MONTPELIER

Death of Merrill Fisher at Age of 83 Years.

Merrill Fisher, 83, died yesterday afternoon at Heaton hospital after a few days' illness. He was taken to the hospital Wednesday for an X-ray examination, it being thought he had broken a hip in a fall in the bath-room that day. He suffered a shock Thursday night. He was a native of Washington and for 40 years traveled for Boston mercantile houses, most of the time with Banfield, Foristall & Co., retiring a few years ago. He leaves a wife who is about his age.

Mrs. Ellen Canton of Barre was appointed in probate court this morning administratrix of the estate of the late Joseph Canton of Barre, and Moses Art Newhall of Middlesex was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Angella G. Newhall of Middlesex.

Charles Tobias left this morning for Fort Ethan Allen, having received an order to report there. He made application as cook some weeks ago and had been on leave since that time. Commissioner of Fish and Game Linus Leavens of Cambridge was in the city this morning on his way to Roxbury to inspect the hatchery.

The Woman's Home Companion has started a slogan, "An Hour a Day for My Country." In the August issue, the editors say:

"To appreciate fully what this slogan—'An Hour a Day for My Country'—means to the government, take out your pencil and do a bit of figuring.

"Let us assume that you are one of ten thousand women in your state who pledge an hour a day to serving your country.

"This means that the United States government receives each week day the equivalent of 10,000 hours in woman service. In a week, the power of this nation is strengthened by 60,000 hours of woman energy. In a month, 240,000 hours of service have been rendered by stay-at-home women. Raise this army enlistment of home women from ten thousand to a million, and in every twenty-four hours the government from the president to the newly appointed food commissioner, Mr. Hoover—is supported by 1,000,000 hours of practical service; 6,000,000 hours in a week, 25,000,000 hours in a month. Whether you are producing, conserving, or saving in that hour; whether you are canning fruit to prevent waste, or winding bandages to save a soldier's life, you are doing your bit in the Companion's army of a million. You are fighting America's battles. You are answering the call to the colors."

WEBSTERVILLE

TALK OF THE TOWN

Kitchen stove and baby carriage for sale. Inquire at 20 Maple avenue, John Daniels.

Mrs. Flora Peake of Orange is spending several days in town, visiting with friends.

George Laing left yesterday for Montreal, P. Q., there to pass a vacation of a week with relatives.

A big stock of oxfords and pumps at the People's Shoe Store, from which to select your sizes at low prices.

Elon Barrett of Worcester, Mass., a former resident of Barre, is visiting in town for a few days with friends.

William Hersey left last night for Hartford, Conn., where he is to enlist in the navy, for service in the mosquito fleet.

James Coutts of Spaulding street is detained from his duties from the Littlejohn, Odgers & Milne shed for a few days by illness.

Mrs. Ira N. Houston and daughter of Maple avenue left yesterday for North Duxbury, where they will visit with relatives for a few days.

The condition of Mrs. Cora Jackson of South Main street, who recently sustained a fracture of her right leg, is reported to be fairly comfortable.

Ladies and gentlemen should take advantage of the opportunity to secure oxfords and pumps at the liberal discount offered by the People's Shoe Store.

Miss Henrietta Moore returned to her home in Bedford, P. Q., yesterday after spending the past two weeks at the home of Edward O'Keefe of Upland avenue.

Shipment of hats just received in black, white and colors; all good models, at only $1 each, for Saturday and Monday only. Mrs. W. F. Shepard Co., Inc.

Private John Comelli of Milford, N. H., who recently enlisted in the U. S. signal corps, is passing a brief leave with friends in Barre, where he formerly resided.

Mr. and Mrs. Oreste Boffino and Miss Nina Cassellini of Maple avenue left today for an outing of ten days at Woodbury pond. The former is taking a vacation from his duties in the Union Clothing store.

The Barre Spiritualist society will hold meetings at their temple, South Barre, Saturday evening at 7:30 and Sunday at 3 and 7:30 p. m., July 21 and 22. Rev. Effie I. Webster will lecture and give messages at each session. All invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Russell and Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Bligh, returned yesterday from Laconia, N. H., where they have been passing the past two weeks, on Mr. Russell's vacation from his duties in the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Owing to the additional precautions taken against the spread of infantile paralysis, the Sunday afternoon patriotic meeting, which was to have been held in City park, has been postponed and former Congressman Frank Plumley of Northfield will not speak, as was announced yesterday.

A real estate deal was consummated yesterday through the J. J. Dasher & Son Real Estate agency, whereby D. F. Gregory of east hill disposed of one of his farms there to A. F. Isham of Vershire. Mr. Isham recently sold his large farm in Vershire and will move at once to his new purchase.

Kinamen of soldiers enlisted in the 1st Vermont regiment at Fort Ethan Allen believe that only a few more opportunities to visit the soldiers await them, as the National Guard is about to be moved. Therefore, a considerable number of local people plan to motor to the military post to-morrow.

Lester O. Morgan, station agent at Williamstown, who has been detained at home for several days, was able to transact business in Barre to-day. Mr. Morgan strained his back while lifting some freight a week ago and during his absence from the Central Vermont station a substitute has been employed. He expects to resume his duties Monday.

