SAW HUGE SCAFFOLD.

On Which Some Day the Kaiser Would Hang.

Picturing England (Great Britain and her colonies) as the Good Samaritan, Rev. Edgar Crossland inaugurated a series of war-time sermons in the Presbyterian church last evening. The auditorium was filled to the doors and the speaker was able to hold the closest attention of all during his discourse on "The Truth About England."

Taking for his text that part of the scripture which reads, "Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among thieves? And he said he that showed mercy on him," Mr. Crossland brought out fact after fact showing that England from the very start of the war clouds had furnished help in many different ways to crushed Belgium.

He refuted statements crediting England as being decaunt, giving figures as to the large enlistment of volunteers since the outbreak. As for genius all being in their graves, he said genius demonstrated itself in the tanks used by England which terrified the German war machine, the introduction of the fat factories taking care of the waste food in the camps, the fat being used as glycerine to make munitions; the use of discarded cotton in the hospitals to be reused as gun cotton. He also gave figures showing size of England's army, navy, munition workers, plants and her accomplishments on the field of battle. The speaker saw on the horizon a huge scaffold on which some day the German Kaiser would hang. He closed with the hope that England would live on forever.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all of my friends and neighbors for the kindness shown Monday evening, Oct. 1; also for the very generous gift.

At the parsonage of Bethany Congregational church in Montpelier Saturday, Miss Jessie B. Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Wood of Calais, and M. L. Thompson of Barre were married by the pastor, Rev. S. F. Blomfield, the double ring service being used. They were attended by George Wood, brother of the bride, and Miss Lucy Whitney, an intimate friend of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left early in the afternoon on a wedding trip and upon their return they are to make their home in this city.

Frank Lawless was pleasantly surprised at his home in South Barre Saturday evening, when about 25 of his friends gathered at his home. The occasion was both in the nature of a birthday party and a farewell party, as Mr. Lawless left this morning for Burlington, where he will enroll in the pre-medical course of the University of Vermont. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, while the evening was pleasantly spent by the playing of several games. Mr. Lawless was the recipient of several gifts from his friends, as tokens of their friendship. The party broke up at a late hour after wishing their host many happy returns of the day.

John J. Hartigan, grand knight of Barre council, No. 401, Knights of Columbus, has forwarded to Fort Ethan Allen the first contribution, from St. Monica's parish to the fund for the maintenance of the recreation building for soldiers which the Knights of Columbus erected on the government reservation last fall. The local contribution amounted to $102.85 and was obtained through collections and subscriptions made in St. Monica's parish under the auspices of the council. Throughout the nation, the Knights of Columbus have contributed $1,000,000 for providing the soldiers with places in which to receive, and much more is to be expended. Here in Barre the Knights of Columbus propose to continue in the work of collecting the subscriptions and it is expected that another contribution will be made in a short time.

With little difficulty the wrecking crew from the Central Vermont railroad headquarters in St. Albans righted the derailed smoker on the Williamstown branch Saturday afternoon, and upon its return to St. Albans, the wreck train had the errant smoker in tow. The car was derailed late Friday afternoon when it jumped the rails on a slight curve and settled down on its side in a ditch which skirts the road bed. An hour sufficed to return the smoker to the rails and an examination revealed little damage, although several of the windows were broken. S. S. Russell, claim agent, and G. W. Groom, assistant superintendent of the road, came down from St. Albans Saturday forenoon to survey the wreckage. After the car had been removed, section men repaired the track. The condition of Baggage Master Charles Hoyt of Maple Grove, who sustained an arm fracture in the accident, is reported to be comfortable.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre through the week end were the following people: E. D. Blackwell of Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Washburn of Bethel, William Graham of Portland, Me., W. H. Woods of Springfield, Charles E. Crane of Middlebury, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baidess, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Sawyer of Norton, Mass., G. F. Wool Goods
Retail prices on Wool Goods to-day do not represent the advance of wholesale prices.

