MARSHFIELD

Boys from This Locality Are Together in France and Working Hard.

The following letters were received by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Short from their boys and foster son, Private Carroll Goodridge, with the A. E. F., somewhere in France: June 28, 1918.

Dear Folks: Your letter of April 28 just received and will try and answer it. I also had one from Mrs. Robinson. I guess it has been a couple of weeks since I wrote, but have been so busy haven't had the chance. Have worked the last two nights, and it is sure hard work to ride in the saddle for 12 solid hours. But to-night I guess we will have a chance to sleep. We have been seven months in France and are all wearing our six months' service stripes. That is a little gold-colored stripe on the left arm.

I was with Elery at the horses. We have been together all of the time since we enlisted. At one time he wrote about going on ahead with the baggage, the rest of us followed on the next train and got there almost as quick as he did. We boys are all feeling fine. Our company has been very busy, no casualties. We learn more about the war from the papers we get from home than we do here. Of course we know more about some things than we get from the papers, but I guess they get it pretty nearly correct.

I received a letter from Mary Spencer; haven't had time to answer it, and don't know when I will. There are a lot of letters I ought to, and wish I might, get time to write. I haven't seen Eddie yet. His company is stationed near us at present, and I saw a lad from there last night. Harold Wilson from Cabot is all O. K. I haven't seen him, but hear he is in a machine gun company. I also saw Errol Rolfe last night; only had a chance to say "Hello."

Frederick Shepard has been back with us for a month now. He had all kinds of mail waiting for him here. Lieut. Hooker was with us only a few days. Have no idea where he is now.

I have got one bundle of papers from you that I haven't had a chance to read yet; have had them quite a few days, but I read them all when I do get the time. Guess I have answered all of your questions. That was the best letter I have received from you yet. Give my best regards to all who may inquire. Hope this will find you folks as well as I am.

June 3, 1918.

Received another letter from you today, so will write a few lines in answer. Was going to write yesterday afternoon but went for a bath and when we got back had to hitch up and work all night. Had a long hard trip, have slept most all day today. Elery and "Toad" are working to-night. Eddie Ward was here today. The boys one night last week and we sure had a nice long visit. It did seem good to see him and he is looking, and again he is feeling fine. He was here again last night, but we boys were gone before he came. All the boys from Marshfield are in the best of health, and we are together in the time now. Just think! To-morrow morning and it is a year since I enlisted. It does not seem possible it could be anywhere near as long. I never saw the days slip by the way they do this spring. It seems as if Sunday came nearly every other day. Am glad to hear how well you did on the Liberty loan drive. The people over there are sure doing their share, and we boys are trying to do ours. I have subscribed for the "Stars and Stripes," a weekly paper, that I am going to send home after I read them, and wish you would save them for me. With the best regards to all, will close.

Carroll.

Minstrel! Minstrel! Have you heard about it? Of course. There's nothing else doing these days. The air is full of it. Keep the date in mind—Wednesday, July 3, and the place, K. of P. hall. Remember that it is for the benefit of the Red Cross and Pythian Sisters. Don't miss it!
