

COAL PRICE IS INCREASED

A Jump of 45 Cents a Ton Allowed by President Wilson

NEW PRICE TO ABSORB WAGE INCREASE

Effective To-day—Practically All Mines in the Country Will Benefit

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—President Wilson Saturday night granted an increase of 45 cents a ton in the price of bituminous coal at virtually all mines in the country, effective at 7 o'clock this morning. The new price will absorb wage raises recently agreed upon between operators and miners in the central competitive and other fields.

The president's order provides that the increase shall not apply in case of existing contracts providing for an increase in prices to cover any rise in miners' wages. Neither will it apply in districts where miners and operators fail to agree upon a miners' penalty provision satisfactory to the fuel administration.

Millions of dollars of increased cost to consumers is involved in the order, which was based upon recommendations made to the president by Fuel Administrator Garfield, after a careful survey of conditions in all districts. The order refers specifically only to the wage agreement entered into at the conference of Washington, Oct. 6, between operators and miners in the central competitive field of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania, but wages throughout the country are largely based on those paid in the central district.

MICHAELIS HANDS IN RESIGNATION

Reuter's Dispatch Says Berlin Papers Declare Chancellor Gives His Portfolio to the Kaiser.

London, Oct. 29.—A Reuter's limited dispatch from Amsterdam says that the Berlin evening papers report that Imperial Chancellor Michaelis has resigned, according to advices, by way of London, dated Saturday.

A London dispatch, Oct. 24, said that Dr. Michaelis had placed his portfolio as chancellor in the hands of Emperor William. The source of this information was given as an Amsterdam advice by the Wireless Press. An Amsterdam dispatch Oct. 25 said the German emperor did not consider the resignation of Dr. Michaelis as necessary and that he probably would remain in power.

PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS

Postoffice Department Issues Instructions for Friends at Home.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Explicit instructions for sending Christmas packages to the American troops in France were issued yesterday at Washington by the postoffice department. Postoffices will accept parcels weighing not more than seven pounds after they have been inspected by the postmaster and certified to contain no dangerous or other prohibited articles. Such mail should be addressed with the name of the soldier, his regiment and company, or other unit, and "American expeditionary forces." These articles must be conspicuously marked "Christmas parcel," and will be delivered through the postal service direct to the mail orderlies with the troops in France.

In addition to the mail service, the war department will transport boxes weighing up to 20 pounds if packed in strong wooden boxes, and to exceed two cubic feet in volume, well strapped and with a hinge or screw top, to permit examination by the military authorities. These packages must not contain inflammable, explosive or other prohibited matter. They will be delivered through military conveyance.

The war department announces that such parcels delivered through it must reach pier 1, Hoboken, N. J., not later than Dec. 5.

Whether sent through the postal service direct or through the war department from Hoboken, the rate of postage is 12 cents a pound from any point in the United States.

A Christmas Suggestion.

When you make a present of the Youth's Companion you are giving not merely the means of wholesome pleasure and fascinating information every week. The Companion is all that. But it is something more. Hundreds of letters to the Companion speak of the influence of the paper in binding home ties. The mothers and fathers and the boys and girls in Companion families are very close knit in their affections. They have a common interest in the same duties and recreations, and they all regard the Companion as one of themselves. It has a personality and a character unique among publications, and you cannot introduce a more inspiring influence into any home circle.

It is not a publication merely—it's a friend. The Companion alone is $2.00, but the publishers make an extraordinary double Christmas present offer—The Youth's Companion and McCall's Magazine together for $2.25.

This two-at-one-price offer includes:

- 1. The Youth's Companion—32 issues in 1918.
- 2. All remaining 1917 issues of The Companion free.
- 3. The Companion home calendar for 1918.
- 4. McCall's Magazine—12 fashion numbers in 1918. All for only $2.25. The Youth's Companion, Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.—Adv.

