

No Medicine-Chest Without Its Family Laxative

From the baby to the grandparents a good laxative is the necessary medicine in the little ills. It wards off serious sickness and saves doctor's bills. Many a cold has been prevented from running into grippe and pneumonia by its timely use.

Many a racking headache has been quickly dispelled by it. And it is a laxative rather than a drastic cathartic or purgative that should be in every family medicine-chest, for a laxative can be used at all ages.

Thousands of good American families have for more than a quarter century used a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a laxative-herb tonic that acts on the bowels and stomach. Infants take it with perfect safety, and it is equally effective for grownups.

Grandparents are now seeing their children give it to their babies. It is excellent for all the family in constipation no matter how chronic, indigestion, wind colic, biliousness, headaches, dyspepsia and similar ills.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

NO INCREASE
In spite of enormous increased laboratory costs due to the war the manufacturers of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sacrificing their profits and absorbing the war taxes, so that this family laxative may remain at the same price of 50c and $1.00 a large bottle. So sold by druggists for 26 years

RANDOLPH

Miss Bessie Stevens of Hanover, N. H., is in town for a few days with her father, C. C. Stevens, coming at this time to visit a friend, Mrs. Allard, at the sanatorium, who is there for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oney have returned from a several days' stay in Pittsfield and Rutland, where they have been with friends and relatives.

Mrs. C. J. Rumlill was in Stratford over Sunday to visit Miss Florence Judd, a trained nurse, who has volunteered for service as a Red Cross nurse.

Charles Nichols of New York came on Thursday for a short stay with his sister, Mrs. F. C. Angell, while attending to business matters in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard, who came from Allburg to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. B. E. Thresher, returned to Burlington on Thursday. With them went Mrs. Hugh Thresher, who was here for the same purpose.

The funeral of the late Mrs. B. E. Thresher was held in the Methodist church on Thursday forenoon. Rev. Joseph Hamilton officiating. The service consisted of prayer, reading Scriptures and a few remarks, following which the burial was in the Braitree branch cemetery in the Thresher lot. The husband and daughter, Miss Martha Thresher, and her college roommate, Miss Anna Fowler, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thresher returned on the afternoon train, Thursday. The daughter is to graduate in May from Boston university.

Miss Marion Bullard, who was here this week for a brief stay before being called into service, was presented a gold wrist watch by the directors of the Randolph sanatorium in appreciation of her services as matron of the institution.

The local town team gained a victory over the South Royalton team at basketball, at the high school building on Wednesday evening.

One hundred and two couples attended the dance given at the Salisbury ware house last week Thursday evening, and cleared about $20 for the Red Cross fund.

William Booth, the father of C. S. Booth, died at Newport, N. H., on Thursday morning after a severe illness. Mr. Booth would have been 90 years of age April 10. The remains will be brought here Saturday, and the funeral will be held at 1:30 p. m. at the home of C. S. Booth, the son, and interment will be in Southview cemetery. Mr. Booth had been living with his son, Fred Booth, and his daughter, Mrs. Sarah Thompson, for a few years.

The annual meeting of the Randolph Women's Literary club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Fraser Metzger, on Saturday afternoon, when the following officers were elected to serve for the year: President, Mrs. C. P. Lamson; vice-president, Mrs. J. P. Gifford; secretary, Mrs. L. A. Russell; treasurer, Miss Annie Walsh; program committee, Mrs. E. H. Allis, Mrs. J. R. Adams, Mrs. P. F. Morse, Mrs. W. W. Morton, Mrs. E. F. Emerson; book committee, Miss Mary Tewksbury, Miss Jennie Stewart, Mrs. M. P. Morse, Mrs. M. A. Tewksbury, Mrs. H. H. Paige; flower committee, Mrs. G. A. Chedel; Mrs. H. T. Johnson. It was voted to give the books now in circulation in the club to the Kimball public library. At the next meeting it is expected that the club will take some action in regard to definite war work.

The program at the last grand evening was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Gladys Flint; reading, Mrs. Litchfield; clarinet solo, J. C. Harlow; explanation of the registration of women under the direction of the women's committee of the council on national defense, Mrs. J. C. Harlow; vocal solo, Mrs. C. S. Booth. A paper was read relating to the "Book Drive" for soldiers by Mrs. Carrigan. A reading by Mrs. C. H. Holman concluded the program. A service flag with seven stars was hung in the hall and plans for a sugar party was also made to occur at the next meeting.

Miss Lenora Batchelder of Plainfield is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen this week.

The K. K. K. has hung out from the window of their club room a service flag having ten stars, denoting that almost fifty per cent of its membership have gone into service.