A unique record was hung up at police headquarters to-day, as the week neared its end without a single arrest. Not in a number of years have the officers reported such a lapse. Serenity has hung about the police station in great clouds ever since the cell room was cleared of drunks arrested a week ago to-day. Although the police are not over confident, they believe that a week without arrests speaks well for the law-abiding proclivities and the sobriety of the citizens of Barre.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Mrs. M. R. Winship and H. A. Winship of Bradford, A. A. Mansur and M. G. Beebe of Burlington, E. G. Wait and L. S. Myers of Albany, E. T. McDonald of Hartford, W. D. Bissonette and E. F. Elliott of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Smith and Wilbur Smith of New York City, J. O. Scorgie of Chicago, Ill., Henry A. O'Brien of Albany, N. Y., E. A. Phillips of Boston, A. O. Delaney of Barton, James G. Hannally of Brookline, Mass., A. L. Montague of Northampton, Mass.

Barre visitors at Fort Ethan Allen this week confirm the report that the Vermont regiment is to be transferred to Charlotte, N. C., in the near future, and while the National Guardsmen are not advised as to when they shall depart, there is an air of preparation to be noticed at the post and no one will be surprised if the order to move comes within a few days. An observer notes that the men are on edge with anticipation and show eagerness to make the change in locale. The military authorities have caused to be posted conspicuously about the reservation a detailed description of Charlotte and the camp site, as well as the highways and railroads immediately surrounding the city. It is believed that the regiment will be ready to move within a few hours after the order is received. The departure of the 1st Vermont regiment will leave three regiments of regular army men, many of them recruits, at Fort Ethan Allen.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mrs. F. M. Lynde and son, Charles, of Wellington street, who have been passing several days in Old Orchard, Me., returned to the city last evening.

The condition of Deputy Chief Harry Gamble of the police department, who has been detained at his home on Division street by illness for several days, was reported to be unchanged to-day. There are symptoms of typhoid fever in the officer's case, although his condition is not regarded as dangerous.

Protecting Our Soldiers.

One of the great uses of the proceeds of the sale of Liberty loan bonds is the protecting of our soldiers in France—protecting them by arming and equipping them with every means of offense and defense and supplying them with proper food and medical attention and everything needed to make them powerful and effective.

This idea of protection of our soldiers has been further enlarged as Secretary McAdoo now proposes life and disability insurance for the men who go to the front, and adequate provision for the support and protection of their families. A conference was held in Washington lately with representative insurance men of the country and it seems that this insuring will have to be done by the government and will not be done by private insurance organizations. Here is another wise and just use of government funds that will meet with the approval of the nation.

In a speech before the conference Secretary McAdoo in part said: "It is a crime for a great nation to take a man and send him to fight for his country and refuse to make adequate provision for him and those who are dependent upon him and leave them possibly the objects of the charity and generosity of their neighbors.

"We must see to it not only that every American soldier is equipped with the best American money, ingenuity and skill can provide, in order that he may fight with the utmost effect and sell his life as dearly as possible for his country, but we must see to it also that every American soldier shall go to the front with the comforting and supreme satisfaction of knowing that his loved ones will not be dependent upon charity, but that they are as much entitled to compensation for what they are sacrificing in order that he may go to the front as he is entitled to compensation for what he does at the front."

When to Do Your Canning.

The Woman's Home Companion for August says:

"The time to do the canning is within 24 hours of the time when the fruits and vegetables are picked. The fresher they are when the canning process begins, the surer they will be of keeping and the better they will taste when opened. Fruit should be picked before it is over ripe, and vegetables while young and tender. Do not wait for the end of the season, but put up the new things as they come along. If you do not know how much better small beets are than large ones, find out this summer. Carrots two or three inches long seem like a different vegetable when compared with coarse, woody, full-grown ones. Can them while they are small.

"A jar or two, put up every day while one is getting dinner, seems to take no extra time. If one hurries a bit, or if one serenely plans to take advantage of the odd minutes while waiting for something else to cook, these little extras can be done without any trouble, while on the farm canning parties may be planned ahead when it is known that large amounts of produce will be ready to can at a given time."

The Oldsmobile Six

THE justification of the Oldsmobile Model 37, six-cylinder motor car, is found in the growing interest of the public in a light six-cylinder car possessing the refinements and luxurious appointments of higher priced cars. The market seems over-crowded with cheap six-cylinder cars.

The new Oldsmobile Six, without question, satisfies the purchaser who is seeking unusual performance, economy in upkeep and fuel consumption, and withal, the elegance of those details usually associated only with cars of high price.

The smooth-running Oldsmobile motor, with all working parts inclosed, develops 40 h. p. plus. This clean, handsome motor is an inspiration to the owner who likes to exhibit a beautiful power-plant.

Walnut dash with nickel-finished instruments; buttonless upholstery of high-grade, long-grain, bright-finished leather; combination tonneau and step light; side curtains that open with the doors. These appointments and many other refinements stamp this car as representative of the utmost in light car construction.

Two types—a roomy five-passenger touring car, and a two-passenger roadster with convertible rear compartment containing a leather-upholstered seat for two extra passengers.