FIRST U. S. REPORT OF WAR ACTIVITY

With the American army in France, Oct. 29, by the Associated Press.—Following is the first official statement issued from the American headquarters:

"In continuation of their training as a nucleus for an instruction of later contingents, some battalions of our first contingent in association with veteran French battalions are in the first line trenches of a quiet sector on the French front.

"They are supported by some batteries of our artillery in association with veteran French batteries.

"The sector remains normal. Our men have adapted themselves to actual trench conditions in the most satisfactory manner."

MERELY FINISHING FOR YANKEES

Presence of Americans in Trenches Not Beginning of Real Participation in Fighting.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Announcement from General Pershing's headquarters that American troops were in the front line trenches in France marks the beginning of the culminating phase of the training of the American war army, says a dispatch from Washington. Neither Secretary Baker nor any war department officials would comment upon the news from abroad. It was plainly indicated, however, that the movement was regarded simply as the final course in instruction and not the real initiation of participation by the United States troops in the war.

The fact that a quiet sector of the French line has been selected for this final training work is evidence that the actual American front will be located elsewhere. It has been the custom of the British army to hand their new units gradually to the shock of shell fire before making them responsible for the holding of any portion of the front. The section in which the American infantry and artillery is at work is a finishing school for the military education of the men and particularly gunners, and when a sufficiently seasoned force has been developed the Americans will take over a portion of the front.

Uric Acid Eradicated

(By Dr. N. C. Cook.)

A poison as dangerous as strychnin is manufactured within our own body, called uric acid. When it accumulates in the body and the kidneys fail to carry it off, we suffer from dull headache, sleeplessness, muscular pains, lumbago, or it may cause rheumatism or gout. The uric acid can be seen in the cloudy sediment in the water—what is called the "brick-dust," noted on the sides of the vessel containing it—after a few hours' standing. The water is so milky, high-colored, strongly acid, and this should be a danger sign, and if not taken in time, by cutting out the meat, tea and alcohol, may end in rheumatism or gout.

Drink plenty of water between meals—a pint of hot water half an hour before meals—and take Anuric (double strength). This was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., and is harmless to the system, but sure and effective in carrying off the uric acid. It stimulates the kidneys and helps them to carry off the uric acid poison. Anuric can be obtained at almost any drug store, and helps to counteract the acidity of the system.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, first extracted and put into ready-to-use form by Dr. Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Adv.

Baby Eight Months Old Had Itching Rash Since Birth on His Face, Neck and Back. Two Cakes Cuticura Soap and One Box Ointment Healed

Above are extracts from a signed statement recently received from Mrs. George Woodbury, 4 French Street, Lynn, Mass.

Cuticura Soap, to cleanse, purify and beautify, Cuticura Ointment to soften, soothe and heal, have been most successful in the severest forms of skin and scalp troubles, but greater still is what they have done in preserving clear skins, clean scalps and good hair as well as in preventing little skin troubles becoming great ones. Cheap soaps, harsh soaps, coarse, strongly medicated soaps are responsible for half the skin troubles in the world. Stop the use of all doubtful soaps. Use Cuticura for all soiled purposes.

TRY TO HALT MACKENSEN

Italians Mass Forces in the Plains of Friuli

AT THE WEST OF TOLMINO

Italians Urge Allies to Send Guns—Their Great-est Need

Army headquarters in North Italy, Friday, Oct. 26.—(By Associated Press).—Virtually the entire Austrian army, reinforced by heavy German contingents, conducted by the redoubtable Field Marshal Von Mackensen, is now facing the Italian army in the greatest offensive since the beginning of the war, with the evident purpose of invading the Friuli region, which is the easternmost province of Venezia.

The main lines of the enemy's powerful thrust now have been clearly marked, and while military reasons prevent the giving of complete details, yet the essential features of the huge operation can be outlined.

