TALK OF THE TOWN

Marie Osborne in "The Little Patriot." Bijou to-morrow.—adv.

Dance at Woodbury pond every Friday night. Open-air pavilion. A good time for all.—adv.

John A. Cross, M. W. Cross, Levi T. Cross and B. S. Morse of Northfield were among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berni of Waterbury. Mr. and Mrs. Berni are both former residents of this city.

Mrs. James Johnston of Highland avenue, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Stewart, in East Longmeadow, Mass., returned to the city last evening.

Regular meeting of the I. O. O. L. M. U., at K. of C. hall Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Initiation, installation of officers and refreshments. Guards please meet at 6:30.

Mrs. E. Garretti and Mrs. R. Brogini left the city yesterday for Milford, N. H., where they expect to make a visit of several days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comoli, former residents of this city.

The Quarry Savings Bank & Trust Co. will be pleased to fill your subscription for war savings stamps. Don't fail to "come across" with your share towards the two billions asked for by Uncle Sam.

The savings banks and trust companies of Barre would appreciate it very much if you would bring or send your deposit books for verification at an early date. The law requires this to be done once in five years.

Elmer A. Scott, who is employed as a salesman for the Standard Book Publishing company of Boston, is spending a visit of a few days with friends in the city, and at the home of his parents in Graniteville.

Armando Comoli, Adolfo Comoli and Miss Gladys Comoli and mother returned to the city last evening from an automobile trip of the past few days throughout various points in the White mountains. During their absence the party made a short visit with friends at Old Orchard, Me.

Victor Stout, who accompanied the advertising car of the Walter L. Main circuit to Barre last night to-day closed contracts with local grocers for provisioning the show for the animals when they arrive here July 25. The circus is to exhibit in Lebanon, N. H., before coming to Barre and after the engagement here it will visit St. Johnsbury, Burlington and Rutland. Twenty cars make up the shows.

Municipal court cases of State vs. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Benvenuti, charged with violating the liquor laws, which were to have been heard before juries to-day, were continued to-morrow, when the case of James Siple, charged with furnishing liquor to a minor, will be heard. The respondents in the first case are at liberty under bail of $1,000. They have retained Hoar & Fay to defend them.

George Leclair cut up a few capers yesterday which landed him in the lock-up at police headquarters. To-day he was arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott in municipal court on an intoxication charge. The respondent admitted a subsequent offense and will serve 75 days in the county jail. Napoleon Blair of Port Henry, N. Y., who was locked up last night, admitted a first offense and chose the jail alternative of 10 days.

Alex Riddell returned this forenoon to Springfield, where he is employed at a munitions plant, after spending a short visit at the home of his parents in South Barre. Mr. Riddell passed the physical examination for the special course for mechanics at Montpelier yesterday, but owing to the large number of young men applying for enlistment in this course of training, it is uncertain whether he will be taken for this service next week.

Owing to the fact that there is no yarn on hand, that the July quota has not arrived and that the sewing for the June quota has been completed, the sewing room of the Red Cross at the Church street school building will be closed until further notice, but the surgical dressings room is open for the usual work hours.

Monday and Tuesday afternoons and Thursday evenings. The public will be notified through The Times as soon as the July quota and materials are received for sewing and knitting.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: B. F. Calvin of Fremont, O., E. W. Chamberlain of Burlington, Flora M. Walker of Lawrence, Mass., Mary Jones of Middlesex, C. H. Ready of Syracuse, N. Y., R. Ross Gale of Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leets and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Came of Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Edwards and W. J. Stone of Casco, Me., George Gridley of Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hartwell of Essex Junction, Mr. and Mrs. William Hallison of Summit, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bliss and family of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buxton of Portland, Me., Mrs. F. B. Lay and two children, Miss A. E. Jeffers of Detroit, Mich., Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Holcomb of Johnson, F. E. Strong of Rochester, C. E. Sheldon of Detroit, Mich., William A. Ringley of Springfield, H. P. Bruce of Boston.

From Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., come copies of programs played by selected musicians from Pioneer infantry bands now stationed at that camp, and the programs are of Vermont and local interest because the old 1st Vermont band, now the 57th Pioneer regiment, was one of the 16 bands participating, because the leader of the combined bands of 280 musicians was Max I. Krulow, the leader of the old 1st Vermont, and because Assistant Band Leader Kenneth Gale of Barre had prominent parts in the entertainments. Band Leader Krulow and Assistant Leader Gale played cornet and trombone, respectively, in the rendering of Donizetti's "Sicilia" from Lucia di Lammermoor" by six instruments, during one program and the latter musician furnished the trombone part to a trombone and cornet rendering of Verdi's "Miserere" from Il Trovatore," the cornet player being Leader Morris Silverstein of the 51st Pioneer band. The concert was given in a large natural amphitheatre and were heard by large audiences.

Special communication of Granite lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M., Friday, July 12, at 7:30 p. m. Work, M. M. degree. Per order W. M.

