If an aviator sailing over Depot square had dropped a hoop over the watch tower of the M. & W. R. station it would have caused no more of sensation than a discovery which the ticket agent, C. T. Southgate, made this morning while making his matutinal rounds with the broom. The agent opened the station at 6:30 o'clock and, as usual, inspected the premises carefully before turning to his office duties. Two hours later in a corner of the lavatory he discovered that which resembles a bomb and has been identified as an engine of destruction by some of the precisionists who are wont to gather at the station. It is a cylinder, some nine or ten inches in length, with an outer casing of steel and contains an opening at the end which has been likened to a fuse hole. Mr. Southgate was disposed to handle the alleged bomb with tongs as some of the bystanders averred that it might be a time device. Early this afternoon the time for the exposition hadn't arrived.

DEATH AT EAST BARRE.

Earl G. McAllister, 12-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McAllister.

Earl G. McAllister, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McAllister of East Barre, died at 3:30 this morning after a severe illness of two or three weeks. Three months ago the lad had an attack of the hives, and this was followed by rheumatic fever, which led to a heart difficulty, causing his death.

The boy was born in East Barre and attended the seventh grade in the school there. He was a lad much loved by his friends and schoolmates, a boy of unusual qualities for winning friends.

Besides his parents he leaves three brothers, Harry, Rowe and Kermit, and seven sisters, Mrs. Hugh McDonald of Graniteville, Ellen, Evelyn, Ethel, Edna, Luna and Ivis McAllister. All the children except Mrs. McDonald of Graniteville and Harry McAllister, who has a home of his own in East Barre, live with their parents.

A prayer service will be held at the house at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, with funeral at the Congregational church in East Barre at 2 o'clock. Rev. James Hamage officiating. Burial will be in the Wilson cemetery.

In eight years it is stated the Cubs paid dividends of $10 per cent. And yet there is no money in baseball.

Clark Griffith says he has a wonder in young Rice, the risky first baseman, who has been practicing with the Senators in the south during the spring training season. If Rice plays the initial season, this means that Judge will have to hunt for a job.
