

BARRE DAILY TIMES

MONDAY, MAY 20, 1918.

The Weather.

Probably showers to-night and Tuesday. Cooler Tuesday in New Hampshire and Vermont; moderate south to south-west winds.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See Abbott's line of silk dresses. Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "The Voice of Conscience," a six-reel Metro feature, Bijou to-morrow.—adv.

County Game Warden E. S. Newcomb of Waterbury Center was in the city Saturday to confer with his deputies here.

Maccabees. Attention! Special practice meeting of officers and guards in K. of P. hall Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock sharp.

Will be at McAllister's store, Williamstown, Wednesday and Thursday, with a line of light and dark hats. Mrs. A. M. Carroll.

All members of Barre council, K. of C., are requested to meet in their hall Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock for the purpose of attending mass.

Georgianna Mudgett, 33 Park street, representative of P. F. Bonney's Sons, Boston, has had a phone installed, the number being 47-1.—adv.

The bonds for the third Liberty loan are now ready for delivery to our subscribers who wish to take in full their subscription. Quarry Savings Bank & Trust Co.

Mrs. George R. Robertson, a resident of this city for many years, is calling on friends while here on business, before going to Quincy, Mass., to make her home.

The government has sent $35,000 additional third Liberty loan bonds to the Granite Savings Bank & Trust Co. Bonds now ready for delivery to those who have paid in full.

Miss Shirley Macnell of Ayers street, who is taking a week's vacation from her duties at the Daylight store, left yesterday for Greensboro, where she will spend a week camping.

John Jacobs, who has been enrolled as a student at Goddard seminary during the past two years, returned to the city last evening from Boston, where he has been spending the past week.

K. of C. concert and ball, Howland hall, Monday, the 20th. Music by Carroll's eight-piece orchestra. The last chance before the next draft quota leaves for camp. Admission, $1 per couple; extra ladies, 25c.—adv.

Socks and comfort kits are ready for each boy leaving for war service, called by the latest drafts, and it is desired that such young men call at the home of Mrs. S. N. Parker, 25 Spaulding street, where they will be supplied.

A very beautiful sight was witnessed yesterday morning at St. Monica's church, when 76 children received holy communion for the first time at the 9 o'clock mass, from their pastor, Rev. Fr. McKenna, celebrant of the mass.

The children met at the altar and marched to the church. The girls were dressed in white and wore white veils, while the boys wore dark suits with white ribbon on their arms. After the service, they were complimented by Rev. Fr. McKenna on the way in which they received holy communion, showing that they had been well drilled and well taught.

Supporters of the Spaulding high school baseball team will have a chance to see their team in action twice this week, games being scheduled for Wednesday and Friday afternoons, at the Lincoln campus. Wednesday afternoon the Waterbury high school team will be their opponents. Although the Waterbury team appears on the Spaulding schedule this season for the first time, they appear to have one of the best teams in the state, their victory over the Spaulding team at Waterbury recently by the score of 3 to 2, after a ten-inning contest, being a sufficient proof of their mettle. Friday afternoon the Burlington high school team will make its appearance.

Stories told by two pals failed to agree in essential details when recalled in municipal court this morning, with the result that Rodney McDonald of Ryegate and Murdo McAuley of Websterville are to serve at least 30 days each in the county jail. The two men were locked up yesterday on intoxication charges and later entered on the records as habitual drunkards. Grand Juror William Wishart asked for disclosures, but the inquiry ended with the prosecutor in possession of the knowledge that strangers furnished the two neighbors with their booze. Magistrate H. W. Scott imposed a fine of $10 and costs in each case and added the jail sentences.

As a part of the war chest campaign to be waged in Barre next week, more than one hundred school children, most of them Spaulding high school students, were busy Saturday on the census which is to tabulate every man, woman and child within the city limits. To-day the students were reporting to Supt. C. H. White of the city schools, who is one of the members of a committee elected to supervise the census. Everywhere the youthful canvassers found people ready to give the information cheerfully, although naturally in a number of cases the absence of householders prevented the children from gaining the desired data. They are under instructions to return for the information as often as two or three days may elapse before the figures are ready for compilation.

