AMERICAN NAVAL PROGRAM WILL STAND

There Will Be No Reduction in the Power of the U. S. Navy Despite the League of Nations, Says Daniels.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 31.—In presenting commissions to-day to the last class of reserve officers trained at the United States naval academy during the war, Secretary Daniels predicted that "there will be no time of recession of interest in the navy."

"Not in your day," the secretary told the young officers, "will there be any reduction of naval power. We are now on the last stretch of building the three-year program of naval construction, which was authorized three years ago."

Secretary Daniels said he had no doubt that Congress would authorize the recommendation of President Wilson for another three-year program of construction. In building ships under that program, he said, the types of vessels would be constructed which would "keep our navy abreast of any navy in the world."

We shall not build against any nation," the secretary continued, "because we have faith that the league of peace will bring about such friendship and understanding among all nations as will ultimately cause a reduction in armaments and a consequent decrease of expenditures for naval strength.

But so long as this republic needs a navy, we must have one, for our own protection and to preserve the peace of the world, that will be powerful, strong and modern.

"It would be a sin for America, rich and powerful, to be beholden to any other country for naval protection. We must, in whatever sort of world police shall be needed in the new order, contribute as many units and as much strength as any other nation. We must remember always that the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine is our peculiar responsibility and duty, and for its proper maintenance and our duty to secure to all the smaller nations of the world the rights to which they are entitled, we must maintain a navy strong enough and powerful enough to measure up to our responsibility and our obligation."

Mr. Daniels said the navy department intended, after the treaty of peace is signed, to maintain a trained and efficient naval reserve force which would be ready for instant mobilization.

NAT GOODWIN, ACTOR, IS DEAD

Passed Away in New York To-day as Result of General Breakdown

AFTER OPERATION ON HIS RIGHT EYE He Had Been on the Stage for About Forty-Five Years

New York, Jan. 31.—Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, died at a hotel here early to-day after a brief illness. He came to New York last Monday from Baltimore, where he had been playing. Death was due to a general breakdown in health, following an operation for the removal of his right eye several months ago.

Born at Boston, July 25, 1874, Goodwin was a familiar figure on the American stage for many years. He made his first appearance in 1874 and subsequently played leading roles in many successful plays, both in the United States and England.

The removal of Goodwin's eye was the result of an error an employe made several weeks ago in preparing an eye wash for the actor. Chloroform instead of the usual liquid was placed in the cup and Goodwin's eye was seriously injured.

At the hotel here to-day it was stated that the actor suffered a slight stroke of apoplexy just before he died. Goodwin's histrionic career was said to date back to his school days in an academy at Farmington, Me., where his ability as a mimicry won him local renown. After brief periods at clerkship in Boston stores, during which he read Shakespeare and studied dramatic art, he made his professional debut as a newsboy in "Law in New York," at Boston in 1874. The following year found him at the famous Tony Pastor's in New York, and from then until his death his theatrical activities were marked with almost uninterrupted successes, both as star and as producer.

Goodwin was five times married. His first wife was Eliza Weatherby, a comedy actress, who died in 1887. A few years later he married Nellie Baker Pease; in 1898, Maxine Elliott, with whom he appeared in a large repertoire of plays, including several of Shakespeare's; subsequently Miss Edna Goodrich (Bessie Edna Stephens), who was his leading woman for several years. His most recent wife was Margaret Moreland, now the wife of an army lieutenant. He was soon to have taken a sixth wife, Georgia Gardner, of Los Angeles, Cal., who is playing in the company in which Goodwin was starring at the time of his death. She came to New York a few days ago to arrange for his care here.

Burial will take place at Roxbury, Mass., where the actor's parents live.

CAN PAY WAR INSURANCE PREMIUMS AT POSTOFFICE

Arrangements Made for Benefit of Discharged Soldiers—Change from Term to Permanent Basis.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The war risk insurance bureau has made an arrangement with the postoffice department so that discharged soldiers, who continue to hold their policies, can make their payments at postoffices.

