DUTIES OF THE HOUR

To earn more by doing more to produce more.

To deserve all you get by giving full service for the price you are paid.

To hoard neither money nor goods, because "frozen" capital halts production and wrecks business.

To put fear in the discard and move forward boldly in all projected undertakings.

To put the surplus savings that industry will insure into Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Ten-dollar suit or overcoat, $8, Lamorcy's.

Universalist dance Feb. 22, Howland hall, Carroll's orchestra.—adv.

Ladies' and misses' 1918 spring coats and suits on display, Sadler's Knit Ave. E. L. Freeman has returned to his home in Boston, after passing several days in the city on business.

You are invited to attend the Washington's birthday box party from 7:30 to 8:30 to-night at Pitts'. Your choice of any box, 25c.

The Red Cross will receive half the proceeds from the L. O. L. minstrel show and dance to be given in Clan Gordon hall, Friday, March 1.—adv.

Miss Nora Morris, who is attending the training school for nurses in the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston, is passing a vacation of two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Morris, of Avon street.

Robert Hudson of Plainfield has taken up his residence in Barre, having been assigned to duty as ticket agent at the M. & W. R. passenger station. Mr. Hudson succeeds Bernard B. Hamel, who has gone to Burlington to enlist in the signal corps.

Peter Maberini of Foss street, who has been employed at the Marston lunch room during the past year, has completed his duties there. Mr. Maberini has secured a position at the Elks' club rooms at Montpelier and has commenced his duties there.

William T. Maiden, an instructor at Montpelier seminary, who is convalescing from an operation, was able to leave the hospital yesterday. Mr. Maiden is passing a few days with his mother, Mrs. John R. Maiden of Church street, before resuming his duties at the seminary.

Attend the K. of C. minstrel entertainment at Howland hall to-morrow night and enjoy an evening of fun. It will also help the Red Cross, as the proceeds are to be turned over to that organization. Only 25c for each one, but it should bring in quite a sum for war work. Plan to be there.

A lodge gathering of Masons in the rooms of DeWitt Clinton lodge at Waterbury last evening listened to remarks by William Hurry of this city, district deputy grand master, who made an official visit to the Waterbury lodge. Previous to the regular meeting Fred A. Howland of Montpelier spoke on U. S. thrift stamps.

Among the Barre boys who are leaving to-night or to-morrow to enter the service are James P. Riley, who is going to Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C., to join the 1st Vermont infantry, and Leslie A. Kinney, who expects to head for Fort Slocum, N. Y., there to be assigned to the coast artillery corps.

Employees and boarders at the Eureka restaurant gave a party last evening to James Parker, a regular customer at the establishment, who was observing his birthday. A dining table with 20 candles formed a center piece for the table arrangement, and at an informal after-dinner program a number of the boarders felicitated the guest of honor on having passed another milestone.

On the eve of their departure for Vancouver, Wash., Ernest Thompson and Charles Irish were outfitted by the Barre branch of the Red Cross. Each recruit received the regulation sweater, helmet, two pairs of socks, mittens and comfort kits.

Messrs. Thompson and Irish went to Montpelier this forenoon to join a delegation of Washington and Orange county boys bound for the West and South.

Accompanied by Mrs. Fradd, her son and her daughter, the body of William Fradd, a former resident of Long street, who died in Hartford, Conn., Monday, arrived in the city over the Central Vermont railroad last evening at 7 o'clock.

The remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of A. W. Badger & Co. to await funeral services in the Church of the Good Shepherd this afternoon.

To-night at Masonic hall the members of Granite chapter, No. 26, will entertain the lodges in the third capitular district of royal arch Masons. The meeting is to open at 7 o'clock with a reception to grand lodge officers and the exemplification of the royal arch degree by the local chapter, Frank R. Pitkin, the grand lecturer, is to review the ceremonial, and later in the evening remarks will be made by G. N. Tilden, C. A. Lang and other grand lodge officers. The Masons will serve a lunch.

Washington street commuters, if there were any abroad after it grew dark under the table last night, were privileged to enjoy all night service on the trolley line, for the little coach that daily plies between Willey street and the terminus made the up grade at frequent intervals until daybreak. Trouble was encountered yesterday in cutting through the ice, which formed rapidly on the rails, and when a feed pipe on the car sent in its resignation early in the afternoon, the Washington street line was abandoned to the elements. The car underwent repairs at the barn and by leaving headquarters at 5 o'clock managed to reach the end of the line at 9 o'clock. Thereafter it ran up and down the hill hourly, with the result that the road was open to traffic early this morning, constant travel over the irons having left them free from ice.