Rev. Frazer Metzger, V. A. Grant and Ernest A. Hatch have rented E. W. Kent's sugar place near South Randolph, for the season. They have been into the woods to cut wood to use in the boiling of the sap, if it ever runs. Mr. Grant will reside in the inside and the others will attend to the outside work.

A CAMPAIGN TO MAKE OUR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN STRONG AND EFFICIENT

These New England People Believe That Many of the Physical Disabilities Shown by the Draft Examinations Could Have Been Prevented by Keeping the Blood Built Up and the Nerves Fully Nourished

This is a time when strong men and women are needed. The government is also beginning to look after infant welfare and the conservation of child life so that the coming generation will be made up of strong, red-blooded men, and efficient, steady-nerved women.

Many of the physical disabilities that were revealed by the medical examinations made under the army draft law could have been avoided if carelessness in health matters had been corrected, if this blood had been built up to restore weakened muscles and revitalize wasted nerves.

ing to water, and I was pale and thin. My ears were transparent. I had no appetite and my stomach could not stand any food, even a glass of milk would upset it. An aunt, who came to visit us, took me home with her, thinking the change would do me good. I did not improve in health and was often confined to my bed, at one time for six weeks.

had no appetite and solid food gave me distress. I had constant dull headaches over my eyes. Oftentimes I felt so used up that I would have to sit down in the midst of my household duties to try and get rested so as to be able to finish at least a part of my day's work. I had no color—even my lips were bloodless—my appetite was poor, my heart palpitated, and the least exertion made me short of breath.

For Weak, Nervous Children

Close confinement in school during the past winter, overstudy perhaps, an attack of the grip or tonsillitis, some one of these things is doubtless responsible for the condition of the child who shows a decline in health now.

What are the symptoms? Pallor and languor, a feeble appetite, dark rings under the eyes, bronchial colds. Very often the best efforts of the family physician fail in such cases, and the condition of the child causes the most intense anxiety. Cod-liver oil, so often prescribed, generally fails because the weak stomach is unable to digest fats.

Try this treatment. Before breakfast each morning give the child the juice of half an orange. After the noon meal give one of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Keep this up for a few days, then give one of the pills after the evening meal also. Weigh the child before beginning the treatment and again after two weeks.

An increase in weight of from two to four pounds will show you that you are on the right track at last.

St. Vitus' dance is a disease easier to prevent than to cure. Nervous children should therefore be carefully watched for symptoms of the approach of this disorder.

In the early stages a good tonic for the blood and nerves will go far toward preventing the development of the disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for example, are a tonic and opiate, for they make the nervous condition much worse. When your child appears listless, prefers to sit and read rather than go out and play and requires altogether too much time to get his or her lessons, give a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. C. E. Redman of No. 49 Salem street, Bradford, Mass., says: "When I was in my teens, I caught a severe cold. It settled all over me, and that was the starting point of my illness. My mother took me to a number of doctors, but they did me no good at all. Everyone thought that I was going into consumption. Each week I became weaker, until I was so completely run down that I had to give up my work. My blood was turned caused by lack of blood.

The symptoms described in the following statement are so common to-day that the means by which relief was secured deserve the careful attention of every thoughtful man and woman.

Mrs. B. G. Goodwin of No. 391 Elm street, Gardner, Mass., was suffering with anemia—lack of blood. She says: "I lost color and strength and became so weak that my husband had to help me around. Very often I would get dizzy and seem to see floating specks before my eyes. I would wake up through the night and be so numb all over that it seemed my blood would never start circulating again. My hands and feet would actually pain when the circulation began. This numbness would last for an hour. My digestion was poor, and I couldn't breathe well."

"My doctor treated me for anemia, but I finally stopped taking his medicine. I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and felt some better after I had taken them only a short time. I gradually grew better and got so that I didn't need medicine any more. My health is good now and I have had no serious sickness since. I gained in weight also."

Regained Health and Strength.

When a woman's color fades and she looks debilitated, is short of breath, when her heart palpitates after every slight exertion and she has pains in various parts of the body, she needs the treatment that Mrs. George Allaire, of No. 4 Knox street, Worcester, Mass., recommends so highly from her own experience. She says: "I was wretchedly ill, had lost much flesh and was ghastly white. I could not eat nor sleep, could not work—in fact, was so weak that I spent more time in

To Strengthen the Nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for nervous people because they are non-alcoholic and nervous patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants.

The treatment consists largely in rest, recreation and the use of the tonic, the discontinuation of any practice that may have caused the trouble and abstinence from tea, coffee and stimulants. As the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood the latter must be built up and made rich and pure. Especially if there is loss of weight and pallor indicating a weakness of the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are best adapted.

Mrs. James H. Dyer, of No. 27 Lowell street, Lowell, Mass., says: "I was a sufferer from nervous debility for years. I felt weak all of the time and could not stand any physical strain. I had frequent sick headaches and often fainted away. I was worried constantly and was very much discouraged."