Regular meeting of Barre aerie, 1373, F. O. E., Thursday evening, July 11.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gale and daughter, Gladys, of Wellington street recently called on friends in Northfield.

C. A. Worden, a well known retail monument dealer, who has been registered at Hotel Barre while transacting business in the Barre granite belt, has returned to his home in Batavia, N. Y.

Private Anselmo Stefanazzi arrived in the city at an early hour this morning to spend a short furlough at his home, 42 Center street. Private Stefanazzi was is now stationed at Camp Devens, was one of the draftees to leave on May 25.

Robert E. Wright of North Seminary street, who passed the examination before the county local board, has applied for enlistment in the naval reserve as a blacksmith, and expects to go to Burlington in a few days to confer with officers of the recruiting station.

Friends in the city of Private Forest Bignami of the 115th infantry, who was until recently stationed at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., are in receipt of a message stating that he has arrived safely overseas. Private Bignami left the city on May 3 for Fort Slocum, N. Y.

Edward Card, a former employe of the American Express Co., who has been employed in Bridgeport, Conn., for several weeks, arrived in the city last evening to visit his mother. Mr. Card has been summoned before the Washington county local board for physical examination.

Savings banks in Barre, in pursuance to statutory requirements which make it incumbent upon them to audit their pass books at least once in five years are engaged in this work in addition to their routine duties, the state bank examiner having designated July as the month for calling in pass books and examining them. Miss Grace Ingalls, a teacher in the city schools, has been designated by the examiner as one of several persons to assist in the work. She is assisting in the Quarry Savings bank at present.

Miss Flora Nisini and R. Garibaldi of Center street returned to the city last evening from Northampton, Mass., where they were called last week by the serious injury suffered by the former's brother, Paul Nisini, a former resident of this city, who has been employed in one of the large munitions plants there. Mr. Nisini's head was in some manner squeezed by a large emery wheel. He was immediately rushed to a hospital, where his wounds were treated. Unless unseen developments occur, it is expected that he will be able to leave the hospital within a few days, his condition having been greatly improved during the past few days.

The bovine wonder which Delle Merlo purchased from W. H. Mahony, who in turn secured it from an east hill farmer, is on its way to Barre. The freak calf whose chief claim to a niche in the hall of famous prodigies is two heads and as many tails has been reposing in the shop of a Glover taxidermist. Mr. Merlo learns that the animal, which died soon after birth, has been thoroughly and effectively stuffed. Moreover it has been shipped to this city and within a few days will be holding its own in a local exhibition for the benefit of his friends. Principally for the reason that most of the countryside fairs are under a war-time proscription the bovine wonder will not travel very far this season.

Barre people whose daily endeavors in the Graniteville quarries compel them to traverse the middle road to Millstone hill observe that recent complaints seem to have prompted the town authorities to make a few of the needed repairs on the highway. In a number of places the road has been considerably strengthened, although comparatively little has been done to reduce the jolting of the road. It is described as a war-time proscription the bovine wonder will not travel very far this season.

The city council apparently was not ready to elect a successor to W. A. Patten, who has been fire chief since the department was organized, for Wednesday evening they accepted his resignation and then left the office unattended, but left the matter to the fire committee to fill the vacancy temporarily. It was stated after the meeting last evening that an effort was to be made to have Second Assistant Chief E. B. Parsons fill the vacancy temporarily, which probably is a step toward an effort to induce him to take it permanently, in spite of the fact that he has declined the offer at the present salary. The aldermen voted themselves one-half of their salaries for the year's efforts. The report of the property committee relative to the service flag was made and the committee will buy the flag with a star for each man. It was also voted to buy flags representing the allies to be hung in the city hall. The location of the trolley line through the streets of Montpelier as prescribed on a blueprint and a part of the franchise was accepted by the council. The bills and payrolls were ordered paid.

The successor of F. J. Russell, who has been superintendent of the home for feeble-minded, is not yet announced, although the man who is to have the position is selected, so the announcement may be forthcoming at any date. Dr. Russell was under fire during the last session of the legislature and since that time it is understood that his administration has resulted in his resignation, which has been accepted.

Another of those who have been clerically employed at the State House has been called into M. C. service. This time it is Frank Reynolds, who has gone to visit his home and family before leaving for France in a position similar to that which M. G. Morse accepted. The third person from the State House to go into service was Miss Marion Ostrander, who went into the clerical part of the work but goes to Europe.

Arrangements are almost completed for the celebration to occur Sunday evening in city hall, when Gov. H. F. Graham, Prof. Richard Gurnell of Columbia university and either Colonel Azan or Lieutenant Morize of the French army will speak in observance of Bastille day as an appreciation of the courtesy which the French government recently gave America in celebration of July 4. Bastille day is the French holiday which celebrates the fall of the Bastille. The celebration is held at the request of a national committee of which Owen Johnson, the writer, is the chairman. The same program is to be followed out in all state capitals on July 14.