Somewhat overdue because of delays that have hindered school activities in general this winter, the January issue of The Goddard Record was distributed to subscribers yesterday. Just now with all eyes strained for the first sign of spring, it is a little dampening to run through the leading editorial, which chances to be on the subject of the new year, but it is carefully put together and breathes a fine spirit of appeal for the co-operation of students and other readers of The Record. There are interesting "soldier" letters from Major John Ridlon, who is probably the oldest Goddardite in the service, John Smith, who is at Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., and the former track athlete, Harry J. Mowles, who is stationed at the U. S. army ambulance camp in Allentown, Pa. A precocious Goddard humorist contributes a short sketch entitled "The Adventures and Mis-Adventures of O. Howe Looney." The usual amount of space is devoted to local matter and slumgum notes.

For the benefit of the Red Cross, the Knights of Columbus minstrels, which gave an entertainment during the K. of C. drive, will repeat it to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock at Howland hall. This is sure to please everyone. The following is the program: Opening, "Ebony Overture"; John Nelson, John Duncan, Charles Frenier, and James Bennett, quartet; solo, Charles Frenier, "Can't You Hear Me Calling Caroline?"; "Some Roses and You," Joseph Frenier; "Little Gray Home in the West," Mason Pierce; "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," Fred O'Connell; "Love, Here Is My Heart," James Bennett, Clement McMahon and John Duncan are the endmen; and O. W. Boyce interlocutor. An enjoyable evening is assured. The program will close with the patriotic selection, "What Kind of an American Are You?" Tickets for the Red Cross benefit are 25c each.

Early Showing of Silk Dresses

The government is urging the use of silks to save wool for the soldiers. We are all anxious to do all we can to give our men all the clothing they need. When we compare the price of silk dresses to that of wool it will not be hard for us to aid in this particular way. Silks are really adapted for spring and summer wear. They are serviceable to put on and worn in a general way, as silks will last much longer if kept in use than if hung up or laid away. See our early showing of these most popular dresses. See the afternoon party dresses in silk at $15.00 and $16.50.

Our Showing of Spring Suits

Copyright 1918 by The Wooltex Designers

We are now showing an exceptional line of the new Spring Suits. These are Suits that were bought early, and you will be surprised when you see how small an advance there is over former seasons. These are mostly the Wooltex & Printz-Beidermann makes, which means an all wool cloth that is put together by real tailors, and each garment is hand modeled, thus giving a garment that will keep its shape and always look well. If you want a Spring Suit, you will be much better pleased with your early purchases. We were never able to show you so full a line of Suits so early in the season. We bought them and had them come in early on account of the advance in prices that is sure to come later, and we are getting that advance now on future purchases. See how good a Suit we are showing at $22.50 to $35.00.

Our Showing of Spring Wash Goods

We are now showing an unusually large line of Spring Wash Goods, and for the next six weeks it will be the ideal time to do up your spring sewing, when the weather is ideal for staying in the home.

We have some new patterns in Madras that are especially new and good for men's shirts. These are in yard-wide materials and mostly good, medium Stripes. These are in a fast color and will surely please.

You should see our line of Silk and Cotton Foulards. These are in a double width material and the patterns are as good as any all-silk cloths we could show you.

The line of Reception Voiles which we are now showing is the largest we have shown in any season. The patterns are new and qualities good. These are a material that makes up into unusually attractive dress models. You should make your selection of these materials before the line is broken.

Ginghams will be unusually popular this season. They will be used for street and afternoon wear, and you will find the qualities and patterns the best in many seasons.

Palm Beach Cloths and Linens will be used for dresses and separate skirts. Because of their weight they will be good for early spring wear. See our line of White Goods in all qualities and styles of materials.

We now have a large assortment of Endurance Cloths.

What can we do who are not in the service to assist in winning the war? Save all we can of wheat, meat and sugar.

RED + NOTES

With the prospects of money coming into the treasury in the near future and with the enthusiasm being kindled by the approaching "Winter Carnival and Cattle Show," which a number of the men of the city are putting so much time and thought into, the Red Cross feels that it has taken a new lease of life. There is nothing that so helps any organization as to have the public in general wake up to its possibilities, its needs and what it may accomplish with help. Much is being done now; more will be done, and the next month will see a marked increase in the information which the public will receive in regard to this work.

You don't begin to realize yet just what this winter carnival is to develop into. There will be big money in it for the Red Cross, but don't think for a moment that will be all there is to it, even though that is the prime object. This winter has been without much in the line of entertainments. The fuel situation has tended to keep down unnecessary social gatherings and there has been little of the customary mingling of friend with friend. March 6 and 7 are the dates of the carnival and of fun there will be a plenty. Everybody will want to be there lest they miss some of the pleasure. It will be the biggest thing of the season, and perhaps of many seasons.

