For the Woman Who Wears a Stout Size

Have you had difficulty in securing garments that would fit you, and made along fashionable lines?

We heard a woman remark the other day that she had given up entirely the idea that she could get ready-made garments that would fit. We suggested that she visit our garment section, which she did. She made a purchase of the first suit she tried on, and was not only delighted with its fit, the material and the style, but also the moderate cost. We have a splendid selection of garments for stouts.

- Suits priced at $20.00 to $40.00.
- Coats priced at $12.50 to $30.00.
- Dresses priced at $13.75 to $27.50.
- Skirts priced at $ 5.00 to $ 6.50.

Let Us Show You.

H., where he has been employed through the summer in one of the mountain hotels, and will spend several days in the city visiting friends before going to Boston. Mr. Miller will leave Boston for his home in Deane, N. H., sometime during the latter part of next week.

J. P. Kennedy, a teacher in the Albany Business college, left the city last night for Montpelier, after spending several days in Barre and vicinity on business. Mr. Kennedy will return to Albany during the latter part of the week. He reports that a large number of Barre people are planning to enter the Albany Business college this fall.

The auction sale at the J. P. Sargent farm of Corinth yesterday, conducted by Dan A. Perry, was well attended by high bidders. Cows were bid off at prices ranging from $57 to $80, while the large flock of sheep was sold in small lots at from $3 to $7.50 apiece. There were many chickens and a large flock of hens which sold from prices as high as 86 cents to $1.26.

A woman who was released from the state hospital in Waterbury last Friday developed fresh signs of insanity early last evening and gave north-end residents no end of worry until the police arrived. The patient was removed to police headquarters and as her condition continued to grow worse, physicians had been called upon to see her. An automobile was procured and the woman was taken to Waterbury at 1 o'clock this morning.

A quartet of intoxication respondents, one a woman, was arrested by the police on the eve of the holiday. Before Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court this morning Mrs. Minnie Sanford of Montpelier acknowledged a first offense and paid the customary fine and costs. Frank H. Jenkins of Barre admitted a first offense and paid the minimum fine and costs. Alvide Flanagan, also of Barre, made his maiden bow and got off with the light fine and cost. Charles O. Engle, who gave Burlington as his residence, chose a jail sentence of 10 days in preference to paying the $5 fine and costs.

Coach Brown of the Spaulding high school football team will give the boys a complete rest until to-morrow, when he will put the team through signal practice and scrimmage for the final workout before the Montpelier high school game to be played at Montpelier on Saturday afternoon. The injured list at Spaulding has increased to four men now, as Nichols and Bailey, who were laid up with injuries before the St. Albans game, are still out of the lineup, and Barclay and John Tomasi will be out of the practice for to-morrow. Tomasi will be able to get into the game Saturday but the chances for Barclay's return to the game by then are slight.

Columbus day in Barre bore little resemblance to a holiday if one could momentarily dismiss from the mind the inconvenience of having stores, business offices, the banks and the postoffice closed. Apart from the dispensation which clerks enjoyed, very few people who labor had more than their daily portion of leisure to-day. A special coach attached to the Central Vermont train leaving Barre at 8:25 o'clock carried many teachers to the state convention in Burlington and until Monday morning teachers and students alike will have a recess. This afternoon and evening the company playing "Some Baby" have the boards to themselves at the opera house. A football game which Goddard hoped to play with an eleven from Norwich or the state university did not materialize and for the first time in several years Barre fans were without their Columbus day football.

Prepare This for a Bad Cough—It's Fine

Cheaply and Easily Made, but Does the Work Quickly

The finest cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations,—can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it.

Any druggist can supply you with 24¢ cures of Pinex (50 cents a bottle). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain cranberry juice. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 54 cents and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective, pleasant-tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membrane, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with zinc, and is known throughout the world for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "25¢ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Adv.

Johnson, of Randolph left Tuesday for Dunstable, Fla., where Mr. Batchelder will conduct his garage business. They expect to reach Dunstable this evening. Prof. George H. Wilder, who has been receiving treatment for a leg fracture which he sustained in Barre three weeks ago, was able to be transferred from the city hospital to an automobile yesterday and thence to his home in Burlington, where he will pass the remainder of his convalescent period. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilder, who has been staying at Hotel Barre since her husband's accident.

An automobile operated by Russell Allen and the United States mail cart, which is in the custody of William Stacy, came together at the corner of Merchant and North Main streets last evening. Stacy was guiding his horse out of Merchant street and Allen was proceeding along North Main street in a northerly direction. Apparently the mail driver didn't hear the auto's horn, for the front of the car struck the horse and knocked that patient steed to the flagging. A pair of thills was fractured in the shuffle, but driver and chauffeur alike escaped injury. Bystanders who witnessed the mishap were not inclined to blame the autoist or the mail man, ascribing the collision, rather, to the noise and confusion that obtains in the vicinity of the corner after dark.

Guests arriving at the Hotel Barre last night and this morning included the following people: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hyms of Preston, Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Mims and Arthur Mosher of Keene, N. An enjoyable concert was given under the auspices of the men's club at the Presbyterian church last evening, a large audience filling the auditorium of the church. Vocal selections, piano solo, reading and duet constituted the numbers of the program. Each participant was called upon for an encore and the audience was not slow in expressing its appreciation. Special mention may be made in reference to the singing of James Bennett and Harry Clark. These soloists were called to the platform for the third time before the audience was satisfied. The following are the numbers: Piano solo, Miss Gladys Rhind; vocal solo, Mr. Wallé; reading, Miss Edith Watson; vocal solo, Miss Alice Walkley; vocal solo, Harry Clark; selection, male chorus, vocal solo, Miss Barbara McDonald; vocal solo, James Bennett; duet, Misses Walker and McDonald.

Under certain conditions the space occupied by this paragraph would be used to chronicle the departure of Mr. So-and-So for the world's series, to tell about Mrs. Leghorn's fine success with her hens in September, or to record the doings of the North End Fish Dealers' Assistants' Local Social club No. 2 at its semi-annual meeting last night. But circumstances alter cases, to quote from the Book of Bromides, and so it is told that a careless smoker jammed a cigarette into a crevice in a telephone pole on Depot square this forenoon. Mrs. Leghorn or Mr. So-and-So, or the Social club might still be in the running, were it not for the fact that the cigarette was lighted, that one of its liveliest coils communicated to a dry splinter in the pole and that shortly a thin finger of flame, creeping up the pole, threatened to make a real fire of it but for the energy displayed by several persons who grabbed receptacles of varying size and design, filled them hastily with water and soaked the burning area. Holiday emmi was responsible for the gathering of a sizeable crowd when the little conflagration was at its height, but no one was trampled to death and the fire damage, after all, was very slight.