MONTPELIER

Recruiting at Army Station Has Been Picking Up.

The recruiting in the army office here has been picking up for a few days and four young men were secured last week. Private Thomas McNiff is still in charge of the office, the new man to succeed Sergeant Walter Brooks, having not yet been assigned.

Those who have enlisted through the local office are Henry C. Bonquet, Granby, P. Q., Ernest Lagimodiere, Granby, P. Q., Alexander Daigle, Granby, P. Q., the first two of whom went to the infantry and the third to the field artillery, while Joseph W. Harnois of Richford went to the infantry. These men have been sent to Albany, N. Y., for further examinations.

Hiram Thornton was taken this morning by Deputy Sheriff Edward Gile to the house of correction in Rutland, to serve a sentence of six months for breach of probation.

Insurance Commissioner J. G. Brown is in New York attending an executive meeting of the insurance commissioners' national organization.

Frank Merrill of Palmer, Mass., is visiting in the city. Mrs. Merrill will remain here for a few days and will also visit in Roxbury, while Mr. Merrill, who is superintendent of the southern division of the Central Vermont railway, is in Chicago attending a conference upon railroad matters. Mr. Merrill will be recalled here as formerly employed by the Central Vermont railway as claim agent before his appointment as superintendent of the southern division.

H. J. M. Jones, state fuel administrator, has gone to Philadelphia, where he will spend several days in an effort to secure anthracite coal for Vermont, and will meet with the committee, which has charge of the shipment of that line of coal. Last year Mr. Jones advised the federal authorities that they would have to get their coal into Vermont in the summer months, but nothing was done about it until winter, with the result that the state suffered from the experience.

Governor Graham on Sunday afternoon received a telegram from President Wilson that the sheep which have been grazing on the White House lawn for a few weeks have been sheared and that the proceeds received from the sale of the wool will go to the Red Cross. There was enough wool secured from the shearing so that two pounds of it was allotted to each state and Vermont's share is expected any day. Governor Graham's office will receive bids for the wool, for it will be sold at auction during the present week, all bids being made to the governor's office. Arrangements were being perfected this morning for the announcing of the highest bidder in the daily papers this week.

James Peck of Middlebury was in the city Sunday.

Corp. Leonard Lawless of Camp Devens was home Saturday evening. He had a short leave, arriving here on the evening train and going back on the morning train. He is suffering with rheumatism and says that it is very improbable that he will see service in France.

Someone wanting to get rid of five small pigs left them behind an advertising board on Winooski avenue. A report was made to the police Sunday morning and an investigation is being made into the matter. The pigs had been dead some days.

Sunday morning a man who said he lived in Barre telephoned to the police station, asking if it would be all right if he left his car beside the road in Montpelier until Monday morning. The officer in the station at the time stated it would be all right if the car was out of the road and a lantern was hung on the machine Sunday night. The man did not want to tell his name but admitted that he broke an axle by running into the Granite street iron bridge Saturday night. Officer McAvoy went to the place later in the day but the machine had been moved, probably taken to Barre for repairs.

Abram Gallinsky, better known as "Jake," returned home from a short trip Sunday afternoon and found that someone had broken into his barn and stolen a couple of meal bags. The value is not much but the breaking in is more serious. Jake saw a youth about the place when he left the barn and the matter is under investigation by the police. Meal bags now are worth about 40c each.

N. K. Lyons of Camp Devens stopped at the Pavilion Saturday night.

J. H. Estey and son, Robert, of Brattleboro, stopped Saturday in the city. They visited the State House and other places of interest. Mr. Estey was taking his son through central Vermont on a motorcycle trip and both were enjoying it very much, getting acquainted with the beauty spots of the state.

