WATERBURY

Funeral of Buel W. Morse Held Monday Afternoon.

The funeral of Buel W. Morse was held from the Duxbury town hall Monday afternoon, Rev. Verne L. Smith officiating. The bearers were nephews, Clyde Morse, A. H. Morse, L. A. Morse and Harold Morse. Burial was in the Graves cemetery in Duxbury. Buel W. Morse, who dropped dead on his way to work Saturday morning, was born in Duxbury on Scabble hill 60 years ago, the son of Luther and Alice (Maynard) Morse. He married Miss Flora Morse, who died many years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Bertha, widow of Ralph Peake; three grandchildren, one sister, Miss Louisa Morse, who has been his housekeeper for years, and two brothers, Daniel Morse of Waterbury and Edgar H. Morse of Duxbury. Most of his life has been spent in his native town, having lived in Moretown near Duxbury Corner for the past year. He was an honest, industrious man, optimistic in his make-up and was a good neighbor and friend. His going so near that of Wells Corse and David Corse removes three formerly living in the same locality.

Schools in town will not open before Sept. 17, when it is hoped that they may do so in safety. The one at Duxbury Corner will not begin until then or a later date. The latest case of polio in the village is the one at the hospital, where the patient is doing well, and the entire hospital is quarantined. A new case, however, has developed in the talc mine community, where Paul Nelson, a boy 15 years of age, is stricken with the disease. He worked early in the summer on the Fuller farm, where the young son is ill, but it has been some weeks since he finished there.

Raymond Buzzell, who was in Canada the first of the week, playing with the St. Albans brigade band at the Bedford fair, returned Friday and went directly to his home in Waitsfield before returning to the hospital, which is now under quarantine. He returned Sunday night and resumed his duties in the laundry. Mr. Buzzell played first alto with the band and had a most enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis and daughter, Elizabeth, of Montpelier visited at Gilbert Hill's Sunday. Mrs. Curtis is a sister of Mr. Hill.

IN SPITE OF LOW PRICE

People of means have always taken to Fatimas in spite of the low price. One proof of this is Fatima's popularity at the big Automobile Shows, both in the East and West.

Even at the Chicago and New York Shows last January Fatimas outsold all other cigarettes.

There's a mighty good reason for this big leadership: Fatima's Turkish blend gives more than fine flavor alone, more than comfort to throat and tongue—Fatimas never disturb even though you may smoke all day long.

You'll find Fatimas sensible—as sure as you try a package.