It is now clear that the Austrians and Germans sought to make the best use of a surprise attack at the least expected and least fortified point on the north of the Julian front. To understand the field of the present operations it should be likened to a huge letter T. From the left arm of the T to its foot is about 22 miles. All attention must now be riveted on this left arm, for there is where Von Mackensen and his Austro-German troops have attempted to deliver their huge blow. The arm extends seven miles westward from Tolmino and the nearby villages of Santa Lucia and Santa Maria have now become the chief center of interest, as this was the point chosen for the surprise attack.

The lower stroke of the T is 30 miles long, from Tolmino to the sea, with Gorizia half way down. This gave two main fighting lines, the northern running horizontal, where the greatest blow was struck, and the southern running perpendicular, where a fierce bombardment seeks to prevent the Italians from moving re-enforcements to the threatened region in the north.

The Julian Alps run back of the northern line, and the Carso Alps back of the southern line to the sea. The distances stated are in a direct line. The mountains given an irregular formation, greatly extending the opposing fronts.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen's objective evidently was to recross the Isonzo, when the Italians had driven the Austrians back several miles into Austrian territory. He screened the movement by making feints toward the south and west of Tolmino, but his main army struck straight for the Isonzo, at Santa Lucia and Santa Maria.

The Italian forces were comparatively small at these outermost limits of their line and the advancing waves succeeded in crossing the Isonzo with comparative little serious obstruction. Here, however, they found themselves faced by a low range of mountains in which the passes are strongly held by the Italian army, and heavily reinforced from the center and the south.

The whole operation now pivots on the possibility of Von Mackensen driving his Austro-German force through these passes, where the danger is the first important place leading to the rich and level plain. All the indications at present are that the Italians are masters of the passes and can hold Von Mackensen against a further advance, although the tremendous force he has massed might permit a further scattered incursion.

The correspondent to-day went over a long stretch of the front in company with headquarters officers. It was the last visit permitted, as the general staff later announced that the danger had become such that no one would be allowed to approach the fighting line. This fortunate visit at the last moment gave opportunity for a comprehensive view of a long sweep of the fighting front along the southerly Carso line. Everywhere there was evidence of complete preparations in the midst of the terrific bombardment which the enemy lines were carrying out with a continuous answering fire from the Italian batteries. At one point could be observed a long train of guns drawn by a tractor starting for the north.

All the commanders had been on duty throughout last night, as the fierceness of the enemy bombardment threatened another advance at some point along the south front. One commander said, however, that the sudden attack was clearly a ruse to prevent reinforcements from going north.

Much havoc had been wrought by this fruitless bombardment. One shell struck a building occupied by a local command, sending up a volcano of departmental reports, but not killing anyone. A commander of British batteries showed a large projectile and smilingly said: "That is what they are planting in my garden."

Further along two Austrian airplanes flew low overhead amidst storms of shots which burst like cotton balls across the sky. They were unaimed, and sailed off proudly, but their pride was brief. An Italian officer told the sequel a half hour later.

"We saw them coming," he said, "and our batteries opened. A shell struck one machine amidship. The whole structure seemed paralyzed. Then the wooden framework burst into flames. We could see the pilot vainly trying to disengage himself. He made a plunge from the wreck and shot down inside our lines while flaming tatters of the machine trailed after him like the smoking remnant of a discharged rocket."

Everywhere along the roads there was a complete readiness to move batteries and men should the occasion require it. The men were in a cheerful confident mood and eager to reach the scene of the chief engagement. Everything gave evidence of the splendid organization and vast resources the army possesses to meet ordinary shocks.

The tremendous concentration the Austrians and Germans have now made for this supreme attack is pointed to as clearly showing the decisive advantage the allied artillery would render at this critical juncture. The coming war con-

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

R Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Ammonium Chloride, Linal and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health. Red Cross Pharmacy, Floyd G. Russell, Prop., and at the best drug store in every town and city in the country.—Adv.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

Norwich and Middlebury Will Play at Northfield.

