

The place that does contain My books, the best companions, Is to me a glorious court, Where hourly I converse with The old sages and philosophers. —Beaumont and Fletcher.

At the Close of Day--

With inviting Easy Chairs and restful Davenport, with soft-toned Rugs, the library is at once a place to rest, to read—a place in which to pass the hours of relaxation that better fit us for workaday tasks.

The companionship of books makes pleasurable many an otherwise dull evening. The furniture pieces, the soft-glowing lamp, the cushioned rugs add to the joy of rest. Yes, the library should be "the heart of the home."

Sale of dress goods at Abbott's Saturday. Harry A. Elias of Buffalo, N. Y., publisher of a well known monument and cemetery journal, is staying at Hotel Barre while in Barre on a week's business visit. Gaith Blow, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Blow of Prospect street, was operated on at the City hospital Tuesday morning. Latest reports indicate he is getting along nicely. Police headquarters to-day reported a quite holiday, with a minimum of disturbance on the usually somewhat eventful night before. There were no arrests yesterday, but in the morning Clayton Erwin of Montpelier, who was locked up on an intoxication charge Wednesday evening, was arraigned in municipal court. He admitted a first offense and arranged to pay a fine of $6 and costs.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Saturday sale at Abbott's. Special sale of yarns in Abbott's basement. Mr. and Mrs. Homer King of South Barre are the happy parents of a son. Mrs. W. S. Mills of Ayers street was the guest of friends in Williamstown yesterday. Mrs. Samuel Tite of Quincy, Mass., formerly of Barre, is visiting friends in the city. George R. Sullivan, who has been employed in Boston and vicinity for a year, has returned to Barre. Mrs. George Guinlaw and children of Summer street have gone to Winoski for an extended visit with relatives. An important meeting of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Alfred Langevin, who has been employed in Boston and vicinity, has returned to Barre to resume his former employment. Elmer Scott, who is employed by a publishing concern near Boston, is passing the Thanksgiving recess in Barre and Granitville. Private Edward O. McKay, who is attached to a unit of engineers at Camp Devens, is passing a brief furlough at his home on Cliff street. Dance in Howland hall Saturday evening. Gilbertson's orchestra will furnish the usual classy music. Admission, 75c; extra ladies, 10c.—adv.

Capt. Geoffrey Rollason, who has been passing a furlough with Mrs. Rollason at the home of her mother on French street, returned to New York to-day. Dr. D. C. Jarvis of Orange street passed Thanksgiving in Burlington, where Mrs. Jarvis and little daughter preceded him earlier in the week. Hildreth Martin, who visited at his home on Averill street yesterday, returned to Burlington to-day to resume his studies at the University of Vermont. C. H. Kendrick of Enosburg Falls, who formerly conducted a drug store in this city, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, to which he submitted Sunday morning. Miss Martha Abbott of Swanton was a Thanksgiving day visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sanginetti of North Main street, being the guest of Miss Mary Tomasi.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Donaldson, who have been passing a few days in Barre and at Mrs. Donaldson's former home in Granitville, returned this morning to their home in Highgate. A horse attached to one of the Barre Steam Laundry Co.'s delivery wagons slipped on the icy pavement Wednesday evening, overturning the cart and spilling a small-sized cargo of wet washings in front of the Eastman block.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Rand of Quincy, Mass., are visiting in the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. William Kelly, of Pleasant street. Mr. Rand will return to Quincy to-night, but Mrs. Rand expects to remain for a longer visit. Thanksgiving day diners at Hotel Barre were very numerous yesterday. They included a number of dinner parties from out of town, many coming from Montpelier. All told, 125 people were served. Nearly 100 couples attended a dance in Howland hall Thanksgiving eve. Gilbertson's orchestra furnishing music. Devotees of the terpsichorean art in Barre were liberally represented at a dance in the Montpelier city hall last night. Reardon's orchestra of this city played for a Thanksgiving dance in Granitville.

Ladies' auxiliary to Clan Gordon and Clan Gordon, No. 12, will hold a concert and dance, also sale of work, on Friday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p. m. Several well-known artists of vocal and instrumental ability have been engaged for this occasion, also a troupe of dancers will give an exhibition of highland dancing in costume. Admission, 25c each. All ladies solicited from before the epidemic please take note and any who may have been overlooked will be doing the committee a favor by sending in their donations.

The Women's association of the Congregational church sent out the usual Thanksgiving baskets this year and, in spite of continued calls for funds from various sources in the past few months, the people contributed as never before. The women were deeply gratified at the response, which was entirely voluntary. Because of the liberality of the givers, the association was able to send out six full dinners, six baskets of fruit and other delicacies and 25 bouquets of flowers, the latter going to the sick of the congregation or those to whose homes sadness had come in the past few weeks.

Proceeds of a big dance to be held in the Granite street auditorium on the evening of Saturday, Dec. 7, are to be donated to the Barre City hospital, according to arrangements jointly completed by the Italian Pleasure club and the Italian Veronesi club. Each organization has elected a committee to execute plans for the holiday party that is expected to yield handsomely for the hospital. The Pleasure club is represented by the following members: John J. Frontini, A. H. Fasola, Armando Comolli, Dr. O. E. Barr and Italo Prestini. For the Veronesi club, the following members are acting: J. Sempredoni, B. Berni, E. Sasserossi, G. Zampieri and G. Sanginetti. An orchestra concert will precede the dancing.