Miss Marion Ostrander is visiting at her home in Schuylerville, N. Y.

Albert Larson, who gave his home as Bethel, was in city court this morning on the charge of intoxication, to which he pleaded guilty and hoped to be able to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

The suit of Worthen Button of Barre vs. W. G. Knight of Topsham to recover $500 has been filed in county court. This is an action in trespass in which it is claimed that the defendant injured property of the plaintiff by occupying it, digging ditches, stoning up a spring and doing other damage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eddy of Stowe were in the city to-day to attend the funeral of Eugene Davis.

The will of Maria Eastman, late of Cabot, was proven to-day in probate court and Dr. M. D. Warren of that town was appointed executor. Michael McMahon of Barre was appointed administrator of the estate of Joseph Murley, late of Montpelier, and Clark Sibley of East Montpelier settled the account of Sarah H. Foster as executrix of the estate of Austin Foster, also late of East Montpelier. He then settled his account de bonis non with will annexed of the estate of Mr. Foster. He was appointed executor after the death of Mrs. Foster.

A very successful recruiting trip was made by Chief Master-at-Arms Charles Mitchell and the public safety committee representatives of Montpelier Sunday, which included the attending of a flag raising at the Catholic church in Newport. They left here at about 7:30 o'clock and stopped a few minutes at Morrisville. Business being poor there, they proceeded to Newport, where they arrived in time for the flag raising. Mayor Curtis Emery presided over the ceremonies and ex-Governor Grant made the speech of the day. A flag with 42 stars, one for each man gone into war service from that church, was thrown to the breeze. In the party were Mr. Mitchell, F. M. Corry, F. G. Wheaton, Henry Gutcheil, E. H. Deavitt, L. B. Brooks, J. M. Healey, Olin Russell, W. J. Fowey, Everett Keyser and David Spicer. Lack of publicity affected the results materially, but Chief Mitchell was able to talk with four good prospects in Newport. The postmaster of that city has sent from that place 14 sailors, so that the city has made a good showing. Among those who have applied for enlistment in the navy here are Ralph W. Hays of

WEBSTERVILLE

Farewell Reception to Alex Bowerman and Stanley Nutbrown.

The vestry of the St. John the Baptist Episcopal church was well filled Saturday evening when a farewell reception was given Alex Bowerman and Stanley Nutbrown, who were called in the last draft and leave this week for the service of their country. The whole affair was of a distinctly patriotic nature, the program of music and readings all bearing strongly on that feature. Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, in behalf of their friends, presented to Mr. Bowerman a solid gold safety razor and shaving set. Mr. Bowerman responded and Mr. Nutbrown also thanked the donors. Mr. Bowerman has been a very faithful attendant at and communicant of St. John the Baptist church, as well as at the church services. He will be much missed there. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and those present took occasion to express to Mr. Bowerman and Mr. Nutbrown their best wishes for health and an early return in safety to their homes after the desired end of the war has been accomplished.

Mrs. William Gibson of Springfield, Mass., a former resident of Barre, is passing a week with friends here.

Martin McMahon of West street left last night on a business trip to Boston.

Anthony Tomasi, who received severe injuries in an auto accident not long ago, is making steady progress toward recovery. He is still a patient at the City hospital.

Rene Bernasconi, who is leaving Saturday with the Washington county quota for Camp Devens, arrived in the city last evening from Quincy, Mass., where he has been employed as a shipbuilder.

"Pat," who used to hand out a cheery line of barber shop chatter at Mick's up-town shop, is now Private Patrick Jadersmia of the 2d company, 58th brigade, at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala. The young man left Barre several weeks ago for New York, and soon after his arrival in the metropolis he was caught up in the draft. It whirled "Pat" as far south as Anniston and left him with a large number of other soldiers at Camp McClellan. The barber writes his friends here that the surroundings are much to his liking. A letter received from him to-day by E. L. House mentions a recent meeting with Nelson Brown, who was in a recent Washington county draft quota.