Northfield, Oct. 29.—Much interest centers on the football game to be played between Norwich university and Middlebury college at Northfield, on Nov. 3. They have already played one game this season which resulted in a 7 to 0 victory for Norwich, the first they had won from Middlebury since 1912. The game is to take place on Howard field, where a natural grandstand is formed by the surrounding high ground. Automobiles have room to park at the top of the rise and the occupants can watch the game without leaving their machines. Middlebury has a strong team this year and are coming over with a hope of winning revenge for the first game. Norwich has developed greatly in the past two weeks and are resolved to tack another defeat to the Middlebury record. Following are some of the comparative scores since football relations were first opened by the two colleges:

LONGING FOR A CHILD

Young Wife Almost in Despair. Now has Beautiful Baby Girl.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought joy to many childless women by restoring them to normal health. Here is a notable case.

Omaha, Neb.—"I suffered from female troubles when I was seventeen years old. At eighteen I was married and my trouble was no better so I consulted a physician who said that there was not much I could do and I could not have children. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has proved worth its weight in gold to me for I am not only well but have a baby girl, so when I hear of any woman suffering as I was I tell her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. W. Hughes, 19 Majestic Apts., Omaha, Neb. In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong."

DEPOT BRIGADE IS SOON TO SEE FRANCE

Camp Bartlett's Men Expect to Fill Up Ranks of 26th Division Already Departed.

Camp Bartlett, Mass., Oct. 29.—The interpretation placed here upon press reports of the New England governors' conference with war department officials in Washington Saturday regarding the depot brigade, is that the officers and men will soon be ordered to France and placed near their comrades who left some time ago in the 26th division. Although not to be officially a part of that division, officers and men will be in corps troops close by and used as occasion demands.

Camp was deserted Saturday afternoon, due to the football game between the Maine "heavies" and the St. Aloysius team of Holyoke at Williamansett. The overwhelming victory of the soldier boys was a cause of deep satisfaction. The attendance from camp was large, even the bear mascot went along.

The total subscribed by the soldiers to the second Liberty loan is approximately $177,000. The 1st New Hampshire infantry leads all the regiments here in amount of subscriptions. This outfit has subscribed for well over $50,000 worth. It is, however, one of the largest units here. The Maine "heavies," which is also large numerically, subscribed the next largest amount. Of the other regiments, the 8th Vermont was third, the 8th Massachusetts fourth and the 6th Massachusetts fifth. The two Massachusetts regiments, however, are very small numerically, particularly the 6th, which consists almost altogether of commissioned and noncommissioned officers with very few privates.

at Paris, it is considered, will have a momentous decision to make in weighing the offensive and defensive possibilities of the Italian front in addition to manning men on the western front. To-night there is confidence that Von Mackensen's drive is held, but nobody underestimates the gravity of the situation and the need that the allies should be alive to it.

LOYAL OBEDIENCE IS AMERICAN DUTY

Cardinal Gibbons Declared in Sermon Delivered in Baltimore Cathedral

"Be Slow to Criticize."

Baltimore, Oct. 29.—"The paramount duty of American citizens in the present crisis is a hearty and loyal obedience to the constituted authorities," declared Cardinal Gibbons in a sermon on "Loyalty to Country," which he delivered in the cathedral here yesterday.

"Be slow to criticize," the cardinal continued. "Remember that you view the situation from one angle; your rulers contemplate it from various angles. They have lights and sources of information that are closed to you. Your judgment of the administration and your criticism of their official acts should be always subordinated to a generous and whole-souled submission to their rulings. It is theirs to command; it is yours to obey.

"And in manifesting your loyalty to your country, you will be pursuing a sacred and honorable course, and you will be following the invariable traditions of your fathers from the foundation of the republic.

"I thank God that we live in a country where liberty is granted without license and authority is exercised without despotism, where the government holds over us the aegis of its protection without interfering with the God-given rights of conscience.