But you don't have to wait until March 6 and 7 before helping out the cause. To-morrow night the K. of C. minstrels are repeating their entertainment, which was previously given for the benefit of the Knights of Columbus fund, and the Universalist ladies, who are putting it on, have promised to give the whole proceeds from the entertainment to the Red Cross. Your 25 cents would make one-fourth of a dollar, and several fourths would buy a good bit of yarn or other supplies to work with. Think it over.

The Rutland branch of the Red Cross has been given a gauze cutting machine by Mrs. William A. Davis of that city, which the women had been anxious to purchase for some time, but lacked the means. It will save much time and material.

Mrs. DeForest W. Carpenter of Richford has knitted 75 pairs of socks, three mufflers, one sweater, one pair of wristers and five sweaters, which the Red Cross branch was organized there.

A Red Cross nurse from Boston is to come to the headquarters at St. Albans to instruct the members in making surgical dressings. Twelve women have volunteered to form such a class.

A Red Cross dance at Manchester Depot netted that organization $80.72.

All up for the winter carnival and cattle show.

March 6 and 7.

Notice.

The attention of the accredited delegates from the several locals to the Central Labor union is specially called to the next meeting of said Central Labor union, which will be held in the carpenters' hall, Worthen block, on Friday evening, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p. m. As there is business of the utmost importance to be discussed, it is the earnest desire of the executive committee that every local be represented to the limit. Per order Angus McDonald, secretary.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gamble of Division street returned yesterday forenoon from Moretown, where they have been visiting with friends during the past few days.

The mission circle of the Universalist church will meet with Mrs. B. A. Eastman, Camp street, to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Watchword, patience.

Miss Edith Martinson of Perrin street is detained from her duties at the Martinson Estate granite concern for a few days, she being confined to her home on account of illness.

All stores, members of the Barre Retail Merchants' association, Inc., will remain open on Thursday, Feb. 21, until 9 o'clock p. m., and will be closed all day Friday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday.

SICK WITH MUMPS.

William Martin Writes from Base Hospital at Camp Greene.

William Martin, sick in the base hospital at Camp Greene with the mumps, writes thus to his parents in Barre: Base Hospital, Camp Greene, Feb. 16. Dear Mother and All: Just a few lines to let you know how I am. Am in the hospital now, but am all right. Was put in for the mumps. Say, if you write to me again, write as soon as you get this letter, for we leave for South Carolina and from there we go about to —, and I have got to stay in the hospital until the 28th of the month and will receive your letter if you write right away.

I am not in the 1st Vermont infantry any more. We are the Pioneer company of General Dickman. We are going to be orderlies. When my time is up in the hospital, I will go to South Carolina and join the rest of the boys. I was in hopes to get a pass home before I went to —, but now I can't, and as long as I am an orderly I do not want one. Well, this is a hurry letter, but have got lots to write and must close. Answer right away. Do not send cakes. I will answer the one you write and then will not write again until I get to South Carolina. Then will tell you about that place. William.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Washington's birthday box party to-night at Pitts'. Your choice of any box 25c. "I Ain't Got Nobody," is a winner when sung by "Bill" Robertson, in L. O. L. minstrels, March 1.—adv.

Come and see K. of C. minstrels in Howland hall to-morrow night at 8 o'clock and hear James Bennett sing. Benefit of Red Cross.

Voters, whose address is incorrectly stated in the checklist prepared for use at the election to be held March 5, or those who have changed from one ward to another during the year past, are requested to advise the city clerk regarding the same before Feb. 27. By doing so they will save themselves the trouble of attending the meetings of the board of civil authority, and also help to bring the checklist up to date.

BARRACKS COMFORTABLE.

Private Ernest Eastman Writes from France.

Mrs. John Tucker of South Barre has received the following letter from her brother, Private Ernest Eastman, 103 U. S. Inf., Co. G, somewhere in France: Dear Sister: I received your letter and was more than glad to hear from you and know you are all well. I was sick one day on the ocean, but am as well as ever now and getting fat every day. We had turkey and sweet potatoes for Thanksgiving, and turkey, figs, apples and walnuts for Christmas. I thought that was pretty good for the army.

We have about four inches of snow, but I'll bet you have more in Vermont than that. We sleep in barracks and there are between 65 and 70 men in one barrack. We have two stoves in it and so we are very comfortable. I guess I'll have tobacco enough to last a few days if I get all that has been sent me. I have a sweater and everything to keep warm with. One of the boys got some papers and I saw a letter Frank had written home.

Tell John I should like to be home and go hunting with him. I think I could get more rabbits than he could. Well, I must close, as there isn't much to say. Write often and tell the folks to do the same. Ernest.
