

Keeping Baby Out of Doors

Plenty of air and sunshine are essential to your baby's growth and healthy development. In order that he may get the full benefit of his hours out of doors, you should buy him a Whitney Sleeper like the one shown above.

This Carriage has an adjustable hood, roomy body, soft cushions, durable upholstery that will not soil easily, light flexible springs, and rubber-tired wheels that sit solidly on the axles. It rides easily and without jolts to baby, and the reversible gear enables it to be pushed from either end.

We are showing some very attractive new models in our spring stock and would like to give you a "demonstration."

A postcard and a photograph received to-day by George Murray, Jr., of the Sullivan Machinery Co.'s local office indicates that Capt. W. L. Morrison, late of Barre, who has been stationed at Fort Columbia, Wash., has left for overseas and will shortly be with the American expeditionary forces.

Hans Eriksson of South Main street, who has been employed as a granite cutter at the Johnson & Gustavson granite plant on Circle street for several months, left yesterday afternoon for Denver, Col., where he will take up his residence. Mr. Eriksson expects to join his brother, who has been employed in Colorado for several years.

Barre firemen have commenced to benefit by the salary increases authorized by the city council when it amended an ordinance last January in order to comply with recommendations from the fire committee. The new schedule is arranged on an accelerated scale, the increases being fixed in proportion to the length of service of each man.

Under the direction of E. C. Brock, who has superintended the work for several years, the six polling places used in to-day's elections were arranged for the work yesterday afternoon. Ballot boxes, collapsible booths and other furniture have been stored in the city hall, and the work of distributing the fixtures occupied most of the day.

Measures adopted by Dr. J. W. Stewart to enforce a strict quarantine in the house at 451 North Main street, where smallpox has developed, have been heartily approved by the aldermanic health committee. To-day the work of vaccinating persons known to have been exposed by the new patient, Bianchi, was carried forward. Bianchi contracted the malady, it is thought, by getting shaved in a barber's chair just vacated by Daniel Houghton, the man who developed the first case.

E. J. Dole of Danville, who was formerly a member of the Spaulding high school faculty and who at present is enlisted as a member of the aviation branch of the U. Private Norman Gordon, who has been residing at his home on Richardson street while pursuing a special course at Norwich university, will leave this evening for Spartanburg, S. C., where the 1st Vermont regiment was recently transferred from Camp Greene. Private Gordon, as a candidate for admission to the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, recently submitted to preliminary examinations at Montpelier. He will not be able to ascertain the outcome for several days, and in the meantime he is under orders to report for duty with the 1st Vermont infantry, from which he was furloughed two months ago. If he was successful in passing the examinations, he will go to Annapolis around June 1 for the customary physical examination.

Tickets are being circulated throughout Washington county for the St. Patrick's day entertainment and supper complimentary to Mrs. Mary F. McWhorter, national president of the L. A. A. O. H., to be held in Howland hall on Monday, March 18. Joint committees representing the Ancient Order of Hibernians and ladies' auxiliary have been meeting to arrange a program of entertainment and a menu for supper that will be tempting to the palate and at the same time meet the requirements of the food censor, and the result will be an excellent supper, a fine musical program and a most entertaining and instructive address by Mrs. McWhorter, who is considered by many to be one of the foremost woman speakers on the American platform.

Barre passengers bound from Boston and intermediate places over the Montpelier & Wells River railroad last night found themselves beleaguered in a lonely spot known as Smith's siding, west of Groton, the hold-up being due, not to train hands, but to a broken locomotive journal. Meanwhile, people headed for Montpelier and Barre who languished in way stations between Smith's and this city were unable to obtain definite information of the train's whereabouts until a late hour. At Plainfield residents of this city at last grew weary of scanning the place where the rails meet for a glimpse of a friendly headlight and engaged livery accommodations to bring them to Barre. A wrecking crew from Montpelier was finally summoned to Smith's and around 1 o'clock the train due to arrive in Barre at 6:33 reached the capital. Meanwhile, trains to this city had been annulled, and no attempt was made to travel Barre-ward until this morning, when yesterday morning's Boston papers were all that remained of the load which lingered at Smith's.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to the neighbors and other friends for their numerous acts of kindness and feeling expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement. Our thanks are especially due to the friends in Milford for their watchful care in our sorrow; also for the beautiful floral tributes from Barre and Milford friends.