Barre granite men are in receipt of information of the death of David L. McLaren, vice-president and general manager of the New England works in Westley, R. I., who passed away suddenly Sunday afternoon. Saturday, with five of his employees, he went to Hartford to inspect the Travelers' insurance building, which the company is erecting, and on the following morning he went to one of the quarries to inspect an engine. Soon afterward a hemorrhage developed and Mr. McLaren expired within a short time. He was a native of Blackington, Mass., and had been associated with the granite industry in Westley for more than 40 years. Mr. McLaren was a director of the National Granite Industries' association, and was warmly esteemed by his Barre colleagues on the directorate. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon.

Barre's Thanksgiving day observance conformed more to the old fashioned idea that it should be a day of rest. Even for a holiday set apart for reverent observance, it was uncommonly quiet, with fewer comings and goings among people who annually entertain at home or are entertained elsewhere. Railroad men say that the yearly Thanksgiving pilgrimages to old homesteads in the country must have been less numerous this year, as the trains were not greatly taxed. Here there was a suspension of activity all along the line. The religious side of the thanksgiving naturally had its setting in the churches. There was a special celebration of the mass in St. Monica's church in the morning at 9 o'clock. On Thanksgiving eve evangelistic churches united in worship at the First Presbyterian church. Undoubtedly Thanksgiving had a deeper meaning for everyone this year.

Sale of Christmas ribbons at Abbott's Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Coe have returned to their home in Windsor, after a few days' visit in Barre. For Sale—Slightly used coal heaters and cook stoves at lowest prices. Abram Fine, 46 Maple avenue. Tel. 719-2. Special turkey dinner Sunday at the same old price. It would cost you much more elsewhere. Hotel Barre, J. V. Rowen, manager. Notice: Now is the time to save money on Andes ranges and heaters, also nice line of second-hand stoves. See us, E. A. Prindle & Co., Worthen block. Lieut. B. F. West of Washington, D. C., was a visitor in the home of Misses Katherine E. West and Mary J. West of North Main street Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wishart of Winoski were visitors yesterday in the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Barbara Wishart, of Camp street. From Barre Mrs. Wishart went to Manchester to attend the wedding of a friend.

With the remnant of a set of hills kicking at its heels, a much flustered horse dashed into Cutler Bros' livery barn off Washington street this morning just before 8 o'clock. All the way up North Main street pedestrians were calculating the speed of the runaway and a few of the daring ones alighted into the highway with armistice signals, but in every instance unpraised arms were hastily withdrawn when the horse showed no signs of slowing down. Hostlers at the stable, after soothing the horse, opined that it must have broken from a carriage far down the creek. Near noon to-day no one had appeared to claim the runaway.

Notice. A regular business meeting of the Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity will be held in carpenters' hall, Worthen block, on Friday evening, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p. m. Business, election of officers, so let every delegate attend. Per order Angus McDonald, secretary.

Notice. Owing to the sickness on the hill, we have been selling milk for three or four cents cheaper than any place around here, but the high cost of production compels us to raise the price. After Nov. 31, milk will be 12c a quart. A. L. Bellville, A. J. Couillard.

Under the command of Lieut. Henry L. Bibby, M. R. C., the S. S. U. 525 has shown during the period from the 1st to the 4th of August, 1918, a disregard for danger and a devotion which has provoked the admiration of all. In a zone constantly shelled by the artillery of the enemy, the drivers have given proof of a courage and animation that devotion to the common ideal unto death alone could inspire.

HIS SECTION CITED.

Roland Craig, Ambulance Driver, Writes of His Honor.

Miss Bertha R. Nason has received the following letter from Pvt. Roland N. Craig, a former resident of Barre and now with the ambulance section in France:

Nov. 4.—The section has just received the greatest honor given by the French army. It is called a "section citation."

First I will tell you what a "section citation" is, then I will write the citation as translated into English. When a regiment, battalion or any other body has done exceptionally good work under the most trying and difficult conditions, it is known and recognized by the military authorities and that group is given the cross of war, the degree determined by the work done. If it is a division citation, the cross bears a silver star; regimental, a bronze star; army corps, a gold star; army, a palm. We are allowed to paint the cross on our caps. Two army citations give the right to wear the fourragers, the cord over the shoulder. Ours is an army citation and reads as follows:

"The general commanding the French armies of the north and northeast cites in the Order of the French Armies the following American unit: Section Sanitaire 525.

"Under the command of Lieut. Henry L. Bibby, M. R. C., the S. S. U. 525 has shown during the period from the 1st to the 4th of August, 1918, a disregard for danger and a devotion which has provoked the admiration of all. In a zone constantly shelled by the artillery of the enemy, the drivers have given proof of a courage and animation that devotion to the common ideal unto death alone could inspire.

"Of the 20 cars, two were destroyed by shellfire and 16 others carry eel holes as a testimony to the dangers encountered and overcome, and to the nobility of the work accomplished in behalf of the wounded." At general headquarters, Oct. 22.

1918, the Commander-in-chief, Petain. What do you think of that? And ambulance driving is the work for old men and girls." Roland.

EMPIRE MECHANICAL MILKERS

will milk your cows just as well as you can, get just as much milk, with no injury whatever to any cow's teats or udders. The machine does not exist that can do more. There are twice as many Empire Milkers in use in this vicinity as all other makes combined. We believe this is true all over this state. This, in view of the fact that it is one of the newer machines, having been on the market only five years, must be some indication of something. If you care to investigate, we think you will find these statements all true. One man with one double unit can milk from 16 to 24 cows per hour. Figure for yourself what it would do in your dairy.
