REGISTRATION DAY TO BE BIG EVENT

War Department Wishes Every Means to Secure Publicity in Order That There Be 100 Per Cent Registration.

The enactment of the war department bill extending the ages of military duty under the selective service law down to eighteen and up to forty-five will require the registration of approximately thirteen million men early in September.

Every effort is being made by the war department and the agencies associated with it in the plans for registration day to obtain a 100 per cent registration. They are faced with a supreme necessity of making certain that every man of the thirteen million liable to registration knows of the call, receives the president's message proclaiming his duty to register, and comes forward frankly and honestly to answer. To reach every individual with an irresistible appeal to his patriotism and his conscience necessitates the most thorough publicity.

The office of the provost marshal general in co-operation with the committee on public information is preparing to issue publicity from Washington through all available channels, and is relying especially upon the state, county and local committees of public safety to make it certain that every man turns out on registration day. You are asked, therefore, to take whatever measures may be necessary to reach every man in your locality who should register.

The council of national defense makes the following recommendations: "First, that arrangements be made for patriotic meetings at which information may be laid before the community. The best time for these meetings and every meeting should include patriotic music and singing.

Second, that you arrange locally to have registration day a day of solemn patriotic celebration; and to have the bells ring, to have the flags flying and to make use of bands and patriotic music whenever possible.

Third, that you consider the advisability in mobilizing the automobiles in your locality on registration day so that men who live at a distance from their place of registration may register with a minimum time lost from necessary occupations. This will prove necessary in many farming districts."

The provost marshal general counts upon the active co-operation from every county and local committee of public safety to insure the army and the nation a 100 per cent registration.

General Crowder says to the state, county and local committees of public safety, "I want to have every flag flying and every hand playing on registration day."

To guarantee a 100 per cent complete registration on registration day, every available measure must be employed to concentrate public attention and enthusiasm in each locality on that date. For that purpose one of the most effective measures will be patriotic band music at the registration place in every vicinity.

This committee understands that directions have been issued to all commanding officers at military camps authorizing them to place military bands of their organizations at the disposal of mayors of nearby cities on that date, so far as not inconsistent with discipline and other conditions of military convenience.

All mayors of cities are requested to invite the universal display of flags by citizens and the calling out of all private military bands. This recommendation will include a notice that mayors of cities proximate to military and naval posts, by timely request made to the commanding officer, obtain an assignment of a band or detachment thereof, for the purpose, pursuant to the authority given as above. It is understood that the mayor's request would include an assurance of transportation and subsistence for the day for the detachment and that no longer absence would be permitted than between reveille and taps on the day of registration.

EXPECTS VERMONT TO DO WELL

In the Forthcoming Drive for National Y. W. C. A. Fund. Boston, Aug. 30.—That Vermont will take a foremost place in the coming campaign for war funds of the National Y. W. C. A. is a prophecy of Miss Mary E. Dunbar, executive for New England for the drive. Miss Dunbar has just returned from Montpelier, where a number of Vermont's women met early in the week to discuss ways and means for furthering the association's war progress.

"The women of Vermont are intensely alive to the needs of women," said Miss Dunbar, "and they will do a splendid piece of work on this drive."

With Mrs. Merrill D. Chittenden of Burlington, state chairman for Vermont, and Miss Mabel Southwick of the same city state organizer, many of the most prominent of Vermont's women are being whipped into line for campaign work.

Manville, R. I.—"The whooping cough—and later the measles—left my little boy of eight years with no appetite, thin, frail, delicate and tired all the time. After everything else had failed Vinol gave him a hearty appetite, restored his strength, and he is now as well as ever."

—Mrs. James H. Hall. The beef and cod liver neptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol were just what this little boy needed to restore him to health. We strongly recommend Vinol.

WILL SAVE $3,000,000 GALLONS

Estimate of Fuel Administration on Effect of Non-Use on Sunday. Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Fuel administration officials estimate that nearly 8,000,000 gallons of gasoline will be saved each Sunday through non-use of motor vehicles on those days, as requested by Administrator Garfield. East of the Mississippi river there are approximately 4,000,000 motor-driven vehicles. Of these 200,000 are trucks, to which the restriction does not apply. The estimated saving is based on the use of an average of two gallons of gasoline for each car of the 3,000,000 cars affected. The fuel administration has been deluged by inquiries telegraphed by automobile owners seeking information about the call to lay up their cars on Sundays until further notice.