"The United States has succeeded in solving the difficult problem of reconciling legitimate authority with individual freedom. We have no union between church and state. But this does not imply any antagonism between the two powers. Church and state amicably move in parallel lines, helping one another in their respective field of labor.

"The question is often asked: Will the republic endure? I have a firm and an abiding faith in the perpetuity of the nation. She has successfully weathered many a tumultuous tempest in the past, and with God's help, she will triumphantly ride over the storms that now assail her.

"But if our country with her glorious institutions is to survive, her survival must rest on a stronger basis than on the genius of our statesmen, the wisdom of our laws, and the patriotism of our people. If she is to endure, she must stand on the eternal principles of truth and justice and righteousness. She must rest on a devout recognition of an over-ruling providence who has created all things by His power, governs all things by His wisdom, whose guiding hand directs the affairs of nations and of men without whom not even a bird can fall to the ground. Our hope for the future welfare of the country must rest on downright honesty in our dealings with other nations."

Norwich Men in the Army.

According to data published in the October 20th issue of the Norwich University Record, there were on that date 255 Norwich cadets, and alumni; and they are scattered all the way from the 2d training camp to the fields of France. There are 29 men in the 2d training camps, and others are scattered through nearly every branch of the service. The lists include three brigade generals, one retired, one rear-admiral retired, and one retired captain. All the rest are in active service. There are three colonels, one lieutenant-colonel, nine majors, 35 captains, 38 first lieutenants, and enough second lieutenants and ensigns to make a list of 156 commissioned officers. In addition to the men in the federal service there are 21 men in the various home guard organizations, twelve of them being commissioned. Forty men who attended the university last year are now in service. The greater percentage of them entered the first training camps and won commissions there; quite a number were members of the Vermont National Guard, and the others either enlisted at the beginning of the war or went with the national army.

Norwich claims that she has given more men in proportion to her size than any other institution in all the wars since N. U. was established. In the Civil war, she gave 523 men to the armies of the country or 54.8 per cent of her living alumni. Fifty-eight and nine-tenths per cent of these men were commissioned officers, including 14 major generals and 38 brigadier generals. Service for the other wars has been in proportion.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FARM BUREAU ASSOCIATION

Notes for Week Ending Oct. 27.

- Calls at headquarters 20
- Letters written 27
- Farm visits made 35
- Circular letters sent out 450
- Miles traveled 312

The National Farm Loan Association—Several of the farm visits mentioned above were made with the loan committee of the first Washington County Farm Loan association, who have been busy this week appraising the property of the farmers making applications for the loans. The total applications for loans of the 26 applicants in this county district approximates $75,000. This work with the committee reveals the fact that the farmers are taking this matter in earnest. They are planning to use their loan in the discharge of old mortgages, the purchase of stock and equipment and the erection of better buildings, all of which will tend to increase the value of their property and will lead to the production of more crops and food.

Commercial Fertilizer—Have you made any plans about your commercial fertilizer for next spring? It is time to do this for several reasons. In the first place freight movements are very slow and there is no promise of better conditions this winter. This means that your orders will be slow in arriving. With nitrate of soda so high in price and with potash out of the market the fertilizer manufacturers are hard put to make an article that will be adapted to conditions as in the past. The prices that they will be able to make on this year's goods will leave the farmer less than ever for his dollar. It is up to you to look out for this and it can be done in two or three ways. Put in your order early. Plan to make the most of the fertilizer at hand, namely, the barnyard manure. Remember that manure contains the nitrogen, some phosphoric acid and quite a lot of the necessary potash. Keep the liquids soaked up with the solids and get the manure on the ground before it wastes. Make use of acid phosphate as a supplement to the manure. Many experiments have demonstrated that on the average land that has had fairly heavy applications of manure the acid phosphate will give as good results as a so-called complete commercial fertilizer. Order the acid phosphate now. F. H. Abbott, County Agent.
