Neutral Legations Ask America to Be Conciliator in the Dispute Between Great Britain and Sweden

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.-Neutral diplomats here, including some of the South Americans, are much concerned over the detention of Swedish mail at the pressure to bear upon the American government to act as conciliator, because they fear the incident may lead to furhampering of neutrals.

European neutrals with shipping in American ports profess to be fearful that their vessels may be commandeered, and while it is held legal to seize such ships and pay for them, the neutrals are opposed to parting with their bottoms. The United States is doing what it can quietly to clear up the mail situation and has asked England through Ambassador Page to release the pouches.

In view of the possibility that neutral shipping will be commandeered, the neutrals are now trying to make arrangements whereby the vessels can be used by the United States without actual seizure. For instance the Dutch ships could be used in coastwise trade or to carry Australian wheat to the Pacific coast while others could be used for shipping wheat to Belgian relief stations.

But Holland in return wants a por tion of the Dutch fleet to carry cargoes to the Netherlands. The United States proposition.

Dutch and other neutral ships continue to arrive constantly. This indicates that they cannot operate without American and English bunker coal, or as some believe, that the neutrals really want America to seize the vessels.

German threats and promises are thickly interwoven through the whole The neutrals must protest formally lest they suffer at the kaiser's hands for acquiescing in the demands of

The Crown of Womanhood

"Uncared for hair cannot be beau-tiful. There is no part of the human makeup so revengeful as the hair. It cries out: Look at me, care for me, or I will disgrace you! Treat me with consideration and I will be a glory to you."

With the above words, Lillian Russell, an unquestioned authority on feminine attractiveness, places no uncertain value on nice hair as a beauty asset. Unkempt, uncared for hair not only cannot be attractive but is actually a disgrace.

EXPLAINS WHY BERLIN REFUSES

Must Get Something Out of War, Said Bethmann-

Hollweg

Amsterdam, Oct. 20 .- After the Socialist conference at Wurzburg had adopted the resolution rejecting a motion to bind the party to vote against war credits in the Reichstag, Herr Hoch, member of the Reichstag, declared on behalf of the Independent Socialists that they were in favor of the country's defense and would only refuse to vote for credits as long as the imperial government failed to promise the adoption of the peace demands of the Socialist Democrats and to make changes in the constitution. Herr Hoch added that the patience and the strength of the people in all countries were coming to an end, and that the government ought to understand that unless peace came within a few weeks revolutionary convulsions would arise from he masses.

The key of the policy of the German covernment in refusing to make any defistatements of peace terms is furnished by Herr Hoch. German newspapers report that the deputy told Thursday how Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg before his retirement as imperial chancellor de clared to the Socialist members of the Reichstag that as chancellor he could not commit himself, but must pull out in the peace negotiations whatever could be obtained for Germany. Herr Hoch cited this is proof of the ambiguous game the government is playing with its various indefinite peace declarations.

The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin asserts that last week Deputies Gustave Stress mann, National Liberal; Karl Trinborn, British embassy. They are bringing Centrist; Friedrich Von Payer, Progress sive and Friedrich Ebert, Socialist, were charged by their respective parties to acquaint Chancellor Michaelis with their lack of confidence. Stressmann, Trimborn and Ebert were unable to do thi because the chancellor had already departed for Courland, but Von Payer executed the commission before the chancellor left. It was probably due to his visit to the chancellor that the report became current that Von Payer might become vice chancellor.

The Prussian Herrenhaus (House of Lords) opened Thursday with a speech by the president of the chamber, Count Von Arnim-Boitzenburg, who referred to President Wilson's reply to the peace proposal of Pope Benedict as an attempt to sow discord between the German emperor and his people, because he said, otherwise the entente would be unable "to fell the German oak." The president of the chamber added that the German people never would allow Bismarck's gigantic work to be undone, and that it was again the enemy who had regovernment has not yet answered that fused peace except at the cost of Germany's existence.

MONCHEUR THANKS AMERICA

Havre, Oct. 20.-Baron Moncheur, head f the Belgian mission to the United States and former Belgian minister at Washington, requested the Associated Press to express his thanks to the American people for the hospitality extended to the mission "I thought I knew the United States well," said the baron. "I was minister at Washington for eight years and learned and admired the businesslike methods and efficiency of Americans. But it was a revelation to see a great, free, roud, wealthy nation bending all its nergies towards the single goal of crushing Prussian militarism. Forgetful of party rivalries, the people of the United States, as one man, entered the fray resolved to make the world 'safe for democracy.' It is no small comfort to realize that the plight of Belgium was more than incidental in bringing the greatest nation of the new world to the side of the allies and justice. I came away from America with the feeling that I had witnessed the welding of a great nation, the advent of right over force and the determination of free men to fight for the heritage of liberty left by their fathers who had acquired it at the price of their blood.