Mrs. Joseph Cella,
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Comelli and family,
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ahrens,

Latest Tailored Models With Unusual Appeal

Copyright 1918 by The Wooltex Designers

Fashion says: "Appear slender, dress simply and save cloth. This has been attempted by many makers of suits and coats.

You know the result—it is harder this season than ever to dress as fashion says and yet express your individuality.

Now the Wooltex and Printz-Beiderman tailors have avoided everything that is commonplace—their genius has created dozens of distinctive, slender models, each different in detail and different in the way the figure is revealed.

Our Usual Showing of Dress Goods

We are now ready to show you one of the largest and best lines of Wash Goods we have ever had so early in the season. One reason for this is that we bought early so as to be able to protect the trade on prices.

Our line of Plain, Colored Voiles is more popular than ever. The colors are good and they are of a weight and finish that will make up as good looking as silk. These are 40 inches wide and the price only 29c per yard.

Early Showing of Coats

Our unusually large showing of the new Spring Coat models is very attractive. Note the skillful combining of lines and details to bring out the slenderness of figure.

The many new and original effects which are added to give the straight, slender lines, the many different panel back effects are very attractive. Nearly everything has an attractive belt effect of some sort.

These Coat models you will find are made up from an all-wool cloth of the season's popular materials. Serges will be more popular than ever.

This line of Coats you will find in the season's popular prices, and you will be surprised to know how little they are advanced in price over last season.

There is every probability that one of the first official acts of the mayor elected to-day will be to call a special city meeting. Communications from the New England Liberty loan committee and from Gov. Graham were to have been read in a city meeting, but under Barre's charter the citizens do not assemble within the walls of a single polling place, and the suggestion that a half-hour be devoted to patriotic purposes in Barre as in towns elsewhere in Vermont, did not appear feasible. Another reason for a special city meeting is the desire of the Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power company to get its proposed new franchise before the voters at a referendum. It will be recalled that the city council has already accepted the revamped franchise, and the traction people are anxious to have it ratified in the near future. The suggestion has been made, too, that the business of the annual city meeting, usually held in April, might be combined with that of the proposed special meeting this month.

As a wartime measure the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association has affiliated with the U. S. A. Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement made in the current issue of Barre Granite, the monthly publication of the Barre manufacturers. The prime purpose of the affiliation, according to Barre Granite, is to gain for local granite producers the advantages of representation whenever those in governmental authority ask for an expression of business opinion. Boards of trade, chambers of commerce and other business associations throughout America are connected with the national chamber. The first mission of the chamber is to ascertain business opinion as it is expressed in various parts of the country whenever an opinion upon important measures affecting commerce is desired, and to place the consensus of opinion before legislative bodies that have the power to put such measures into effect.

Music

A War-Time Necessity

Imagine, if you can, a nation going in to war without the thrill of music.

Imagine, if you can, a nation battling through the dark days of a prolonged struggle without the heartening comfort of music.

The Victrola is literally the nation's chief source of music. More Americans—and Americans in the making—have learned "The Star Spangled Banner" from the Victrola than from any other one source.

Victrola

The Victrola is in millions of homes, it is in camp, on shipboard, in the trenches, the hospitals, the schools, and the churches. It is one of the greatest, if not the greatest means of diversion.

Let Us Put a Victrola in Your Home

You'll hardly miss the outlay in convenient payments, but you are missing the influence of the world's best music every day you are without a Victrola.