Term insurance now totals $39,000,000,000. Estimates of term insurance which will be converted into permanent insurance vary from $5,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000. The bureau will announce within 60 days how the insurance may be converted. Provision will be made for six different policies, including straight life, limited life and endowment. All policies will contain a permanent disability clause, which will provide that the term policies of all men permanently disabled will be considered paid up. The policies will be based on the present American mortality table.

The cost of carrying on the permanent insurance, including the disability clause, will be 20 per cent cheaper than the charge made by insurance companies, solely because the government will pay all overhead expenses. The term policies limit beneficiaries to relatives. The permanent policies will be broadened in that respect.

The conference originally was called to place before the peace conference delegates the question of internationalization of the former German colonies in Africa.

BACK WAS WEAK AND HEADACHES WERE FRIGHTFUL

What Building Up the Blood Did for New Hampshire Woman Who Had Lost Hope.

There are thousands of people who are enduring the pain and discomfort of minor ills in the hopeful belief that the indisposition is only temporary and will be outgrown in time. Often such illnesses are not serious enough to require the attention of a doctor but will respond to intelligent home treatment if a reliable remedy is used. Women busy with a multitude of household cares are especially apt to disregard warnings of serious illness. This is particularly true of women who exhibit the early symptoms of anemia or thin blood, because the disease comes on so gradually.

Anemia need not be serious if prompt, effective measures are taken to check it in the incipient stage. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will restore the elements needed to bring the blood back to strength and once the blood regains its quality the entire body will benefit.

Mrs. George Chapin, of No. 42 Pearl street, Claremont, N. H., found relief from anemia by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"I was in a general run-down condition due to anemia. There were times when I became so weak that I could not do my work and my nerves were so unstrung that little things would upset me. I couldn't walk upstairs without stopping to regain my breath. With my other sufferings there were awful headaches and it seemed at times as though my head would burst open. My back was weak and pained me so that I could hardly walk."

"A friend, who had been similarly afflicted, one day told me that she had been greatly benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and she was so enthusiastic about the treatment that I decided to try it. I felt relief after taking the first box and continued using the pills until I was completely restored to health. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my friends."

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

The pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood," contains just the information that every mother of a growing girl needs. It will be sent to any address free on request.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

TRYING TO ROOT OUT EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Charges Made That Private Employment Agencies Are Undertaking Lobby Methods in Congress.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Charges that representatives of "private fee-charging employment agencies" are attempting to lobby in Congress for the abolishment of the United States employment service were made to-day by officials of the service. It was said that during the past 10 days all members of Congress have received circulars from the private agencies and that many manufacturers had been asked to assist in the campaign.

"We are fully aware that such attacks have been made," said John B. Denmore, director general of the federal employment service. "They are particularly dangerous at this time because of the rapid demobilization of troops and the existing unemployment in many big cities."

Dr. Denmore said that in conjunction with the council of national defense and other organizations the federal service had established 1,850 bureaus for returning soldiers in addition to the 750 offices that the employment service itself organized and operates, and that already more than 100,000 returning soldiers have been placed in employment and that an average of 100,000 persons were being placed in various industries every week.

DISCOUNT TO SOLDIERS Who Desire to Secure Civilian Clothes—Plan Announced in New York.

New York, Jan. 31.—To enable discharged sailors and soldiers to obtain civilian clothing more cheaply, the shopping bureau of the National League for Women's Service has arranged with a number of men's furnishing establishments here to allow all former enlisted men substantial discount, it was announced here to-day. A majority of the merchants have agreed to 10 per cent discount, said the announcement, while one has notified the bureau he will allow the men a discount of 30 per cent on clothing.

A FACT

Running a car season after season without having it touched by a skilled mechanic is often considered a point of great merit in the car. But, generally, cars that aren't looked after once a year go to pieces all of a sudden some day, and the owner can't understand why.

The reason is that the car was full of little bits of trouble all the time. They kept accumulating, but didn't affect the car's operation. Then all of a sudden they all grew big at once—and the end came.

Every season, especially one such as we have just had, your car should be looked over and at least tuned up.

It is our suggestion that you bring it to our shop, let our mechanics inspect it, and advise you as to its condition.

Incidentally, we can give you better service NOW than later, because we are right between the fall and spring rushes. We have plenty of time and room to handle your work.

Drive down any day after Feb. 1.