The trustees of the state library held a meeting in the office of the executive chambers Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the price that shall be established on the sale of the general laws, which takes the place of the public statutes that has been used for years. The price fixed by the board was $8 per copy, so they can now be placed on sale. The state officials were furnished copies of the laws two weeks ago. The state librarian is custodian of the laws. The board is composed of the governor, secretary of state, chief justice of the supreme court and six others.

The demand for labor was shown clearly a few days ago when a farmer in Waterbury paid the fines of five men who had been committed to the Washington county jail in lieu of their fines of $15 and costs each, which had been assessed against them in Barre city and Montpelier city courts. They were taken to the farm, where they were placed at work. These included John Dunham, William Fenton, Floyd Clark, Louis Gay, who came from Barre city court, and Charles Ballard, sentenced from Montpelier city court.

H. C. Shurtleff has been appointed in probate court as the administrator of the estate of Nettie E. Lackey, late of Montpelier. B. D. McCrillis of Marshfield has been appointed as executor of the estate of Aaron J. Brown, late of Marshfield. J. Ward Carver of Barre has been appointed administrator of the estate of Thomas Newell, late of Barre, while Louis R. Rickert of Barre has been appointed executor of the estate of Amanda M. Culver, late of Barre town.

Col. H. T. Johnson is in Berlin, N. H., attending the annual muster of the home guards of New Hampshire.

Miss Iva Poor is taking a vacation from her work in the office of the state probation officer.

The Vermont public service commission gave a hearing to-day in the matter of the Waterbury Light & Power Co., which petitions the commission for authority to sell its assets, which amount to about $25,000, to the Eastern Vermont Public Utilities corporation. A hearing was also given by the commission on the petition of the Waitsfield & Fayston Telephone Co. for right to purchase telephone equipment, etc., from G. R. Andrews of Northfield.

A. W. Daly has received word from the Rutland Fair association that the score card privileges have been sold to him again this year. The fair is to be the largest one in this part of the country this year, $2,500 being the purses in the free-for-all race, while $1,000 will go into running races and $400 each into four pacing and three trotting races.

Kyle Brown of Lunenburg was in the city Wednesday. He says that everybody up his way wants Governor Graham re-elected but that little politics is being discussed and that the county politics is opening up only a little. Judge Addison Cudworth of Londonderry expressed the same opinion Wednesday afternoon at the Pavilion, relative to conditions down in Windham county.

County Warden Ernest S. Newcomb of Waterbury Center arrested John Wait of Waterbury on July 6 for taking short trout from Thatcher brook. Wait appeared before Justice C. C. Graves in Waterbury and pleaded guilty, Tuesday, paying a fine of $25 and costs of $3.54.

The funeral of Mrs. John M. Avery took place this afternoon from her late home on Hubbard street, Rev. Stanley F. Blomfield officiating. The bearers were Benjamin Gates, Rawson Myrick, Thomas Cave, Jr., and Dwight Dwinell of the State House, who represented the state government. Among the floral tributes was a display from those employed at the State House. The interment was in Green Mount cemetery.

J. G. Brown and Mason S. Stone went to East Burke to-day to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. H. Jeffrey, wife of the secretary of charities and probation.

When the Boys "Go" There is an article by in the July American Magazine. The author says:

"What I wish I could make you, here in this world's 'home,' realize is that if your boys go to that other home, beyond the setting sun, they go there with the peace in their hearts and on their faces. I think I may say that I know this: Before I went in to the Vimy Ridge attack, I wrote a few lines on the back of a picture of my mother which I carried in my pocket. I have it there now. The lines are so worn they are hard to decipher—and perhaps they may seem sentimental to you. But they are like hundreds—yes! thousands—of other messages written under similar circumstances. They read: "For My Darling Mother: "If God will that I die on the field of battle, please send this photo to my mother. "Good-bye, dear mother. I have 'gone west' only. We will meet soon. "Ernest."

IS A SWASHBUCKLER.

New German Foreign Secretary is Also a Creature of Von Tirpitz.

London, July 11.—The fall of Foreign Secretary Von Kuehlmann was arranged by German army headquarters in a program in Germany was the indication of an open pan-German regime under the control of the military leaders, dispatches from Holland say. It is described as the biggest of a series of pan-German victories.

Reports of the appointment of Von Hintze as foreign secretary are accepted as final by the German papers, which contend that this involves no changes of policy. The contention, however, as well as the assurance that Von Hintze is not a pan-German, is false, according to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. Von Hintze is described as a swashbuckler and creature of Admiral Von Tirpitz, the pan-German leader.

Much excitement was caused in the corridors of the Reichstag by a rumor that Von Hintze had been appointed foreign secretary.

The result of this was that the semi-official announcement of Von Hintze's appointment took a tentative form, merely saying he had been "named" as Von Kuehlmann's successor.