All of our Sweaters are selling to-day at but little more than the wholesale price if bought to-day. This lot is all that we will try to handle this season. If you can buy early, it is to your advantage to do so.

We have Hoagknit Sweaters for children, boys, misses, ladies and gents. The heaviest Gents' Shaker Sweater that we carry costs now only $7.98. It's worth on any market $10.00. The yarn in this Sweater is worth more than the price of the Sweater.

We have a small quantity of Gray Mixed and Khaki Yarn that has just arrived—a back order.

We have several lots of Ladies' Wool Underwear that we cannot get more of that we are closing at a sale price.

Children's Wool Sets are now ready.

When in our store you should always try to spare a few moments for our bargain basement.

The condition of Peter Smith, who injured himself with a razor last week, is reported to be improving and there are good prospects for his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. James McBain of Brunsford, Me., who have been touring New Hampshire and Vermont during the past two weeks, spent the week end at the home of the former's niece, Mrs. Sydney G. Kidd, of Maple avenue.

An automobile party consisting of Charles Collins, Harry Hill, L. J. Bell and Edmund Poli left the city yesterday for Boston, where they are to visit a few days. Mr. Collins, who is a barber at the Miers down town shop, is taking his first vacation in five years, and will visit relatives before returning home.

Charles H. Amedy of Westerville, who was looked up yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Dennis Donahue, acknowledged a first offense when charged with intoxication in city court to-day. The respondent settled with Magistrate H. W. Scott. William Doby, who was arrested Saturday afternoon, acknowledged a first offense, signed the pledge for a year and paid costs.

Two house of correction sentences were imposed by Magistrate H. W. Scott in city court Saturday, the respondents being remanded to the custody of the county jailer as soon as sentences were passed. John Kerr of Roxbury, who was locked up Friday night, after having been arrested in Berlin, acknowledged a subsequent offense when an intoxication charge was pressed against him. It was his third offense within a year and Judge Scott sentenced him to serve from 10 to 12 months in the Rutland institution. A satisfactory disclosure was not received. Charles Young, who was arrested in Northfield Friday by Chief Sinclair, pleaded guilty when charged with non-support, and was sentenced to serve five months in the house of correction. Young has a wife and six children, whom the authorities claim, he left unprovided for when he departed from Barre three months ago.

W. C. Goodwin, a former resident of Barre, returned to his home in New Hampshire this morning, after passing a few days in the city on business. Mr. Goodwin made the trip by carriage. John Davidson of Summer street left Saturday for Montreal, P. Q., where he accompanied one of the city league teams to Toronto, Ont., for a series of games. During the season Davidson, who is a former Italian A. C. player, has been holding down third base for one of the league teams, and John Brown, formerly of the Barre A. C., has been signed with the team. Jake Malcolm, former University of Vermont twirler, and Palmer, once a tosser in the Vermont league, have been playing in the Montreal city league this year.

Some hundred of fans, anxious to be fed up on world's series dope, worked themselves into characteristic frenzies of excitement at the Barre opera house Saturday and again Sunday afternoon, when minute returns from the big fall classic at Chicago were depicted on the electric scoreboard which Manager J. E. Hoban has leased for the series. The scoreboard service was quite satisfactory. The attendance on the opening afternoon was nearly equalled by that of the second game, when the crowd filled the auditorium and left a small overflow for the galleries. There was no game in New York this afternoon. When the series is resumed to-morrow, the management of the theatre expects to have the scoreboard running as usual.

"Enlighten Thy Daughter."

There is a great photoplay coming to the Park theatre on Wednesday. It is the seven-reel feature entitled "Enlighten Thy Daughter." It comes here with a record of crowded houses for four consecutive weeks at the Park theatre, New York, where it received the unanimous endorsement of a group of more than 3,000 ministers at a special performance given for them. The play is a scathing arraignment of the practice of many parents of allowing their growing daughters to remain in ignorance of things all girls should know, and carries its point in a manner which cannot fail to be convincing as well as interesting.—adv.
