MORE CENTRALIZED AUTHORITY Is Sought By the U. S. Federal Trade Commission.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—Legislation to extend the powers of the federal trade commission so as to bring all individuals and partnerships operating in interstate commerce within its supervision is recommended in the commission's annual report made public today, outlining activities for the year ended June 30.

The commercial also again urges enactment of legislation previously submitted to Congress, designed to prevent the practice of commercial bribery. During the year, the commission says, its work was chiefly devoted to assisting other departments and special war agencies of the government in matters connected with the prosecution of the war.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color, Youthfulness and Luster—Everybody is Using It Again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

WAS PROBABLY GASSED

John Oslega Was a Russian Who Had Not Been Naturalized.

St. Albans, Dec. 13.—Although John Oslega is reported wounded in action, it is thought by friends in this city that he was slightly gassed and by this time has left the hospital. Oslega, who is about 30 years old, came to St. Albans direct from Russia about four and a half years ago. He was employed as a carpenter in the shops of the Central Vermont railway. He was unable to speak English when he came here but he attended night classes at the Stranahan Memorial club and applied himself industriously to learning the language. William Gillespie, superintendent of the mechanical department of the railroad, was favorably impressed with the young man and interested himself in his welfare and when Oslega went to Camp Devens, Mass., the middle of last May he asked Mr. Gillespie if he would act as his guardian until the war was over.

Oslega went overseas the latter part of August and the first letter received by Mr. Gillespie, dated Sept. 10, said that he was with Company 102, United States engineers. Mr. Gillespie received a cable some time ago that Oslega was missing but a letter written from a base hospital after that date said that the young man had been slightly gassed. Oslega has medals showing that he had served in the Russian army. He had not become an American citizen but last spring he expressed a desire to enlist for service to fight Germany.

AGAIN REPORTED MISSING

Harvey D. Prescott's Status Is Much of a Mystery.

While it is no joke for the family of Mrs. A. I. Converse, the old railroad story of "Off agin, on agin, gone agin, Finnegan," almost applies to the status of Harvey D. Prescott of Calais, who, according to recent messages, has experienced a varied career in France, for Wednesday night the family received a new telegram in which his status is changed. This one states that he has been missing in action since Oct. 29. A little over a week ago the family received a message that he was wounded and in a base hospital. A few days preceding that they received a message that he was missing in action, so that now the family are wondering what kind of a message will next come to them.

CLEANSER YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL, THICK, GLASSY, WAVY

Try This! All Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Surely try a "Danderine hair cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, luster and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Adv.

EDITOR PELLEY BACK HOME

Trip Cut Short by Inability to Get Manuscript or Letters Back and Forth.

St. Johnsbury, Dec. 13.—Editor W. D. Pelley of the St. Johnsbury Caledonian and Mrs. Pelley returned Wednesday evening from a five-month tour of the Far East. They had intended to make a tour of the world, Mr. Pelley seeking first-hand information that would be the foundation of many articles for leading magazines, but hardships and inability to get manuscripts back to this country on account of censorship with which they were confronted everywhere cut short their trip.

The Pelleys sailed from San Francisco early in the summer and spent some time in Japan and China. Mr. Pelley went with the allied troops into Siberia as publicity agent for the Y. M. C. A. and was there when the armistice was signed. Returning then to Japan, he received the first mail from home since he left the United States. A newspaper announced the death of Mrs. Pelley's only brother at Camp Devens two months before and there were letters written in August about business in the states. Manuscripts sent back by Mr. Pelley to the magazines he represented which are not already too ancient history to be used will have to be re-written. Remittance sent to his family and business associates in some instances have never been received and in other cases, where they were received two months late, the checks and drafts for money orders had been removed.

It was this inability to get mail either way that finally led the Pelleys to start upon their homeward journey, which they did early in November. They have traveled over 37,000 miles. Much valuable information was gained, many famous people were met and the magazines for which Mr. Pelley writes will have the benefit of his experience in future articles. Mrs. Pelley taught English in a college in Tokio while Mr. Pelley was traveling.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backache or Bladder Troubles You—Salts Is Fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder disease.

Peace Has Come

The ringing of bells and the song of the whistles told of the joy that is in ten million mothers' hearts today.

The thunder of the guns have been silenced—the quiet of Peace has descended like a benediction on the martyred fields of France—and our boys are coming home.

You mothers, you sisters, you wives and sweethearts who have waited and wondered if your boy would ever come back—who have prayed for him in the quiet night hours, have tramped with him in spirit on weary marches, stood with him in the rain and mud of the trenches and suffered with him on his hospital cot—what must be your joy today, for he is coming back to you.

The clouds have broken—the shadows have passed—the pure sweet light of Peace is bathing the world as on Resurrection Morn.

Peace has come!

There is full ground for a Merry Christmas! Never more cause for rejoicing! We take this opportunity of wishing all—the boys who are here, the boys who are returning and the boys still "over there" the joys of the approaching holiday.

TO MEET IN BURLINGTON

Vermont Dairymen and Sugar Makers to Assemble Next Month.

The 48th annual meeting of the Vermont state dairymen will be held in Burlington Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 14-16.

The Vermont sugar makers will also meet in that city at the same time and this joint gathering of Vermonters promises to be one of the most significant in recent years.

This will be "Holstein" year, particular attention being paid on the program to this breed of cattle. It is the largest single breed in the country and is splendidly represented in Vermont.

The Holstein-Friesian association will have charge of the program one evening, probably on the opening day.

The state department of agriculture and the extension service will provide several of the speakers during the week and Secretary O. L. Martin is arranging to have prominent experts from out of the state to appear.

Among others who have been invited and who is confidently expected to be present is Hon. Henry C. Stewart, former governor of Virginia.

A feature of the meeting will be a demonstration of wool grading by N. C. Bigelow, a prominent wool man of Philadelphia. This will be at the armory.

The annual banquet of the dairymen and sugar makers combined will be held at Hotel Vermont in the evening of Thursday.

This will be as usual a notable occasion, with a strong program of after-dinner speakers.

The state agricultural college will have a demonstration exhibit and there will be a large display of farm implements.

Cheaper Feed by Co-operative Buying.

The farmers of Clatsop county, Ore., were saved $4 a ton on mill feed through the combining of orders by the county agent. By making one order for 300 tons of feed the agent was able to obtain a price of $33 a ton from the local dealers.

The retail price for mill feed in the region has been $37 a ton, and often more.

Saving Money

Spices, like anything else, may be good, bad or indifferent. To accept the last two is a waste of money. To be sure of the first kind you have only to ask your grocer for SLADE'S SPICES. They produce the best results and a little goes a long way, while the cost is little if any more than other kinds. Be as particular about spices as you are about flour, tea and coffee.
