would insist on the strict observance of the pledges given previously by the German government.

The ambassador remained with the president only 15 minutes and was smiling when he left. He declared he was as much surprised as anybody when the news of the sinking of the first British ship reached him.

The ambassador said the letter sent him by the commander of the U-53 was of no importance and merely informed him that the boat intended putting in at Newport and leaving again soon afterwards.

The ambassador was read the statement given out shortly before this by President Wilson. He smiled as he heard it and remarked: "That is very comprehensive." He would make no further comment.

He declared that he had delivered to the president a personal letter from the German emperor on Polish relief. "What the president said to me is for him to give out," he said.

Questioned regarding the possibility of peace, he said: "Well, it looks peaceful about here."

KINGSTONIAN'S CREW MISSING TWO DAYS

Eleven U. S. Torpedo Boat Destroyers Have Been Sent Out in Search of Men Who Abandoned Their Vessel at Command of German Submarine.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 10.—The crew of the British freight steamer Kingstonian, missing since Sunday when its members abandoned their ship at the order of the raiding German submarine, has not been heard from to-day.

Eleven torpedo boat destroyers have been dispatched to Nantucket Shoals to continue the search. There has been no further report of the submarine.

ONLY ONE SUBMARINE. Engaged in Sunday's Raid on Shipping, Says U. S. Officer.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 10.—The wholesale raid on foreign shipping south of Nantucket lightship Sunday was the work of one submarine, according to reports of American naval officers. Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commanding the torpedo boat destroyer flotilla, which did such a remarkably speedy rescue work Sunday, said that the reports of all his officers agreed that to the best of their observation no raider only was concerned. This boat, presumably was the German U-53, which called at Newport Saturday afternoon to mail a letter to Ambassador Bernstorff, and then put to sea without taking on an ounce of supplies, although she was 17 days from her base, according to the statement of her officers.

Admiral Gleaves said he could easily understand the positive statement of the captain of the Nantucket lightship and of sailors of the torpedoed vessels that more than one submarine was concerned. The U-boat, he said, was very fast and appeared to have been handled cleverly. It was easy, he pointed out, for her to show up on one side of a ship and then disappear unexpectedly at another spot.

Doubtless, he believed, she had submerged and reappeared often enough to mislead any but a keen professional observer and to create the impression that more than one sea terror was operating. This opinion would seem to be borne out by the statements of many of the refugees that the submarine had more business on hand than she could take care of at one and was obliged to request one steamer to wait her turn while another was being put out of commission.

LINERS COME TO PORT BY WIDE DETOURS

Precautions Have Been Redoubled Following the Disappearance of German Submarine—Shipping Circles Nervous.

New York, Oct. 10.—A day and a night without further news of the U-53 has not quieted anxiety in shipping circles caused by the activities of the submarine commerce raider at the bend of the great north Atlantic highway off Nantucket.

If anything, the disappearance of the U-boat and the mystery regarding her present location have increased the precautions taken by owners and agents of vessels of the entente nations. Liners approached port by courses which carried them far out of the customary lanes.

Exporters say the raid and the advance in insurance rates will check shipments to New York, and importers say that if the raids continue American merchants will draw on the European stock, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars and placed in warehouses as a precaution at the outbreak of the European war.

DENIES CLOSED PORT TO SUBMARINES

United States Refuses to Comply with Contention of the Entente Allies.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—The United States has refused to accept the contention of the entente allies, urging that neutrals deny the use of their harbors to all submarines, whether merchantships or warships.

RESCUED REACH NEW YORK. Said 36 Shots Were Fired at Stephano Before Steamer Sank.

New York, Oct. 10.—Twenty-nine women and 14 children, survivors from the Red Cross line steamship Stephano, sunk Sunday by a German submarine off Nantucket, arrived here late yesterday and were taken in charge by representatives of the American Red Cross.

The passengers agreed that 36 shots were fired at the Stephano before she was torpedoed and sunk. Mrs. Charles W. Bostwick of Hudson, N. Y., who was returning from Nova Scotia, said eight minutes elapsed between the submarine's first and second shots, then the captain ordered everybody to take to the lifeboats. She said the officers did everything to help the passengers.

"We women and children were particularly frightened over the prospect of going down over the side of the steamer into the lifeboats," Mrs. Bostwick said, "as we had only 15 minutes to get off the ship."

"The submarine went up to within 300 yards of the Stephano and fired a torpedo into her, her last torpedo, as one of the submarine's officers told one of the officers' letters by signalling.

"The most thrilling sight of all was when the Kingstonian was torpedoed and sent to the bottom. We saw that very plainly, for when the submarine had trouble in sinking the Stephano they turned their attention to the Kingstonian, and as it was still light we saw her hit. She crumpled up and went down like a stone."

HUGHES SCORES BLACKLIST.

Declares No American Exercising Only American Rights Shall Be Listed.

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Charles E. Hughes, in a speech at the Metropolitan opera house here last night, vigorously assailed the administration for its foreign and Mexican policies and outlined the Republican party program, in two respects as follows:

"We do not propose to tolerate any improper interference with American property, with American mails or with legitimate commercial intercourse.

"No American who is exercising only American rights shall be put on any blacklist by any foreign nation."

