TALK OF THE TOWN

Lids for Kids at Abbott's.

Attorneys representing the cities of Barre and Montpelier, William Wishart and George L. Hunt, met with F. E. Gleason, a solicitor retained by the Tenny company and the B. & M. T. & P. Co., last evening to draft a proposed franchise under which the traction company may operate in years to come. The conference of lawyers was one of the results of the joint session of Barre, Montpelier and Berlin officials Monday evening, when Montpelier continued its efforts to enlist Barre councilors in a move to secure from the railroad a payment due on the Rialto bridge construction at the capital. The attorneys will report at the third of the intercity series in Montpelier Monday evening.

TALK OF THE TOWN

New sport wash goods at Fitts'. Special house dress values at Abbott's. Read Rogers' Walk-Over anniversary ad on page 4. It's a money-saver. Through the efforts of George H. Colamer and William B. Harmon, money was raised by subscription from the tenants of the Howland block to purchase and raise a flag on the building. The tenants subscribed freely to the fund, the flag arriving from Rutland yesterday and being unfurled yesterday afternoon by the force of men from the Vermont Tel. & Tel. Co. The telephone force brought the pole, which is a small-sized tree, from the East Barre woods and hoisted and painted it for the weather. The flag is of a large size, being eight feet by 12 feet.