"The doctors said I had neurasthenia, or nervous debility, and advised a complete rest and change, but I was unable to take them because of my children. For years I was under treatment and had almost given up hope. A friend who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People urged me to try them. I was much stronger after a short trial of the pills and resolved to keep on with them. My health is now much better, and I recommend the pills very highly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful or habit-forming drugs, and the sufferer who gives them a trial will avoid the danger so common in taking drugs which only deaden pain.

What Overwork and Worry Do.

Overwork and worry are two causes of many of the minor ills of humanity. Women especially are subject to the nervous afflictions that arise from these causes.

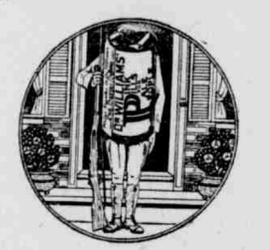

Mrs. Herbert J. May, of No. 121 Shaw street, New London, Conn., has been well and healthy since building up and purifying her blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Her experience is further proof of the value of this treatment in all cases of debility. Mrs. May says: "Through overwork I became all run down and was sick for three months. I

Let Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Guard Your Home.

Everyone cannot have perfect health but unless you have an organic disease it is generally possible to improve your physical condition by attention to the rules of health, the first of which is to keep the blood built up. So great is the necessity of keeping the blood rich and red, that it is also of the greatest importance that we know how to recognize the thinning of the blood which leads to danger of many kinds.

Pure blood is the force that guards the body against the disease germs that are in the air we breathe, in the food we eat, in the water we drink. There is a constant battle between these disease germs and the red corpuscles that swarm in healthy blood. That is why so many people exposed to disease do not contract it. Those whose blood is weak and therefore lacking in defensive power are most liable to infection. Everybody may observe that healthy, red-blooded people are less liable to attacks of cold and the grip than are pale, bloodless people.

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural, tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

No Increase in Price.

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of prices, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet, full of useful information. So is the pamphlet on "The Home Treatment of Nervous Disorders." They are sent free on request.—Advt.

EAST CORINTH

East Corinth Congregational Church, Inc., Organized with Over 70 Members.

At the preparatory meeting of the church March 8, the members voted to accept the constitution as prepared by the committee for that purpose, taking the name, East Corinth Congregational church, Inc. The new church starts out with over 70 members, a very large Sunday school, one of the largest if not the largest in this side of the county, and all its activities in a flourishing condition.

Saturday, March 9, the Truth Seekers and Emma Brown classes in Sunday school united in a class dinner in the vestry, to which 36 sat down. This included Rev. and Mrs. Malzard and the associate superintendent, L. L. Worthley, and wife, and the children of members of the class. As usual it was a very enjoyable occasion.

Wednesday of this week the W. M. U. met with Miss Susie Taplin. Twenty-two members and two visitors, beside several children, were present, and two new members were voted in. The work committee had aprons ready for the sewers, and a good start was made for our fair next October.

The five-month-old baby daughter of Ashur White died Friday night and was buried Monday. The parents have the sympathy of the community.

J. W. Zwicker of East Corinth is working for E. S. Locke.

On Friday evening, March 8, the Red Cross sale and entertainment was the destination of a large crowd of people from near and far. The Jersey heifer, donated by W. K. Davis, was sold for $25 and again donated to the Red Cross by W. K. Davis, Ernest Locke, Harry Niles, L. T. Welch and S. F. Locke. It was then sold a second time for $25 to Henry Chase, thereby netting the Red Cross a total of $50. Canned goods, vegetables, fowls, fancy articles and a cord of wood were also well sold, bringing in a goodly sum of money. The program consisted of music, both vocal and instrumental, readings and a farce, "Aunt Deborah's First Luncheon," given by seven local young ladies. Promenade closed the program. F. J. Ackerman of Ver-shire gladly gave his services as auctioneer. The ladies are to be congratulated, as they cleared a sum of $101.50 toward this great work.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MANAGER'S NOTE—In fairness to the public, an announcement is made that, as Anna Held has been ill, it cannot be promised that she will appear here. If she is not able to, her role will be assumed by her charming and talented daughter, Liane Held, idol of Paris music halls, who has been appearing in the principal role with remarkable success and is everywhere acclaimed a worthy successor to her famous mother. She will wear all of Anna Held's remarkable gowns. The production will be seen here in its entirety just as it scored a sensational success in New York and just as it has achieved continued success on the road. (Get this!) "Follow Me" is the only musical comedy attraction to survive a wartime trip from coast to coast and is now returning to New York as triumphantly as it went to San Francisco, gaining in every city the name of the most beautiful production ever staged.