In addition to reference to the seizure of American mails and the British blacklist of American firms, Mr. Hughes recalled the sinking of the Lusitania, respecting the declaration contained in his speech of acceptance, that had the American government left no doubt "that when we said 'strict accountability' we meant precisely what we said," there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Declarations and counter-declarations regarding the attitude of the center party toward the submarine question, the burning issue of the day, leaves the situation foggy. WELCOME HOME. Guardsmen Given "Glad Hand" in Several Communities.

St. Albans, Oct. 10.—With a crowd at the Central Vermont railway station so large that it was with difficulty that passengers alighted from the train, the members of Co. B, First Infantry, V. N. G., Capt. Charles E. Pell commanding, arrived home yesterday afternoon at one o'clock from Fort Ethan Allen, where they have been since their arrival from the border, where they went over three months ago.

As the company formed on Lake street Milton S. Bostwick led in three cheers for the boys who were ready to die for their country, and Captain Charles E. Pell led in three answering cheers for the little old home town. Headed by the St. Albans Brigade band and members of A. R. Huribut post, No. 60, G. A. R., the company marched up Lake street to Federal, over Federal to Kingman, up Kingman to North Main, down North Main to Fairfield and up Fairfield street to the armory. Bells were rung, a small cannon on Taylor park, manipulated by Ernest H. Lewis, fired salutes and all along the line of march handclapping and cheers greeted the boys.

At the armory Co. B formed in line and saluted the band as it turned to march down the street. The members of the company then formed in twos and marched through, as the crowd parted, to the doors of the armory, where three cheers were given by the Huribut post. Adjt.-Gen. Lee S. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Rutland, Oct. 10.—The members of Co. A were served a chicken-pie supper at Robert Army hall here last night by Grand relief corps on their arrival home from Fort Ethan Allen. The streets were lighted with red fire when the guardsmen marched from the train and the Rutland band was out as an escort. It had been planned to have a parade and a banquet at the Shrine temple with speaking, but as the company members had work to perform at the armory before the members could go to their homes, the affair was postponed.

Mrs. Piper in her declaration claims that she was married to Charles Piper in Montreal in August, 1912, and that they lived happily in the Canadian city and in West Rutland.

In January, 1914, it is claimed the mother of Mr. Piper "connived and schemed" and finally succeeded in taking Mr. Piper from his wife and two children. The plaintiff seeks to recover damages of $2,000.

GERARD HOME ONCE MORE

American Ambassador to Germany Reached New York To-day

TWO OTHER STEAMERS ALSO CAME TO-DAY

Cameronia, Fearing Submarine Menace, Took Extra Precautions

New York, Oct. 10.—The liner Frederick VIII, bringing James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, and the Cameronia and the Espagne with notable aboard arrived here safely. The Cameronia came in with all her lights except a small one on the foremast extinguished on account of the submarine menace.

The Cameronia received a wireless warning Sunday that a submarine was in the vicinity. Life boats were swung out and life belts were distributed among the 670 passengers, and the ship turned its course six miles south to the three-mile limit.

The Greek steamship Patris reported that she sighted a submarine Monday.

CLOSE CALL FOR YOUTH. When His Bicycle and Automobile Collided To-day.

An automobile operated by John L. Rogers passed over Frank Gove, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gove of Eastern avenue, on lower Washington street this morning while the lad was on his way home from the postoffice. A bicycle which the boy was riding was partially demolished, but the rider had an almost miraculous escape from serious injury. Passersby joined Rogers and E. L. White, his passenger, in carrying Gove to the office of Dr. O. G. Stickney, near at hand, where an abrasion on the left shoulder and arm and other minor injuries were dressed. Afterward the boy was taken to his home, where at noon it was said that he was recovering from the shock attendant upon the accident.

A number of people passing along Washington street witnessed the accident. The Rogers boy had just guided his car across the track, it was said, to the south side of the highway, preparatory to continuing along Church street to the postoffice. Young Gove was pedaling along Church street with a view to ascending the Washington street rise before turning into Academy street. Evidently each misunderstood the other's intentions, for the bicycle turned toward the path of the auto and the auto turned toward the cyclist, in making the swing into Church street, almost at the same moment. A mudguard or fender is believed to have struck Gove on the left shoulder, throwing him to the ground. Apparently the car passed over him, although the wheels did not touch his body. Rogers applied his brakes instantly and stopped his car as soon as possible. Alighting from the car they saw the Gove boy crawling out from under the rear of the machine.

ALBANO WILL FIGHT SIX-YEAR TERM

Barre Man Sentenced To-day to State Prison for Shooting Luigi Cheruti Will Take the Case to Supreme Court.

In Washington county court this morning Judge F. L. Fish sentenced Eusebio Albano of Barre, who was convicted last week of assault with intent to kill Luigi Cheruti, to spend not less than six years and not more than ten years in the state prison at Windsor. The case will be taken to supreme court on exceptions, and Albano will be out on $5,000 bail pending the outcome.

J. Ward Carver, counsel for the respondent, pleaded for leniency because of the circumstances existing in the case, going into detail to show that Albano for two years had been separated from his wife and family because of the complaining witness and boarder, Cheruti. Repeated efforts had been made, asserted counsel, to have Cheruti leave the Albano home, but without avail, and two years of brooding and humiliation had resulted in Albano's act, the respondent using more force than the law allows.

The state's attorney did not make any specific recommendation as to the length of sentence but believed it would be held up as an example as to what a man could not do in such a case.
